Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 13, 1904.

Plainfield appears to be having trouble to get a fire chief to serve under the new "paid department" ordinance.—Morris County Chronicle.

Plainfield's paid fire department has been in existence since 1899, but probably the news has not as yet reached Morristown.

If I am interested in guns, take up a magazine, look for the advertisements of guns and read them through, my attention is voluntary. If, while looking for guns, something else catches my eye for a moment and I think "that is an advertisement for clothing," then my attention is involuntary. In the first case I sought out the advertisement with a conscious purpose. In the second there was no such conscious purpose, but the advertisement thrust itself upon my attention.—Walter Dill Scott.

The call issued by the North Plainfield Board of Education for a meeting of the borough's citizens to decide upon a proposition to erect another school building should receive the attention of parents. The borough's schools are overcrowded and there is a consequent woeful lack of proper accommodations. Hence the matter is one that affects all. The Board's proposition to have $35,000 appropriated for the purpose seems reasonable and it is very doubtful that this figure can be cut down any if the citizens desire a respectable sort of a school building. The meeting will be held in the Somerset street schoolhouse Tuesday night, Feb. 23, at 8 o'clock. Bear it in mind.

Union's Lucky Officials.

"Here in Hudson the office is worth $30,000 a year, it is said. In Passaic and Union the officials manage to scrape together in fees $15,000 a year, and it must be a mighty small county where the office isn't worth $10,000 a year."—Hoboken Observer.

Referring to an article in your issue of today under the caption "Truancy Case," in which it is stated by the parent that the children are to be sent to St. Gabriel's Academy Monday. Investigation will reveal that such is not a fact, as pupils are only received at St. Gabriel's Academy when satisfactory references have been submitted and approved.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The talk heard among Democrats is that the Democratic State Committee would probably call a State convention for some time in May, to select four delegates-at-large from New Jersey to the Democratic National Convention, to be held in St. Louis, July 6.

Senator Joseph Cross has presented to the State Senate a protest from the citizens of Union county against the passage of Senate 34, providing for the payment of the full amount of the fire insurance policy in case of total destruction of insured property. The protestants claim that the only effect of such a law would be to raise the insurance rate in this State, as has occurred elsewhere.

There is a possibility that State Treasurer Frank O. Briggs, of Trenton, will be elected chairman of the State Republican committee, which place was left vacant two years ago by the resignation of Governor Murphy. Since then Vice Chairman E. C. Stokes, Clerk in Chancery, has been acting chairman, but he is likely to be the party's Gubernatorial candidate next fall, and in this event it would not be advisable to advance him to the head of the committee.

It is understood that the State convention will, as usual, be held in Taylor's Opera House, Trenton. There will be another Democratic State convention in September or October, when the Presidential electors will be chosen and a candidate for governor nominated. It is expected that at this State convention a new State committee will be chosen. The Democratic State Committee at present is presided over by Democratic State Chairman William B. Gourley, of Paterson. William K. Devereux, of Asbury Park, is secretary, and Gen. William C. Heppenheimer, of Jersey City, is treasurer.

DEATH REVEALS A MYSTERY

FATAL ACCIDENT TO BRAKEMAN BRINGS OUT A PECULIAR CONDITION OF FACTS.

There is considerable mystery surrounding John Cornelius, a brakeman of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, who was instantly killed at Somerville in a collision with an overhead bridge at Centre street on Tuesday.

Cornelius had been in the employ of the railroad but a short time. There was found on his person a membership card of the Young Men's Christian Association of Albany, N. Y.; three pawn tickets issued in New York city, which showed that he had pawned a watch, gold ring, and other valuables; also a legal document which certified that he was a member of the firm of John Cornelius & Co., of Jersey City, dealers in varnishes, and was authorized to collect outstanding accounts for the concern; several papers which indicate that he had formerly been in the employ of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, and the address of Mrs. Ora Cornelius, Albany, N. Y.

A notice of the man's death was telegraphed by the authorities to that address. After a long wait they received instructions from the woman to ship the body to Mrs. E. S. Brayton, in a fashionable quarter of Utica, N. Y. On investigation it was discovered that Mrs. Brayton was not at Utica. She was located yesterday at Lakewood, N. J., and she is reported to be too ill to look after Cornelius's body. Just what relation either woman bears to the dead man is still a mystery to the authorities, and the mystery is deepened by the statement of a railroad engineer to the effect that Cornelius had confided to him the information that he was a married man and lived with his wife and children at Tamaqua, Pa.

It was also stated by one of Cornelius's fellow-brakemen, who viewed his body yesterday, that the dead man was working out an invention to save fuel on locomotives. His plans had the approval of competent engineers, and he was about to have his invention patented. This statement was verified by drawings found among the dead man's effects.

The authorities received orders from the Central Railroad officials this morning to ship the body to Utica, N. Y. The name of the consignee has not been revealed.

Church Notes.

The finest city and village Churches are painted with the Longman & Martinez Paints, and we want every Church to accept our donation whenever they paint.

8 & 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M. and mix six gallons of pure Linseed Oil with it, making actual cost of paint about $1.20 per gallon.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a label on it.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of Linseed Oil mixed therewith.

Wears and covers like gold.

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Woolston & Buckle, Plainfield; H. C. Meyer, Scotch Plains.

A FILIPINO SENTINEL

Joke Played on the Crew of an American Warship.

They Greatly Admired the Courage Displayed by a Man of Straw—An Amusing Incident of the Philippine War.

Soon after Aguinaldo had established his government at Mololos, and had gathered the main portion of the Filipino army about him at that place, his busy spies brought him information that the American forces were preparing to advance from Manila upon his new capital. Hastily dispatching a considerable force from his army, he sent it to resist the advance of the Americans, and set the remainder at work to erect fortifications about Mololos.

The forces dispatched to resist the advance of the Americans, displayed great activity, and employed every possible means at their command to delay the advance of the enemy. They destroyed roads, burned bridges, and laid an ambush in every tongue of timber that reached the highway, and in every tangle of bushes and vines that offered concealment for a line of troops.

A favorite method employed by the Filipinos called for the display of a high order of courage. Selected marksmen were sent into the tops of tall cocoanut and palm trees, from which concealment they were directed to fire upon the advancing Americans. Owing to the dense foliage of intervening trees these men were seldom able to use aimed fire until the enemy was almost upon them. Many, in consequence, remained in the trees to obtain this advantage, and but few who did so ever escaped capture or death at the hands of the Americans.

Sometimes, however, the sharpshooter remained for some time undiscovered in his perch among the leaves. In the bivouac of one of the regular regiments, made in a grove of palm trees, not far from Mololos, the occasional crack of a Mauser rifle, seemingly overhead, caused a careful examination of the surrounding tree tops by the troops in an effort to discover if possible the place from which the sound came. The firer was discovered at length, clothed in the green leaves of the palm, lying stretched out at full length on a branch of the tree.

While the land forces were moving forward on the highway not far from the sea, the United States monitor Monadnock followed up the movement abreast of the troops. Occasionally, as she proceeded, she cast a shell into the Filipino entrenchments that lay within view of her decks. Once, just before dark, as the ship neared Mololos, an extensive line of works was discovered, in front of which a white-shirted Filipino sentinel was leisurely pacing back and forth. A shell was quickly discharged at the works, but the missile falling a little short struck the ground near the sentinel. Other shells followed in rapid succession before the darkness put an end to the firing, a number falling so near to the man that they covered him with dust when they struck the earth. He remained, nevertheless, on his post until an officer appeared and took him away. A new sentinel almost immediately took his place, and standing rigidly erect in front of the works gave no evidence of fear, although a number of shells struck almost within reach of his hand.

On the following morning the sentinel was observed still on his post in front of the works, apparently as defiant and fearless as ever. A number of shots were then rapidly fired at him, and more would have followed had not the captain discovered that the gunners were firing at the sentinel instead of at the works, and caused the firing to cease.

After the fall of Mololos, and the retirement of the Filipino forces, the great ship fell back to the place where she had bombarded the sentinels. To the surprise of all on board the sentinel was still at his post, as rigidly erect and immovable as when shot and shell were falling fast and furiously about him. A boat was quickly lowered and a crew sent ashore to reconnoiter. The sailors cautiously approached the sentinel, who stood the meanwhile silently in his place. As they came near they discovered to their chagrin and amusement that the Filipino sentinel whose supreme courage they had so much admired, was simply a man of straw, a substitute, and a dummy.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BOLEROS AND BLOUSES.

They Will Divide Honors Equally This Spring.

The bolero, which was threatened by the three-quarter effect, has come back into extreme fashion again. There are two kinds of bolero which are especially noticeable—the loose affair, cut sleeves and body in one, and the other, practically sleeveless, cut up in the back to show the abnormally wide belts so many of us are wearing. The latter bolero appears in many different kinds of material. Sometimes it is of velvet and sometimes of cloth, and then again it is a combination of both; but one fact is striking—it remains always of the same color as the skirt.

Sometimes these boleros are made of plain thick material trimmed with fringe and cord. These are charming in black, gray or mole color, opening over a dainty blouse and a wide band of leather or silk.

Spring street fashions will show a variety of these blouse costumes in zibeline, in gray, black and white and other mixtures. They will be trimmed with pipings of velvet or heavy silk, and the wide belt will be of the same.

Dress waists blousing all around, both back and front, over the very wide belts will be among the most chic spring models, and the skirts which accompany these bloused effects will be very full and only held down part of the way.

The picture shows a spring tailor made of dull blue cloth trimmed with bands of Persian and a dark blue belt.

IN FASHION'S REALM.

Black Taffeta Gowns For Elderly Women—Moleskin Cloth.

Black taffeta inset with black chantilly lace and made up over white silk which shows under the insertions makes a very smart dress for a middle aged woman, but there should be some fine tucklngs to break the stiffness of the taffeta, and the bottom of the skirt should be edged by tiny frills or ruching. Bands of mink are particularly artistic for trimming either cloth or thin materials. It is possible to obtain beautiful markings even in a narrow strip.

Moleskin gray cloth makes a dainty costume and is very dressy when relieved by applications of silver and lighter gray.

There is a new princess gown made with a sort of guimpe. The body part is of black jetted or embroidered material, and the guimpe is of very thin spangled or plain material with transparent sleeve puffs.

Trains even on evening gowns are much shorter, and the sides are longer, so that a round, full effect is gained.

It is rumored that the ruby will be the popular gem of the coming season, and this will be combined with dull silver and platinum.

The illustration shows an evening gown of pink mull made with shirrings. It is trimmed with duchess lace applications. JUDIC CHOLLET.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Timely and Interesting Gossip from the National Capitol.

THE FAME OF J. ADAM BEDE

A Reputation as a Humorist Achieved in an Hour—McKinley's Love for Carnations—Gymnastics for the Army.

Washington.—It is exceptional for a man to achieve fame in an hour in the halls of congress. There have been just enough of these exceptions to prove the rule. The last one was the case of J. Adam Bede, the new representative of the Eighth Minnesota district. Bede didn't expect to accomplish such a result, but struck just when our staid congressmen were in a mood to desire amusement, and he furnished it, on the vaudeville order.

Congressman Bede.

Bede has his full share of friends in Washington. He could not help that if he wished to, for he is a likable fellow, who makes friends with whoever he meets. It is a trait characteristic of the life he led for a number of years as a roving newspaper reporter and printer. During those years he picked up a large acquaintance throughout the southern and western states in which he has written fire and police reports, "done" local politics, and all the various odds and ends that fall to the lot of the general reporter in daily journalism.

Bede was originally a republican, then in 1888 he hopped over to the democrats and voted for Cleveland, going back to the republicans again at the time of Bryan's nomination in Chicago. It is rather coincident that Bede should have won fame by one speech in which Col. Bryan figured prominently, and that Col. Bryan should have gained fame in a speech—"The Cross of Gold"—which drove Bede out of the democratic party and sent him onto the stump for McKinley. Such are the strange ways of politics.

Bede is by no means a novice at politics, though he is not a proverbial office holder. Cleveland appointed him United States marshal for Minnesota in 1892, but he resigned within a year, and remained a private citizen until elected to congress last year. He is originally from Ohio, and was born on a farm in Lorraine county in that state in 1856.

In Memory of McKinley.

The superintendent of the white house conservatory chose a delicate way of showing his regard for the late President McKinley on January 29. The flowers sent to the president's desk on that day were the choicest of red carnations. The same flower was in great demand by members of congress and officialdom in Washington in general, for it was McKinley's favorite flower and was worn on that day in memory of the lamented president.

President McKinley Remembered.

President McKinley was seldom seen in Washington without a carnation in his buttonhole. His favorite among the carantions was the red or carmine. He wore one of these in preference to the white, as a rule, and when he wanted to show his pleasure at meeting some one he invariably gave a carnation, most frequently a red. All over the country to-day are women who have in various states of preservation carnations given to them by the president when they called with their husbands or others to visit him. The president liked little girls, and it was a pleasure to him to pin carnations on their little dresses or give them one each to take away in their hands. No honor could have been higher to these fortunate ladies and misses than this. There were times when a bevy of school girls would call at the white house. President McKinley would see that he could not give them all carnations, as he did not have that many on his desk, but a number of times some of the more courageous girls would ask for the flowers. These girls got what they asked for, with a charming smile in addition.

Athelics in the Army.

The continued agitation of the subject of physical culture has at last taken hold of the army in a practical way, and new and commodious gymnasiums are to be built at all of our army posts, and a member of the general staff has been detailed to superintend, not only their construction and equipment, but their maintenance and systematic use as well. A wise provision.

Army Gymnastics.

It is virtually the establishment of a new department in the army, of which Maj. John F. Guilfoyle, Twelfth cavalry, has been given full charge. Maj. Guilfoyle is an accomplished athlete, a firm believer in the virtue of systematic training, and has entered upon his new duties with an enthusiasm that promises results.

For this introduction of physical culture into the army a half million is to be immediately expended. At each principal post a picturesque $40,000 stone and brick structure of classic architecture is to be erected. It will afford the soldiers of the post a gymnasium space 40 feet wide, 60 feet long and 20 feet high, with a gallery entirely surrounding and equipped with a running track as well as all of the most improved engines for physical culture. It will be comfortably heated with steam, and beneath its slate roof will be also a store room, billiard room, cafe and a combined reading, lecture and ball room, the latter provided with a movable platform to be withdrawn when dances are given. At the smaller posts similar structures of less substantial material are to be built at less expense.

Heretofore our army gymnasiums have been unworthy makeshifts. Outbuildings of various categories have been pressed into service, whenever possible, but in some of the military departments there are no gymnasiums whatsoever.

Not Friendly to Reporters.

During the recent sessions of the joint hymnal commission of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal church south an antipathy to reporters was noticeable which was finally explained by one of the clergymen.

Reporters Were Not Wanted.

It seems that at a similar conference held in Kentucky a young woman reporter had asked for news, and was quite urgent in her demands. There was nothing to tell her, but to satisfy her one of the commission finally volunteered the information that they had decided to include "Jesus Lover of My Soul" in the church hymnal. The members of the commission believe the young lady wrote the "story" correctly, but an enterprising city editor either not believing the story of much value in that shape, or a typographical error, made it read that the commission had decided "not" to include the popular hymn. The item created a terrible stir in church circles, and brought down upon the heads of the innocent members of the commission the wrath of the church in general, and entailed a vast amount of correspondence on their part.

The story fully explained the desire of the commission to remain out of print, and they did so until they had assurances that a similar "error" would not occur in any of the Washington papers. The story cleared the atmosphere, and afterwards the commission was more cordial in its treatment of the local press.

The Marquette Statue.

For a long time there has stood in Statuary hall, in the national capitol, a notable work of art, the gift of the sovereign state of Wisconsin to the nation, yet a gift unaccepted by the nation. A resolution passed a few days ago extending the thanks of congress to the people of Wisconsin for the statue of Father Jacques Marquette, renowned missionary and explorer, and accepting the statue, thus permitting it to remain where it has already stood for years, recalls public attention to the curious story of long anti-Catholic opposition to the placing of a statue of a Roman Catholic priest in the capitol. The fact that, in sympathy with such opposition, a great number of people demanded its removal has thus far prevented its formal acceptance by the nation. So pronounced was the opposition that for a long time two capitol policemen were stationed as guards for fear someone might attempt to damage it.

The Marquette Statue.

All of which again brings to mind that, notable as is this marble as a work of art, it still is in no sense a likeness of Father Marquette. Rather it is an "ideal" portrayal of him as missionary and discoverer from the hand and brain of Trentanove, noted sculptor of Florence, Italy, and of Milwaukee, Wis. Until the last year or two no one knew or even supposed they knew what Father Marquette looked like. But a short time ago there was discovered in Montreal a very old painting. No one can certainly say that even this is a true likeness of the discoverer of the Mississippi river, but there is strong reason to believe that it is authentic. Students of the early history of the northwest see in this painting features which may well have belonged to the zealous young Catholic who worked so hard for the souls of the primitive savages and whose name is linked with that of the trader Joliet as joint discoverer of the Father of Waters.

DEATH TO THE CRAWFISH.

Carbolic Acid Used to Destroy the Creatures That Undermine Mississippi Levees.

Carbolic acid is being used more extensively than ever before by the men who are seeking to preserve the levees from attack by that clawing and insidious member, the crawfish, reports the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Crawfish are more numerous, too, than ever before, at many points along the river. Probably the extreme high water of last spring had something to do with making the members of this family more numerous. At any rate, they are here in large numbers, and as usual have been boring holes through the levees at many places.

Under direction of the Orleans levee board the slaughter of crawfish has been progressing quietly at certain points within the board's jurisdiction, and similar work has been carried on by other agencies. Down about Jackson Barracks, the Orleans board has within the last few days used carbolic acid with good results in an effort to exterminate the crawfish. The method of using carbolic acid is simple, and the remedy is an old one. Planters have been using carbolic acid for many years, and of recent years the levee boards along the river have used this method of extermination.

The acid is simply poured into the holes which are burrowed by the crawfish, and escape becomes impossible. They sicken and die under the influence of the acid which pollutes the water. Often it is impossible to reach the crawfish with the acid, for the reason that they burrow into the embankment from a point below the water level. It is only possible to reach them when the opening is above the level of the water.

The quantity of acid used depends upon the depth of the opening in the levee's side. Crawfishes burrow irregularly along the contour of the levee, and depth and distance are always matters of uncertainty.

Recently there has been some talk among levee experts of using carbolic acid experimentally on the muskrats in the lower parish, where these pests thrive in great armies, and where they often undermine the levees. The muskrat is really a serious problem, and almost any method of extermination would be welcomed. The destruction of crawfish would to some extent minimize the damage which muskrats do to the levees, because it would make burrowing more difficult. Crawfish holes frequently make the way for the muskrat, and they follow the holes from the riverside, catch, kill and eat the crawfish, and come out on the land side of the levee. In this way they become a great menace to the integrity of the levees. How to reach them with carbolic acid is a question which levee experts who have considered the question have not yet solved. The indications are that they will take the matter up at some early day, for the purpose of seeing what they can do.

In the meantime the crawfish will continue to get carbolic acid in large and unbroken doses.

BRITISH PISTOL LAW.

Greater Pains Taken to Reduce the Facilities of Murder Than in This Country.

Great Britain's criminal statistics show a very small proportion of murders as compared with the statistics of the United States. The reasons for this are to be found, not merely in the stricter enforcement of law and in the heavier penalties inflicted, but also in the pains that are taken to reduce, so to speak, the facilities for murder, says the Chicago Record-Herald. A man with a pistol in his pocket may kill another when he would not commit the crime if he had to go to a store to purchase the weapon. A man who is able to buy a pistol at any time that he has the price may kill another when he would not do it if the sale was under close restrictions. Such restrictions are imposed by a new law passed at the last session of parliament, which British magistrates are now busily engaged in enforcing.

The law provides in the first place that every dealer selling or letting a pistol must enter the transaction in a record book that will always be open to the inspection of the police. In addition it prohibits the sale or letting of pistols to persons who do not have a gun or game license, unless they are entitled by law to carry weapons without such license, or unless they are householders who intend to keep the pistols in their own homes, or unless they wish the pistols for use abroad. Furthermore, no one under the age of 18, except in a few exempt cases, is permitted to buy, hire, use or carry a pistol under any circumstances. For violations of the law the penalties range up to $25, but where a dealer knowingly sells a weapon to a person intoxicated or not of sound mind, the penalty may be a fine of $125 or imprisonment with hard labor not exceeding three months. Good results are expected from this law, especially as efforts are being made to acquaint the entire population with its terms, so that offenders will have little chance to plead ignorance in excuse of their acts.

Louisiana Acadians.

In southwestern Louisiana there are settlements of Acadians, the remnants of the voyagers from Canada, whose only idea of the benefits of education is that face powders may be made from chalk. At any big entertainment the women may be seen with their faces chalked till they resemble nothing so much as a company of corpses. These women do not bother about preparing the chalk; they simply take a chalk pencil and rub it into the skin with unction, and the more ghastly the result the better are they pleased.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

More than one boxing contest has been won and lost by a single blow. Many a contest where defeat for one or the other seemed certain has been turned into victory by the lucky punch. Other fighters have won their battles before their opponents fairly have their hands up. Of the latter type the Sharkey-Ruhlin fight at Coney Island is an example. No sooner had the bell rung announcing the beginning of hostilities than Sharkey and Gus advanced to the center of the ring. Bang went Sharkey's left hand swing and down and out went Ruhlin before even his own seconds had realized what was up. A punch of this kind is lucky. Of course, Sharkey was given all credit for the win, but way down deep in his heart he had no more idea of knocking Ruhlin out in a single punch than he would become president of this country. He took a desperate chance, and the good thing went through, as the race-horse men say. A case similar to the Sharkey-Ruhlin fight was the time Jimmy Elliott knocked out Capt. Dalton at the old Park theater in Chicago in a similar manner. Time was called and both men advanced to the center. Elliott swung his right and down went Dalton for a trip to dreamland, exactly seven seconds after the fight began. The above instances are chance blows of one kind; the second Myers-Gilmore battle may be added to the list. There are chance blows of a different sort. Take the Dempsey-Marine battle as an illustration. Dempsey was winning by a mile, and winning as he pleased. The odds were 100 to 1 that Dempsey would win, and the spectators were shouting to the Marine to quit, as he had no chance. Dempsey advanced toward him for the final effort, when, quick as flash, La Blanche wheeled and delivered a pivot blow on Dempsey's jaw that put him out. It was the first time the "Nonpareil" ever tasted the bitter dregs of defeat.

Tom Sharkey.

Another win of the same sort was the time when Peter Maher defeated Choynski at the Broadway club, New York, a number of years ago, Choynski had the battle well in hand, and in the sixth round hit Maher so hard it knocked him into the ropes. As the Irishman was rebounding from the ropes from the force of Choynski's punch he swung his right, catching Joe on the point of the jaw, and the battle was over, with the apparently defeated man a victor.

Joshua Ward, who recently died at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, was one of five brothers who were all noted oarsmen. The five boys were born at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, and were the sons of a fisherman. They took to the water as naturally as ducks, and were early matched against the best oarsmen of this country and Europe, winning more than their share of the honors, both singly and together. Their four-oared crew, consisting of John, "Bill," "Hank," and "Josh," won the international sculls on Saratoga lake in September, 1873, defeating the Taylor-Winship crew from England, the Paris-St. John crew, and the Biglin-Coulter crew. "Josh," about the same time, held the five-mile championship over the Poughkeepsie course. They were national figures at that time, but gradually faded out of sight until there are few persons who remember them. In his later years Joshua was frequently mistaken for Joseph Jefferson, the resemblance between the oarsman and the actor being quite remarkable. Ellis Ward is still active as the coach of the University of Pennsylvania crew.

Josh Ward.

The ranks of prominent turf men have also been visited by death recently, and several notable lights have passed away. The most prominent was the veteran trainer and driver, Orrin Hickok, who will be remembered years ago as a driver of St. Julien, 2:11¼; Arab, 2:15, and Hulda, 2:08. His last most notable race was the winning of the Kentucky futurity in 1897, with Thorn, 2:12½. He died at a Cleveland hospital from softening of the brain. Another death was that of the veteran Chicagoan, H. H. Yates, in his eighty-second year. He was a prominent owner back 20 years ago, and while he has not owned any fast ones of late years, was always an interested spectator at many of the local meets. James Golden died suddenly, not surviving an operation for appendicitis. He gave Ralph Wilkes, 2:06¾, and the pacer, Frank Bogash, 2:03¾, their best records. His stable the past season, which closed their engagements at Lexington only three weeks ago, included Rowellan, 3, 2:09¾, and Laconda, 205¾, pacing. Only two days afterward came the announcement of the death of George Wellman, owner of Rowellan, 2:09¾, and other fast ones. He was one of Mr. Golden's principal patrons.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

John P. Owens, Esq., who managed St. Mary's baseball team, last season, does not believe that he will be able to devote time to a team for the coming season.

Ramsay, who made a remarkable record last season pitching for the High Bridge baseball team, will wear the uniform of the Jersey City Eastern League team this season.

There is now considerable talk among those interested in organizing a baseball team to play under the name of St. Mary, of forming a stock company. It is said that there are a number of persons willing to subscribe $100 each toward getting a team together and it is possible that this may be done. As to grounds, those in charge of the plans have their eye on several sites all along the trolley line and within easy distance of the heart of the city.

BASKET BALL.

Orange and Plainfield Y. M. C. A. basketball teams will meet in this city Saturday, March 5, and in Orange March 14. The date for the game at Orange was arranged yesterday.

Plainfield and New Brunswick Y. M. C. A. basket ball teams did not play last night. There was some doubt as to whether the schedule called for a game on the 12th or 19th, a telegram from New Brunswick deciding in favor of the 19th.

Plainfield High will meet South Orange High school in basketball tonight at Orange at 8:15 o'clock. The Plainfielders will leave the North avenue station at 5:42. Their line-up will be: Thompson and Long, forwards; Guinn, centre; Fenno and Gavett, guards.

Plainfield High school will play Leal's in basketball Friday, February 19, in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The game will be called at 3:30 in the afternoon. It will be the second game of a series of three, Leal's having won the first game. The final game will be played Friday, March 11.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Blanks to be filled out with the record figures recently established at the inter-association Y. M. C. A. athletic meet have been received by Physical Director Heywood and await the signatures of the officials.

Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood, of the local Y. M. C. A., has been invited to officiate as judge in a gymnastic and athletic meet to be contested by the boys' departments of the associations of Greater New York. The meet will be held March 19 with the Bedford branch of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. Mr. Heywood will accept the invitation.

A new set of ten lockers has been ordered for the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, an indication of the steady growth of the department demanding more accomodations. There are 120 lockers already installed in the gymnasium most of which are used by two men. It is estimated that fully 200 men are at present availing themselves of the privileges of the gymnasium.

GOLF.

The Cranford Golf Club is planning to enlarge its clubhouse and improve the same to make more room and better accommodations for the rapidly increasing membership. The club has just issued a handsome booklet containing the 1904 schedule of events, which is pronounced the best ever issued. The prospects are unusually bright and promising for the coming year and everything points to it being the most successful in the club's history.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Plainfield Y. M. C. A. rolled its last match in the second round of matches in the league of Northern New Jersey when it met Orange, at Orange Thursday night. The team will play Alis on its own alleys the latter part of next week.

Lindley D. Varian Visits City for First Time in Twenty Years.

Lindley D. Varian, son of Samuel T. Varian, former resident of this city, visited this city yesterday for the first time in twenty years. He and his father are engaged in the coal business at Orange, under the name of the Essex County Coal Company. Mr. Varian noted many changes in town, but said that there were enough of the old landmarks present to prevent him from being lonesome. This is the first vacation he has had from business in twenty years and took the opportunity of visiting the scenes of his boyhood days, when his father was one of the well-known merchants of the city.

It is expected that a number of new members will be received at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church at the next communion service in March.

The Regents of the American Society of Religious Education have called the Tenth National Congress of Religious Education, to be held in the city of Washington, D. C., March 1, 2 and 3, 1904. The ministerial associations of the city have appointed committees to assist in perfecting arrangements.

At the First Baptist church tomorrow morning the pastor will give the right-hand-of-fellowship to fifty new members and he will make a short address in place of a regular sermon. Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor emeritus, will also be present and the regular bi-monthly communion will be observed. At night the pastor will give a sermon taking for his subject "Abraham Lincoln."

Methodist ministers from all over the lower end of the State met at Trenton Thursday to devise some plan to lift the debt of $60,000 from Pennington Seminary, the denomination's theological preparatory school. There was offered a proposition to appoint a special agent to raise $100,000 to pay the debt and found an endowment fund. It was finally decided, however, to recommend to the Conference the appointment of a dean to take charge.

Methodists of Cincinnati are excited over an editorial which appeared in the last week's issue of the Christian Advocate, written by Dr. James L. Buckley, editor of the paper. The editorial which caused the trouble is a scathing denunciation of the two Methodist ministers and one layman burned to death in the Iroquois Theater fire, in Chicago, a few weeks ago. The cause of offense of the clergy of the city is that Dr. Buckley "dragged from their graves," as it were, the men who met death in its most horrible form and proceeded to make a public example of them, using them to point a moral on the crime of theatre-going in general, which, both in England and America, is regarded as a violation of one of the general rules of church discipline. — Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Many surprising and interesting facts are revealed by the advance sheets of official figures showing the numerical strength of the Roman Catholic church in this country. For the year 1904 a Roman Catholic population of 11,887,317 is claimed for the eighty-nine dioceses which cover the United States. New York heads the list with a Roman Catholic population of 1,200,000, and this does not include the borough of Brooklyn. Chicago comes second in line with 1,000,000 worshippers in its Roman Catholic churches. America has 13,277 priests, divided among 11,186 churches. Of educational institutions the Roman Catholic church here claims 7 universities, 71 seminaries, 179 colleges for boys, 646 academies for girls and 250 orphan asylums. There are 741 charitable institutions under the control of the Roman Catholic church in this country, which care for 1,136,890 children. Ample provision has been made for the spiritual care of 1,200,000 Roman Catholic worshippers claimed for New York city. In Manhattan there are 289 Catholic churches and 754 priests, 198 parish schools with 52,895 students, and 67 charitable institutions which care for 75,712 children.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

There is one conductor on the main line trolley operated between Elizabeth and Dunellen who needs a few lessons in politeness. Last Monday he refused to stop his car to pick up a passenger who was calling loudly to him and a little later he carried a woman considerably past the point where she wanted to get out, and when she complained, after notifying the conductor where she wanted to get off, he replied: "O, you'll learn after awhile that we are not running a delivery wagon." The car in question left the Watchung avenue trolley station going west about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Another case of a similar nature was that of this week on the Fourth street line, where a certain conductor carried a young woman by a certain point twice and when she told him that she would report him he replied: "You can report as often as you like."

AMUSEMENTS.

The next attraction at the Broadway Theatre, New York, following the engagement of "The Medal and the Maid," will be the new comic opera, "The Yankee Consul," which Henry W. Savage will produce for the first time in New York on Washington's birthday matinee, Feb. 22 with Raymond Hitchcock in the title role. The book of the new opera is by Henry M. Blossom, Jr., whose "Checkers" has pleased thousands, and the music is by Alfred G. Robyn, whose songs "Answer" and "You," the Manzanillo dance, and several operas have won for him an important place in the ranks of composers. The new production had long runs in Boston and Chicago. The scenes of the opera are laid in the tropical Republic of Santo Domingo, thereby giving many opportunities for brilliant scenery, elaborate costumes and for tuneful music of the Spanish style. In the new piece Mr. Hitchcock will not wear a grotesque make-up as in "King Dodo," but will play the part of a lazy, happy-go-lucky representative of the United States Government in Santo Domingo. He is in love with a wealthy widow, Donna Teresa Ribera (Eva Davenport) and is constantly interesting himself with the affairs of every one on the island. He is of an inventive turn of mind, but his schemes and plans, like those of Colonel Sellers, never materialize. He is fond of threatening the natives with the entire American army and navy.

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

A new degree team has been organized by Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F.

The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will hold its annual session in Trenton on February 17 and 18.

Newark's six lodges in the A. O. U. W. held their ninth annual banquet Thursday night at Achtelstetter's restaurant on Broad street. Plainfield was represented at the board by Supreme Representative V. W. Nash, and J. W. A. Bauerschs, of the State finance committee. There were about 150 present. Past Grand Master Workman Colyer, of Newark, presided. All of the grand officers and members of committees were present with two exceptions. A committee of seven was appointed to prepare a letter of condolence to be sent to Governor Murphy concerning the death of Mrs. Murphy.

New Jersey and more especially Plainfield members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen who have been concerned in the new plan of assessments adopted by the Supreme Lodge, in opposition to which Supreme Representative Vincent W. Nash, of this city, has been the principal spokesman, will be interested to hear of the trend of events in Massachusetts in regard to the plans. The Supreme Lodge of the A. O. U. W. has brought a bill in equity in the United States Circuit Court at Boston against the Massachusetts Grand Lodge to restrain it from carrying out its vote of severance passed last November and to compel the payment of contributions to the general guarantee fund as heretofore. The Supreme Lodge also asks that the Grand Lodge be declared only the trustee of the Supreme Lodge in making contracts with members in establishing lodges, etc. In Massachusetts the body has held that its contributions to the emergency fund have been excessive, members being overtaxed to meet the deficiency in other localities and that the recent advance in assessments ordered by the Supreme Lodge is an unnecessarily added burden on Massachusetts members. The action of the State body last November was to discontinue payments to the Supreme Lodge after January 1 and to keep and use its funds for the benefit of the State membership.

DR. SCHENCK SPEAKS ON LIQUOR PROBLEM

Trinity Reformed's Pastor Praises the Mayor and Condemns Council's Action.

THE PEOPLE DEFIED

PROTESTS AGAINST THE GRANTING OF ADDITIONAL LICENSES.

Plea for Home Rule—Does Not Believe That Leaders in City Government Are Callous to Public Opinion.

With "A Temperate View of Temperance" for his subject, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, of Trinity Reformed church, spoke "a word in season" last night to the Common Council with reference to its stand on the raising of liquor license fees. He discussed the action of the Council with moderation, hopefully suggesting that the members vindicate themselves by voting against the granting of additional licenses.

Taking for his text Galatians V, 19-21, Dr. Schenck began with a general consideration of the drink evil. Drunkenness, he said, is a sin. It is not, legally, regarded as an excuse for crime. Is not the saloon that enables men to get drunk, he asked, morally responsible? The Word of God condemns the drunkard, he said, and condemns the saloon, the factory of drunkards, that makes brutes and beasts of men, that demoralizes everything it touches.

He referred to the official recognition that is given the saloon as a breeder of crime and lawlessness in times of stress or great disasters such as fires or floods, when stringent orders for their closing are issued. He mentioned Lincoln's opposition to the liquor traffic which was called by the great emancipator a "cancer in society." He quoted Ruskin who said that drunkenness is a crime and he advocated personal abstinence as an ounce of prevention against the drink evil.

Dr. Schenck then attacked the problem in its relation to local conditions. He spoke in complimentary terms of the Mayor who saw an opportunity to raise the liquor license, to curtail the influence of the saloon and improve conditions in Plainfield. The Mayor made the proposition for a higher license, correctly interpreting public opinion in so doing, he said, and twice the Council approved without a dissenting voice. And then in the final action, the Mayor "was turned down in the house of his friends and public opinion was defied with no reason at all assigned."

"I claim the members of the Common Council as my friends," said the preacher, "and I speak of them candidly, temperately and kindly. I merely say that the natural and inevitable inference from this reversal of action is that something meanwhile was 'doing.' Some influence or some person had been at work. One man might have changed his mind and his vote in the ordinary course of events, but not five. If I were a councilman, I should feel it my duty to myself to vindicate myself from the possibility of the inference of improper influence. I should feel it due my constituents. I should feel that the only vindication could be a refusal to increase the number of licenses even by one."

Dr. Schenck said that there are three applications for new licenses; one for a saloon on Park avenue in a store now occupied by a jeweler, the granting of which by the Council would be a "sin and a shame." There is no call for such a place, he said, and, besides its evil moral effect, it would depreciate surrounding property. Another application, he said, is for a saloon on West Third street, already "sin-cursed and drink-cursed." The third is for one on West Front street beyond Clinton avenue, and this application, the pastor said, according to current report, was likely to be granted.

He continued: "Personally I shall refuse to believe that the Common Council is under bond and mortgage to grant that license until I am constrained to by events."

Dr. Schenck dwelt upon the fact that the people in the West End do not want Goff's saloon. "No one wants it except those who would profit by it, to direct money from the factory to the saloon." He alluded to the fact that the Republican party was insistent upon home rule in politics last fall, going so far as to turn down its regular party nominees in

DR. CHAMBLISS ON SLAVERY

HE DECLARES CHRISTIANITY ALONE CAN MAKE MEN FREE.

"Ye Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make you Free," was the subject of the sermon delivered at the First Baptist church, last night. The discourse was appropriate to the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday and the pastor paid deserving tribute to the Martyred-President exemplifying his devotion to the principle of freedom. He quoted the late President, when he administered a sharp rebuke to his political friends who chided him for taking such a determined stand against slavery. The President said: "I know there is a God and that He hates the injustice of slavery. I see the storm coming and see His hand in it. If He has a place for me in this affair, and I believe He has, I am ready. Liberty is right for Christ teaches it."

Dr. Chambliss urged that Christ should be sent to men's hearts instead of bullets into their bodies and he said that Christianity is the only thing that will make men free, for it is the mother of free thought. In conclusion the preacher said that a man who is the slave of his own passions is in the worst condition of all is the most to be pitied.

FIFTY PERSONS JOIN CHURCH

FIRST BAPTIST CONGREGATION HOLDS AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE.

Unusual interest was manifested in the service at the First Baptist church, yesterday morning, nearly fifty persons were received into membership. The majority were received on confession, there being a few received by letters from other churches. Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor-emeritus, was present for the first time in many weeks, and he assisted in the service. He gave "the right-hand-of-fellowship" to Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the pastor, and his wife, after which Dr. Chambliss gave "the right-hand-of-fellowship" to the new members. As he did so he presented each one with a text of scripture written on a card. His words to the new members were both impressive and appropriate.

Following the reception of members the regular bi-monthly communion service was held and in this Dr Yerkes assisted the pastor.

OPPOSED TO GOFF'S LICENSE

MONROE AVE. M.E.CHURCH'S OFFICIALS PETITION COUNCIL TO REFUSE IT.

When the Common Council holds its March session there will be many citizens present to offer petitions opposing the granting of the liquor license to John Goff, whose hotel on West Front street near Clinton avenue was recently erected. Chief among the petitions against the granting of the privilege will be signed by the members of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church at a special meeting of the Official Board held yesterday afternoon. The Board gave the pastor, Rev. John McMurray, the power to appoint a committee of five to present the document to the Council.

Rev. Mr. McMurray said yesterday: "I have no doubt whatever but that every Councilman is a man who cannot be influenced in a matter of such importance as this and I am sure that there is not one man among them who would submit to boss rule when the interests of the people whom they represent hang in the balance.

"With this in view I cannot see why a permit to sell liquor could be granted to Mr. Goff when the cry of 'Don't!' from a hundred persons in the West End, thunder in their ears.

"I believe that the liquor business should be restricted to the business section of the town. Why should the western section of the city be inflicted with a saloon any more than the southern part of the city or in the extreme eastern part, known as Netherwood. Do you think that the Common Council would grant permission to a man to conduct a saloon in such streets as West Seventh, West Eighth or West Ninth streets?"

Radel's Company Backs Another.

At the hearing of the application of the Elizabethport Amboy and Long Branch Traction Company, at Woodbridge Thursday for a franchise in that township, the fact became definitely known that the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company is behind the other concern. The Elizabethport Company is trying to get across the Amboy bridge and it is after that right for the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION CLOSED YESTERDAY

Fred H. Andrews and W. D. Murray, both of city, conducted Special Meetings.

ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK

PLAINFIELDERS CHOSEN MEMBERS OF STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

As Result of Appeal $500 is Cabled to Japan for Y. M. C. A. Work There—C. E. A. Heywood Attended the Session.

With one of the most inspiring meetings of the week, the Y. M. C. A. closed its State convention at Trenton yesterday. Fully 2,000 were present at the afternoon meeting. Frederick H. Andrews, of this city, read the scriptures at this meeting, and Mr. Andrews and William D. Murray, of this city, conducted meetings in Trenton churches during the day.

The principal speaker yesterday was John R. Mott, one of the most active of Y. M. C. A. workers, who made an urgent appeal for an aggressive foreign campaign. As a result of an appeal by Mr. Mott, the sum of $500 was cabled to Japan today by the Y. M. C. A. international committee to start a special work in the Japanese army similar to that maintained in the American army in time of war.

A conference of the student delegates on the State school library was conducted Saturday by W. D. Murray, of this city, a member of the international committee and a vice president of the convention. As members of the State executive committee for the term ending 1908, Messrs. Andrews and Murray were chosen. A conference of physical directors was attended by C. E. A. Heywood, of the local association.

Many interesting facts in regard to Y. M. C. A. work in New Jersey have been rought out in the biennial report of the State executive committee as presented to the State convention at Trenton. Frederick H. Andrews, of this city, is chairman of the committee of which William D. Murray, of this city, is also a member.

There are now, according to the report, twenty-four city, town and railroad associations that employ secretaries, also one student association, one colored department and one army association with employed officers. Including the State secretaries there are now sixty-eight men employed by the New Jersey association. There are fourteen student associations, two in army posts and seventeen town associations that do not employ a general secretary.

In 1903 the association at Atlantic City was organized and employed a general secretary, as did the association at Ridgewood. A total membership of 14,266 is distributed as follows: Men and boys of city and town associations, 10,912, railroad associations, 1,627; student, 1,509; army, 148; colored, 57.

The current expenses of the associations the past year aggregates $142,870.

In Bible study a total of 1,630 men and boys have been enrolled in the classes during the past year.

In the association year ending May 1, 1903, the city association reported 9.1 per cent. of the total membership, exclusive of boys, in Bible study; 26.6 per cent. of the boys in classes, and 2 7 per cent. of the membership of the railroad associations in Bible classes.

Many of the associations are planning for larger equipment in the educational department and the placing of this work on a more satisfactory basis.

In the boys' department, within the two years covered by this report, 740 boys have decided to live for Jesus Christ and 214 are known to have united with the church. The New Jersey boys' work is now in the first place in the whole country.

A fourth railroad association has been organized at Secaucus. The railroad membership in Hoboken, Camden and Trenton aggregate 1,640.

Eighteen associations occupy their own buildings, which, with the real estate, has a total valuation of $983,050 and an which there is a mortgage indebtedness of $66,600. In addition the associations have endowment, libraries and furnishings valued at $186,100. The total amount of building funds pledged and partially paid in is $120,850.

During the two years the work conducted by the State committee cost $21,651.26.

A lecture on Wagner's opera, "Parsifal," with illustrations on the piano, was given Saturday at the home of George A. Chapman, of Stelle avenue. The affair was arranged by a musical coterie interested in obtaining an intelligent understanding of the New York production of the opera. It was for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital.

BIG ENGINEERING FEAT AT CENTRAL'S BRIDGE.

West Wing of Great Structure over Newark Bay Now in Position.

WAS BUILT IN THE AIR.

OFFICIALS WATCH THE WORK WHICH WAS WITHOUT A HITCH.

Difficult Problem Solved Yesterday Morning—Weight of Lift 1,500,000 Pounds—Old Structure is Dangerous.

An interesting feat of engineering was practically completed yesterday when, what may be called the west, or Jersey wing, of the great Jersey Central lift bridge at Newark Bay was lowered for the first time. The bridge, which is the only one of its kind in the vicinity of New York, was constructed in an unusual manner. The immense lift or "leaf" as the engineers call it, was built in the air above the old bridge without stopping traffic. Weighing more than one and a half million pounds and 120 feet in length, each leaf was constructed in a perpendicular position directly over the passing trains. Yesterday, for the first time, traffic was interrupted.

The old Newark Bay drawbridge became so weak that all trains have run across it slowly for more than a year. When it was decided to build a new structure a lift bridge was selected, largely because of the character of the Newark Bay traffic. Tug-boats and scows are about the only craft that pass through the draw. The ordinary drawbridge has to be swung just as far around to pass a tug as a full-rigged ship, but a lift bridge needs to be raised only a few feet. This saving of time in moving the bridge will result in much quicker handling of trains, the officials declare.

The construction of the new bridge in its peculiar position without interfering with traffic was at all times considered a difficult problem. The work was delayed for two months by an accident on Aug. 26, 1903. A big wooden tower, supporting two derricks used in building the bridge, was struck by a sudden squall and toppled over into the bay. Four men were killed and the tower had to be lifted out of the water before work went on. The men working on top of the great leaf frequently have had to crawl around on hands and knees because of the wind.

The last train ran over the former structure at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and immediately afterward workmen began to clear away for the leaf. As it never had been moved before, much of the machinery used in operating it was untried. Yet when the order was given, the ponderous frame dropped without a hitch. So perfectly is it balanced by heavy counter weights at its lower end that a man can lower it, though, of course, slowly, by merely turning a crank.

When the leaf finally dropped upon its stone support, some of the by standers were startled to see the huge mass of steel quiver like a reed. The end of the leaf rose and fell several times before settling. The engineers said, however, that this elasticity was a good thing. The final lowering of the leaf was greeted with loud applause from whistles of a nearby fleet of tugboats.

Work will be begun immediately on the second leaf, which will be built east of the one completed yesterday. The reason for building another span is that the charter of the Jersey Central requires that two channels shall always be kept open to navigation.

An interesting feature of the Jersey Central bridge is the use for the first time of gasolene engines for motive power. There are two separate 75-horse power engines. They are so arranged that either or both can be used to lift either or both leaves.

Another part of the bridge which attracts the laymen's eye, although it is not an engineering novelty, is the huge counter-weights. Two of these weights are fastened to one end of the leaf. Each weight consists of over a hundred cast iron blocks, each block tipping the scales at about 1600 pounds.

The construction of the superstructure of the new bridge was scarcely more difficult than that of the piers on which the superstructure rests. These piers had to be sunk directly in line with the old bridge, but without disturbing the piling on which it rested. The piles for the new piers

MRS. HAGERDORN ENTERTAINS

RECEPTION IS ATTENDED BY TWO HUNDRED SOCIETY FOLK.

A charming social function of Saturday afternoon was an "at home" given by Mrs. Adolph G. Hagerdorn at her handsome home on Rahway road. There were nearly two hundred guests present, including a number from New York. The home was decorated with flowers, there being a pleasing harmony of various colors throughout the rooms. In the dining room the color scheme was red.

Assisting Mrs. Adolph G. Hagerdorn in receiving were the Misses Hagerdorn and Miss Wupperman, of New York; Miss Emma Meyer, of Brooklyn, Miss Ethel Bowen, Mrs. George Kirkner, Mrs. Otto Arens and Mrs. Herman Hagerdorn. An elaborate menu was served by a New York caterer. This was the first affair of the kind given by Mrs. Hagerdorn since her marriage last June.

BURGLARS WORKING DUNELLEN

HAULS MADE AT TWO DWELLINGS IN THAT STAID BOROUGH.

Burglars operated at the home of William H. Terry on the New Market road, last night and much valuable jewelry was taken. Percy Abbott, who lives at that house, was relieved of a considerable amount of jewelry and a commutation ticket on the Central Railroad and a ticket of the Stock Exchange in New York. He lost a valuable scarf pin and a watch chain.

The burglars also entered the home of Linden H. Apgar, at 231 Front street, Dunellen, and secured some money and jewelry.

PLEA FOR ASSISTANCE

EMIGRATION OF NEGROES WOULD WORK GREAT HARM.

Quotes Booker T. Washington to Show That Education of His Race Has Reduced Crime—Asks Aid for Freedman's Educational Society.

"Abraham Lincoln and the South Land" was the subject of a sermon by Rev. John McMurray at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church yesterday morning. What the martyred president did for the south was one of the grandest acts of civilization, he said. The slaves were freed but the question of today is, what shall be done for them? To export them to Africa, from whence they originally came, the pastor said, is out of the question from an economic standpoint as the support of the south depends largely on their labor.

During the last year, said Mr. McMurray, there has been a scarcity of cotton, but ordinarily there is a scarcity of labor in the cotton and rice fields in spite of the fact that there are millions of negroes at work. If the colored people are exported it would be necessary to import other labor. It might even bring to this country a large number of Chinese Coolies. The minister maintained that the negro is needed here, and should be given the same opportunity for advancement as is accorded the thousands of immigrants which come to these shores continually.

Continuing Rev. Mr. McMurray said: "The foreigner comes to this country opposed to government and law. He very often departs with his pockets filled with the fruits of his labor to his native country without becoming naturalized. Not so with the negro. He knows what government is and loves it. He is brought up to respect it. If he prospers he does not go to some distant country and spend his earnings there. He stays right here and spends it among his own people. He should be accorded the same rights of suffrage as the foreigner, and he should be encouraged in his efforts to secure an education."

Mr. McMurray's text served to introduce the work being done in the south by the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational Society. He commended the work of this organization in the hogest terms and said that it would do no harm if the government were to appropriate a sum annually to assist in educating the people in the south. The speaker said that he once heard Booker T. Washington say that none of the graduates of the Tuskagee Institute were to be found in prisons or penitentiaries and none of them had stained the name of the institution by committing the crimes which in the south are punishable with lynching. As far as illiteracy is concerned the pastor declared that the percentage in America is only 44½, which is not so high as in Spain, Portugal, Africa and many other countries.

ALL HOPE HAS FLED

Senator Hanna Now Thought to Be at Death's Door.

AN UNEXPECTED SINKING SPELL

Failed to Respond to Stimulants Given to Revive Him—President Roosevelt, Governor Herrick and Others Make Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—All hope of Senator Hanna's recovery has gone. Mr. Dover has just stated that there is no chance for life. "It is just a matter of temporary improvement," he said. The doctors, however, are not preparing for immediate dissolution.

At intervals of two hours during the night Senator Hanna was aroused and given nourishment, after which he immediately would resume his sleep. The doctors supplemented this announcement with the statement that the condition of the senator at this time surpassed all their expectations.

This statement hardly had been issued when an unexpected change for the worse took place. Dr. Osler had gone to Mr. Hanna's room, and Dr. Carter and Secretary Elmer Dover had stepped down to the dining room for breakfast. Dr. Rixey had not arrived, and the senator was alone with his nurses. Suddenly he became notably weaker. His rapid breathing excited alarm, and other evident signs of distress caused a hurried summons for both physicians.

On their almost instant arrival his pulse was beating at the alarming rate of 137, and his respiration was above 40. The oxygen apparatus was put into use immediately, the breathing cone was placed over the senator's mouth and nostrils and relief secured.

A lapse of nearly two hours then intervened without news except of the most indefinite character, such as "no change," when suddenly at 2 o'clock Representative Dick of Ohio and Mr. Dover came from the senator's apartments with the shocking announcement that the senator had suffered another severe sinking spell and had failed utterly to respond to all stimulants administered to revive him. Restoratives were continued, and the senator dozed again into a stupor.

Dr. Carter's description of the sinking spell, made public shortly after 3 o'clock, was as follows:

"At 1:30 o'clock a very unexpected sinking spell came on. We at once started to work on the senator, but he failed to respond to the restoratives applied. During this spell the pulse entirely disappeared from the wrist, and only a slight flutter of the heart could be detected. We kept applying other stimulants and finally got a slight response. Now he has a pretty good pulse and also respiration. The spell was decidedly worse than the one in the morning."

Asked as to the future outlook, the doctor replied:

"We can only work and hope."

The 8 o'clock bulletin showed no improvement in the senator's condition. Some milk and whisky were administered at 6:30 o'clock, and shortly thereafter the patient was given another bath, but it caused no reduction in the temperature. For an hour after the bath Senator Hanna dozed and was resting comfortably. The doctors gave oxygen for a couple of minutes at intervals of half an hour.

It was apparent that an unusual gloom pervaded the hotel. All hope had been abandoned, and any improvement in the senator's condition which developed was regarded as only temporary.

President Roosevelt called to make a personal inquiry, and Governor Herrick of Ohio on arriving in Washington went at once to the senator's apartments. Former Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith has also arrived from Philadelphia. Postmaster General Payne and Governor Herrick lunched together at the hotel, where both remained in constant touch with the senator's condition.

Speaker Cannon called more than once to learn the situation. Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson also were callers, as were Senators Fairbanks, Platt of Connecticut, Kean of New Jersey, Scott of West Virginia, Mitchell of Oregon, Spooner and many others.

Mr. Andrew Squire of Cleveland, a close personal friend of Senator Hanna, has been in Washington several days. Clement A. Griscom of Philadelphia and Representative Grosvenor have made many trips to the hotel to learn the senator's condition.

Morris Wood's Speed on Ice.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Morris Wood, the national champion speed skater, made another unsuccessful attempt to lower the American record for half a mile at Olympia field, in Harlem. During the trial against the half mile figures, however, he equaled the record for a quarter of a mile and eclipsed the old figures for 600 meters by a considerable margin.

Ashland Bank Closed.

ASHLAND, Wis., Feb. 15.—The Security Savings bank of this city has been closed, the directors having voted to place the bank in charge of Marcus C. Bergh, state commissioner of banking. The bank is said to be solvent, but has been embarrassed by a run which was started some time ago by an idle rumor.

Orono Town Hall Burned.

ORONO, Me., Feb. 15.—Fire destroyed the town hall and University hall, occupied by forty students of the University of Maine, entailing a loss of $25,000. The students saved their personal effects. The town has no water works and in case of fire is dependent upon a hand tub.

JAPAN HOLDS SEOUL

Minister and All Russians Leave Korean Capital.

DEMAND FOR RUSSIAN REFUGEES

General Pflug Reports 19,000 Japs at Chemulpo—Tokyo Government Incensed at Attack on Trading Steamers Without Notice.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—A Chefu report says that 12,000 Japanese troops have been landed at Dove bay, Korea, and that they were met there by the Russians, who engaged them in a hand to hand fight. The report says the Japanese were driven back. It is also said that Japanese troops have been landed forty miles farther west.

A report from Port Arthur says the Russian cruiser Askold was damaged in the roads outside that harbor and sank in thirty fathoms.

A cable from Nagasaki says six Norwegian steamers chartered by a Russian naval contractor have been captured by the Japanese. The vessels are the Lena, Activ, Sentis, Seirstadt, Argo and Hermis. They carried coal cargoes. The Hermis has arrived here under convoy of a cruiser. It is rumored that 1,800 Japanese soldiers have been killed, presumably by the sinking of a transport.

Seoul advices say that 1,000 Japanese troops have entered the capital and that in addition to M. Pavloff, the Russian minister, the staff of the legation and the Russian legation guard all the other Russians at Seoul have left the Korean capital by train, bound for China via Chemulpo, guarded by Japanese troops and gendarmes.

The Japanese minister has advised the emperor of Korea to arrest Yi Yong Ik, who has been a practical dictator and who was very friendly to Russia until there was danger of Japanese predominance. Two thousand Russians have arrived at Kapsad, at the head waters of the Yalu river.

The Japanese are constructing a telegraph line from Seoul.

A Nagasaki report says the survivors from the Variag and the Korietz, the Russian cruisers that were sunk by the Japanese fleet at Chemulpo, still remain on board the British cruiser Talbot, the Italian cruiser Elba and the French cruiser Pascal. The situation is becoming acute, as the Japanese have twice made demands of the commanders of the three foreign vessels that the Russians be surrendered as prisoners of war. The captain of the Talbot, being the senior naval officer, each time replied that he was awaiting instructions from his government. None of the Russians are aboard the American gunboat Vicksburg, whose commander considers that the Japanese are right in their demand, as the Russians took advantage of the clemency of the Japanese in returning to the harbor and then taking refuge on the foreign vessels and refusing to surrender, whereas the Japanese fleet refrained from sinking them in the open sea, as they could have done.

A magnificent episode in the battle was the second sortie of the two Russian cruisers. With bands playing the national anthem, the international fleet loudly cheering the bravery and gallantry of the Russians, the Variag and Koreitz faced the Japanese fleet in what was certain death.

The positions of the wrecks appear to be such that it will be easy to recover the guns. The Russian losses were 1 officer and 40 men killed and 464 wounded.

The Japanese ships which attacked and destroyed the Russian cruisers Variag and Koreitz at Chemulpo were the cruisers Naniwa, Takachiho, Akashi, Suma and Asama. The Japanese did not lose a man.

Advices from St. Petersburg say that American and English ladies have started on the preparation of materials for the Red Cross society with just as great heartiness as the Russian ladies engaged in the same work. Various committees and sewing circles which had been already organized effected a general organization at a meeting held in the Anglo-American church, presided over by the new pastor, Rev. Andrew Ritchie. These ladies realize that both armies engaged in the conflict will make large demands on humanitarianism irrespective of race, and they have naturally decided to assist the sufferers they can most easily reach—namely, the Russian wounded.

A telegram from Khakarovsk announces that General Linevitch has been appointed to the supreme command of the Russian army in Manchuria.

The alarm occasioned by the reported landing of Japanese in Korea extends as far back as Mukden, where the Chinese are said to be in a state of panic.

Some of the newspapers here are protesting vigorously against the censorship of war news. The Novoe Vremya says, "We are not children, let us hear the worst."

The wife of Captain Roudnef of the Variag has received a telegram from Viceroy Alexeieff saying that her husband is alive and unhurt.

There is no official confirmation of the rumor from Port Arthur of the landing of Japanese troops at Shanhaikwan. If the rumor should prove to be correct it will mean that the Japanese are trying to get in the rear of the Russians from both flanks with the object of cutting communications.

In military circles confidence is expressed that the forward Japanese movement from Korea will be checked as soon as the Russian advance is encountered.

The retirement of the families of Russian officials across the Yalu river from Yongampho is interpreted as an indication that the news of the fire serious land fighting will emanate from that point.

A communication from Viceroy Alexieff just received confirms the report of the landing of 19,000 Japanese troops at Chemulpo. The viceroy adds that reports have been received of attempts to cut the telegraph wires along the Chinese Eastern railway and also to destroy one of the abutments of the Sungari bridge. These attempts, he adds, were immediately detected and decisive measures taken to guard the railway.

A late cable from St. Petersburg says that Major General Pflug has wired that, according to private advices, the Japanese after the battle at Chemulpo landed 19,000 troops.

Communication by wireless telegraphy has been established with Chemulpo and Chefu by ships stationed between these two places.

All is quiet at Port Arthur. There is no news of the enemy's fleet and no confirmation of the reported appearance of Japanese warships off Tatungkan, but the indications are that the enemy's scouts are off Inkau.

The mobilization of troops is being successfully carried out. General Bazilewski, chief engineer, reports that the Port Arthur forts were not damaged during the bombardment.

The Japanese legation here has been informed that thirty-four of the Russians wounded in the fight between the Japanese and Russian fleets at Chemulpo will be placed in the hospital of the Japanese Nursing home, where they will be treated by competent Japanese doctors.

A cable from Tokyo says the Japanese government denies that Pavloff, Russian minister to Korea, withdrew from Seoul under Japanese pressure, but that his withdrawal was entirely voluntary. It is stated that M. Pavloff, through the French minister, intimated a desire to leave Seoul and intrust Russian affairs to the care of the French legation, which has placed a French guard around the legation. The Japanese government acquiesced and arranged that when M. Pavloff left the legation in place of police soldiers guarded the route to the station, where a special train to Chemulpo was furnished. An officer escorted M. Pavloff to Pascal. The Japanese fleet was given instructions not to interfere with M. Pavloff's departure. From Pascal M. Pavloff will go to Chefu. The above disclaimer by Japan indicates that despite the fact that Korea is largely dominated by the Japanese military force the government has no intention at present of assuming territorial possession.

A dispatch from Singapore says:

"When the Japanese ships Kasuga and Nisshin, from Genoa, Italy, left here they proceeded south and met a Nippon Yusen steamer which had been assigned to a rendezvous in the Dutch archipelago. The steamer transferred complete Japanese crews and officers to the cruisers and then took their temporary English crews. The cruisers then returned to Singapore, but left immediately, with orders to watch for the Russian volunteer vessels Ekaterinoslav and Veronej."

Advices from Tokyo say the presence of Russian squadrons in northern Japanese waters centers all interest there. The country is isolated, and it is difficult to obtain satisfactory reports.

A variety of rumors stir the city. One says Matsuma has been bombarded, another that the Japanese cruisers have engaged the Russians. The government has not confirmed anything except the Zensho incident. It is doubted that Matsuma has been bombarded, as it is undefended. It is regarded probable that the Russian fleet either returned to Vladivostok after completing a movement planned to divert the Japanese or else passed through the Tsugaru strait, moving south. The Japanese cruiser squadron is scouting in the hope of locating the Russian fleet. If the Russians should atempt to effect a junction with the Port Arthur fleet, the Japanese will endeavor to block the way and force an engagement. The Japanese government has decided to accept the parole of France for the Russian prisoners captured at Chemulpo at the time of the sinking of the Variag and Korietz provided they be sent to Shanghai. Russia engages not to let them come north of Shanghai until the end of the war. An exception is made in the case of twenty wounded aboard the French steamer Pascal. They will be taken to Chefu and placed in a hospital.

Japan is deeply stirred and bitterly resentful over the sinking of the merchant vessel Zensho by four Russian cruisers, which attacked the Zensho and her companion, the Naganoura, while they were on their way from Hakata to Otaru, on the island of Hakkaido. The attack of the Russians is declared to be wanton crime, unjustified under any circumstances, even assuming that the Zensho disregarded signals, which is denied.

The foreign office has issued the following statement regarding the sinking of the Zensho:

"Two Japanese merchant vessels, the Zensho and the Naganoura, tonnage 170 and 700 respectively, while sailing from Hakata for Otaru were suddenly attacked by four Russian cruisers from Vladivostok on Feb. 11 while ten miles off Jensaangta. Fire was opened without an order being given to surrender.

"The Naganoura succeeded in escaping. The other vessel was surrounded by the cruisers and sunk. All on board were either killed or drowned."

A Port Arthur dispatch says:

"Official advices state that the Japanese landed 600 soldiers near Talienwan, with disastrous results, 410 being sabered by Cossacks. The remainder escaped to their ships. It is further stated that the Japanese landed at Dove bay, where thirty of them were killed, and the remainder retreated."

The Japanese also landed a force at Pigeon bay, west of Port Arthur. They were then attacked by troops and by the batteries and were defeated, with heavy loss.

A Yokohama dispatch says the four Russian cruisers which sunk the Arour Maru had first appeared in the Tsugaru strait op the 11th escorting a transport from Vladivostok. Another steamer, the Zensho Maru, also met the Russian cruisers, but escaped from them.

All traffic between Hakodate and Aomori has been suspended owing to Russian raiders. Great indignation is felt here over the sinking of a commercial steamer, and it is believed that it is a violation of international law of warfare.

From Chefu comes the news that Captain Gunderson of the Norwegian collier Bygdo has been imprisoned at Port Arthur for four days for having in his possession a chart of the Singvautau coaling station, west of Port Arthur, and showing the chart to some Japanese. The Japanese were arrested with him, but their whereabout is not known.

It is also reported that a corresponden has been arrested in attempting to send news by the steamer Chefu, sailing for Port Arthur. The captain was allowed to leave on agreeing to say nothing about the unconfirmed report that fifty-one Russian sailors had been killed in the engagement Tuesday. One refugee says he saw seven bodies landed from a disabled cruiser which was in a bad position, with a heavy list, bow down.

The Russians have explained their reasons for firing on the British steamer Fuping, in which three of the Chinese crew were wounded. They assert that the vessel was leaving port without clearing.

The British steamer Wenchow is being held by the Russians for refusing to deliver Japanese passengers.

An official dispatch from Paris says the French government has declared its neutrality in connection with the war between Russia and Japan.

There are 400 Japanese still in Port Arthur, it is said, and there is some uneasiness concerning their safety. Refugees who have arrived here assert that they were thrown into prison and that their money and clothing were taken.

The steamer Chefu has arrived at Chefu from Port Arthur with a large number of refugees, consisting mostly of Chinese, but also a few Europeans. The reported land fight between Dalny and Port Arthur is not confirmed by those who came from Port Arthur.

After the attack on Port Arthur the Japanese fleet did not return. About thirty shells struck in town. One on Main street broke every window. Others struck on the hills among small houses, and one killed a woman and a child. The people are panic stricken and are leaving town on every train.

Poggenburg Champion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Ferdinand Poggenburg of the German Liederkranz is the new amateur champion billiardist. The title was won by him when he defeated Dr. L. L. Mial 300 to 185 in the supplementary game of the fourteen inch balk line tournament which began at the Liederkranz two weeks ago. The game was the playoff of the tie for first place, and an attendance which filled every available inch of space was on hand. There was much enthusiasm when Poggenburg made the final and deciding shot of the game, and the energy with which he was slapped on the back and the handshaking he was subjected to will put his cue arm out of action for a week.

Barger Got the Gold Racket.

TUXEDO PARK, N. Y., Feb. 15.—The finals in the tourney for the gold racket championship brought together Milton S. Barger and E. Edwards of the New York Racket club. Mr. Edwards was clearly outclassed, Mr. Barger winning three games to one. In the first game Edwards started off with terrific service, which kept his opponent puzzled, and won by a score of 15 to 8. In the following games Mr. Barger settled down to a service which easily outclassed his opponent, winning the next three games straight and the title of gold racket champion.

Kellogg Won the Golf Cup.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Feb. 15.—Luther L. Kellogg, Jr., of Fox Hills won the first cup in the tournament of the Country Golf club of Lakewood after a hard fought match in the final with F. P. Kimball of Lakewood. Kellogg was three down at the fifth hole and one down at the turn. Steady putting brought him to the front, and he won by 2 up and 1 to play. Daniel Chauncey of Dyker Meadows took the second cup, winning from A. Symington.

Harvard Baseball Season.

Steamer Tees Hauled Off.

Brakeman Killed In Collision.

FONDA, N. Y., Feb. 15.—An eastbound freight train on the New York Central road in charge of Engineer James Truax of Albany ran into the rear of another freight train in the yards here, killing James Sterling, a brakeman, of Herkimer and demolishing several cars.

INTEGRITY OF CHINA

Hay's Proposition Accepted by Russia and Japan.

SCHEME IS NOW AN ASSURED SUCCESS

Acceptance by All Great Powers Will Now Follow Rapidly—Manchuria Will Be the Only Part of China Open to the Belligerents.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Secretary Hay has added another to his list of diplomatic triumphs, and the United States is once more favored by his diplomacy to head the nations in a concurrent effort to preserve the integrity of China. Mr. Hay's note to Russia and Japan urging them to confine hostilities within as small an area as possible and to respect the neutrality and administrative entity of China has been accepted by Russia as well as by Japan, and all the nations join the Washington government in inviting the combatants to agree to the proposition.

Mr. Jusserand, the French ambassador, called upon Secretary Hay at his residence officially to inform him of France's acceptance, and inferentially it is known that Russia's acquiescence will be communicated very soon. At the Russian embassy no intimation had been received of the government's probable answer to Secretary Hay's note, but Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, will inform Secretary Hay as soon as St. Petersburg advises him.

Acceptance by the powers of the Washington government's suggestion will be followed by a further exchange of views as to the practicability of the suggestion, to the principle of which all have given their adherence. As the note is of the most general character, it will be necessary to discuss at some length the possibilities it contains. It is generally understood that hostilities will be confined, so far as China is concerned, to Manchuria, Shanghaikwan probably marking the western boundary.

The formal acceptance of the other powers, it is expected, will follow rapidly, but the success of the proposition is assured by the decision of Russia and Japan to agree to it.

TROUBLE AT SANTO DOMINGO.

Under Hurried Orders Four Hundred and Fifty Marines Sail on Prairie.

COLON, Feb. 15.—Hurried orders from Washington were received here to embark a battalion of marines on the Prairie. A special train was sent to Bas Obispo and returned with 450 marines who were encamped at that station on the Panama railroad.

The Prairie's boats were kept busy all day embarking the camp fittings, baggage, stores, etc.

Major Lucas will command the battalion, and the Prairie sailed under sealed orders.

It has leaked out here that the marines are destined for Santo Domingo. Only about 100 marines now remain at Bas Obispo.

Boy Shot His Father Dead.

ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 15.—Details of a patricide at Roderfield, McDowell county, W. Va., have been received here. James Bowman, aged sixteen years, shot and almost instantly killed his father while the latter was severely chastising his wife, mother of the lad, in their home. The elder Bowman scolded his son, and when the boy's mother interfered her husband upbraided her. A general quarrel followed, and Bowman turned his attention to his wife. The boy demanded of his father that he stop whipping his mother. The senior Bowman did not heed the warning, and the boy fired on his father with a shotgun, the contents taking effect in the head. Bowman died in a few minutes. The boy went to Welch and gave himself up to the authorities.

Explosion In Church Kills Member.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 15.—While services were in progress in the Stratford M. E. church last night a gas machine in the basement of the building exploded, killing T. L. Gessner, a member of the church. A number of windows in the church were wrecked, but there was no panic, the members of the congregation being assured that fire had not followed the explosion. Mr. Gessner had gone into the cellar to ascertain why the church lights had suddenly grown dim. He had been there but a moment when the explosion occurred.

Natives Oppose Capital Penalty.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 15.—The house of delegates by a vote of 15 to 11 has passed a measure for the abolition of the death penalty, and the indications are that it will pass the council by a majority of one, thus leaving the final decision to Governor Hunt. Two persons are now sentenced to hanging under the new code. The Americans are almost solidly in favor of capital punishment, which is generally opposed by the natives.

Judge Brewster Found Dead.

DANBURY, Conn., Feb. 15.—Judge Lyman D. Brewster, a lawyer of national reputation, has been found dead at his home here. He had been in feeble health since he suffered a stroke of apoplexy while speaking at the annual dinner of the New York State Bar association at Albany last year.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 15, 1904.

At any rate the Baltimore fire gave the newspaper readers a rest from the daily dissertation of W. J. Bryan.

A pious New Brunswick man has left a will bequething his soul to God. Fortunately his reputation was such that the devil has no mortgage on the bequest.

No business is so small that it cannot be advertised successfully, and no business is so large that it can afford to dispense with advertising.—Retailer and Advertiser.

An exchange reports that there are thirty four-Democrats in the field at present. From the present outlook it appears that they will all be in the same place after the Presidential election.

Church society in Rahway gave an "egg supper" on Friday night. Considering their high price, it is reasonable to suppose that the eggs were as scarce as oysters in the average stew dished out at a church festival.

The Westerly Sun says, "The United States has got into the stream of International politics and no mistake." Right you are, and with John Hay at the wheel the ship of State will safely pass through any storm that it may encounter.

Dowie and his faithful band of gullibles intend to march on Salt Lake City next fall. When the followers of Brigham Young and Alexander Dowie are safely quartered in Utah, it would not be a bad plan for the United States Government to quarantine the State.

The war correspondents in the far East have the Jersey newspaper correspondents skinned to death. Even that enterprising fellow down in Stamford, Conn., who spins out more sensations in a day than generally occur in this State in a month must be chagrined at the ingenuity of the men who are reporting the conflicts between the Russians and the Japs.

AMUSEMENTS.

Twofold is the triumph which crowds the Belasco Theatre, New York, with such amazingly regularity. Henrietta Crosman's fine and forceful rendering of the title part in "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" is the histrionic achievement of the year in New York; while the play itself, truly Belascoan in every line and situation, is the one notable hit now on the Merotpolitan stage. No character ever played by Miss Crosman, always a thrilling and magnetic artiste, has been so finely drawn to fit the measurement of her unusual talents. Kitty Bellairs is among the most human, convincing, captivating heroines evolved by the master pen of Belasco. Again he has created a living type, bound to take its place among the permanent portraits of the stage "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" is certainly "old comedy" in all its striking and delicious characteristics. To praise a Belasco play is, of necessity, to praise Belasco's art in the stage presentation of it—for the two go hand in hand. The charm, beauty and impressive reality of "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," pregnant with "atmosphere" of the old days in Bath during the picturesque Gainsborough period, are not equaled or even approached in any other play now upon the New York stage. Mr. Belasco and Maurice Campbell, by arrangement with whom Miss Crosman is playing "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," will retain this attraction in its present home throughout the season. Special matinee is to be given on Washington's birthday.

"The Virginian" continues at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, as one of the most popular—if not the most popular—of current offerings. It is seldom that a play pleases men and women in equal measure, but both men and women delight in this stage romance made from Owen Wister's fascinating story. Women fellow with a curious pleasure the incidents of their sex in the wild locality in which the play moves, and they enjoy with great zest the love making of the hero, impersonated ideally by Dustin Farnum. Men are strangely fascinaetd by the incidents of the cowboys' life that so materially differ from those of life in the cities, and they follow with keen interest the development of the story as it relates to the Virginia and Trampes, and the pistol duel that leaves the former triumphant. Much interest is felt in "Cowboy Night" at the Manhatten, arranged for tonight, when Colonel Cody ("Buffalo Bill") and a large number of noted men whose early lives were spent on the plains will witness the play. Matinee will be given on Washington's birthday, in addition to the regular matinee performances on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Powell, was arrested by State Detectives Rattlidge and Francis, charged with the murder of Estelle Allaband, her twenty-one-year-old adopted daughter, whose terribly mutilated body was found last Tuesday in the attic of the Powell farmhouse near Magnolia, ten miles from here. The accused woman was placed in the Dover jail and will be given a hearing on Tuesday, Feb. 23. The arrest of Mrs. Powell is the result of an investigation carried on by the state authorities, who were not satisfied with the verdict of suicide rendered by a coroner's jury. Mrs. Powell was taken into custody after the funeral of the girl, which she attended.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The annual township report is ready for distribution among the taxpayers. The report is put in convenient pamphlet form and one easy to pursue and understand by the property owners. The several departments are found to be in a flourishing condition, which speaks well for the officials who are at the helm. The several appropriations advised by the Township Committee to be raised at the March election will no doubt meet with the approval of all. They are: Police department, $200; fire department, $200; poor, $400; roads, $2,500; sidewalks, $350; for purchasing lot and erecting building for township road machines, $400. The last item is a needed improvement, as for a number of years the township has been paying rent for the storage of the road machines and tools. During that time enough has been paid in rent to have purchased a lot and erected a building for storage. The committee believes the time has arrived when such a movment should be started, so have advised that the appropriation be raised at the coming township election in March.

an effort to secure it. Why, he asked, should not this same principle of home rule apply in the case of the granting of a license for a saloon in the West End, when the people don't want it and only out of town brewers do? Dr. Schenck could not believe that the leaders in the city government could be so callous to public opinion as to sacrifice the future at the dictation of the liquor traffic. He warned the Councilmen of the fate that befell "the six" who voted for the saloon on Second street several years ago. "It is not right," he said, "to trade upon the moral sense of the people." He concluded with a prayer that the West End would be saved the terrible disgrace, sin and poverty that would follow the granting of the license.

In his morning sermon, Dr. Schenck alluded to Goff's $18,000 establishment and asked the members of his congregation to use their influence to discourage the granting of the application for a license.

SAFEGUARDS IN CHICAGO.

In a Speech From Stage Henry Irving Shows His Annoyance.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The city authorities have prevented the use of a "spot light" in Sir Henry Irving's production of "The Bells" and have compelled the stage management to use instead in the dream scene a strong incandescent light. This action, in connection with other safeguards which have been placed about Chicago theater audiences since the Iroquois disaster, has caused no little annoyance to the English actor, who expressed his displeasure when called before an audience at the close of his performance in the Illinois theater. In the course of his remarks Sir Henry said:

"I trust that you will not misunderstand me if I refer to the recent fearful, lamentable disaster which occurred here, a disaster which was the result of panic. Panics are always terrible, and the disasters they produce are always terrible. That which occurred casts no reflection on your city or on the theaters of your city, for it could have occurred in any other city in the world and in a cathedral, in a church or in a railway station just as easily as in a theater.

"But it has produced a panic—a panic among your officials—and I would ask you to use your influence directly and among your friends to allay as soon and so far as possible this feeling of panic.

"And I would like it to be thoroughly understood by you that sometimes much injustice may be done by Jacks in office, and I would earnestly beg of you to exert all your influence to allay the feeling of panic which at present exists among the officials of your great city."

TOWN HALL DESTROYED.

Meriden (Conn.) Fire Brigade Fought For Eight Hours.

MERIDEN, Conn., Feb. 15.—For eight hours yesterday firemen fought a fire which finally caused the complete destruction of the town hall and minor injuries to six men of the fire department. The total loss is upward of $130,000, of which amount about $125,000 falls upon the town.

The firemen hurt were William H. Reef, Peter F. Corcoran, William Lockshier, John Spear and Albert Kaschubey, hosemen, and Emil Redstock, ladder man. Their injuries were due chiefly to falls on ice surfaces.

The fire caught, it is believed, from crossed electric wires in the main hall on the third floor, the sparks at point of contact igniting some bunting decorations which had been in use during a fair held by Meriden lodge of Elks. After the fire spread through the third floor it attacked the dome, which was surmounted by a cupola, and the blazing timbers caved in, carried the fire to the basement and wrought the complete destruction of the building.

The town hall was used by both the town and city for its offices, and the police court and bar library were on the second floor. Police headquarters had the first floor, with its lockup in the basement. The operating portion of the police signal service was lost. The building, which was of brick, was built fifty years ago and remodeled in 1892 at a cost of $80,000. The town, which was the owner, has $37,500 insurance, but the city did not cover its property with a single policy.

THE CROWN PRINCE

Short Sketch of the Heir Apparent of the German Empire.

One of the Most Interesting Young Men of Europe—Resembles His Distinguished Father in Many Ways.

A great inheritance like the German imperial crown is apt to weigh a trifle heavy on youthful shoulders. The German crown prince was only six years old when he became heir apparent, and from that time the idea of his future duties and responsibilities was always kept before him till the boy became serious beyond his years. Now, as a young man of nearly 22, he shows the marks of his rigid education, being of a quiet and thoughtful disposition and still somewhat shy.

With a father of such striking personality as Emperor William, the prince is naturally somewhat in the background, but it is not from weakness of character. The emperor has always made a great companion of his eldest boy, and father and son are much alike in many ways—the stern sense of duty, military tastes and love of sport, for instance.

As the future head of a soldier nation, Prince William was encouraged in things military from his very cradle, tradition relating that at 2½ he insisted on sleeping with a miniture rifle on his arm. He was a delicate, slight boy, and made a tiny soldier indeed when he entered the Prussian foot guards at the age of ten, according to the custom of German princes. With his next brother, Eitel Fritz, the crown prince worked very hard, first at home in Potsdam, and then at the college at Plon, in Schleswig-Holstein. On finishing his course there, the prince went to Bonn, where he thoroughly enjoyed university life, and matriculated with due honors.

It was whilst he was at Bonn that he was besieged one day by a deputation of schoolgirls, who brought postcards for him to sign. After the prince had attained his majority—celebrated with much ceremony at Berlin—he came out into the world by visiting foreign courts.

The prince had often been in England, where he was much liked by his great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, and when over there the summer after her death he was invested by King Edward with the order of the garter.

Last spring the prince and his brother, Prince Eitel, made a tour in the east, and came home by Rome, having an audience of the late Pope. Leo XIII. spoke of the young prince as the pambino piu grande—the eldest little boy, much to the brother's amusement. Now the prince has settled down to military duty in Potsdam with his guards' regiment.

The crown prince shows his English origin by his love of outdoor life. He is a crack rider, and has competed in several military races—hardly altogether to his father's satisfaction, as the emperor detests horse racing. But shooting is his favorite pursuit—not in big court drives, but a quiet day's sport with only a forester in attendance. The prince has been very successful in deer stalking, and displays the utmost patience in following his quarry.

At home he proves his talent as a pianist, for all the princes have been taught some musical instrument, and the emperor and empress are very fond of quiet family musical evenings at Potsdam. The question of the day is: "Who will the crown prince marry?" He is a little susceptible, but the choice of a wife is as yet in the balance.

The Speaker.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon confesses to his personal friends that he sometimes chafes under the restrictions of his office as speaker of the house of representatives. Way down deep in his heart he feels that he would sometimes be easier in a rough and tumble debate on the floor than in the speaker's chair struggling to wield the gavel with solemn dignity and in strict accordance with parliamentary law. "If I could use both hands in presiding over this house," he remarked in all earnestness, "I might handle this speakership job with more satisfaction to myself and in a manner more acceptable to my brethren on the floor. It's no use, I can't do myself justice in talking when I am compelled by custom to keep my hands still. I am ill at ease when I try to strike a dignified attitude with one hand resting on the book of rules and the other leaning on the gavel. I give more thought to controlling my hands than I do to what I am trying to say."

Bad Advice.

"Did you let papa win from you at poker the way I told you to?"

"Yes; and he said a man that played such a fool game should never marry his daughter.—Chicago American.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries command themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR THE SCHOOLGIRL.

Some Dainty Modes For Street and Party Wear.

The young girl who is still at school has many pretty costumes designed for her.

The blouse costumes, either short or long, are eminently becoming to her, and when these are made of stout material of fancy weave the effect is very jaunty, especially when there is a wide belt fastening with a prettily jeweled buckle.

Collars and wide cuffs of embroidery add much to the simplest costumes, and navy blue and dull red are tones which lend themselves best to trimming with embroideries.

Loose sack coats and plaited skirts are among the smartest tailor mades for the young person, and to be very smart the hat should match. This may either be of the tricorne or the sailor shape trimmed with a twist of velvet and a couple of good quills.

The wide hat of velvet or taffeta is very becoming to a youthful face, and particularly so when it is trimmed with a wreath of velvet shaded flowers.

Beaver hats adorned with coque feathers to match are worn with workmanlike cloth costumes. Some charming models in rough beaver, trimmed with ostrich feathers and faced with white cloth, have been designed to wear with elaborate toilets of cloth or velvet.

The prettiest material for a party dress is crepe de chine, next to white filmy fabrics, and the latter are not always suitable. The illustration shows a very dainty little frock of crepe de chine trimmed with maltese insertions and lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

COLORS AND TEXTURES.

The Revival of Jet—Flowered and Pompadour Silks.

The large Spanish comb is revived, and it will be much worn in the hair this spring. Jet will be worn in the hair also, but brilliant jet which sparkles like gems. It will be shaped into flowers and wide wings.

There is an entire revival of jet in blouses, boleros and entire costumes.

PALE YELLOW WAIST.

Sometimes silver is introduced, but all black is more fashionable. All black, all white and judicious mixtures of black, white and gray are seen on the leaders of fashion now staying in the Riviera.

The revival of flowered and pompadour designs in silk is apparent even in the linings of garments and furs. Petticoats, too, are made of these dainty fabrics and are trimmed with dyed lace and bands of plain silk of a contrasting shade.

Taffeta in pretty pastel shades is smart for evening gowns, but it must be softened by chiffon or soft lace.

All of the new silks come in soft lustrous weaves to allow of plenty of fullness in the making without any stiff, awkward effect.

Skirts for spring wear will be fuller and wider than those that have been worn during the winter. Plaits of all sorts and sizes will insure a perfect fit over the hips, and many ingenious devices have been conceived to give the necessary flare.

The cut shows a waist of pale yellow crepe de chine, yellow lace and black velvet ribbon. JUDIC CHOLLET.

PEOPLE OF GOTHAM

Where the Population of New York Comes From.

IS A CITY OF SOCIETIES

Every Nation of the World and Every State of the Union Represented—Some Preachers of Prominence—Other Gossip.

New York.—This is the season when the "County Chairman," with no political purpose in mind, calls to order his people. The season of "banquets" of the Sons of the Somewhere.

A Son of "Somewhere."

For such reunions New York is a wonder. The Southern Society is a power in politics, finance and trade. It includes such men as John S. Wise and John G. Carlisle, with promising juniors like David Lindsay Gordon and his like. The Ohio Society needs but mention. The president of the Maine Society tells me that he has on his lists 800 men eligible to membership. Of course they do not all come, but all could come and all, it is worth remembering, are successful men in a city of fierce competition and unusual temptations. The Vermont Society is less strong than in Boston; I think it is the only state organization of which this is true. Even the far western states are represented by smaller eating clubs.

Then there are such looser organizations as the New England Society, which every year renews the dispute as to which day of the year really is "Pilgrims' day;" and the Holland Society, which includes many of New York's aristocracy, and which at its recent peace banquet chartered an Atlantic cable for an hour for the sending of messages back and forth between New York and London. True to their nativity, the Hollanders never get together that they do not eat gekruide Zuurtjes and korstjes van paddenstoel. The Emerald balls and the St. Andrews' day celebrations complete a list of festivities which has in the meantime included an extraordinary succession of county societies from New York state. There are 60 of these counties, say 55 outside of the metropolis itself, and nearly every one has its society in the city.

The Old Dutch Family.

Of the native New York city elements the original Dutch have endured most sturdily. They have a president of the United States just now; and the names of the Vanderbilts, Stuyvesants, Wallis, Duryeas, Van Rennselaers and the like bulk big in finance.

A Modern Elopement.

Wall spells ropewalk. The Walls and Waterburys in the old days were rope spinners. The trade was hereditary for generations. Out of it and from real estate they made ample fortunes which the present generation rather dissipated in Cordage Trust some years ago. A fair daughter of the house of Wall was the heroine of the recent romantic marriage—they always call it that when the old folks disapprove—with Jules Neilson, the brother-in-law of Reginald Vanderbilt, who had almost to steal his bride from her father's house.

Reginald Vanderbilt is the youngest son of the late Cornelius; he was the hero of the most famous gambling episode in "Dick" Canfield's fort-like sporting house; he was married early to Miss Neilson, who is somewhat his senior and now that at 22 the young couple have a new baby Mr. Vanderbilt has turned a sedate family man.

The Neilsons are Catholic; the Walls Protestant; this accounts for the spirited resistance the parents of Mrs. Jules Neilson made to her marriage. The Vanderbilts were originally of the Dutch Reformed church, but are now Episcopalians, though more than half of the younger generation have married Catholics. The highest society of New York, which a generation ago was largely Presbyterian and Low Church Episcopalian, is rapidly becoming Catholic and Episcopalian of the High Church faction.

Dr. Greer and His Successor.

The induction of Dr. David H. Greer as coadjutor bishop of New York, was celebrated in the presence of 600 clergymen whose eminence in the community and whose far-reaching activities testify to the influence of the "fashionable faith," as it may without offence be called.

Dr. Leighton Parks.

Dr. Greer was called "the Vanderbilt pastor." Again without offense, what it meant was, practically, that whenever Dr. Greer wanted money for any of the manifold activities of one of New York's greatest "institutional churches he went to Cornelius Vanderbilt with his case and got a check, quietly, unostentatiously and almost as a matter of fact. Thus backed, St. Bartholmew's has grown into a gigantic congeries of religious orders, boys' clubs, mothers' meetings, sewing classes and everything that could enhance the comfort of the poorer parishioners.

I suppose Dr. Greer inherited a claim upon the younger Vanderbilts, though it would not be so handy to collect. The father was always to be found attending to business. It isn't so easy to catch with a subscription paper a young fellow sky-hooting across country 60 miles an hour in an automobile.

In Dr. Parks New York will have a business-like successor to a business-like clergyman. Either Dr. Parks or Dr. Greer, in ordinary raiment, would be taken for a merchant or perhaps a railroad official. Each is in fact many things, not a spiritual advisor alone, but architect, sociologist, administrator, general commanding of a host of people. Dr. Parks is called to administer a parish whose property and endowments amount to more than $3,000,000, and whose annual income is nearly $250,000. He needs to be a business man, and he is, trained by similar work in Boston. The employment agencies of St. Bartholmew's church "place" 5,000 persons in a year; its free physicians make 15,000 calls. It has six Sunday schools, including one each in Chinese, Armenian, Swedish and German. Two are in English.

The Sunday Saloon Question.

One thing New Yorkers can never quite make others understand is the demand of the church element, or a large section of it, for Sunday saloon opening.

Sunday "Closing."

The Association of Neighborhood Workers, formed of young men and women who knew best the needs of the poor, have just revived the old question by voting in favor of Sunday opening. The greater part of the Episcopalian church favors it. Dr. Parkhurst asks for it. It is unnecessary to say that all these people have no sympathy with the saloon. They regard it as a necessary evil under the circumstances and are almost bitter toward those who assert without knowing the fact that the Sunday opening is the road to ruin.

There are two answers which the church people, the Settlement people and the officers of the law, like District Attorney Jerome are accustomed to make:

First, the saloons are open now, many of them; the "Raines Law Hotels" legally open, others illegally open. To have them open against the law keeps no one sober and brings the law into contempt.

Second, the feeling that the "reform element" tries to keep the saloons closed drives thousands of honest people who do not go to church, but who do take a drink now and then to vote on the wrong side in most municipal questions. This alone gives the "saloon power" its political importance.

There is no doubt that the saloon men voted for the reform candidate in 1901 because they were tired of the price Tammany made them pay for the privilege of breaking the law. Last fall they voted for Tammany because they found the reform administration unable to furnish the promised "liberal" construction of the law. In both instances they carried the day.

And so the whole matter comes up again before the legislature in the form of local option measures, each of which is worse than most of the others. It has even been proposed that each election district have the right to vote upon the Sunday opening question.

A Wealthy Probation Officer.

There is no lack of earnest effort to help the poor and find out what their real needs are by people of wealth and leisure. As an instance, young Richard Stevens and his sister, Mrs. Alexander, appointed probation officers of Hoboken.

The Probation Officer.

Stevens was a household name in civil war times, when Commodore Stevens, head of a famous house of engineers, presented to the government at his own cost the famous Steven's battery. In those days the Stevens fortune was one of the greatest in the country, as it is still of respectable size. Stevens' castle in that beery suburb was one of the show country houses of America, and is still one of the most conspicuous, a prominent object to every one who passes down the Hudson river.

This young man and woman will make it their business to assume charge of delinquents, particularly of boys and young girls, who are permitted to leave court upon suspended sentence. The probation officer watches over them, tries to get work for them, makes weekly reports concerning them to the court and acts the part of big brother or sister.

Mr. Stevens and his sister get salaries of $1,200 each. They will pay out this sum for assistance, so that the office can be done by hirelings, leaving them free to get out among the sheep. There are over 500 probationers to be looked after.

THE MEAN MAN LOST.

Fate or Something Else Came to the Aid of the Pink-Haired Stenographer.

The Broadway car was approaching Thirteenth street, relates the New York Sun.

The fat man leaned forward with a gasp and touched one of the meekly standing women with his folded newspaper. Then he rose with a mighty sigh and moved toward the door, while his grateful beneficiary dropped into the vacated seat.

A pink haired stenographer, not ravishingly pretty, who clung to a strap immediately in front, viewed the incident with surprise, and afterward assumed a contemptuous smile. Then the car lurched into Dead Man's Curve and she swung out on the strap like "Curfew Shall Not Ring To-night." Her lips moved busily for a lasting arch of scorn.

The mean man, seated opposite, was interested. Over the top of his paper he observed these facial changes of the pink haired stenographer, and he noted their cause with fiendish pleasure.

The passenger beside him was folding his paper and buttoning his coat. As the passenger rose the mean man touched the arm of a woman standing next the pink haired stenographer and drew her attention to the vacant seat.

The pink haired stenographer looked over her shoulder with a glance of amazement and hatred. Then she saw the mean man's expression, and understood that he had acted with malice aforethought. She turned her back squarely, crimson to the tips of her ears.

The mean man exulted inwardly. Watching the seated passengers narrowly, he was enabled to repeat this performance twice more, each time landing another tired woman in a seat, and leaving the pink haired stenographer still clinging to the strap. In the opposite window he could see her face reflected; and her lips were set in a dangerous line.

The supply of standing passengers was depleting. The mean man began to look worried. Then came the influx from the crosstown line at Thirty-fourth street, and business seemed to be picking up.

The new arrivals were crowding up the aisle, when suddenly the pink haired stenographer abandoned her strap with a curious gleam in her eye. Wedging herself sinuously into the advancing mass, she brought it to a struggling pause just in front of where the mean man sat.

There was a wild swaying and shuffling in which the pink haired stenographer's gray jacket mingled vaguely. Then the car started amid a confusion of outstretched arms, and the mean man's hat was knocked from his head far into the aisle.

He sprang forward to save it from certain destruction, and was back in a second—and he found the pink haired stenographer comfortably settled in his seat. But the scornful arch had vanished from her lips, likewise the dangerous line; and her eyes looked beyond the mean man in a gaze of dreamy contentment.

Then the mean man hooked himself into a strap and tried to look calmly reflective as he computed the running time to Eighty-third street.

EXERCISE IN HOUSEWORK.

Something of Physical Culture in Almost Everything That Is Done.

Since almost all of the regular house work is of such a sort as to require forward motion of the arms, the thing to guard against is contraction of the chest. Sweeping and dusting become good exercise when proper attention is given to the position of the body. The sweeping not only starts the circulation and increases the respiration, but it also gives some good arm and waist exercise, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Bed making is fine exercise when the windows are open to admit plenty of fresh air. A great deal of bending is necessary, but this alternates with straightening of the body. No one position is held for any length of time, side motions of the trunk and arms being necessary. This is free play for the chest, the lungs are filled with fresh air, and the general circulation is quickened in this brisk work.

But, as in every other detail of house work, the clothing should be such as to give no pressure or undue weight. But the most lowly and despised detail of house work, is, after all, the one that is the most valuable from the standpoint of hygiene.

The scrubbing and wiping up of floors are two movements in which the weight is taken entirely from the feet. In the position on the hands and knees gravity acts to the best advantage, and the shoulder movement is comparatively free. In fact, this exercise is recommended as the best possible to reduce undue stoutness.

To Break Glass.

Don't take a hammer or throw it upon the ground, that is to say, if it needs to be broken in any required form. Preferably make a small notch by means of a file on the edge of the piece of glass. Then heat a thin rod of iron red hot, apply it to the notch in the glass in any desired direction or shape. A neat crack will mark the course of the hot iron and there the glass can be safely severed.

Home-Made Cider.

The making of cider in small quantities is rather a difficult matter. The apples should be allowed to mellow under cover for about two weeks, then they should be crushed and allowed to stand until somewhat cleared. Pour off and strain well, then draw off into a large cask and allow to stand; for winter use cider can be bottled.—Good Housekeeping.

ESQUIMALT DEFENSES

British Naval Station Is Being Strengthened with Big Guns.

One of the Three Fortified Points in Canada—Size of the Fleet Reduced—The Story of Two Scotchmen.

At Esquimalt, the British naval station which lies three miles to the southwest of Victoria, B. C., and commands the entrance to the harbor, a battery of quick-firing guns is being installed at the navy yard and the work is nearing completion. Extensive mines have been laid in the harbor entrance, and it is reported that the work of constructing a fort on the high bluff overlooking "Royal Roads," (as the approach to the harbor is called) which was planned some years ago by a royal engineer, is soon to be commenced. Recently additional ground was purchased by the imperial authorities and plans were prepared for large and modern magazines, in a sheltered and concealed location, separate from the other buildings. This is taken as an indication of the intention to keep a still larger supply of munitions of war on hand.

But while the general defenses of the station of Esquimalt have been strengthened, the size of the British fleet there has been reduced, so that now, besides the flagship Grafton—which boat is a first class cruiser—only two second class cruisers and two steam launches for use of engineers are stationed there.

But while the fleet has been reduced in size, the strength of the station has been increased, as we have already said, and new guns installed. A description of those guns will prove interesting. They are large 9.2 guns, weighing, with their equipment, 30 tons each. These cannon arrived from England in the fall of last year and were placed in position upon the top of Signal hill, which commands the whole harbor. These guns are said to throw a 380-pound projectile five miles, and with an elevation of 15 feet they have a range of seven miles. The guns are said to have cost $26,000 each. They throw the projectile from the muzzle at the rate of 2,347 feet per second and punch a hole in 18 inches of wrought iron at a range of 3,000 yards. In addition to these heavy guns a battery of quick-firing guns is being installed in the navy yard, and these also cover the entrance to the harbor.

The Briton visiting Esquimalt looks with pride upon these big, frowning, formidable guns, and a feeling of self-confident security creeps into his heart and rings out in the tones of his voice as he talks about what would happen in case of war. A friend of the writer who visited Esquimalt a summer or two ago tells an amusing incident of two Scotchmen whom he overheard in conversation. One was fresh from the homeland and the other was a resident of the states. One saw everything that was British through a magnifying glass and stamped with a great big B and a roaring lion, the other had seen some of Uncle Sam's big guns and knew that Johnny Bull did not have a monopoly on the big iron machines for belching forth steel in carload lots at the rate of 40 miles a minute and faster. The one felt like bragging, the other knew that Esquimalt with her big guns and little and her dry dock could be dropped down in one corner of some of the fortifications of the States without crowding her American cousin or exciting envy or alarm.

Mr. Scotchman with the magnifying glass found great satisfaction in telling what Esquimalt's big guns could do in even of war, and he had the American navy to its last ship sunk in the deep sea outside the harbor entrance, while the American army was in wild retreat towards Washington. But Mr. Scotchman from the States, with a good nature which comes from confidence of one's position, invited his friend to come across the border and see the real thing in the way of cannon. But as far as we [illegible] stubbornly refused to [illegible] busy bragging about [illegible] big guns would do in case of had to be sawed off at a depth of 35 feet below the water. At first the contractrs said it was impossible to cut them at that depth.

When the piles for the first pier had been driven a big box with a bottom consisting of four layers of heavy timbers was built, with detachable sides. Then the concrete pier was laid upon the bottom of the box, which was floated close to the bridge, filled with water and sunk under the old bridge, on the top of the submerged piles driven for it. Then the sides of the box were unscrewed and sent to the surface to be used in building the next pier.

All the actual work of planning and construction was carried on under the supervision of Chief Engineer Joseph G. Osgood, of the Jersey Central, and the bridge engineer, Austin Lord Bowman. Vice President and General Manager W. G. Besler and a party of officials watched the work yesterday. When the tracks had been laid on the new structure they crossed in an inspection locomotive. All trains on the road between New York and Elizabeth and points beyond Elizabeth went by way of the Newark branch up to a late hour last night.

INDIANS TO BE HERE.

The Indians who are to give scenes and music from "Hiawatha" at the Casino next Friday afternoon and evening were all actors in the drama at the Sportmen's show. They will not appear in the Sportmen's show this year, their only public work being in connection with Mr. Burton's lecture-entertainments. In past years they have traveled a good deal and are always eager for new journeys. Miss Alice Longfellow, who has known them since the Indian play was established by L. O. Armstrong, of Montreal, has spoken often of their improvement in manners since their contact with the whites. She and all others who have seen it, regard the play as not only educational to whites, but elevating in its influence upon the Red men.

It requires three different persons to represent Hiawatha in the quaint drama: A papoose, a little boy and a grown man. All these will be with Mr. Burton next week. The little boy, Adamosa Fetebahbundung, is sure to win the affections of all children and mothers who see him. A special matinee for the convenience of school children will be given at 4 p. m., and the evening performance for adults will be given at 8:15. Tickets may be obtained at Armstrong's pharmacy.

Kenneth Shupp led the singing and with DeWitt Frazee gave instrumental selections.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS TO GATHER TOMORROW

Thirty-Seventh Annual Meeting of Grand Lodge of N. J. to be Held in Trenton.

A PROSPEROUS YEAR

REPORT OF ENDOWNMENT RANK AGENT TO BE OF INTEREST.

Grand Lodge a Representative Body —Ballots Cast by Lodge Delegates—Number of Members in State 13,865.

Commencing tomorrow the thirty-seventh annual session of the grand lodge of New Jersey, Knights of Pythias, will be held in Masonic Hall, Trenton. Routine business will occupy much of the time.

It is said that some consideration will be given to plans calculated to make the endowment rank of the order popular in this jurisdiction. This branch of the order is under the direct control of the supreme lodge, but membership is optional with each member. The subordinate branches of the rank are called sections. They hold separate meetings and transact only financial business. During the past year the supreme lodge has had an endowment rank agent at work among the lodges in this State. His object has been to acquaint the members with the work that is being done by the rank and to encourage the formation of sections in all places where the order exists.

Contrary to the general run of grand lodge sessions, the knights will spend but little time in electing officers for the coming year. In most cases the election is held in the subordinate lodges at the first meeting in December. At this time the past chancellors of each lodge meet and vote for grand lodge officers. The vote is then canvassed by a committee of the grand lodge and the candidate who receives the majority of the votes is declared elected. In the event of no election for any office the case is so reported and the grand lodge representatives continue to ballot until one of the candidates is elected. In nearly every case the decision is made in the lodges.

The grand lodge is, strictly speaking, a representative body. While its officers and past grand chancellors have the right to speak on all matters before the body, they are deprived of the privilege of voting. All votes and ballots are cast by the lodge representatives.

Grand Keeper of Records and Seal Elmer E. Margerum, of Trenton, will submit an elaborate report. The figures are for the year 1903, and will be as follows: number of members, January 1, 1903, 13,865; initiated during the year, 917; admitted by card, 52; reinstated, 77; gained by consolidations, 362; gained by errors in former reports, 3; total gains, 1,411. The losses were: Number withdraw by card, 68; deceased, 179; suspended, 530; by consolidation, 362; by surrender of charters, 39; by errors in former reports, 32; total losses, 1,210. Membership on January 1, 1904, 14,066; net increase for the year, 201. There are, in the State, 23 past grand chancellors, 3,864 past chancellors, 10,129 knights, twenty-five esquires and twenty-five pages.

Record Keeper Margeurm will call special attention to the financial part of his report, and will give these figures: Amount paid for the relief of members, $45,017.39; paid for the relief of memers of other lodges, $4,566.60; paid for the burial of the dead, $17,767.98; paid for watching with the sick, $927.89; paid for the relief of widows' families, $768 49; total amount paid for relief, $69,048.26.

The general expenses of the lodges amounted to $57,113.88. Other disbursements were: Paid for paraphernalia and supplies, $1,850.62; amount of money invested during 1903, $20,454.19; total payments received from all sources during the year, $157,576.56.

Regarding the assets of the subordinate lodges, the record keeper will report these items: Amount of cash on hand and in banks, January 1, 1904, $76,340; amount invested, $163,760.44; real estate, $65,994.46; value of paraphernalia, furniture, etc., $51,345.63; widows' and orphans' fund, $2,428.63; total assets, $359,833.16. During 1903 the members relieved numbered 1,462.

Grand Master of Exchequer, John Patrick, of Rutherford, will report as follows: Cash on hand at close of the session of 1903, $1,406.89; received during the year, $5,712.87; disbursements, $4,760.22; balance now on hand, $2,360.54.

VALENTINE PARTY.

Miss Grace Emmons Entertained Thirty Friends in a Delightful Way.

Miss Grace Emmons, of 15 Jackson avenue, last night, entertained thirty friends at a valentine party at her home. There were guests present from New York, Brooklyn, Elizabeth and other places. The evening was spent in playing progressive hearts and in dancing. Music was one of the features of the evening's programme.

The hostess and her mother, Mrs. Peter A. Emmons, received. The house was prettily decorated for the event with festoons of red curled tissue paper, with hearts hung pendant from the chandeliers. At a late hour refreshments were served.

DEMOCRATS ENJOYED DANCING

VAUDEVILLE PERFORMANCE AN ATTRACTION AT THE LOCAL CASINO.

"Big Bill" Devery and "Tim" Sullivan, the New York politicians, were invited to the second annual ball and reception of the Plainfield Democratic Club held last night at the Casino, but did not attend, the committee having received word from those astute statemen that it would be impossible for either of them to be present. Nevertheless the dance was a success, there being fully two hundred people in the place. Guests were present from Elizabeth, Rahway, Westfield, Roselle, Newark and New Brunswick.

Before the dancing began there was a clever vaudeville performance, by out-of-town talent. Among those who favored were James A. Monaghan, songs and overtures; Giff and Milliken, illustrated songs, and scientific bag punching by Harry Dilts, of this city. This proved the most enjoyable part of the evening's programme to those who did not dance.

It was said by the committee last night, that the dance was a success financially and socially. The purpose of holding the dance was to increase the size of the club's coffers in anticipation of its removal into larger and more commodious quarters.

In charge of the arrangements were the officers of the club: President, C. A. Sturtevant; vice president, Charles L. Moffett; secretary, Charles Messerschmidt; financial secretary, Victor Troice; treasurer, H. W. Marshall, assisted by P. J. Reville, Andrew J. Nolan, J. V. F. Dilts, J. J. Kane, L. B. Skillman, M. O'Keefe, James Harrigan, Vincent L. Frazee, Frank L. Shattle, Frank McInerney and J. J. Kinniery.

DUPLICATE WHIST.

Event at the Park Club Arranged by Three Members.

An evening of duplicate whist was the attraction at the Park Club, last night, the affair being arranged by Ralph T. Willis, Joseph H. Howell and Mr. Whittingham, the committee on whist at the club. There were ten tables, play being for mixed pairs. There were no prizes, the competition being just for pleasure and the social features were prominent. After the play refreshments were served in the tea room.

ROSELLE MEN DOWNED BY WESTFIELD BOWLERS

Leaders for The Daily Press Cup Won Two Out of Three Games on Its Own Alleys.

ROSELLE CAPTURED FINAL GAME BY A MARGIN OF FORTY-ONE.

Westfield Has Won Twenty-Two and Lost Five Games—Roselle a Good Second—Granford Still at the Bottom.

Westfield Club increased its lead in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament, last night, when it won two of the series of three games with the Roselle Casino, on the Westfield alleys. The home team won the first two games, while Roselle captured the final. This gives Westfield a total of twenty-two wins with five games lost, while Roselle is a close second with eighteen wins and nine games lost.

Westfield took the first game by a margin of 32 pins and the second by a margin of 159 pins, while Roselle took the last game by a margin of 41 pins. Despite the fact that the series was between the two leading teams, the bowling was not extraordinary, in fact, there were no particularly high scores. C. E. Halsted rolled high score for Westfield. This was 187, while Roselle's high man was S. Smith who made 182 in the third game. Tonight the two tail-enders, the Parks and Cranford will roll in this city, and considerable interest will be manifested in the result.

This is the detailed score of last night's series:

WESTFIELD.				ROSELLE.
C.D. Smith	145	153	138	S. Smith	173	141	182

HEARING IN GOODWIN CASE

CLIENT CRITICALLY ILL, WHILE LAWYERS ARGUES APPEALS.

Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer is in Trenton today arguing the appeal of John Goodwin, of the borough from the decision of Recorder Doud, certiorari proceedings having been taken by him. While the wordy war is being fought out between Mr. Swackhamer and Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed, who represents the borough, John Goodwin lies in a critical condition at his home on Manning avenue, suffering with heart trouble, an affection of the kidneys and several other complaints and may possibly never hear the result of the case being tried at Trenton.

The case is the sequel of the arrest, trial and conviction of John Goodwin for "resisting arrest, interfering with an officer in the performance of his duty and disorderly conduct," arising from the attempt made by Charles Sebring to move his house from this city into the borough.

It will be remembered that Goodwin was arrested and taken to the borough lockup and thrust into a cell. When he was convicted of these charges in the borough court notice of appeal was taken and the case has been pending in the Supreme Court ever since.

It is claimed by Goodwin that he was illegally arrested, and if he wins his appeal at Trenton, he declares, he will sue the borough for heavy damages on the ground of false imprisonment. He declared at the time he was arrested that he was guarding the rights of those over whose property he was appointed trustee, and that is was while on his own property that the hands of the law were placed upon him illegally.

E. S. F. RANDOLPH SELLS OUT

PHARMACY BUSINESS IS PURCHASED BY N. V. & J. CADMUS.

E. S. F. Randolph, who has been engaged in the drug business in this city during the past six years, yesterday sold his business at the corner of North and Watchung avenues, to N. V. & J. Cadmus, pharmacists, of Bayonne, and the new firm is now in possession. Mr. Randolph leaves the drug business to engage in the brokerage of essential oils and conduct a commission house for drug manufacturers. He will probably have his office in New York. As a druggist, Mr. Randolph was successful and he increased the business at his store to substantial proportions. His friends wish him continued success in his new field of work.

As for the new firm, it has for several years conducted a successful pharmacy at Bayonne, where it enjoys an excellent reputation. The members of the firm are brothers. They are graduates of the New York College of Pharmacy and registered in New Jersey. They are competent and reliable pharmacists and no doubt will continue the business successfully.

MR. DUNHAM'S HOME ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT

Man Who Has Made Many Hauls Here Recently, Got More Booty Yesterday.

NERVY PIECE OF WORK

RANSACKED THE ROOMS IN THE SECOND STORY.

Mrs. Dunham Had Hidden Her Diamonds—Gold Watches and Other Jewelry as Well as Money Stolen.

The house of Charles Dunham, of 413 Central avenue, was entered yesterday afternoon between 12:30 and 2 o'clock and about $80 in money, two ladies' gold watches and other jewelry stolen. The thief made his entrance through the side parlor window, using a jimmy, and ransacked the rooms in the upper story. He left evidently in a hurry, dropping a $10 bill on the floor in his haste.

He is undoubtedly the man who has been operating so extensively in the city and borough for months past and who has given the police and residents so much uneasiness. He apparently watched the house until its occupants had gone to dinner at Truell Court according to their custom. He is a man, as shown in this and other instances, well acquainted with Plainfield and Plainfield people. The police regard as fortunate the fact that he has left the outskirts of the city in his operations and approached the business district, as they consider his capture will result more easily from an attempt on a more frequently patrolled street.

By a fortunate coincidence, Mrs. Dunham had hidden her diamonds and some of her more valuable jewels yesterday before going to dinner, the mere chance probably being the only thing that saved them.

THE JUDGMENT SUSTAINED

COURT GRANTED COUNSELLOR NEWCORN A NON-SUIT IN SACHER CASE.

After allowing the opposing attorney to present his case for him, William Newcorn, Esq., was granted a non-suit yesterday by Judge Edward S. Atwater in the District Court at Elizabeth, in the case in replevin of Oliver Conlin against Caspar Sacher. Mr. Newcorn represented Sacher who recently was given judgment for $200 by Justice Huff in a contract case against Samuel Block. The attachment was issued by Justice Huff and the papers served by Constable Walters, after which, it was shown, a similar suit was started against Block by Conlin, the suit in replevin of Conlin against Sacher following. P. Q. Oliver, Esq., attorney for Conlin, in his questioning of Messrs. Huff and Walters, brought out the points desired by the defense, Mr. Newcorn allowing the case to rest on the results of his examinations. Judge Atwater granted the non-suit without allowing the case to go to the jury.

Charles Leonard stole coal to sell it and was fined $10. John Williams, a boy of fifteen, of Scranton, Pa., charged with begging, said he was trying to reach friends in Jersey City and the court paid his fare and bought him a breakfast.

Besler, of North Plainfield, general manager and vice president of the New Jersey Central, will give a talk concerning railroading. He will tell of the important work in connection with the transportation department of a railroad and relate many interesting details. After the talk there will be a musical programme. It is expected that a number of sub-officers of the New Jersey Central will be present to hear Mr. Besler.

PLAINFIELDER'S BROTHER DEAD

HENRY B. WILLIAMS SUCCUMBS TO TYPHOID IN HIS PHILADELPHIA HOME.

Henry B. Williams, aged fifty-five years, brother of E. P. Williams, of West Seventh street, died yesterday at his home, 5150 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, following an illness with malarial typhoid. Mr. Williams was born and always lived in the vicinity of Philadelphia. He was a successful produce merchant and occupied a prominent place in the business interests of Philadelphia. He is survived by two sons and two daughters, one of the latter, Miss Edna Williams, being the fiance of Henry Baldwin Drake, of Duer street. Miss Williams was visiting in this city when she was called home by the serious illness of her father.

HEZEKIAH NOW BESIEGED

SEEK SQUIRE HAND'S MATRIMONIAL BUREAU FOR FIRST AID TO LOVESICK.

Justice of the Peace Hezekiah Hand is a busy man these days after his extraordinary announcement of special inducements of leap-year and other marriages. Not only has his offer of free marriage to leap year couples found the public pulse and created more widespread newspaper comment than any single announcement from Plainfield in months, but it has been seized upon as a light of hope by forsaken swains and lovelorn maids, who have besieged the Justice with applications for aid.

When a reporter sought out the Judge this morning, it was to find him working through a mass of mail matter which included communications from press clippings bureaus, matrimonial agencies, manufacturers of marriage certificates, and many others of the same kind. Among them was this, whose tender message will plead for itself:

"229 Fulton street,
"Brooklyn, N. Y.,
"February 15, 1904.

"Hezekiah Hand,
"Justice of the Peace,
"Dear Sir:

"I notice a piece in a New York paper about your interest in young folks, and write this to ask you if you will kindly put me in communication with some one of your pretty townsgirls (brunette preferred).

I am a southern bachelor and would be delighted to become acquainted with some one of your pretty acquaintances. I can give best of reference. I am thirty-four, light, weigh 170 pound, 5 feet, 10½ inches high.

"Tom Wilson,
"Care Saunders.

"P. S.—A present for you if things go well."

And now "pretty townsgirls" it is up to you. If you neglect this golden opportunity, you will have yourselves to blame. The chance of a lifetime to get a blonde 170-pounder cheap; references guaranteed! And don't forget the Judge after all he has done in your behalf. Just remember the little "present for you if things go well."

Besides attaining fame in a single day by his generous encouragement of those on matrimony bent, Judge Hand has done several things worthy of note. He is one of the most successful auctioneers in Union County and has for years been one of its busiest Justices of the Peace. In Fanwood about a dozen years back, he was at different times postmaster, town constable and township committeeman. He served once in three offices at one and the same time, postmaster, overseer of the poor and overseer of roads of Fanwood. He was twice elected a Fanwood justice of the peace. He has been a member of several grand juries, and was a court office at Elizabeth for seven years. He has also been a members of the city committee in Plainfield.

J. R. JOY DISCUSSES THE GREAT WESLEY

Instructive Lecture Before the M. A. C. on the Founder of Methodism.

A POWER FOR GOOD

DECLARES HE ESTABLISHED A NEW AND PURIFIED AN OLD CHURCH.

A Practical Leader Whose Ideas Are Adopted by Other Denominations—John Wesley's Awakened Conscience.

The large audience that greeted James R. Joy at the Casino yesterday afternoon bore testimony to the expectations stirred by the announcement of his lecture on "John Wesley" before the Monday Afternoon Club, whose subject of study this year is "Eminent Men in England in the Latter Half of the Eighteenth Century." Mr. Joy's delightful lecture fully justified the eager anticipation.

In discussing the eminent founder of Methodism, Mr. Joy naturally broadened his subject into the evangelical movement in England of that period. In a time marked by immorality, a passion for gambling, worldliness of the clergy and a consequent lack of spirituality in the church, he said, John Wesley with his awakened conscience, spiritual bent of mind, passion for saving souls and indomitable courage became a great power, affecting England and America. He was possessed of poetical fancy and fine classical taste with an education, that fitted him, said Mr. Joy, to fill more than a place like that of his father, Samuel Wesley, who was rector of Epworth. The strict precision of his religious life and that of his brother, Charles Wesley and a few fellow students gave them the derisive appellation of Methodists, declared the speaker.

With Wesley's deep spirituality, Mr. Joy noted the great practical wisdom that made him a leader and the founder of systems that have been adopted by other sects. The publishing house for the dissemination of their belief was one of these practical thoughts and the Methodist Book Concern of the present day is an outgrowth of this idea. Great courage was required to stem the tide of opposition to Wesley's methods, but his was the pluck that conquers and commands the admiration of the world. Wesley's power for good, remarked the lecturer, was shown not only in the establishment of the new sect but in the purification of the older church, for while Wesley seceded from the church of England, it was not until the vital principles for which he stood had permeated and quickened the sluggish church. Mr. Joy claimed that Wesley's influence extended even to the preservation of the ship of state when it was tossed on the stormy billows of dissatisfaction and revolt. While France was torn with its revolution, the poor miners and dissatisfied masses of England were singing Charles Wesley's hymn "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and the sweet religious spirit soothed the discontent and controlled the rebellious spirits.

At the close of the lecture, the members of the Club expressed their appreciation of Mr. Joy's efforts on their behalf by a rising vote of thanks.

She has returned to New York, where she will remain for the present. Her plans for the future have not yet been made.

A Handsome Clock.

J. Harvey Deane, the Park avenue jeweler, has just completed the work of making a handsome clock which is attracting considerable attention. It has a circular dial made of a solid piece of mahogany, an inch thick. On the face the figures and hands are made of brass, gold plated. These are the only ornaments. The works are of an excellent make and the clock keeps accurate time.

AMUSEMENTS.

Suit has been begun against two vaudeville performers in New York for singing the new song hit of "Babes in Toyland" at the Majestic, entitled: "He Won't be Happy 'til he Gets it." The song is the property of Hamlin & Mitchell and all infringements on their rights will be vigorously prosecuted. Re-arrangement of the third act necessitated by the new song brings into prominence Miss Virginia Foltz who has been entrusted with a speaking part. She has acquitted herself cleverly so far and does much to make the scene a success. The originality of Miss Bessie Wynn, one of the principals in the "Babes," has been made evident in the new powder puff bracelet she has designed. The bracelet contains a compartment which flies open when a tiny spring is pressed, revealing a fluffy puff. The design has been patented and is called the "Bessie Wynn" bracelet. Special matinee on Washington's birthday.

The fact that Robert Edeson in "Ranson's Folly" is now in the sixth week of his stay at the Hudson Theatre is gratifying news to those of the public who like good acting and healthy American plays. There seems to be little doubt that Richard Harding Davis, Henry B. Harris and Robert Edson have found another success like unto "Soldiers of Fortune." "Ranson's Folly" is a rattling good comedy with freshness and force in its main situations with a skillful plot and many opportunities for effective and unusual stage pictures. "Compared to many of the recent plays," says John Kendrick Bangs, "it is like a whiff of pure, sweet air, fresh from the pine clad hills." The leading role of the funloving lieutenant is played capitally by Mr. Edson, who is peculiarly in tune with the type of American thoroughbred that Mr. Davis draws so trenchantly. The unfolding of Ranson's character is consistently shown and the actor as usual makes natural impressions out of situations that in other hands might be theatrical.

Charles A. Bigelow grows funnier as the engagement of "An English Daisy" continues at the Casino. And at the same time pretty little Christie MacDonald has rounded out her work in the prima donna-soubrette title role so effectively that it is doubtful if there is another girl on the stage who appears with such satisfaction to audiences. She is in exceptionally good voice and dances and act with a graceful ease that is delightful. Assisting Mr. Biglow in maintaining the fun of the rollicking musical play are such clever entertainers as Fred. Lennox, George Beane, Frank Lalor, Louis Wesley, Frank Hammond, Geo. P. Smith, Walter VanAllen and Alfred Truschel. The singing contingent includes with Miss MacDonald, Miss Truly Shattuck, Miss Clara Belle Jerome, Miss Kitty Baldwin, Miss Jean Newcombe, Miss Nomie Dore, Henry Leone, Templar Saxe, Franc V. LeMone, Osborne Clemson and Arthur Stamford.

HANNA'S LIFE ENDS

Ohio's Great Senator Passes Away at Washington.

END CAME PEACEFULLY, QUIETLY

Died In Arlington Hotel at 6:40 Last Night.

WASHINGTON GRIEF STRICKEN.

Although Expected, to the Capital and the Country His Death Has Come as a Great Shock—His Body Will Lie In State In the Senate Chamber—Funeral In Cleveland on Friday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Marcus A. Hanna, United States senator from Ohio and one of the foremost figures in American public life, sank gradually during the afternoon and died quietly last night in his apartments at the Arlington hotel at 6:40 p. m. of typhoid fever after an illness of two weeks. He passed away peacefully and without pain after being unconscious since 3 a. m., at which time the first of a series of sinking spells came on, from the last of which he never rallied.

All the members of the family with one or two exceptions were at the bedside when the end came. They were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hanna, Mr. and

MARCUS A. HANNA.

Mrs. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Miss Phelps, H. H. Hanna and Mr. Dover. During the last hours life was kept in his body only by the use of the most powerful stimulants.

Senator Hanna's death followed a sinking spell that lasted ten minutes, beginning at 6:30.

President Roosevelt was immediately notified by Postmaster General Payne of Senator Hanna's death.

Senator Hanna will be given a public funeral in the senate chamber at noon Wednesday and will lie in state at the capitol. The funeral will be held in Cleveland on Friday.

Mrs. Senator Hanna was not at the bedside when the end came. She had been ill with a severe headache a short time before, when she had been given a narcotic, and she then went to bed. Drs. Osler and Carter and two nurses were at the bedside at the last moments.

Senator Hanna's fatal illness in its beginning dates back nearly two months. About the middle of December he informed his friends that he did not feel quite well, but declined to take a period of rest which all fully realized he so much needed. Although he had been complaining for two or three days, he left Washington on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 17, to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Civic federation which was held in New York on Friday and Saturday. His deep interest in the work of the federation induced him thus to expose himself. He was able to attend the sessions of the committee and to participate in its deliberations, but on Saturday night he was stricken with what was pronounced by Dr. George E. Brewer, his attending physician, to be the grip. He was confined to his apartments in the Waldorf-Astoria for nearly four days, but on the afternoon of Wednesday, Dec. 23, he was able to leave for his home in Cleveland. He became better on his arrival there and on Saturday, the 26th, appeared at his office in his usual spirits, apparently quite recovered from his attack of the grip.

On Sunday, Jan. 10, Mr. Hanna left for Columbus to be present at the proceedings incident to his re-election to the United States senate. He remained in Columbus until the following Wednesday afternoon, when he returned to Cleveland. During his sojourn in Columbus he was bright and cheerful, enduring the physical strain of greeting hundreds of his friends without an indication of weakness. He arrived in Washington from Cleveland on Saturday, Jan. 16. He was fatigued on account of his trip and the excitement and strain of the incidents of the week, but was in excellent spirits and received with characteristic cheerfulness and manifest pleasure the congratulations of his friends on his re-election to the senate.

On the following Tuesday, Jan. 19, Senator Hanna was obliged to remain in his apartments in the Arlington hotel. Surgeon General Rixey was called and pronounced the sickness a recurrence of the recent attack of the grip. Some fever was noted, but no more than usually is an incident of that disease. In a day or two the senator was better, and for several days thereafter he attended to business practically as usual. On the following Tuesday the senator's symptoms became more serious, and he was ordered by Dr. Rixey to discontinue all work likely to produce nervous strain and to remain quietly in bed for a few days. Complying with these directions, he became better and was well enough on the night of Saturday, Jan. 30, to attend the annual dinner of the Gridiron club, an occasion which, he remarked jovially, no attack of the grip could induce him to forego.

The next morning he showed no ill effects of his attendance on the dinner and during the day received and chatted with about forty of his friends. He was in fine spirits, earnest and aggressive and showed to those with whom he conversed the best of his virile character. Among others with whom he talked that day was James J. Hill, the financier and railroad magnate.

They talked for nearly two hours about the financial and political situations, the Northern Securities case and other incidental topics. That was the last really important conference on general subjects of public interest in which Mr. Hanna participated.

Late in the afternoon of Wednesday, Feb. 3, Senator Hanna suffered an alarming relapse. Drs. Rixey and Magruder were summoned hastily and found their patient suffering from a congestive attack. His temperature had risen to over 100, and he was very weak. An examination developed the fact that his vital organs were in good condition and performing their functions properly. Several years ago the senator was troubled to some extent by an affection of the heart, and at first it was feared that if a serious sickness should develop a fatal termination might ensue through the failure of the heart to respond to the demands of nature or to artificial stimulants. The examinations of the heart conditions, however, were reassuring to the physicians.

Having been impressed by Dr. Brewer's treatment in New York, Senator Hanna asked that that physician be sent for to consult with Drs. Rixey and Magruder. On his arrival here Dr. Brewer agreed with the diagnosis of the attending physicians. Dr. William Osler, the eminent diagnostician of the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, also was summoned to the bedside of the senator. Discovering some symptoms of typhoid fever, he suggested that an examination of the senator's blood be made to determine definitely whether the perceptible diminution of the patient's strength was due to the ravages of that disease.

On the following day, the 5th, the physicians announced that Mr. Hanna was suffering from a case of irregular typhoid fever. This announcement aroused the keenest apprehension among his friends. It was realized that the senator's advanced age, sixty-six years, and his known predisposition to rheumatic trouble would be likely to render the case more serious than it might be in a younger man. Mrs. Hanna, the senator's daughter, Mrs. Medill McCormick, and his niece, Miss Phelps, already were at the bedside of the patient, but it was not deemed necessary by the physicians to summon other members of the family.

The most profound solicitude was manifested by Senator Hanna's friends in Washington and throughout the country. Anxious inquiries as to the patient's condition were made almost momentarily throughout each day as his illness progressed. Particularly solicitous were the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, the members of the cabinet and Mr. Hanna's colleagues in the senate and in the house of representatives.

Mr. Hanna worried considerably about his work in the senate, and finally at his suggestion such matters as he was particularly interested in and which required immediate attention were placed in the hands of Senator Fairbanks of Indiana.

Excessive weakness characterized the senator's condition on Sunday, the 7th inst. He was too weak indeed to converse at any length and appeared to be distressed about his business interests. To relieve his mind of any such cares it had been deemed desirable to summon his brother, H. M. Hanna, from Thomasville, Ga. He arrived in Washington late Sunday night and was followed a few hours later by Dr. Edward Perkins Carter, Senator Hanna's family physician from Cleveland.

After a consultation of Drs. Rixey, Osler and Carter on Monday, the 8th, it was announced that the fever had developed into a regular type of typhoid. The senator gradually grew weaker, his fever continued alarmingly high, and on Thursday the reading of his pulse indicated that it had mounted to over 100.

Powerful stimulants were given the patient, and in both his general condition and in his heart he responded admirably. A saline solution was injected into his system to repair the impoverishment of his blood, and strychnine was used to stimulate the heart.

It became evident on Thursday night that Senator Hanna was in a most serious if not most critical condition. Until that time he had taken and assimilated with regularity the liquid nourishment given him. Very little nourishment could be given the patient Thursday night and Friday, and his excessive weakness became alarming. He rested reasonably comfortable during the early hours of Friday morning and afternoon, but soon after 2 o'clock Friday afternoon he was seized with a chill. His fever increased materially, and his pulse became so rapid that it was thought the end was approaching. Oxygen was administered, but the announcement was made from the sickroom that it was thought the distinguished patient was dying.

The announcement came as a blow to Mr. Hanna's anxious friends. President and Mrs. Roosevelt, both of whom had called on Mrs. Hanna earlier in the day to convey to her their profound sympathy, arranged to receive frequent bulletins of the senator's condition. The Arlington hotel was thronged with friends of the senator. Among those who, despite the alarming condition of the patient, yet adhered to the belief that the senator would recover were his brother, H. M. Hanna, and Representative Charles Dick of Ohio, toward whom Mr. Hanna had sustained the relation rather of an elder brother than that of a personal and political associate. Their optimism seemed to be warranted Friday night, for quite unexpectedly Senator Hanna rallied from the collapse into which he had fallen and toward midnight showed signs of marked improvement.

The official bulletins announced that the senator had passed a comfortable night Friday, though his temperature several times reached 105 degrees. Application of sponge baths, however, reduced the temperature considerably. During Saturday he was unconscious a large part of the time, but showed improvement during the day, which gave the family hope to believe that he would yet make good use of the "fighting chance" of recovery which the physicians said he had. There was no setback during the day, the latest bulletin issued at 11 o'clock describing it as a "gaining day." The wearing effect of the sickness on the patient, however, was again evident Saturday night, when he manifested increased weakness, although on the whole the night was comfortably passed.

When the morning bulletin was issued at 9:30 o'clock Sunday the senator's temperature was still high, and the respiration was 40. He had several fainting spells during the day, but rallied slightly from both, but as night came it was realized that all hope must be abandoned and that it was merely a question of how many hours would elapse before the end.

The senator during all the latter days of his illness, even while oblivious to all save his doctors' efforts in his behalf, astonished his physicians by the tenacity with which he clung to life and the determination with which his strong will aided their efforts to avert death. From Sunday on the sick man grew weaker and weaker and responded more and more feebly to the powerful stimulants and oxygen applied by the physicians until finally the strong vital forces which had carried the senator through his active, aggressive life completely succumbed and came to a final stop at 6:40 o'clock last night.

Marcus Alonzo Hanna was born on the 24th of September, 1837. The place of his birth was New Lisbon, O. At that time only twenty-five states had been admitted to the Union, and beyond Ohio there was a vast and practically unknown domain. His father was a country merchant. His grandfather had been a pioneer, and his great-grandfather had emigrated from the north of Ireland to Virginia as long ago as 1764. Two hundred years ago, which is as far back as Mr. Hanna had traced his genealogy, his ancestors were in England, from which country they went to Scotland and then to the north of Ireland. Hanna's grandfather was born in Virgina. In course of time he went out to Ohio, where Hanna's father was born, and then the latter, in 1852, left the old homestead to go to Cleveland, which city the senator had always made his home.

When Hanna really began life after some common school education and a term in the Western Reserve college, he became a grocer's clerk. His father kept the grocery store.

As his father's health gradually failed, young Hanna became more and more identified with the business, and when, in 1862, the father died the young man was able to take up his parent's place in the firm.

When his father-in-law, D. P. Rhodes, who had established a firm for the purpose of engaging in the coal and iron business, retired, Hanna took control and built up an ernormous business. While still a junior partner Hanna repeated his experiences of the grocery store. He learned every detail of the business. He knew as much about coal and iron ore as he had learned about sugar and flour.

Here his genius for organization made itself evident. The firm of M. A. Hanna & Co. began to reach out. It bought an ore mine in Michigan, organized a fleet of lake steamers to bring the ore to market, built the docks upon which to deposit the ore, constructed furnaces to melt the ore, purchased a coal mine to supply fuel for the furnaces and secured a controlling interest in the railroad which transported the coal to the furnaces.

Ask the average man when Hanna first entered politics, and you will be told that he made his debut when in the early part of 1896 an organized effort was made to secure the nomination of William McKinley for the office of president of the United States. It is safe to say that not one man in a thousand can recall having heard the name of Hanna before that time.

The first office for which Hanna was a candidate was membership in the board of education in Cleveland. This was as long ago as 1870. It is needless to say that he was elected.

The national election of 1896 was preceded by a period of financial and industrial depression. In this extremity Hanna felt that the hour and the man had come. He would make William McKinley, the apostle of the protective tariff, the president of the United States.

It is a curious fact that when Hanna first met McKinley the men were on opposite sides. Hanna, a coal mine owner, had had some trouble with some miners. Some of the strikers overstepped the bounds of law and were arrested. McKinley, then a young lawyer, defended them with marked success. Hanna was attracted to the man who could oppose him and carry off the flag of victory. He sought him out, became convinced of his worth and ability and won him over. The men first liked then loved each other. The business man in Cleveland watched the man in politics in Canton, saw him steadily rise in public life, kept always in touch with him, encouraged and upheld him. The two men complemented each other. Hanna was aggressive, McKinley was conservative. Hanna could not utter a word in public. McKinley was a graceful, persuasive, forceful orator. Hanna kept close to the hard, practical world, McKinley occasionally dwelt among the clouds. There were some points, too, where the men touched each other, and at these points their friendship was cemented by mutual feeling.

McKinley was also confident that his opportunity had come. Twice before he had seen the honor of a nomination drifting toward him, but each time he had stepped aside. In 1894 the field seemed clear and the elements propitious. Hanna, knowing how McKinley had steadily risen in public esteem, suggested his candidacy for the presidency. The Republican leaders, for some reason, were averse to the suggestion. Hanna thereupon determined to take the matter in his own hands. McKinley was summoned to the famous conference at Thomasville, Ga., Hanna's winter home, and went determined to meet the tide of fortune at its flood.

Long before the convention assembled at St. Louis the result was a foregone conclusion. From almost every state came delegates pledged to McKinley. Their duty was perfunctory. They had merely to answer when their names were called. When they arrived at St. Louis they went to a little room in the Southern hotel to meet the man who had marshaled them under one flag. That little room, with Hanna coatless and perspiring, was the focus of the convention. The man who had been a mere delegate in the ranks, who had then risen to be the chairman of his state delegation, was now the central figure of a great convention, the general of a mighty army.

The convention over and Hanna's purpose being accomplished, he proposed to again return to his desk. As he was packing up his papers in his room at the hotel Henry C. Payne, now postmaster general, entered and invited him to meet some gentlemen upstairs. Hanna complied. He found about fifty men assembled.

"Mr. Hanna," said one of them abruptly, "we have elected you chairman of the Republican national committee."

In that sudden and almost startling manner Mr. Hanna was made acquainted with his selection. Mr. Hanna hesitated for a few moments, then accepted.

In this fashion Mr. Hanna went to the head of the Republican national organization. He became not only a new figure in American politics, but the embodiment of a new idea. With his ascendency all political methods were revolutionized. Campaigns had been previously managed by professional politicians, but with the advent of Mr. Hanna the business man came to the front. Practical ideas succeeded theoretical issues. Of all the remarkable developments of the campaign of 1896, a campaign which includes a most interesting chapter in Mr. Hanna's life, this fact stands out most prominent—that under Mr. Hanna business finally dominated politics. Nor is there any likelihood that the American people will ever return to their ancient ways.

With the accession of President Roosevelt Mr. Hanna's influence at the White House increased rather than diminished. He was regarded as the new president's closest adviser. In the course of time the president and Mr. Hanna drew apart a little, through differences on public questions, but they were never near an open break, and recent talk of Hanna's opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's nomination met with the most emphatic rebukes from both men. President Roosevelt was a daily caller at the senator's hotel during his last illness.

Mr. Hanna leaves a widow, a son, Dan R. Hanna, and two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Medill McCormick, wife of a son of the United States ambassador to Russia, and Mrs. Harry Parsons.

HANNA'S SUCCESSOR.

Ohio Legislature, Being In Session, Election Will Be at Once.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 16.—As the Ohio legislature is now in session, Senator Hanna's successor will not be appointed by the governor, but at once elected for the terms expiring March, 1905, and in March, 1911.

Less than seven years ago Hanna, who had never before held office, succeeded John Sherman as senator and had over seven years yet to serve, having last month been re-elected. During the past week there has been much comment about the senatorial succession. Among the names mentioned in this connection have been those of Governor Herrick, Charles P. Taft and George B. Cox of Cincinnati, J. H. Hoyt of Cleveland, General J. Warren Keifer of Springfield, General Asa W. Jones of Youngstown and Congressmen Dick, Grosvenor, Burton, Newin and Warneck.

Senator Hanna lived in northeastern and Senator Foraker in southwestern Ohio. It is claimed by some that geographic conditions are likely to add to the chances of Governor Herrick or Congressman Dick, who reside in lake districts. While Senator Foraker resides in Cincinnati, the friends of Taft and Cox cite the case of their Indiana neighbors, where Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge both reside in Indianapolis.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 16, 1904.

The part of an advertisement that is remembered is the part that produces results.—Retailer and Advertiser.

About time for some fellow to bob up with a declaration that he predicted the current events of the scrap between Russia and Japan.

If worthless advertisements were all eliminated, says an exchange, the newspapers would have to reduce their size or furnish more reading matter.

The death of Senator Hanna removes from the scene of political action an able general. His passing to the great beyond marks the heaviest loss the Republican party could suffer at this time.

Much relieved yesterday to get the first of the customary annual tidings concerning the peach blight in Delaware. Had feared that the cold weather had carried off the people who feel it their duty to issue the tale every year.

Incensed over the fact that small audiences have greeted his appearance in the Windy City, Sir Henry Irving took occasion last week to rake the Chicago officials over the coals for scaring the people away from the theatres. His speech was a "howling" success so far as his lines were concerned. Sir Henry should not attempt to infringe on the pet habit of Mr. Richard Mansfield of making "orations" before the curtain.

The bill to create a State Board of Charities and Corrections referred to the committee on judiciary in the assembly will receive a hearing today. An active opposition to the bill has developed in both houses. It is argued that if the bill goes into effect, the Board as constitued will usurp many of the powers of city and borough councils and boards of freeholders. Its application locally may, for instance, be illustrated. If the Board of Freeholders wished to arrange for the building of an addition to the county jail at any time they could not act without the consent and supervision of the State Board of Charities and Corrections if established. If the city Council desired to make repairs or alterations or a change in the regimen of the Industrial Home, they would be obliged first to ask permission of the State Board.

APPLE-JUICE HABIT.

Sweet Cider Brings Back to Fancy the Glorious Days of Autumn —Winter Reveries.

The poets may sing, if they will, of the wines of sunny France and balmy Italy, and we may hail with delight the amber sparkle in the brimming champagne glass, but nothing is more conducive to happy mood half composed of delightful reminiscences than sweet cider, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

You remember how Robin Hood's men sang lustily of October ale? All that they voiced, and more besides, is true of the cider from the presses in the autumn orchards.

If you are very, very old, you can recall perfectly that day you spent in the orchard helping them gather the gold and crimson fruit all ready for the pressing. The restfulness of a task completed was in the air, fragrant with the perfume of the new-mown hay, and the west was gloriously crimson where the gates opened wide to let in the day that had been of all the year most satisfactorily spent. Your copy of Tennyson (Omar was unknown then) lay on the grass where you had tossed it down to really listen for the coming of her footsteps like those of Maud in the poem, and—but it is enough that she was there.

To-day is cold and gray, and the closed shutters fasten out the world as it was not known in that other day. Then comes some one offering sweet cider, the while a huge fire is built. Once more the apples strew the ground, the western light turns to gold all it touches, and almost, as the magical drink gurgles out, can be heard her step on the stair.

POPULATION PROPHET.

A Warning from America to England Written Before the War of the Revolution.

There was printed in Boston and reprinted in London, 1769, an unsigned letter to Right Hon. the Earl of Hilsborough, on the then situation of affairs in America. It was an able argument on rights and privileges from the colonial point of view. Copies of the pamphlet, brown with age and ragged, are now rare.

One page, in particular, shows that there was at least one gentleman in this country at that time who foresaw clearly the wonderful growth of population in the territory which now is divided among 45 states. Read:

"Irritating the colonies is like maltreating a growing youth who will soon be able to revenge his injuries; since, according to the most accurate calculations, their inhabitants double once in 25 years, and their numbers, agreeable to this rapid increase, in another century will amount to 48,000,000. The time, therefore, must soon arrive when other motives than force will be requisite to secure the dependence of the colonies; and it will then be of importance to the English kingdom to have preserved their affection by a just and parental treatment."

A century after the publication of the pamphlet the United States did contain the 48,000,000 inhabitants, as prophesied.

SHARKS IN TORPEDO WORK.

Suggestion That the Great Fish Be Utilized in the Naval Service— Curious War Balloons.

All sorts of queer devices are offered the army board of ordnance and fortifications as engines of destruction. One of the strangest suggestions of the kind yet presented to the consideration of the board contemplates the use of large fish, preferably sharks, for the propulsion of submarine torpedoes. According to the plan proposed a shark is to be imprisoned in a tube at the rear end of the projectile, and is to be controlled in its movements by the active application of wireless telegraphy.

In case the shark became restless and attempted to swim away on his own account, says the Washington Star, it was to be given an electric shock, and in that way kept on its course until the torpedo had reached its target. Another remarkably ingenious proposition emanated from the same fertile brain, and contemplated the employment of war balloons in any desired direction. In this case also the birds, harnessed in the aerial vehicles, were to be controlled in their movements by a system of wireless telegraphy. These balloons were to be provided with torpedoes or bombs, which could be dropped at any desired point by the use of wireless telegraphy.

ON A JANUARY WALK

The Interesting Things a Naturalist Sees in the Snow.

How He Finds and Studies the Animals in Their Winter Homes—A Stroll Through the Woods.

A few days before the recent January thaw, I started for a tramp through the snow-covered woods. The thermometer stood at ten below zero, but, as the snow was 20 inches deep on the level, the exertion of getting through it made me glowing warm before I had gone half a mile, and when occasionally I got out of the wind, the air seemed almost spring-like.

Whether we enjoy winter or dislike it depends largely on whether we are prepared for it or not. Cold weather has no terrors for us if we know that we are not going to be cold in it, and half the nuisance of snow is gone if we are sure that we can go where we like without getting out feet or clothing wet. I am speaking now for those of us who mind getting their feet wet; some of us don't. In other words, with warm clothing and a pair of rubber boots, or snow shoes if the snow is deep enough, there is nothing to prevent any healthy person from enjoying himself in the worst weather the winter can turn out. For a winter walk in the country, an overcoat is a mistake; it trails in the snow, and continually gets in the way. What one requires is some form of clothing which will permit perfect freedom of movement.

A pair of gloves, however, will go a long way toward making one enjoy a walk on a bitterly cold day. Not kid gloves, but a good big pair, which allow for a generous air space around your hands inside, and with gauntlets which come over the cuffs of your coat, and keep out not only the wind but the snow. And if you are going along alone in bad weather, it is a wise precaution to tell your friends which direction you intend to take, and the length of time you expect to be gone. When the snow is deep and the air intensely cold, a sprained knee or a broken leg may mean death, if assistance does not arrive in time.

I had not gone far into the woods when, in passing a low-growing wild apple tree, I noticed that the surface of the snow beneath it had been disturbed in an irregular manner. It was furrowed, and here and there there were holes, leading into little runways, which extended downward as far as I could see. The holes were much too large to have been made by a meadow mouse, and quite too small for a muskrat, and I doubt if I should have discovered what animal had made them, if the impudent head of a red squirrel had not appeared suddenly at one of the holes. He had a look of astonishment on his face, and a small apple in his mouth. He dropped the latter on the snow in front of him, but retained the former for about five seconds, or until, with a frightened squeal, he darted to the invisible regions below. The little apple, lying upon the snow, told a pathetic story of the little fellow's hunger, and of his efforts to satisfy it, and I wondered if he had any sense keen enough to tell him where each individual apple lay, or whether he tunneled blindly, with the hope of finding one occasionally.

"HE FLEW UPON MY FINGERS."

Further on I came to a stretch of half-open country, covered with barberry and other bushes. And here I found the paths which the rabbits had made the night before, and all along these paths the twigs of the bushes under which they ran had been cut off clean, as though with a penknife, by the sharp front teeth of the rabbits. And thus the snow, which had done the animals an injury in one way, by covering up their food upon the ground, served them well in another way, by lifting them to a height at which they could crop the tender twigs nearer the tops of the bushes.

But the most delightful incident of my walk occurred when I was nearing home. A flock of hungry chickadees flew into a maple tree above me, perhaps knowing that I had something to do with the many square meals they have enjoyed this winter. One of them hopped to a branch close above my head, and I felt in my pocket for some broken nuts. Taking off my glove, I extended the hand containing the offering, and I had his earnest attention in a moment. Down he came close to me, crying "Dee-dee-dee," and peering into my face with his beady black eyes, as much as to say, "Is it all right? Come, now, is it?" But without waiting for a reply, he flew upon my finger, calmly picked up a piece of nut, and flew back into the maple tree. With my finger delightfully tingling from that delicate grasp, I went home feeling as though I had shaken hands with a fairy.

LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which, will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

DRESS ORNAMENTATION.

Hood and Bertha Effects—Shirred Boleros of Lace.

Where a bertha effect is not desired a hood effect is often simulated by means of flat folds of lace lined with bright silk. Panels of oriental embroidery run perpendicularly on skirts and are finished at the ends with fringed trimmings.

A full shirred bolero effect of lace is often used over a tight fitting bodice belt.

Black chiffon velvet makes a delightful evening gown, for it allows of a full gathered skirt owing to its supple, shining folds, and the waist can be prettily draped and finished off with a deep bertha of fine creamy lace.

Jet is being enthusiastically revived—not the coat of mail jet, but jet embroideries, jet leaves and jet flowers. Jet dog collars encircle the throat and are set off by fastenings of diamonds, and a wreath of jet leaves worn in the hair is excessively smart.

One of the latest novelties is a black chiffon veil with appliques of velvet ivy leaves or in an exquisite French blue shade with a bright Dresden stripe and threads of gold on either side, while quite one of the newest stoles is composed of plain black taffeta, unrelieved by lace or chiffon, the only adornment being rows of frilled ruchings about four inches apart. The inner side is lined with black.

The cut shows a hat of violet silk trimmed with pale violet ostrich tips.

LOUIS XVI. EFFECTS.

Pompadour Silks, Ruched Trimmings and Tiny Flower Trimmings.

Evening gowns are becoming more and more elaborate, and many of them show marked Louis XVI. effects. This is shown in the long pointed girdles, the sleeves with wide ruffles and the wide skirts with their festooned ruching. A very up to date model recently seen in the workshop of a great dressmaker had a shirred and corded waist with a wide pointed girdle and elbow sleeves, plentifully ruched and ruffled. The skirt was gathered in very full all around the waistband, and it was trimmed at the bottom with rows of ruching. The material was a beautiful pompadour silk in a blurred design.

Roses and their buds made of chiffon adorn many a pink chiffon dancing frock, and these pretty trimmings can be bought by the yard and detached. Velvet ribbon threaded through coarse lace is another dainty trimming, and so are medallions of lace appliqued at intervals on flowered ribbon.

Ruchings, however, are far and away the most popular, and they are particularly handsome made of chiffon or brussels net.

Spangled robes are "in" once more, and these are made up with the addition of lace or chiffon.

The long, voluminous hanging sleeves are a feature of every evening gown. They are often accordion plaited and edged with a tiny ruching.

The hair dressed low, with a big black velvet bow, is an evening style greatly in favor among red haired and blond women.

A most becoming white stock is adorned with violets composed of French knots, the neckband fastened with three tiny buttons, revealing a touch of pale blue, while the short stole ends are adorned with chiffon violets.

The picture shows an evening gown of white tulle over white silk, trimmed with a pink sash and tiny pink roses.

IN CONGRESS.

Shafroth of Colorado Relinquished His Seat In the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Proceeding under "personal privilege" recognition, Mr. Shafroth, Democrat, representing the First Colorado district, relinquished his seat in the house in favor of Robert W. Bonynge, the Republican contestant for the seat. Mr. Shafroth's statement was regarded as most extraordinary and sensational. It was received with prolonged applause on the part of both Republican and Democratic members, and when he had concluded nearly the entire Democratic members surrounded his seat.

Mr. Olmsted, chairman of the committee before which the case is pending, followed with a most complimentary statement as to the attitude Mr. Shafroth had pursued throughout the investigation. This investigation, he said, had shown fraudulent votes, but it also had shown that Mr. Shafroth was in no way personally responsible for the condition and that the fraud had not been committed for his benefit, his vote being but an incident in the scheme.

As the matter was a complete surprise to the committee, Mr. Olmsted said, no resolution seating Mr. Bonynge had been prepared. After an interval, in which a bill was passed ratifying and amending an agreement with the Indians located on the Grande Ronde reservation of Oregon, Mr. Olmsted presented the formal resolution unseating Mr. Shafroth and seating Mr. Bonynge. This was agreed to without opposition.

IN THE SENATE.

Senator Hanna's Condition Caused Great Depression.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The suspense concerning the condition of Senator Hanna had an appreciable effect on the senate, and as a result the proceedings were marked by an unusual listlessness and depression. There were no speeches on any subject whatever, and more attention was given to the frequent bulletins announcing the condition of the senator than matters of legislation.

The entire time of the legislative session was devoted to routine business, the most important matter taken up being the bill providing for a gratuity to former Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii, which was lost on a tie vote.

Jamestown Exposition Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. — Representative Maynard of Virginia has introduced a bill in congress appropriating $3,000,000 and providing for a government board to arrange the Jamestown (Va.) exposition in 1907, in celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the first English speaking settlement in North America.

Second Conference Proposed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 16.—The special committee of coal operators and mine workers of the central competitive district met here to decide upon the advisability of holding a second joint conference to endeavor to arrive at a wage agreement. Several hours were devoted to discussion.

Fire at Mechanicsburg, O.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 16.—The town of Mechanicsburg, near here, has suffered from a disastrous fire. The fire department of this city was sent to the relief of the place.

FUTURE OF AUTOMOBILE.

Will Solve Many of the Problems of the Great Cities as Soon as Perfected.

The automobile is about to take on more of the character of a reliable servant, declares the Metropolitan. It will be kept in the stables of the rich for regular use in going to the opera, to the office, to the shopping district and in going about for social ends. It will require no one to wait until it is harnessed, until it has finished eating, or until it has been shod. It will be kept because of its being always ready to leap forward in response to an intelligent touch. It will enable one to catch trains at short notice, to be more leisurely at the breakfast board before starting for the office, to linger longer at the dinner table and yet see the curtain rise.

The boon of its utility will not be confined to the wealthy. It will have all the democratic range of patronage that has the street car. It will be as much the handservant of the middle classes as of the wealthy. Clerks and salesmen who cannot now afford to own a horse and buggy will be able to economize by using a motor carriage. The automobile will be so cheap to maintain, so easily managed and so reliable that it will be used by railroad commuting residents of the suburbs in traveling between home and place of business. The motor vehicle is yet to exert a tremendous influence in the development of suburban property. It will offer a means of speedy access to localities now too remote from railroad and trolley to be popular.

SILVER AND WOUNDS.

White Metal Has Antiseptic Properties Not Popularly Known—Silver Leaf Excellent for Dressings.

Dr. Reboul has made use with excellent results of a sheet of silver leaf in dressing wounds and ulcerations, according to an exchange. The silver sticks closely to the surface of the wounded or diseased tissue and a small quantity of cotton soaked in colodium is sufficient to keep it in place. When the wound is fresh it heals quickly without inflammation or suppuration. A perfect cicatrization of ulcerated cancer of the skin has been attained by this means:

The antiseptic properties of silver are not popularly known. Some years ago Dr. Rollin, of Lyons, in cultivating microbes in a bouillon which he had placed in a silver cup, found that the microbes perished and at the end of a few hours completely disappeared, and the fact was all the more remarkable as the same microbes multiplied when placed in another vessel. Pursuing his investigations, Dr. Rollin analyzed the bouillon which was contained in the silver vessel and found therein a very small trace of silver, which infinitely small quantity had rendered the bouillon antiseptic.

THE TEST OF FIRE.

Crisis in Financial World Necessary in Process of Developing New and Better Methods.

The new methods and the new projects are going through the test of fire to-day, and some of them are being consumed, asserts Charles A. Conant, in the Atlantic. The tests which weeded out the badly organized and incompetent of the early stock companies, which drove to the wall the "wildcat" banks of ante-bellum days, and which wiped out dividends and stock rights in badly managed railways, are now being applied to the new forms of organization which have been the growth of the past decade. But the stronger and better organized of these new corporations are likely to meet these trials without disaster or to modify their methods to conform to the teachings of experience until there remains to the financial world a valuable residuum of new methods for giving flexibility to capital and promoting its transfer promptly and efficiently from the industries where it is not needed to those where it will render its highest service.

Among the Ainus.

The Ainu women are the family tailors, as well as cloth manufacturers. Although there are no dry goods stores in the land, when a new outfit of garments is desired free and unlimited raw material is at hand. In the early spring they go to the mountains and get loads of elm tree bark, from the fiber of which they weave cloth. The bark is put in water to soak and get soft, after which it is taken out and the fiber arranged into threads and wound upon balls. It is then woven into narrow rolls of cloth, on a primitive loom. The garments are rough, and have a faded brown color. A few well-to-do Ainus wear Japanese clothing. In winter the women sew bear, deer and wolf skins over the bark fiber garments for greater warmth.—N. Y. Tribune.

Eskimo Boys at Play.

After eating I went out and watched the Eskimo boys at play. One youth, fastening a piece of bark to a harpoon, raised it above his head. This was a target. Another boy withdrew some distance, balanced his harpoon and, with splendid aim, sent it through the bark. I took part in the sport, my clumsiness causing the greatest amusement. The harpoon is as necessary to the young Eskimo as the pocketknife to a schoolboy in civilization. Throwing the weapon is their play. They are ever practicing, so that when they reach manhood they are perfect hunters.—World's Work.

"Don't chase shadows."
Doubtful proof is but a shadow.
You can rely on testimony of people you know.
You can investigate local evidence.
Mrs Margaret Reville, of 732 West Third street, says: "For a long time I was troubled with a lame and weak back and I never found anything which gave me any relief until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store and began to use them according to directions. It was only a short time before I felt the good effect and from that time on I improved steadily under the treatment. My back pained me and was so weak and sore that I dreaded to bend and when I had a cold or over-exerted myself I suffered severely. I used several different kidney remedies but got little if any relief. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for my improvement. I think they are a fine medicine for a lame back.
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

JAPS PUSH THE WAR

Large Army Corps Invades Korean Soil.

AMERICANS OFFER SINEWS OF WAR

Aim of Mikado's Generals Is to Cut Off Port Arthur by Land and Sea. Japanese Patrols Seen North of Mukden, Korea.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Information has reached here that nearly 20,000 Japanese troops have just been landed at Chemulpo, the first division of a large force that will be thrown into Korea as rapidly as possible in the effort thoroughly to occupy the strategic points in the Hermit Kingdom while the Russian fleet is bottled up in Port Arthur.

By one conversant with the Japanese plans it is stated that the repeated attacks on Port Arthur are not to seize that place at present unless an unexpected weakness in the fortifications should develop. They are part of a well defined plan for the harassing of the Russian fleet until Korea can be occupied. The bottling up of the fleet there enables the landing of troops in Korea without the convoy of a large number of warships.

The taking of Port Arthur will form the second number of the war programme. First, however, it is learned that the Japanese are now working to cut the line of communication well up on the railroad running from Newchwang to Port Arthur. A large Japanese force will land at Newchwang shortly for this purpose.

Advices from Tokyo say Goro Takahira, the Japanese minister at Washington, has officially advised his government that he is receiving numerous offers of large contributions to the war fund from Americans and requests instructions as to the policy of the government in the matter. It is considered probable that Japan will refuse to accept this proffered aid, while stating that the government is deeply gratified at this and other expressions of American sympathy.

The cabinet will consider the question and formally instruct Minister Takahira shortly. Many applications for permission to enlist in the Japanese army and navy are coming from various parts of the world. Some of those anxious to fight for Japan have applied personally to the military authorities here. Among this number is included a Turkish officer. All of these applications have been politely but firmly refused. No foreigners will be allowed to participate in the military or naval operations of Japan except as spectators.

At a meeting of the bankers, newspaper proprietors and commercial men held in Tokyo it was resolved to support the government irrespective of party lines so as to prevent domestic affairs from distracting the nation from the prosecution of the war. Those present at the meeting approved the proposed plan of curtailing the domestic administrative expenses and applying the amount thus saved to the war fund. It was decided to support the army and navy heartily and also devise a plan for the relief of disabled soldiers and sailors. The meeting also agreed to send a letter of congratulation to Vice Admiral Togo.

A detailed report of his battle at Port Arthur has not been received from Vice Admiral Togo by the navy department, and the public is as yet without the full particulars of the engagement. A letter from one of the men who participated in the naval fight says that the torpedo attack succeeded through a clever feint. The majority of the vessels comprising the torpedo flotilla maneuvered in front of the Russian line and held its attention while the rest of the torpedo boats worked around to the rear and got close to the enemy before being discovered. Then they fired their destructive missiles and scurried away from range as quickly as possible.

Enormous military activity continues, but the government carefully conceals its plans and does not indicate the date of any movements. Although every moment of delay enables the Russians to become better prepared for the conflict, the Japanese apparently are unconcerned and confident. They fully realize that the limited capacity of the Transsiberian railway, the distance of the Russians from their base of supplies and the lack of communication by sea sets limitations on the proposed accomplishments of Russia in Manchuria and Siberia. They feel that no danger attaches in that quarter and are awaiting the completion of Japan's naval programme.

A reliable report received here says three Russian torpedo boats have been sunk by guns from the forts at Port Arthur. They were mistaken for Japanese vessels.

It is stated that eleven Russian ships were damaged in the recent engagement at Port Arthur. The whole fleet has moved into the inner harbor. Torpedo boats remain outside on scouting duty.

Five extra big guns have been mounted on the Port Arthur fortifications, and they are firing at any object suspected of being part of the enemy's fleet.

A Port Arthur report says Major General Pflug, Viceroy Alexeieff's chief of staff, teleg

William Jeffery, the specialist on "swapping," will do well to look to his laurels. He has a rival in Fanwood in a Mrs. Salina Bender, who offers to exchange an Irish setter bitch for six laying hens. Possibly if Bill has a black cat, blind in one eye, with no fur on its left ear, lying around loose to exchange for a bald-headed Kansas hog suffering from the epizootic, he may still hope to do business. This is offered merely in the light of a suggestion.

A BILL AFFECTING PLAINFIELD

LOCAL APPLICATION OF THE PROPOSED FACTORY INSPECTION LAW.

The factory inspection act now pending in the State Legislature may result in all the manufacturies in this city being compelled to place on the outside of their buildings, one story from the ground, complete fire escapes. Few of those in this city have this protection against fire and as a consequence the employes, often scores of them, on the top floor would be compelled to find their way out in a possible panic over floors strewn with work and machines and down narrow winding stairs. This is only one provision, however, in the proposed law.

Next to the provision and proper enforcement of the law prohibiting the employment of children under the age of 14 years, perhaps the most important duty of the department will be to look after the fire escape law to see that it is properly enforced. The law not only covers buildings used for factory purposes but for all buildings over three stories in height, used as dwellings, hotels, mercantile houses, theatres and places of amusement.

In framing the law, John L. Swayze has eliminated from the section relating to fire escapes all reference to buildings other than factories and workshops, leaving the enforcement of fire protection regulations on other classes of buildings to other agencies.

The fire escape provisions in the reorganization bill appealed so strongly to Governor Murphy, who is a manufacturer, that he has made it known that he desires to have the same standard provisions relating to fire escapes in other laws as are in the factory department act.

In consonance with the Governor's views, Majority Leader Colby, in the Assembly, has recalled the bill creating a permanent tenement house commissioner, which had passed third reading so that the fire escape clause of that bill could be changed to conform with the labor department bill.

Mr. Swayze's procedure in drawing the fire escape section of his bill has been widely approved. Being a lawyer without practice or technical knowledge of proper safeguards from fire he sought out the most competent authority within reach. He selected Isaac Harby, a specialist expert of the great Roebling Company. Mr. Harby is a mechanical engineer whose knowledge of fire escapes embraces about all there is to be known. The technical and practical features of the fire escape section therefore are the work of a mechanical master couched in the language of a skilled lawyer.

LITERARY.

St. Louis is hot in summer, but thermic conditions this year will be matched by the intensity of converging interests. Such a combination as a great world's fair and a political convention is not frequenity obtainable. The convention is almost certain to be one of peculiar excitement. There will be no such certainty about the outcome as there was four years ago. Not only the candidate, but the branch of the party in control, will probably be underminded before the meeting, and there is likely to be a long, hard struggle, with the chances beyond prediction in advance as between a Bryan and a Cleveland man, and a compromise. If two of the participants establish newspapers in St. Louis in order to impress, the one his candidacy, the other his control, another diverting ingredient will be added to the cauldron. American life seems to us peculiarly interesting at present, and St. Louis will be the focus for many of the most interesting streams of it.—Collier's Weekly.

The American Boy for February with its title page showing boys snowballing, its skating story, "The Honor of the School," its "How to Hunt Muskrats," and its first chapter of a biography of Washington, is a model February number for a boy's paper. Other timely features are an illustrated article entitled, "Get Ready for the Flowers," written by Dr. Hugo Erichsen, a short biograhpical sketch of Lieutenant-General Adna R. Chaffee, and a description of "Tar-bucket night," Connecticut's pet name for Washington's birthday, further chapters of Kirk Monroe's famous story, "The Blue Dragon," the editor's "Three Yankee Boys in Ireland.

PARK CLUB TEAM WON BOWLING MATCH

Cranford Casino Captured Only One in a Series of Three on Park Alleys.

WAS A FINE EXHIBITION

LOCAL AGGREGATION ROLLED OVER 800 IN EACH GAME.

Cranford Got Last One by 22 Pins, Rolling a 901—McCutchen Made a 201, Dumont, 204—The Standing of the League.

The Park bowling team took the Cranford Casino team into camp, last night, by winning two of the series of three in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament on the local alleys. The evidence of hard luck which has been following the Parks throughout the season was shown. After rolling considerably over 800 in each of the three games, they lost the last one by 22 pins, the Cranford team surprising themselves as well as their opponents by rolling a score of 901. In the other two games Cranford rolled below 700.

The general work of the Parks was of the prize-winning order. Individually the members rolled much better than in other games thus far. McCutchen rolled 201 in the third game, while Long tallied 200 in the second game. In the last game Dumont rolled up a score of 204 and F. O. Ball, who has been doing fine work throughout the season put up a score of 201 in the first game, 196 in the second and 181 in the third. The Parks rolled more 200 scores than at any time since the tournament opened and ordinarily should have taken all three games.

On the average the Cranford team did not put up high scores. Plummer was high man with a score of 203, while Crane rolled 195, second high score. The detailed score of the series is as follows:

PARKS.			CRANFORD.
W.M'C't'h'n.	182	166 201	Crane	167	174 195

NO MANŒUVRES.

First Brigade Will Not Hold Its Annual Drill This Year It is Said.

Because the manœuvres of the United States army occur in September the First Brigade of the New Jersey National Guard will stay at home. There is a provision in the army regulation for taking each year one brigade of each State's troops, thus giving all State troops a chance to get "up" in manœuvres.

The time does not fit the demands of the rushing State of New Jersey. Brigadier General Gillmore said: "No State troops of New Jersey will go because September is a busy month and manufacturers cannot let their men go out. We recognize these needs and that is why our State camps are held in July.

"Were we to order out a brigade to accompany army manœuvres many of our soldiers would find their jobs gone upon returning."

Trinity Commandery's Affair.

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will hold its annual "ladies' night" Monday, February 29. A varied entertainment will be given by J. Williams Macey, a professional vaudeville performer of much versatility, a male quartette and an orchestra of six or seven pieces. The committee from the commandery in charge consists of James A. Stafford, Jacob Kirkner, Samuel Bingaman, B. T. Conklin, H. W. Marshall and L. B. Woolston.

Wants Judgment Opened.

An argument over the question of having judgment opened in the case in tort of Lena Cinguage against Victor Roach took place before Judge VanSickle at Trenton yesterday. The plaintiff was recently given judgment for $600 in the District Court in Elizabeth. Negotiations for a settlement in the case are under way and in the hope of their bringing results the argument was adjourned yesterday by agreement of counsel to February 27.

Miss Lillian V. D. Hoagland, of Ocean Grove, is visiting her brother, A. C. Hoagland, of 339 Park avenue.

A RECEIVERSHIP IS STAYED

COURT OF CHANCERY ALLOWS ASSIGNEE TO CONTINUE BUSINESS.

A rather complicated case in law has followed the assignment of James F. Daly, a grocer of this city, to J. Fred MacDonald, the latest development being the granting of permission to MacDonald as assignee to continue to sell the goods and chattels of the assignor until February 23, to which time the application for a receiver has been continued.

Daly made the assignment to MacDonald February 8, and on the following day, on application of W. S. Angleman, Esq., representing Daly and the assignee, the Union County Orphan's Court issued an order empowering the assignee to do business for thirty days more. On February 11, W. R. Codington, Esq., representing Mary E. Goggin, filed a bill in chancery to foreclose two chattel mortgages which his client claimed covered the goods and chattels assigned to MacDonald. One of these mortgages, it was claimed, was taken out by Hirst & Henderson, who formerly conducted the business in question and the other by Daly himself when he first undertook to conduct the business.

Vice Chancellor Stevens granted a rule to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed and directed the assignee to cease doing business. This rule Vice Chancellor Emery, of Newark, yesterday modified and, as stated, allowed the assignee to continue to sell the goods and chattels until February 23.

MILITARY DRILLS IN P. H. S.

BATTALION HAS BEEN FORMED AND DRILLS WILL COMMENCE AT ONCE.

Military drill is to be re-established as a department of the work of the city High School and a battalion will be formed. This was announced at a meeting of the boys of the school, yesterday, conducted by Principal I. W. Travell.

The drills will begin next Tuesday in Company K's hall on West Front street. They will be held weekly from 2:15 until 3 in the afternoon. Participation in the drills will not be compulsory this year but will count as a supplementary study.

The plan is to allow those who elect military drill to drop a study at the end of three years or to use the percentage obtained to secure a higher rank at graduation. Owing to the shortness of the present term, the buying of uniforms will not be made necessary until next year.

It is probable that three or more companies will be formed, including, as heretofore, a detachment from the Whittier School. As in previous years, Instructor J. D. Macnab, of the High School, will have charge of the drills, assisted by student officers grading down from members of the senior class.

The proposition has met with general favor among the pupils and the work will undoubtedly be undertaken with much enthusiasm.

OPPOSING LICENSE.

West End People to Meet and Protest Against Liquor Application.

That there is a strong feeling among many residents of the West End against the granting of a saloon or hotel license in the vicinity of West Front street and Clinton avenue, cannot be denied, and there has been some talk of holding a meeting of citizens to take some action which will convince the Council of the strength of the opposition.

Rev. John McMurray, of the Monroe Avenue church, while interested in the proposed action, is not a leader in the movement to hold a meeting. Mr. McMurray says he will not oppose such a meeting, believing it to be a wise thing. He also says that it is possible that the meeting, if held, will be at his church. He thinks it is about time the Council understands the sentiment of the people in the West End of the city. No date has as yet been fixed for the meeting.

Glee Club Concert.

The Wesleyan University Glee, Mandolin and Guitar Clubs will give a concert at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church Tuesday, April 5. The entertainment will be under the auspices of the Men's Association and the Young Men's Class of the church.

ANOTHER APARTMENT HOUSE IS PLANNED

Mr. Stillman Contemplates Erecting Structure to Cost Approximately $45,000.

TWENTY-FOUR SUITES.

THE ARCHITECT HAS ALREADY COMPLETED PLANS.

Building to Adjoin Stillman Flats and to Front on Madison Avenue—Contractors Now Estimating on Approximate Cost.

William M. Stillman, Esq., has in contemplation the erection of a handsome apartment house on his property on Madison avenue, between his present building and the brook, and if the plans, as drawn by Architect Clum are carried out, the structure will be a desirable improvement to that section of the city. The new building, if erected, will correspond in exterior architecture to Mr. Stillman's building on Front street, and will harmonize in all essential particulars.

The plans provide for twenty-four apartments, all to be of the latest design. Owing to the situation of the property the rooms would be light and airy, as well as very convenient. While it is not definitely known what the cost of the structure will be, it is understood that the contract price will be between $40,000 and $50,000. The plans are now in the hands of contractors who are estimating on the same. When these figures are presented Mr. Stillman will decide whether he will build or not.

GOODWIN CASE POSTPONED

CHANCELLORS WANT RECORDER'S ACCOUNT OF TESTIMONY BEFORE HIM.

Before Vice Chancellors Pitney and Hendrickson in the Supreme Court in Trenton yesterday, John Goodwin's appeal of borough of North Plainfield's case against him was reviewed. A postponement was taken to Tuesday, February 23 to give Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed an opportunity of getting Recorder Doud, before whom the case was originally tried, to certify to the testimony given at that trial. Goodwin was represented by Assemlyman Samuel S. Swackhamer.

Mr. Reed applied for permission to secure from the Recorder a certified copy of the testimony of the trial. Mr. Swackhamer objected to this on the ground that from Recorder Doud's own admission to him there was not a penscratch of the testimony taken down, and therefore he could not certify to it.

Vice Chancellor Pitney, however, decided to give Mr. Reed the opportunity he asked for with the stipulation that the borough pay the cost of bringing the evidence up.

To Use Voting Machines.

President Wakelee, of the State Senate says that the voting machines must be used in those places where elections are to be held this spring. An idea had gone abroad that the machines are to be used only at the general fall election, but Mr. Wakelee says that that was erroneous, and the machines must be used at the spring elections in order to comply with the law.

Supreme Court Opens.

The February term of the Supreme Court opened at Trenton yesterday morning with fifty-seven cases listed in the main court and 110 causes in the main branch court. Afterward there were twleve cases added to the list. Most of the entire time until luncheon time was occupied in a readjustment of the calendar.

Church Society's Reports.

The Unitarian Branch Alliance met in All Souls' church yesterday afternoon to receive the reports of the treasurer, Mrs. Gates Willard, and the secretary, Mrs. S. Haff. The money raised by the alliance during the year past has been wholly by subscription and has amounted to $400. This will be devoted to the general church and organ funds.

LATEST WAR DISPATCHES

A dispatch from Tientsin says that the big Russian battery on Golden Hill, guarding the entrance to Port Arthur, has been blown up and it is reported that someone inside the battery did the work. Treachery has been discovered in the Russian ranks. Troops are being mobolized at Port Arthur, the Czar's army preparing for a siege. Report from Shanghai declares that 15,000 troops are embarking on transports for Cores. The Russians have lost 400 torpedoes which were stored on the Variag.

The most interesting possibility suggested by the news from the Far East, says a dispatch from London, is that Russia may abandon Port Arthur and the rest of the Liaotung Peninsula, concentrating her land forces further north, with the centre at Harbin.

PRODUCED SOME TABLEAUX

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY OF GRACE CHURCH GAVE ENTERTAINMENT.

The interesting novel "Cranford" was portrayed in a series of twenty tableaux in the parish house of Grace church, last night, by the members of the Girls' Friendly Society. There were over two hundred people present and the entertainment was an unqualified success, $100 being the net profit to be placed in the treasury of the society.

Miss Tracy had full charge of training the young folks for the tableaux and each one brought forth hearty applause. In addition to the entertainment there were fancy and candy tables. Miss Rowland and Miss Rodman were in charge of the candy table and Miss Richardson and Mrs. William Clark the fancy table. Miss Adams was the cashier.

Mrs. E. C. Perkins, as president of the Girl's Friendly Society, had general supervision of the whole affair and to her and her assistants, is due the credit for the success attained.

ALMOST FROZEN TO DEATH

THERE'S A MORAL IN THE MISFORTUNE WHICH HAS BEFALLEN SMITH.

In a fainting condition from a combination of too much drink and exposure, James Smith was arrested on West End avenue and taken to police headquarters in the patrol wagon. Smith lives on Grant avenue and evidently lost his bearings on his way home last night. He stumbled upon the piazza of H. D. Williams' house on West End avenue at 10 o'clock, and badly frightened the inmates by calling for help, saiyng that he was frozen, and was kicking madly at the front door. Mr. Williams found the man almost frozen, but revived him by working his arms back and forth, rubbing his hands and face with snow and employing other methods of resuscitation. Smith will be brought before City Judge Runyon tomorrow morning on a charge of being drunk.

PRIZE OF LOCAL FIREMEN VALUED AT $10,000.

Unsuccessful Efforts to Obtain It for Exhibition at Louisiana Purchase Exposition—History of the Hose Carriage.

The famous Amity hose carriage will not be exhibited at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. This was decided upon at a meeting of the trustees of the Exempt Firemen's Association Monday night. The action was taken from the fear of accident befalling the relic the value of which is $10,000. The carriage is mounted with solid silver.

The action of the trustees has occasioned much surprise among those interested. At a meeting of the Exempts last month the matter to allow the carriage to be exhibited was placed in the hands of the board of trustees. It was announced then that former Chief Hale, of Kansas City, had given Chief Doane assurances that ample protection would be afforded the relic.

The hose carriage was originally the property of the Amity Hose Company in the days of volunteer firemen in New York city. The company was composed of wealthy New Yorkers and the carriage was the pride of their hearts. Through the efforts of John W. Murray, Sr., it was brought to this city, after it had had a narrow escape from destruction in the Crystal Palace fire. It had been stored away on Staten Island and was subsequently sold for storage charges.

BOROUGH POLITICAL NEWS

COMING CAMPAIGN PROMISES TO BE A MOST EXCITING ONE.

The political pot in the borough has begun to boil. The friends and enemies of Mayor Smalley are arrayed against each other as they were two years ago and much as some would like to see the question buried for the present, the two political parties are lining up for one of the most bitter political struggles seen in the borough in years, with the possible exception of the campaign of 1901. The ranks of the Democrats will be augmented by many firemen. Recent councilmanic measures affecting the fire department are responsible for the action of the firemen and their sympathizers. Although some of the borough Democrats are in favor of supporting a citizens' ticket, it is believed that the majority would have a straight Democratic ballot, depending upon the firemen for success. The firemen, on the other hand, it is believed, would like to fight their own battle, their object being to secure representation in the Council.

It is generally conceded that George F. Brown, borough tax collector, and Elston M. French, assessor, are strong candidates for re-election. That they will be again placed in office is almost certain. The real fight will come in electing councilmen. The election of a freeholder, viewed from the standpoint of other borough issues, is quite a secondary consideration. Andrew Lutkins is regarded as the most likely candidate. It is merely a case of speculation whether or not there will be three parties in the field, but the probabilities are there will be but two.

CARRIED A GUN.

Colored Man Arrested as Result of Chief's Strict Orders.

The general police order for the arrest of all persons in the city acting suspiciously caused the arrest last night of Oscar Bell by Patrolman McCarthy. Bell was searched and a revolver found in his pocket. He will be brought before City Judge Runyon tomorrow morning on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

PROPOSED TROLLEY EXTENSION

AGITATION TO BUILD LINE BETWEEN PLAINFIELD AND MORRISTOWN.

The agitation for a trolley road to Watchung and Morristown from this city is being revived. The farmers who sent a petition to Colonel Hine, of the then Plainfield, Elizabeth and Central Jersey Railway Company, are still in favor of the new trolley and stand ready today to give grants of land free of charge to be used as a right of way if the Public Service Corporation will agree to operate an electric line between here and Morristown. The Somerset county farmers are solid for the improvement and it is believed the Morris county farmers would like to see the same improvement.

There is no direct communication whatever between Morristown and Plainfield excepting by carriage. A farmer in speaking of the improvement said yesterday: "The trolley line would not be over fifteen miles in length at the most. The extension woud be built through the Somerset street notch, to Stirling, 5 miles; Millington, 2 miles; Basking Ridge, 2 miles; and to Bernardsville, in Somerset county, 2 miles more. From Morristown to Bernardsville the extension would be a little over 5 miles, making in all, a trolley line about sixteen miles in length. A system of freight express cars could be operated on the line and this would no doubt be generously patronized by the farmers living in that section of the country who would make Plainfield a market for their products."

BANKER'S DOUBLE AFFLICTION

BRUNSON LOSES HIS POWER OF SMELL AS WELL AS HIS EYESIGHT.

The unfortunate condition of Augustus J. Brunson, president of the First National Bank, whose eyesight was recently lost while making some experiments in his factory on Rock avenue, may possibly be still further aggravated by a permanent loss of smell. When a bouquet of flowers was placed near his nose for that purpose there was not the slightest response to that faculty.

At the time of the accident the explosion not only caused great injury to the face and eyes, but the fumes of the gasolene were breathed through the nostrils and mouth to the lungs and throat. On Monday a strong light was placed in front of Mr. Brunson's face to ascertain whether he would notice it. He was not informed of the test and he took no notice of it.

WHIST CLUB'S AFFAIR.

Tuesday Night Organization Had an Enjoyable Time Last Night.

Progressive hearts were played last night at the meeting of the Tuesday Night Whist Club at the home of Miss Saunderson on Fairview avenue. There were about twenty members of the club and their friends present and a pleasant evening was spent. Miss Ella Smith, of Westfield, and John Wilson, of Bound Brook, won the first prizes. Miss Lotta Castelton, of Findern, won the woman's consolation prize and John Martin, of Somerset street, was given the men's consolation prize.

In serving the refreshments the young women waited on the men. They asked their escorts to dance. Music rendered by Russel Powers, of Bound Brook, was a feature of the evening.

NEW PARISH HOUSE TO COST $20,000

Architects to Prepare Plans for Grace Church's Proposed New Structure.

PARISH IS GROWING

PRESENT BUILDING DOES NOT ANSWER THE REQUIREMENTS.

Sketch of Grace Church—First Called St. Mary's—Cornerstone Laid in 1854—On Present Site in 1875—Its Rectors.

It has been definitely decided by the congregation of Grace church to build a new parish house to take the place of the present structure which has outlived its usefulness, it being too small for the increasing demands of the parish. Steps have been taken to secure a new building, A. L. C. Marsh and Evarts Tracy, architects, having been invited to prepare plans in competition for the structure. It is estimated that the new parish house will cost between $15,000 and $20,000, the purpose being to erect a sturcture that will fully meet the needs of the parish for many years to come. It will be complete in every detail and be well adopted for the various objects for which it will be used, such as the holding of entertainments, a meeting place for the Sunday-school, the colored mission and meetings of the vestry and committees of the church. It has been announced that all of the collections received at the church on Easter Day will go toward the fund to erect the proposed parish house and a large sum is expected.

Under the guidance and zealous work of the rector, Rev. E. Vicar Stevenson, the parish has grown steadily and there is increased interest in every department of the church work.

Grace church parish was formed about the year 1852, it then being known as "St. Mary's." This name being unsatisfactory, it was changed to "Grace Church" in 1853. On the 12th of July, 1854, the corner-stone of the church was laid by Bishop Doane, the location at this time being at the eastern end of the city. In 1868 efforts were made to change the location to one more desirable, but without success; however, the church was enlarged by the addition of a recess for the chancel and transept. In October 1875 property was purchased at the corner of Sixth and Sycamore streets, the present site of the parish house and the following summer the edifice was removed to its present position, rebuilt and enlarged and was used as a church until the present handsome stone edifice was erected at the corner of East Seventh and Sycamore streets, some years later. Among the rectors serving this parish were Rev. Philander E. Coe, Rev. R. G. Quennell, Rev. Dr. Thrall, Rev. Dr. Fox, and Rev. E. M. Rodman, the latter entering upon his duties November 1, 1870 and he continued in that position until Rev. E. Vicar Stevenson became rector a year ago last November. From its inception the church has steadily grown and prespered until today it is one of the most important and influential in the New Jersey Diocese.

SUIT AGAINST LAWYER.

Testimony Being Taken in Case Brought by W. H. Waldron.

For three days last week before William V. Stelle, a specially-appointed Supreme Court commissioner, at his office in Somerville and in Plainfield, testimony was taken in the case of William H. Waldron, of North Plainfield against Winfield S. Angleman, of Plainfield, on a rule to show cause. The rule was returnable before the Supreme Court at Trenton today and will be argued in the near future. It is of much interest to Somerset as well as Union County people, as the trend of the evidence indicates that a settlement was made with Waldron when he was greatly intoxicated.

HANNA LIES IN STATE

All Pay Honor to Great Ohio Senator's Remains.

ROOSEVELT TESTIFIES HIS SORROW

Nation's Chief Men Attended the Funeral Services in the Senate Chamber—Body to Be Taken to Cleveland Tonight.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—All that is mortal of Senator Marcus Alonzo Hanna lies in state at the capitol in Washington after his long and brave struggle with death. In appearance the features of the dead statesman are almost lifelike. They indicate little emaciation, and on account of the oxygen used during the last days of the senator's illness there is an absence of the ashen pallor often peculiar to the dead.

Formal announcement of the death of Senator Hanna was made in the senate immediately after the opening prayer.

At a council of the members of the family and intimate friends arrangements were made for the funeral of Senator Hanna on Friday in Cleveland. Besides the senator's son, Daniel R. Hanna, and his brother, H. M. Hanna, there were present Governor Herrick and General Charles Dick of Ohio and Elmer Dover, the senator's secretary.

During the conference H. M. Hanna visited President Roosevelt. He was accompanied by Postmaster General Payne. They reached the White House just as the cabinet was assembling for its regular meeting. After a conference with the president and the members of the cabinet Mr. Hanna announced that the president would not be able to attend the funeral services in Cleveland, much as he would like to pay that last tribute to his dear friend, but that he would be present at the state funereal to be held in the chamber of the United States senate. It was agreed by all that it would be inadvisable for the prosideent to go to Cleveland.

Secretaries Taft, Cortelyou and Wilson, however, will go to Cleveland to attend the services there. Postmaster General Payne desires also to go, but his physician has advised him not to make the trip. That advice he has concluded to follow.

At the White House the president and all the attaches shared in the general sorrow over the death of Senator Hanna. President Roosevelt, the members of his cabinet, senators and representatives in congress and callers of all classes sadly paid tribute to the memory of the dead statesman.

From the entrance of the lamented McKinley into the White House Senator Hanna was a conspicuous figure at the executive mansion. Both before and after he became a member of the senate Mr. Hanna was a frequent caller at the White House, and his visits have been frequent since Mr. Roosevelt succeeded to the presidency. President Roosevelt entertained a cordial regard for Senator Hanna, and the senator cordially reciprocated that feeling. Their personal regard was based on the firmest respect. While they differed at times, as strong men may differ, their personal relations never were endangered by the difference. Indeed so high was the regard in which the president held Mr. Hanna's ability as a political manager and as a potent force in national affairs that a few months ago he requested him urgently in the event of his nomination for the presidency to assume again the cares and responsibilities of directing the national campaign. While it was feared Mr. Hanna's health might induce him to decline again to accept the chairmanship of the Republican national committee, he had not returned at the time he was stricken by his fatal illness a final answer to the president's request.

As Speaker Cannon left the president's office he did not attempt to disguise the sorrow he felt at the death of Senator Hanna.

"Yes," said he, "I knew him very well, and I liked him very much, very much. I remember I told Mrs. Hanna one time that I liked her husband as much as it was possible for one man to like another. I"— But he got no further. His voice choked with emotion, and unrestrained tears streamed down his cheeks.

At the meeting of the cabinet the death of the Ohio senator was lamented deeply. All the members entertained for him the profoundest regard and respect. The opportunity afforded by the meeting was embraced by all present to pay personal tributes to their dead friend. Little business was transacted.

President Roosevelt, the members of the cabinet, the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, the house of representatives, the diplomatic corps, the admiral of the navy and the lieutenant general of the army attended the services in the chamber and occupied seats on the floor of the senate assigned them by the sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Hanna is feeling the effects of the severe strain on her strength incident to her ceaseless vigilance at the bedside of the late senator during his illness of two weeks. For a time she was very much prostrated, but she rallied again and has seen some of the friends who called to express their condolence. She attended the funeral ceremonies in the senate and will accompany the remains of the late senator to Cleveland tonight.

Cruiser Boyarin Blown Up While Laying Mines.

SIX HUNDRED RUSSIANS DIE OF COLD

Czar's Forces Said to Be Making a Forward Movement—Japan Has Landed Large Army—A Great Battle Expected Shortly.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Disaster seems to be following the Russian forces on land as well as on sea. On the heels of the news of the sinking or disabling of warships at Port Arthur and Chemulpo comes a report from St. Petersburg that 600 of the czar's troops were frozen to death while marching across Lake Baikal, in eastern Siberia, having lost their way in a snowstorm.

From Port Arthur comes word that the cruiser Boyarin was blown up while laying mines in the harbor, and all on board, 197 in number, were lost. The Boyarin took part in the naval engagement at Port Arthur on Feb. 9.

Japanese warships have trapped three Russian ships at Yongampho, Korea, at the mouth of the Yalu river.

Advices from various sources in the far east indicate that a general forward movement of Russia's land and sea forces is now on and that the Russians are preparing to take the aggressive. Heretofore they have been on the defensive.

As the Japanese have been landing troops in Korea since the war began and now have a large force moving north toward Manchuria, a great land battle in the vicinity of the Yalu river is looked for almost any time. The Russians are massing troops on the north bank of the river. The headquarters of the Russian military commander is at Mukden, on the line of the Manchurian railway and about 500 miles from Harbin.

The commander in chief of the Chinese army announces that he will move troops on Feb. 18 to guard the frontier and disarm any defeated belligerents crossing it.

Dispatches from Port Arthur say that the city and fortress were not damaged by the Japanese attack and that the work of repairing the Russian ships that were crippled is progressing rapidly.

From Tokyo comes the report that Vladivostok is totally unprepared to resist attack, no torpedoes or mines being planted in the harbor.

At Yingkow Russian soldiers threatened the American gunboat Helena and the English ship Espiegle, but no attack was made upon them.

A Newchwang dispatch says Viceroy Alexeieff has left Port Arthur, proceeding to Harbin with General Pflug, chief of staff, and the general staff.

Russian army and navy commands will be reorganized, and General Kerpaitsky will command the Yalu division, which is expecting to be attacked first by the Japanese forces.

Atrocities are daily perpetrated on foreigners and natives both by the organized police and incoming troops, which makes it impossible for the civil administrator of Newchwang to control the situation. It is feared that a reign of terror will be precipitated if the neutral powers remain inactive. A captain of police, with ten soldiers, without any provocation destroyed the contents of a hotel owned by a German, where three Japanese had registered under the protection of the civil administrator. These Japanese were bound, stabbed and robbed of food, money and jewelry. They were rescued with difficulty by United States Consul Miller, together with three women refugees, all of whom the civil administrator had assured Mr. Miller would be protected.

The administration admits the gravity of the situation, but declares that Viceroy Alexeieff alone can remedy it. It is believed here, however, that the maintenance of order at this treaty port and the prevention of these violations of international rights can be insured only by an instant international proclamation supported by an armed force.

Mines have been constructed and preparations made for depositing them at the mouth of the river here, where the forts have been occupied by a field battery of artillery and guns from the Russian gunboat Sivoutch.

Lieutenant General Ivanoff, governor general and commander of the troops in Turkestan, has gone to Tashkend with General Sukharoff, chief of the staff of the military district of Turkestan. It is said in high military circles that General Ivanoff has been instructed to prepare for the contingency of military action in the direction of India in the event of Great Britain adopting an attitude openly hostile to Russia or attempting to prejudice Russian interests in Persia or Tibet.

Public opinion in Russia, even among military men, is strongly opposed to Viceroy Alexeieff, who is accused of incapacity. A movement is on foot in favor of the immediate appointment of General Kuropatkin, the war minister, to command the Russian land forces and to give Admiral Skrydloff command on the sea.

A dispatch from Port Arthur denies that the Japanese are landing at Chinwangtao, a port on the southern border of Manchuria close to the Chinese Northern railroad. The sea there is covered with ice for a distance of fourteen miles from the shore, and this would make a landing extremely difficult. The Japanese are landing provisions and munitions of war at Wonsan, on the east coast of Korea and north of Seoul.

A dispatch has been received at St. Petersburg from the Russian minister at Peking, Paul Lessar, saying that upon his official inquiry the Chinese government informed him that Weihaiwei remains leased to Great Britain.

The two warships just arrived from Genoa, Italy, were given an enthusiastic welcome when they steamed into the port of Yokohama.

A Tokyo cable says the entire press of Japan is united in expressing keen appreciation of the deep and general sympathy which is being shown Japan by western countries and argues that this war will be the means of drawing the east and west more closely together.

Particulars have reached here of the Yenisei disaster. Captain Stepanoff, who was blown up with the torpedo transport and who himself invented the system for laying submarine mines which is considered responsible for the catastrophe, had caused the Yenisei to be fitted with his device for the rapid laying of mines whereby a trolley line extended beyond the vessel's stern, along which the mines slid out and dropped into their appointed places. This plan did away with the cumbersome work of laying the mines from small boats. The accident was due to the excessive strain on the Yenisei's anchor cables while the mines were suspended pending their immersion. The two cables snapped, and one mine collided with another.

From Chemulpo comes the astonishing statement that Japan has already landed 120,000 troops in Korea, 80,000 of whom are extended along the fighting front south of the Yalu river.

The suddenness of throwing Russian troops into Newchwang indicates Russian apprehension that Port Arthur is in danger and that the Japanese attack may not, after all, be made where it is expected on the Yalu.

Four hundred torpedoes, being two-thirds of Russia's entire available supply of these articles, were destroyed on board the Russian cruiser Variag at Chemulpo.

It is said officially that several thousand Russian troops have reached Antung, and it is rumored that 20,000 Russians have arrived at Pingyang, on the Tatong river, in central Korea.

Canned Goods Seized by Japanese.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Cable advices have been received by the California Fruit Canners' association that their shipment of canned goods shipped on the steamer Coptic a month ago and consigned to Port Arthur had been seized by the Japanese government at Nagasaki. A large shipment of mess beef for the Russian government, aggregating 1,000,000 pounds, is now here, to be shipped on the steamer China, which will sail for the orient next week. The shipment, in all probability, will be consigned to Shanghai and reshipped there for Port Arthur.

MILITARY PROGRESS

General Chaffee's Address on Being Prepared.

SPANISH WAR AROUSED THE NATION

Importance of Young Men Being Trained to Use of Arms and Benefit to Both Army and Militia of Field Maneuvers.

ALBANY, Feb. 17.—Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee, chief of staff of the United States army, addressed a large gathering in the assembly chamber on "Military Progress Since 1861."

He showed how the Spanish war and the resulting military necessities have aroused again the military enthusiasm which waned after the civil war, and he traced the various kinds of military development which have ensued in organization, tactics, armament and relation of army and militia.

He dwelt upon the importance in time of peace of adequate preparation for the war "which, since not impossible, is therefore always possible."

The function of the organized militia he explained in its relation to the state and to the army and to the nation.

"The 130,000 organized militia in the United States," said General Chaffee, "should be patriotically supported by all men and women in the country, who should make it a personal matter with their sons to the end that they learn how to use army rifles and secure the honorable status of having been a soldier in the service of the state. No man is a loser because of such information and experience.

"The national guard of New York is to be congratulated upon the interest which the chief executive and the legislature take in its affairs. I believe it decidedly to the front in this regard, and so far as I have been able to observe the state authorities have no cause to regret the encouragement which they bestow. When called into the service of the United States its organizations respond to the call of the president as a unit, officers and men alike."

Speaking of the new field gun, General Chaffee said:

"The new field gun that has been adopted and will soon be issued is astonishing when compared with the field gun of 1861. It fires a shot weighing fifteen pounds with a muzzle velocity of 1,700 feet per second at the rate of twenty shots per minute, equal to an energy of 6,700 foot tons per minute as against about 125 foot tons for the old twelve pounder.

"It is stated that a battery of six of our new field guns represents more execution than the 180 Union guns at Gettysburg.

"Probably nothing short of actual experiences of war could be of greater benefit to both army and militia than maneuvers like those in the middle west last year. It is not improbable that by another year we may arrange for operations on a scale to employ 20,000 men somewhere near the Atlantic coast."

Became Engaged to a Convict.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Miss Hattie Peffel has left for her home in Chicago after being rudely awakened from her "dream of love." She came to this city a few days ago to marry James C. Rankin, with whom she had become engaged by correspondence after answering his advertisement for a wife in a matrimonial paper. He represented to her that he was an employee of the government. After they became engaged she says that she sent him $25 at his request. When she reached Binghamton, she found that Rankin was in jail for forgery, to which charge he has pleaded guilty in the county court. He has been in jail since last fall and was in confinement when he inserted his matrimonial advertisement. He looks upon the affair as a joke.

Four-year-old Shot Brother.

FORT DODGE, Ia., Feb. 17.—"Marshall, shoot me," asked three-year-old Leo Hollies. "No; I won't," replied his four-year-old brother, who held a revolver in his hand. A second request by the younger brother was complied with, and the ball lodged at the base of the skull. Death was instantaneous. H. E. Hollies, the father, left his revolver between the mattresses of his bed. The older boy discovered the revolver. The younger child saw him get it and playfully asked him to shoot. The mother is almost crazed with grief.

Florida Limited Wrecked.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 17.—The Florida limited on the Western and Atlantic railroad, southbound, has been wrecked eight miles from this city. The cars were overturned, and twelve persons were injured, two of whom may die. The train, which was an hour and twenty minutes late, was running at a high speed. It carried a full complement of passengers, including many from Chicago, Cincinnati and western cities. The wreck was due to the breaking of an axle.

Dr. Pablo Arosemena, Domingo Obaldia and Dr. Carlos Mendoza were elected to fill respectively the positions of first, second and third "designados," or vice presidents. Great preparations are being made for the inauguration of the president, which will occur on Feb. 20.

An exchange asks "who are the bad men" in politics? They're the good men whose acts have escaped the light of publicity.

The Trenton State-Gazette says that "it would not be surprising if William Randolph Hearst controlled the delegation from this State to the St. Louis convention." Exactly so, it would not be "surprising;" it would be a miracle.

A Jersey City pastor objects to members of his congregation whispering during divine worship because it annoys him. He wants his parishioners to respect him, but seems to overlook the fact that such a practice is a form of irreverance in the house of God.

Report from Washington says Roosevelt will not attend Hanna's funeral for fear the public will think him a hypocrite. This does not seem to be the act of a president who has sufficient courage to withstand the fire of criticism to invite a negro to dine with him.

A drummer declares that out of seventeen business men he called upon on one street within the last few days, fifteen were absent and of these twelve were declared to be "up at court."—New Brunswick Home News.

All of which goes to show that New Brunswick does still exist—on the map.

Congressman Shafroth surprised the members of the House the other day by relinquishing his title as a representative of Colorado in favor of a Republican contestant and is receiving the approval of the press for so doing. Judging from the published accounts of his right to a seat, Mr. Shafroth has proven that he is a good financier even though he is a free silver man.

—According to the oldest trolley employes the present winter has been the most severe and disastrous for the service known in many years. The intense cold works greater hardships in the operation of trolley cars than on steam roads, and despite recent extra efforts to have cars run on time, it has been an impossibility.

—An experiment is about to be tried by the Pennsylvania Railroad, that of having the engineers attired in uniforms to take the place of the customary jumper and overalls. Several engineers have equipped themselves with the uniform and appear to be much pleased. The uniform consists of a natty suit of blue, military stripes on the trouser seams, a golden keystone on the soldierly collar of the blouse, and a braided cord on the visared leather cap.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Please allow me on behalf of the colored population of Plainfield to congratulate Rev. John McMurray for his able defense of the negro. At every crisis in the history of the negro, God has raised up some champion of his cause among the white race. We want more McMurray's in the West End and less saloons, and I believe that the percentage of crime would be less.

As to the negro, it must be admitted that he is loyal to his country, and had the race which oppressed him used the opportunities, which they had for two hundred and fifty years, in teaching him the high ideas, instead of humiliating him, he would not be looked upon as the off-scouring of humanity today. The negro is not scorned because he is black, and many of them wrapped in the mantle of ignorance, but because he was once a slave, for which he is not responsible. While illiteracy has been reduced to forty-four and a half per cent. since his freedom, there has not been an increase in the South of literacy among the whites sixty per cent. since emancipation. The negro being prohibited from enjoying his right of franchise in the South is not due to his inability, as much as to the fact that he is becoming a potent factor in the concerns of the government.

The speech of Mr. McMurray encourages the race, and inspires those of energy, to look up and become meritorious. The death blow of shame should not be thrown only upon the South, but North as well, for putting the negro with all of his thrift, and industry in the rear of the influx of that degenerated element which comes to this country for gain and with no other interest.

Morally the negro does not rank with the anarchist, bank robber, multiplying saloons, etc. His great anxiety seems to be to build churches, and multiply places where his condition can be bettered Yet here in Plainfield, with these glowing qualities it seems difficult through our party, the Republican, to have him fill as humble a position as policeman, though he pays a tax on property valued at over one hundred thousand dollars. There is more support given places of sport by many who are wealthy than to this struggling element which is striving to prove that all Mr. McMurray says of is true.

HIAWATHA.

A brief account of the origin and history of the Indian play, which will be seen at The Casino, Friday afternoon and night, February 19, may be of interest. Some years ago, Miss Alice Longfellow, daughter of the poet, visited the Ojibway Indians, who live along the north shore of Lake Huron. She was impelled to this visit by the fact that it was the legendary lore of the Ojibways that her father had incorporated in "The Song of Hiawatha." Her Indian hosts, as a compliment to Miss Longfelolw, undertook to present some of the important events in Hiawathas' career in the form of a play. The performance was given in the open air, on the shore of the lake not far from Desbarats, Ontario, a tiny hamlet on the Canadian Pacific Railroad. The Indians had been assisted in this unique undertaking by a Montreal gentleman, Mr. L. O. Armstrong, who, indeed, was the originator; he had been much among them, and was himself an ardent admirer of Longfellow's poem. Miss Longfellow was much impressed and the annual performances since then, has aroused widespread interest. They multiplied with each succeeding year. The three hundredth performance occurred in the last week of August, 1903. Several performances were given in Boston in the early spring of 1903, when Miss Longfellow again witnessed the play and entertained the Indian actors at Oranrigie House, the poet's home in Cambridge. There are about twenty genuine Indians in the play, who appear in picturesque costumes. Further particulars in later issues.

WESLEY DID NOT SECEDE

FRANCIS E. WHITESIDE CORRECTS STATEMENT OF JAMES R. JOY.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Will you permit a correction of a statement which appeared in your issue of today? In the account of the lecture delivered by Mr. Joy before the Monday Afternoon Club, the speaker is reported as having said that John Wesley seceded from the Church of England. This is not true. Wesley never seceded. He was a communicant of the Church of England at the time of his death. Furthermore, throughout his lifetime, his constant effort was to prevent his followers from forming an ecclesiastical organization of their own and to urge upon the members of the Methodist societies in England the importance of remaining in the Church communion and of attending her services and sacraments. 'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The hall of the Suburban Club, of the borough, was crowded last night with the members and their friends who had gathered with them to enjoy the first reception of the club. The bowling alleys and billiard room were open for the enjoyment of those who did not care for the waltz and two-step. At midnight a short intermission was had during which refreshments were served. Dancing was again resumed when the want of the inner man had been attended to and was kept up until a late hour. The pleasant reception or housewarming was a most successful one and the affair was enjoyed by all.

AMUSEMENTS.

The big carnival of minstrelsy scheduled for the Grand, week of February 22, will be a memorable occasion. Dockstader and his great company will be the attraction and that means a week of jollity and joyfulness. The theatre should be packed at each performance, for the minstrels are a potent drawing card in this part of town.

It would seem that Mr. Springer and the Shubert Brothers are reaping a harvest from "A Chinese Honeymoon." They were the New York managers hurt most by the peremptory orders to close, as "The Earl of Pawtucket," "The Amateur Cracksman" and "The Secret of Polichinelle," all reigning successes were either transferred or driven out of town. The immense sales of "A Chinese Honeymoon" indicate the trend of popular sentiment, and success is again the portion of the Grand despite adverse conditions. New verses are added to the songs, several new dances introduced, and, the performances takes on the air of triumphant vindications for Mr. Springer and the Shuberts.

There will be no special celebration of the 100th performance of "The County Chairman," at Wallack's Theatre, New York, next Tuesday night—no souvenir token or other emblems marking the occasion as unique. The run of George Ade's quaint and diverting comedy promises to be so enduring that the first one hundredth night may be looked back upon from afar as a mere trifle in the numerical total. Certainly no play in recent years has developed such widespread interest as this wholly absorbing example of American made drama. This interest is by no means confined to New York, as is shown by the daily receipt of telegrams from cities as far off as Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, and even Kansas City requesting reservations of seats for individuals and parties on the point of visiting the metropolis.

The next attraction at the Broadway Theatre, New York, following the engagement of "The Medal and the Maid," will be the new comic opera "The Yankee Consul," which Henry W. Savage will produce for the first time in New York on Washington's birthday, matinee February 22, with Raymond Hitchcock in the title role. The book of the new opera is by Henry M. Blossom, Jr., whose "Checkers" has pleased thousands, and the music is by Alfred G. Robyn, whose songs "Answer" and "You," the Manzanillo dance, and several operas have won for him an important place in the ranks of composers. The new production had long runs in Boston and Chicago. The scenes of the opera are laid in the tropical republic of Santo Domingo, thereby giving many opportunities for brilliant scenery, elaborate costumes and for tuneful music of the Spanish style. In the new piece Mr. Hitchcock will not wear a grotesque make-up as in "King Dodo," but will play the part of a lazy, happy-go-lucky representative of the United States Government in Santo Domingo. In addition to Mr. Hitchcock, there are in the cast: Flora Zabelle, Rose Botti, Eva Davenport, Hubert Wilke, Harry Fairleigh and many others. Patrons of the Broadway Theatre will no doubt find pleasure in seeing this production owned by Henry W. Savage whose "Prince of Pilsen" achieved a triumph at the Broadway last spring and summer.

SICK WOMAN BALKED

Thought an Atomizer Was Too Much for One Dose.

Head of New York Settlement Was of the Same Opinion After He Caught a Glimpse of the Doctor's Prescription.

Archibald Hill, head of one of the New York East side settlements has met with some rather humorous as well as sad experiences in the course of his work among the poor. This little comedy, reported by the New York Times, took place while he was living in the overcrowded district populated by Russian Jews.

It was a sad-eyed, bushy-haired Russian who broke in upon his musings one night. "My vife's sick," he said, looking stolidly at Mr. Hill, as though intending to hold him responsible for the catastrophe.

It took some time for Mr. Hill to make him understand that without a doctor she might die. However, after about half an hour's eloquent discourse the old gentleman was convinced, and with a sigh of relief Mr. Hill saw him leave, bound for the nearest free medical bureau.

Perhaps an hour afterward he returned, however, looking more harassed and worried than ever.

"She von't take it," he said, sadly.

"What was it?" asked Mr. Hill.

"Vot der Herr Doctor gibe me. She say she no fool."

"Tell her it's not foolish to take medicine. Tell her I take it always, and it makes me well. What did he give you?" he asked, by way of afterthought.

"Dis," said the old man, handing him a crumpled bit of paper.

"Have you had this prescription filled yet?" asked Mr. Hill.

"Vilt, vilt? Vot you mean by vilt? I gibt her dis and she vond swallow it."

Mr. Hill leaned back in his chair in despair. "Well, upon my word!" he said. "Of course she wouldn't swallow that paper. She's got more sense than you. Now, my good man, what you want to do is to take this paper back to the dispensary where you got it. Ask the policeman there to show you the window where you get the medicine that paper calls for. It will probably be some little pills or something like that. Take that home to your wife. Give it to her, and tell her she must swallow it at one gulp. It won't taste bad, and it will make her well."

"SHE VON'T TAKE IT."

He repeated the directions two or three times until the old man looked as though he understood. "Remember," he said, as a parting warning, "she must swallow it at one gulp."

But his mind was not at ease. It suddenly occurred to him that the medicine might not come in pills or capsules, after all, in which case—. The sudden thought made the cold sweat come. Perhaps it was a liquid, That fool of a Russian would be likely to give her the whole prescription in one dose! With sudden haste he started down the street in the direction of the old man's home.

He knocked, and the old man himself answered the door. There was a look of relief on his face as he recognized his visitor.

"She von't take dis neider," he said. "She say dot Herr Doctor ist crazy. She can't swallow all dat. Und I tell you vone trudth, I couldn't neider," and he held out an atomizer of ordinary size for Mr. Hill's inspection.

"Swallow!" shouted Mr. Hill. "What have you been trying to make her swallow?"

"Didn't you say dot she should swallow at vone gulp, und I gibt her the rubber end first, ober she no swallow the glass part—"

"And then," said Mr. Hill, after he had finished telling the story, "one expects things of these poor fellows. It's simply too bad, but what can one do?"

Fish Farming in China.

The Chinese are great at fish farming, and one of their little dodges for hatching young fish is ingenious. Taking a fresh egg they suck the contents through a tiny hole, and refill the egg with the eggs of the fish they want to hatch. The hole is then sealed up and the egg placed under a setting hen. In a very few days the fish ova are so far advanced that by breaking the shell into moderately warm water the little fish spring to life at once.

No Hod Carriers in Japan.

In Japan there are no hod-carriers. The mortar is mixed in the street; one man makes it up into balls of about six pounds weight, which he tosses up into the hands of a man who stands upon a ladder about midway between the ground and the roof, and he in turn tosses it up into the hands of the man who stands upon the roof.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

GIRLS WHO ARE FOOLISH

Several Kinds of Them

"THE list of foolish girls is bound to be a long one," remarked the bachelor as he lighted a cigarette and settled himself comfortably.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," retorted the worldly wise woman severely. "I am afraid if you have met many girls of that description it is because you have made fools of them."

"Will you please head your list," the bachelor went on, without paying any attention to her, "by mentioning the girl who writes letters to men?"

"Did you get many of those?"

"Did I get many of them? Well, on an average three or four every morning with my business mail. Oh, I don't mean nice little letters inviting me to tea or dinner, but soulful affairs written on the whyness of the wherefore order. Sometimes they were inspired by something I had said, and then I used to curse myself and vow to cut it out, whatever it was, and then again the weather would inspire some, or a peculiar mood. Oh, I used to tremble when a letter began this way: 'I am in a peculiar mood today, so I thought I would write to you.'

"Well, it is my turn to put in a few, I think. I speak from the woman's point of view. Of all the silly, silly girls is she who gets crushes on men and then tells about it. She will say: 'Oh, I met such a stunning man the other day, and, do you know, I think he likes me. He said, etc., and when we parted he looked at me in such a way and said, etc.' And worse still the girl who makes friends with a man's sister and asks her ingenuously if she thinks her brother likes her—a lot of fun for the sister, but if the brother is in love he can find plenty of ways of showing it."

"Then there is the girl who washes the family dirty linen in public to whoever will listen. She makes me feel such a cad, and yet I can't tell her to shut up, can I?"

"Nor can you squelch the girl who insists upon telling you the history of her hard, hard, misunderstood life. If there is any type of girl women dread it is the one with the continual hard luck story. She bedews herself with her own tears, and her eternal cry is, 'Poor little me!'"

"Well, there is another type of foolish girl who perhaps wouldn't strike you at first sight, as a man, because she only shows that side of her character to her own sex. I refer to the lady with the mania for confessing her weaknesses and her sins to her friends. Instead of concealing them forty fathoms deep this misguided one feels bent in two under their weight until she unburdens herself to some intimate friend under a pledge of secrecy, which lasts as long as the friendship and no longer, if, indeed, it lasts so long. 'For goodness' sake let people find out your bad qualities. They will do so fast enough,' I have repeated again and again to one of these foolish virgins. But in vain. It is a fatal habit which is almost unconscious. Silly women, to run down or belittle themselves, their homes or their families!"

"To a man it is sometimes amusing to see how women run after each other if they think something is to be gained."

"Yes, and when a girl tries to do things rapidly that way she usually gets turned down too. Even women don't like what comes too easily."

"And the girl who quotes the social calendar—have you forgotten her? What Mrs. Astorbilt wore at the Van Hyphens' on Wednesday, what Mrs. Willie Social Leader's first cousin by the second marriage did at her musicale, etc.?"

"Yes, and it's all out of the society columns of the yellow journals. She doesn't know a soul of them."

"And the girls who ape extremes in dress and the very latest extravagances in near silk and near fur and near velvet instead of sticking to a ladylike cut and a material which they can afford to have made decently."

"And the girl who always goes you one better. If you say you can sing, she will relate what the great So-and-so said about her voice"—

"Oh, stop the list! It is all too long."

"What did I tell you?"

"Never mind. They make us appreciate all the more the girls who don't make fools of themselves."

UNIVERSAL BIBLE SUNDAY.

American Churches Asked to Join British In Memorial Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The American Bible society, at the request of the British and Foreign Bible society, has asked the American churches to join with it in commemorating "universal Bible Sunday," March 6, the centennial of the organization of the British and Foreign Bible society.

There will be memorial services held all over Great Britain and in many places throughout the world. In London King Edward and the queen have signified their intention of attending a special service in St. Paul's cathedral, where the archbishop of Canterbury will preach.

Already in this country arrangements are being made for similar services. There will be a union service held in St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, the historic center in Washington. President Roosevelt has been formally invited by the American Bible society to be present and has signified his acceptance of the invitation.

DYNAMITE ICE BARRIERS.

Columbia and Port Deposit Railroad Open Again.

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., Feb. 17.—For the first time within a week the tracks of the Columbia and Port Deposit railroad have been cleared to the junction with the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington railroad at Percyville. Pick and shovel were ineffective in clearing the ice ridges, and dynamite was used to break through the ice barriers.

The water in the Susquehanna is at a low ebb, but the narrow channel is full of floating ice, which is being rushed down the river and into the waters of the Chesapeake bay. There have been little or no hardships here except that residents on the lowlands were compelled to remove their household furniture to the hills. All residents are now supplied with provisions and fuel.

Bryan Speaks of Hanna.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 17.—William Jennings Bryan when informed of the death of Senator Hanna said: "He was one of the most forceful figures in modern politics. He won his place at the head of his party in the senate and in the nation by his extraordinary executive ability and by his skill in organizing the forces that control that party, and even his political opponents recognized the strength of his personality and many admirable qualities."

Cashier Shot Himself.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 17.—Claude H. Troutman, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants' bank of Milledgeville, has committed suicide by shooting here. His wife and three children were taking leading parts in an amateur play at the opera house at the time. He left letters to the bank president and his wife, the contents of which are not known.

Ice Situation In the Susquehanna.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—There is no change in the ice situation in the Susquehanna river, and, owing to the present cold weather, none is expected in the near future. Warnings have been issued for a marked rise in the upper Sacramento, Yuba and American rivers of California.

Sigsbee at Santiago.

HAVANA, Feb. 17.—Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigsbee has arrived here and proceeded by train to Santiago, where he assumed command of the United States south Atlantic squadron. The cruisers New York and Detroit have arrived at Santiago.

FATHER OF THE NAVY

Chandler and Not Whitney Is Entitled to the Title.

CREDIT DUE TO THE LATTER

He Pushed the Original and Added Greater Plans for the Building of Modern Warships—As a Society Leader.

Washington.—Now that William C. Whitney is dead there is a revival of the fiction which was prevalent about the time of his service as secretary of the navy to the effect that he was the father of the new American navy Whitney was a very efficient and progressive secretary and did what was in his power to advance the interests of the navy which he had in his keeping, but it is a great mistake to imagine that he had anything to do with the inauguration of the system under which the navy has grown during the past 20 years.

Hon. William E. Chandler.

The real father of the new navy was William E. Chandler, who was secretary of the navy under Arthur, who was afterwards a United States senator for 12 years and who is now at the head of the Spanish treaty claims commission. Secretary Chandler created a commission of experts who traveled through Europe acquiring information upon which to base a report for a complete reorganizatiion of the navy on modern principles. He took their report and put it into practical effect, by securing from congress the necessary appropriations and laying the keels for modern men of war.

Under Chandler's regime the Boston, the Chicago, the Atlanta and the Dolphin were constructed and those ships are still in commission and doing effective service. They formed the nucleus of the navy as it exists to-day.

It was Chandler who sounded the doom of the old-fashioned wooden vessels which up to 1880 had constituted the American navy and which had become a mockery and a mark.

Credit Due Whitney.

Whitney is entitled to credit for not reversing Chandler's policy on the incoming of a democratic administration and for not recommending a suspension of the work on the new ships and a suspension of the large appropriations necessary for the expanding service. He was a big, broad, progressive business man and it is fortunate that he came on the scene as he did, for his policy committed the democratic party to the idea of a modern navy, thus making it a national instead of a party affair. Had a narrower man become secretary at that time the development of the navy might have been set back for years.

Hon. William C. Whitney.

Those who remember Whitney as secretary will recall his enthusiasm in the new ships and the models which used to fill every available space in the office at the department which he occupied.

Whitney occupied the big reception room at the department which is now used for exhibition purposes and from which lead the offices of the present secretary and assistant secretary. He had a high desk at which he used to stand while at work and where he was accustomed to receive ordinary callers with whom he did not care to carry on a long conversation. It was easier for him to dismiss a troublesome visitor in this way than if he had received him in a room by himself.

Whitney was capable of accomplishing a great deal of work in the course of a day. He never seemed to be hurried and he had a capacity for turning details over to subordinates, reserving for himself only the broader questions of general policy. He was extremely popular with everybody in the department and he was one of the most efficient secretaries the navy ever had.

Revolutionized Society.

Perhaps Whitney's greatest claim to remembrance in Washington, however, was his revolutionizing the social life of the capitol.

The Western Millionaire.

Before he came to Washington with the first Cleveland administration society in Washington was a comparatively simple and inexpensive affair. It was provincial and some of the swell entertainers of to-day might think it bucolic. Whitney was the first to introduce entertainment on a lavish scale. He bought the house of former Secretary Frelinghuysen on fashionable old I street, spent a great deal of money in modernizing it and built a ball room in the rear which was the finest thing of the kind in Washington and which still remains about the best thing of the kind about the capital. He gave entertainments to which he invited all official Washington and everybody else who was worth while and upon which he lavished money without stint. There had never been anything like it here before.

It was at one of these entertainments that Mrs. James Brown Potter, then a society leader, made a national sensation by reciting "'Ostler Joe"—a poem which would not attract any great amount of attention nowadays but which was thought then to be decidedly risque.

To the first Cleveland administration through Whitney belongs the distinction of starting Washington on the career of social extravagance which has been growing more pronounced ever since.

There is a great deal more money here now than there was then. The western millionaire has invaded the town with his ostentation and garishness, but there has never been anything more sumptuous than the entertainments which Whitney used to give It was he who inaugurated the cabinet dinner as it now exists.

Hanna's Many Interests.

Senator Hanna has a larger correspondence than any other two senators put together. This comes partly from his position as chairman of the republican national committee and partly from his business connections.

Senator Hanna.

In order to carry on his correspondence he keeps three offices running here in Washington and a separate force of clerks in each, all under the general supervision of his private secretary, Elmer Dover.

One office is at the capitol in his committee room. There the strictly legislative business is carried on. Senator Hanna has not been in this committee room since it was assigned to him. It is too far from the senate chamber to be convenient for him to drop in, and such people as he sees at the capitol he takes into the Marble room back of the senate chamber, where he can sit at his ease on one of the divans and talk to his heart's content.

Another office is at the Arlington hotel, on the same floor with the Senator's apartments. Here is where Dover reigns and here is where the most important personal and political business is attended to.

In the McLean building, just across the way, is still another office, which is devoted to miscellaneous work and where three or four clerks are employed.

Senator Hanna has more different kinds of business to attend to than almost any other man in public life. He does not let go his grip on his affairs in Cleveland while he is in Washington, but keeps a close watch on everything. His enterprises there are complicated and extensive, including ships and opera houses. His position as chairman of the national committee is sufficient to keep one man of ordinary capacity busy and besides all this he does as much work and as hard work as any of his fellow senators in purely legislative business.

The Birch Bark Statesman.

J. Adam Bede, who came forward early in the congress as one of the most interesting characters in the house, with his speech on the general political situation, which made a decided hit and established his reputation as one of the most effective and witty debaters in congress, has a rare faculty for retort of the good-natured kind that is sure to cause the discomfiture of an opponent whenever he cares to use it, which is not too often.

Bede's Birch Bark Letter.

Bede used to be a democrat in the first Cleveland administration. Now he is a republican of equal intensity. It was lucky for him politically that he changed parties, for he would probably never have been elected to congress as a democrat in the Duluth district, and as a republican there seems no reason why he should not represent the district in the house for years to come.

One of Bede's recent predecessors from the Duluth district was Charles A. Towne, who was elected to congress as a republican, made his reputation by delivering a free silver speech, flopped to Bryan in the 1896 campaign remained one of Bryan's staunchest supporters until after the election of 1900, and who is now a Tammany democrat in New York. Thus the Duluth district has had liberal experience with representatives of varying political views.

Bede is known as the "birch bark" statesman on account of the peculiar way in which he entered federal politics. At the beginning of Cleveland's administration he applied for the position of United States marshal and wrote his petition on birch bark. The president saw it in looking over the papers, was struck by its oddity, wrote out to Minnesota, discovered that Bede was all right and appointed him offhand.

LOUIS A. COOLIDGE.

ZERO WEATHER.

Within Ten Hours Mercury Fell Twenty-five Degrees.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Only a few steps to spring, the pale anemone and the modest violet, and yet to have weather below zero! With March less than two weeks distant, the temperature is such that the arteries almost congeal outdoors; but, still worse, the federal forecaster declares that by night the mercury will fall even farther and will continue low, while gales drive the chill into every nook and crevice of Gotham's homes.

Within ten hours the mercury fell twenty-five degrees in this city and in the surrounding country, and at 9 o'clock the official record was 1 degree above zero, that being the lowest officially for twenty-four hours, although suburban thermometers ranged from 5 to 10 degrees below.

Just to emphasize his chilling power old Winter has added a keen northwest wind that brings a chatter of teeth with every gust and adds to the prosperity of ear muff manufacturers. "More cold," the weather forecaster says. In the city streets men, women and children are holding to their ears, and flat dwellers are whistling down the dumb waiter shaft to the poor, tired janitor the old tune, "More heat."

But hope is high in the human breast, for signs of spring are not lacking even if water pipes are freezing and yesterday's wash clings stiff and unyielding as a preacher's dignity. Seed catalogues for 1904 are in circulation, the days are getting longer, and farmers are polishing up their plows.

BLIZZARD AT CAPE COD.

Several Trains Stalled In Snowdrifts All Night.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Feb. 17.—The entire Cape Cod section, which has been swept by a furious blizzard—the worst since that of November, 1898—has not recovered, and traffic on land and navigation are delayed. The employees of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad have succeeded in digging out several trains which were stalled during the night.

One of these was a train which had left Boston for Provincetown. The locomotive struck a big drift at Beach Point, and the train remained stalled. The trainmen, in spite of the bitter cold, managed to send word to Provincetown for assistance. Two relief trains were started, but they, too, became stuck in the drifting snow, and the attempt to dig out the Boston train had to be abandoned for the night.

The passengers on board realized that it would be foolhardy to abandon the cars, in view of the terrific storm. They had nothing to eat until rescued. The track was cleared by a large force of men, but it was late in the day before traffic was resumed.

At many points along the railroad the snow is packed and drifted much worse than during the gale of 1898.

Fight Over Valentine; One Dead.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17.—As the result of a quarrel which started over a valentine John Carley, aged thirty, is dead from a bullet wound, and Mrs. Minnie Howard, his stepsister, is under arrest charged with the shooting. William Ewing and Maud Goodwin received cuts and bruises and were locked up as witnesses. The trouble occurred in a boarding house conducted by Mrs. Howard. She asserts that she fired the shot which killed Carley to prevent him from killing Ewing during a general scrimmage. After lying for several hours unconscious Carley died at the City hospital.

Gallagher Gets Prison For Life.

TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 17.—John E. Gallagher, who was recently arrested at Seattle, Wash., and brought here charged with murder in the second degree in shooting his brother-in-law, Joseph McMahon, in this city in 1899, was found guilty by a jury and immediately sentenced to life imprisonment. Gallagher had separated from his wife, who was living with her brother. He entered the McMahon home late one night, and the shooting, which the defense claimed was accidental, followed.

Jaggers Found Guilty.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 17.—George Jaggers has been found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Mary E. Bevans. Mrs. Bevans was killed and her husband was seriously wounded by shots fired through a window in their home in Sandystone township on the night of Oct. 23. Jaggers was arrested on suspicion on the day of Mrs. Bevans' funeral. The evidence against him was all circumstantial. He will be sentenced on Feb. 27.

Mas and Moranne Held In Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—The preliminary inquiry into the charges of perjury made against Lucien Mas and Alfred Moranne in connection with testimony given by them with regard to the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fair, who were killed in an automobile accident in France in August, 1902, has been concluded and the accused committed for trial.

A Cowardly Murder.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 17.—Near Winfield, Putnam county, an unknown assassin killed Thomas Sparks by firing through the window of his home. Sparks was eighty-three years old, and only his daughter, an elderly woman, lived with him. She was out of the house when the shooting was done.

Frozen to Death In Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 17.—Thermometers registered from 5 to 10 degrees below zero in and about Pittsburg. At Connellsburg it was 30 degrees below zero. Two men were found frozen to death, an unknown man in Allegheny and Robert O'Brien at Coraopolis, a suburb.

'SQUIRES REFUSE CUT RATES

JUSTICE CLARK REFUSES TO OFFER BARGAINS IN MARRIAGE FEES.

Justices of the peace of this city and surrounding towns who have been approached on the subject of cutting marriage rates in competition with Justice Hezekiah Hand have been backward in expressing themselves. Justice Joseph. Clark, of Scotch Plains, said that he would be unable to enter the field with Plainfield's magistrate. He could not comprehend how the local healer of torn hearts could afford to perform the ceremony without charge. He said that every man ought to be willing to pay something for the privilege of improving his condition by getting married. He declared that matrimony in his opinion was too good a thing to be cheapened by a cut in rates, and that, for himself, he would continue to exact appropriate fees as heretofore.

Justice Joseph E. Mosher, of this city, known as the "marrying justice of Plainfield," who is said to have performed more ceremonies during his term of office than any other justice in the city, was approached on the subject but was bashful about being quoted. Judge Mosher said that he once married a pair for thirty-eight cents, and that that was as low as he would go.

POLITICAL NOTES.

In the round up of Republican organization leaders and prominent Republican members of the New York Legislature arranged by Gov. Odell to meet in the Executive Chamber at Albany on Monday, Assemblyman Edward R. Finch was one of the number included. Mr. Finch is a former Plainfielder.

When house bill No. 5, known as the Hampton electric light plant bill, came up in the house at Trenton, yesterday, on final passage, Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of this city, opposed it vigorously. Mr. Swackhamer raised objections to the bill by the provisions of which municipalities are prevented from establishing electric light plants in opposition to private lighting companies already established. Mr. Swackhamer said the bill calls for the creation of a monopoly and also interfered with municipal ownership of lighting plants. In spite of the opposition to the bill, it was passed.

WATER PIPES FROZEN TIGHT

CONSUMERS HAVE HARD TIME TO GET WATER IN SOME SECTIONS.

The recent severe cold snap has caused considerable damage to some of the water pipes throughout the city and borough, while in one instance, a four inch main located in Manson place is froze up for a distance of about two feet. The service pipes in the West End of the city seem to have suffered. In Oxford place and in a number of streets below Grant avenue the pipes are frozen. The pipe leading from West Fourth street to Monroe avenue to the home of Rev. John McMurray has been frozen for a number of days.

On East Third street several service pipes were frozen. In Sycamore and Myrtle avenes and Duer street, North Plainefld, there were instances of pipes freezing and residents being without water. Amos Andrews, of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, considers Plainfield very fortnate in not having more trouble with the water supply. None of the large mains have been stopped and are not likely to.

SNAP SHOTS.

On the subject "A Leap Year Offer by a Venerable Philosopher," the Evening Sun said editorially on Saturday: "Justice Hezekiah Hand, of Plainfield, is thinking more about the Leap Year harvest than about the epoch-making war in the Far East. The Justice is a marrying man in the sense that he would sooner join a loving couple in wedlock than do anything else—even than read a war bulletin; but let it be understood that he is not selfishly interested in his fees. The Czar and the Mikado have both issued war proclamations that will be read by some people all over the world; but Justice Hezekiah Hand has promulgated something that will be read by every person in Union County, male and female. He offers to unite in marriage on and after St. Valentine's day and until the end of February, free of charge, all couples in those cases where "the bride has taken advantage of her leap year prerogative." Furthermore Justice Hand engages to pay for the marriage license. He explains that he has the interests of the human race at heart, and especially those of the spinsters of Plainfield.

"Justice Hezekiah Hand is no callow fledgling of the law, but a venerable man who has pondered deeply on the institution of matrimony. He holds that the home is the foundation stone of a nation's greatness, and when he sees a spinster pining for a mate and a fireside his heart bleeds. Like the genial philosopher he is, Justice Hezekiah does not put all the blame for love's delays on the bachelors. Some of them are not over bold—the coyness of the maid disconcerts and dismays them. They would if they dared but the spirit does not move them. For this embarrassment Leap Year was invented. In the view of this fine old Justice of Plainfield it is to much the sport of Valentine makers and he would have it regarded with gravity and respect. Hence his helpful proclamation. During the coming fortnight Plainfield will expect every spinster of marrying age to do her duty and Justice Hezekiah will keep his pact blithely. May the Watchung Hills send back the echo of marriage bells from dawn to dewy eve and thence to the stroke of midnight! Let no spinster shirk or bachelor balk."

Cut by Bottle.

QUAKER TEA PARTY AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Entertainment Under Auspices of C. E. Society of the Seventh-Day Church.

PLEASING PROGRAMME

THE SNUG SUM REALIZED ENRICHES THE ORGANIZATION.

Candy Table a Feature—Several Tableaux Among the Numbers—Story Entitled "Twixt Love and Creed," Much Appreciated.

A "Quaker Tea" followed by an informal entertainment was given in the parlors of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, last night, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. Those in charge of the tea were attired in Quaker costume and the idea was carried out in pleasing fashion. An excellent menu was served, consisting of plain, but substantial food. In the dining room Mrs. Marcus L. Clawson poured coffee and Mrs. O. W. Whitford poured tea. The waitresses were Miss Nellie Miller, Miss Etta Randolph, Miss Bessy Fitz Randolph, Miss Edna Randolph.

In addition there was a candy table, where home-made confection was sold by Mrs. William O. Hubbard, Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard and Miss Myra Clark.

The first number of the programme in the entertainment which followed was a piano solo by Miss Mabel Maxson. Miss Mildred Green gave a reading entitled "Lydia Darrah's Daring Deed," and Mrs. J. Everett Kimball read a story, entitled "Twixt Love and Creed." While this story was being read several tableaux were given by Mrs. Marcus L. Clawson, Miss Mary St. John and Charles Titsworth, portraying the characters in the story. The programme was concluded with a vocal solo by Charles Titsworth, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. W. O. Hubbard. The rest of the evening was passed in sociability.

The committee from the society having charge of the affair was composed of Miss Ida F. Randolph, chairman; Miss Lou Clawson, Miss Mattie Green, Mrs. L. L. Fairchild and George Clark. A goodly sum was realized as profit from the supper and this will be placed in the treasury for general purposes.

DRAKE JOINS WILKES POST

HAPPY CULMINATION OF FAMOUS FLAG EPISODE IN WHICH HE FIGURED.

General J. Madison Drake has become a member of Aaron Wilkes Post, No. 23, G. A. R., of Trenton. The entire post turned out to the ceremony and among those present was Col. E. C. Stahl, past department commander of New Jersey. A number of speeches were made and the meeting wound up with a banquet. This culminated the famous flag episode. General Drake was, previous to the Civil War, a resident of Trenton and at the outbreak of the Rebellion was an alderman and publisher at the State capital. After the war he removed to Elizabeth. His election in Wilkes Post had to be made under a suspension of rules and a special dispensation. The post has requested him to tell the story of the war at a public meeting to be held in Trenton in the near future.

VALUALE SOUVENIRS.

Opening Day at Union Pacific Tea Company to be Marked by Handsome Gifts.

There will be a grand opening of the Union Pacific Tea Company's new store, 237 West Front street, on Saturday, at which time there will be given imported gold decorated china plates to every purchaser of teas, coffees, spices, extracts and Sovereign baking powder. The company at a considerable expense has fitted up its store, and J. E. Martine, owner of the building, has spent much time and money to make the place an attractive one. The company owns thousands of stores throughout the United States and assures the people of Plainfield that they will get the best goods at lowest prices.

Police Vigilance.

Because of the numerious burglaries in the city recently, Chief Kiely has made it a rule for members of the force to question sharply all strangers or residents acting peculiarly and to arrest all unable to give an account of themselves.

WHY AMITY CARRIAGE STAYS

EXEMPT FIREMEN FEAR NEW YORKERS MAY CLAIM IT IF TAKEN TO ST. LOUIS.

Whatever may be said to the contrary the real reason why the Exempt Firemen's Association, through its trustees, has refused the request to allow the Amity silver hose carriage to be exhibited at the St. Louis Exposition, is that the association is afraid that litigation may follow if once the carriage reaches Missouri. It being in another State litigation would be complicated and lawyers from this city would have to go to St. Louis and defend whatever action was instituted to return the carriage to the original owners in New York.

The carriage was brought to Plainfield through the efforts of John W. Murray, Charles C. Burnett and other members of the old fire department. After the destruction of the Crystal Palace in New York by fire, it was learned that the silver hose carriage was the only thing of importance rescued. It was then owned by Amity Hose Company, of New York and was later placed in storage. When the hose company did not redeem the carriage it was disposed of to the Plainfield firemen,, who paid the storage fees. It has been in Plainfield for the past twenty years.

Four years ago when the Exempt Firemen's Association participated in a firemen's parade in Bayonne, they took the silver carriage with them. At that time there was an effort made to capture the carriage and take it to New York. The Plainfielders heard of the plan and they guarded their property zealously.

The action of the trustees not to allow the carriage to leave this city, as announced yesterday, was not decided upon until after a consultation with V. W. Nash, Jr., Esq. It was then that they agreed that it would be a wiser plan to keep the carriage in this city and not complicate matters.

Defective Chimney Causes Fire.

A defective chimney caused a slight blaze yesterday at the home of Charles Hughes who lives on the second floor of 122 Liberty street. A sofa in the attic was destroyed and the flooring was damaged by flames. The loss is estimated at $50, insured. The lower floor is occupied by John Horn and family, and the building is owned by Mrs. Minnie Tice, of New York, a sister-in-law of Fred Endress. Both families were out when the fire was discovered.

He's W. G. Besler, Jr.

The son recently born to Mr. and Mrs. William G. Besler, of Rockview avenue, has been named W. G. Besler, Jr.

UNANIMOUS INVITATION EXTENDED DR. EARP

Grace M. E. Congregation Asks That Present Incumbent be Returned.

IS DOING A GOOD WORK

THE REPORTS READ AT THE QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

Thirty-Two Accessions to Membership—Rev. Dr. Daniel Halleron, Presiding Elder of Elizabeth District, in the Chair.

Interesting reports of the year's work at the Grace M. E. church in North Plainfield were read at the quarterly conference in the church parlors last night. The congregation unanimously invited the pastor to return for another year. Rev. Dr. Daniel Halleron, the presiding elder, was urged to prevail upon the Bishop to grant their request to allow Dr. Earp to remain for another term.

John Valiant, superintendent of the Sunday-school, read an interesting report of the Sunday-school work of the year in which it was stated that the work being done there was bringing good results. Dykman Winkler, president of the Epworth League, reported the society in a good condition financially and spiritually and E. W. Winkler reported for the trustees of the church.

Rev. Dr. Carroll made his annual report as local preacher which was followed by the pastor's report, in which he said there had been thirty-two accessions to the church membership during the year. Various committees were appointed for the year.

Grace church has shown a wonderful growth during the pastorate of Dr. Earp and his energy and fine personality have made for him many friends. That his work has been appreciated is shown by the fact that his people want him to remain with them another year.

FINGERHUTS DISPOSSESSED

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS WHICH RECALL A SIMILAR ONE IN WASHINGTONVILLE.

Theodore Fingerhut and his wife, whom Plainfielders will recall in connection with the Roerick shooting about half a dozen years ago, have again been legally dispossessed of their home; but this time there will be no armed posse sent to oust them and no resistance of the landlord's demands. Mr. and Mrs. Fingerhut are living on a farm in Union village, of which the owner is Stephen Sturges, a New York lawyer. The suit for possession of premises was brought in Justice Smalley's court in the borough.

The dispossessed tenants have accepted their new misfortune resignedly. They have complied with all the demands of the court and signified their intention of leaving the house at any time desired. Owing to the extreme cold weather, Mr. Sturges authorized Constable W. N. Pangborn, who served the papers, to give the tenants an extra week of grace.

At the time of the Roerick affair, Mr. and Mrs. Fingerhut lived on the Allen farm near what was then Washingtonville. Landlord Roerick, who was a jeweler of New York, taking with him Lawyer Clark and a gang of men, all armed, went to the farm prepared to eject the tenants by force. They found Mrs. Fingerhut, who was a foreigner ignorant of law, alone, and she answered their threatening appearance and violent demands by shooting Roerick dead. In the trial that followed, Mrs. Fingerhut was given six months imprisonment and a $500 fine which was afterwards remitted by the Board of Pardons.

Another Big Building.

Henry VanName, who occupies property on East Front street recently purchased by Dr. Albert Pittis of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, has received notice to vacate by a certain time. Mr. VanName owns the building he occupies and he will see another location. It is the intention of Dr. Pittis to erect a modern building on the property in the spring. During the past few years Dr. Pittis has acquired considerable property on East Front street, including the building occupied by M. C. VanArsdale, Vail & Gardner and Henry Mehrten.

LATEST WAR DISPATCHES

A Central News despatch at London from Seoul, dated Tuesday, says that news has reached there that 3,000 Russian troops have arrived on the Yalu and have encamped opposite Wiju. Gen. Pflug, Viceroy Alexieff's chief of staff, telegraphs, without date, from Port Arthur that the town is quite unchanged.

The Foreign Office at Paris has received a despatch from St. Petersburg announcing that Gen. Kuropatkin has been appointed to the supreme military command in the Far East. A Central News despatch from Tokio to London says it is officially announced that the Russian cruiser Boyarin was torpedoed by the Japanese on Sunday

GOFF FURNISHING HIS PLACE

FIXTURES FOR BARROOM HAVE ARRIVED AT NEW HOTEL.

John Goff is proceeding to furnish up his bar room in his hotel near Clinton avenue, for which he has applied for a license. A large consignment of solid oak furnishings have been shipped here from a factory at the foot of Eighth street, New York. Much of this has been sent by railroad but the mirrors, which are of handsome plate glass and the "back bar" fixtures were brought here Tuesday night by truckmen. The goods were unloaded at the hotel yesterday morning.

It is said that it is not John Goff who really seeks the license, but the Rising Sun Brewing Company, of Newark. Nominally, at least, however, John Goff is the proprietor of the saloon.

BUILDING INSPECTOR'S ORDER

T. C. DOANE DIRECTS A CHANGE MUST BE MADE TO DOORS OF CHURCHES.

In order that all public buildings may conform more strictly to the city building ordinances and minimize the risk in case of fire, Building Inspector T. C. Doane has given orders that the main doors in all churches, as well as other public buildings, must be hung so as to swing outward, instead of in, as is the case at present in most buildings. Strange as it may seem, nearly every church edifice in the city has been affected by this order and the work of changing the doors will be general.

Chief Doane argues that in case of fire or any excitement that would cause a hasty exit of a great crowd of people, the main exit doors should swing out, making it less possible for accidents to occur. In every case where the order has been given there has been perfect willingness to comply, and the work will begin at once.

BOWLING SCHEDULE.

Six Matches Yet to be Rolled Before The Daily Press Trophy is Won.

The Daily Press Bowling League tournament will be continued on Thursday night, February 25, at which time Cranford Casino will roll Roselle Casino on the alleys of the latter. The following night, February 26, the Parks will roll at Westfield. The matches will conclude the series for February. There remain six matches to roll and it is believed that Westfield will win out. However, Roselle has a possible chance, providing the team wins the majority of the nine matches it has yet to roll and Westfield drops a few. There is no chance of the Parks finishing a winner, much to the regret of their admirers, but they have made a strong effort. It is hoped that they will make a gallant finish.

14,066 Pythians.

According to reports submitted at the present convention at Trenton of the Knights of Pythias, the order has a membership in New Jersey of 14,066, a net increase of 201. The total amount paid by the order during the year for expenses, investments and relief was $148,466.95, the total receipts being $157,576.56. The number of brothers relieved was 1,462. The Grand Lodge has a cash balance on hand of $2,360.54.

HONOR THE MEMORY OF FRANCES WILLARD

Plainfield W. C. T. U. Held Special Meeting at Mrs. Geo. H. Babcock's Home.

SKETCHED HER CAREER

MEMBERS CONTRIBUTED LIBERALLY TO THANK-OFFERING.

Miss Cornelia Miller Sang Miss Willard's Solo, "On Heights of Power"—Mrs. Maxson Read a Biographical Story.

A largely-attended parlor meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George H. Babcock, of West Eighth street, under the auspices of the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The meeting was in the nature of a memorial and thank-offering to Miss Frances E. Willard, the late president of the National body of the order, the proceeds being used in the work of organization. Similar meetings were held throughout the world yesterday by all Unions.

The programme opened with a soprano solo, "On Heights of Power," composed by Frances E. Willard, by Miss Cornelia Miller, followed with the reading of Tennyson's poem, "Merlin and the Gleam," by Mrs. J. Everett Kimball. Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson, county superintendent, read a selection, "Miss Willard's Optism," written by Mrs. Helen M. Barker, National treasurer of the W. C. T. U.

A biographical sketch of Miss Willard, written by Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, National president of the W. C. T. U., was read by Mrs. H. M. Maxson. Mrs. Maxson also read "The Flower of Temperance Chivalry," written by Mrs. S. M. D. Fry, National corresponding secretary of the Union.

After the programme there was a social hour and refreshments were served. The thank-offering was gratifying to the Union, there being a liberal response.

CREDITOR HUNTING HORTON

MAN AGAINST WHOM ATTACHMENT IS ISSUED DISAPPEARS FROM CITY.

W. C. Horton, of 717 South avenue, upon whom notice of attachment was served Monday by Constable Weaver, has disappeared from this city. He left with his wife about two weeks ago and no knowledge of his whereabouts has been obtained since. Horton is defendant in an attachment case brought against him by McManus Brothers, of Elizabeth. This he had agreed to settle Tuesday.

Horton is said to have a number of creditors in town besides his landlord to whom he is said to owe four months rent. He came to this city from New Haven about a year ago and was arrested shortly thereafter on complaint of his wife who charged him with desertion. The pair became reconciled, however, and it is thought now that they have returned to their former home in New Haven. Horton has been variously employed in this city by Callahan, the grocer; Galbraith, the plumber and others.

A GOLD MINE.

Annual Statement of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company Shows Some Great Prosperity.

It is an old saying that figures do not lie and an examination of the figures in the annual statement made by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in The Daily Press, today, will prove conclusively to the mind of any intelligent person the necessity for everyone carrying life insurance with a substantial company, like the Metropolitan. Nothing could show more plainly what life insurance really stands for in the minds of the people. It is not regarded as a speculative venture, but a sure promise of security; a safe shelter when financial storm-clouds threaten general wreck. No bank stockholder will read the annual report of his own prosperous bank with keener relish than people everywhere read the remarkable statement of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

No City Court Sessions.

The city court cases to have been tried yesterday were adjourned to Saturday morning owing to the absence in Trenton of City Judge Wm. N. Runyon, who is attending the State convention of the Knights of Pythias.

LeRoy Griffen, of West Front street, is ill at his home with the grip.

YOUNG PEOPLE STUDYING BIBLE

SERIES OF MEETINGS ARRANGED FOR A CRESCENT AVENUE ASSOCIATION.

Under the auspices of the Young People's Association of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church a series of meetings for Bible study has been arranged for Friday evenings during February, March, April, May and June. These meetings will be conducted by William D. Murray and promise to be interesting as well as instructive.

Mr. Murray will devote most of his meetings to the study of the book of St. Luke. Two sessions have already been held. On February 5 the subject was "Who wrote the Third Gospel?" with a discussion afterwards on the "Geography of Palestine." On February 12, Mr. Murray spoke on "Who was Luke?" followed by a talk on the "Original purpose of the books of the Bible." Tomorrow night's subject will be "How we get our Bible" by Mr. Murray and "Why we have four Gospels" by Ira W. Travell. A missionary meeting with stereopticon views will be given a week from tomorrow night by David McConoughy, of India.

The services during March will open with a preparatory service on March 4 and on each Friday the services will be continued up to Friday June 10.

The officers of the association are: President, B. vanD. Hedges; vice president, Ira W. Travell; secretary, Amy Whitney; treasurer, Theodore O. Gavett. The committees are: Programme—Mr. Travell, Miss Cuming, Stephen H. Voorhees, Mrs. King, Miss Griffen, Mr. King, Miss Halloway and Miss Laura Lovell; membership and attendance—Miss Newman and Miss Dewey; finance—J. Stanley Voorhees, Walter Sampson, Theodore O. Gavett and Charles Cook; social—Miss Benton, Miss Haven, Miss Cone and Miss Wilhelmina Patton; music—Miss Love and Mrs. Stephen H. Voorhees; industrial—Mrs. P. B. Cregar, Miss Grace J. Burke and Miss Marguerite VanDeventer.

LONG CONTINUED COLD SNAP

THOUGH WINTER HAS BEEN SEVERE THERE HAS BEEN LITTLE SUFFERING.

Just at the time when the people of this city were anxiously hoping for some sign of an early spring, the thermometer took a sudden turn and dropped to zero and stayed there. It has remained there since Monday and while the weather prophets declare that there will be a moderation in the temperature soon, there is no evidence that the prediction is correct.

Despite the severe and long winter there has apparently been much less suffering in this city than usual. The charity organizations, including the Plainfield Relief Association, the Organized Aid Association, as well as the various kindred societies in the several churches, report that there has been much less demand for assistance than heretofore. Plainfield has not a large number of destitute persons.

One thing that has been a blessing to poor and rich alike this winter is the abundance of coal, making it possible for people to keep warm. There has not at any time throughout the cold weather been a scarcity of black diamonds, every dealer being able to keep a good supply on hand at reasonable prices. During the miners' strike last winter coal was at a premium. For this reason arrangements were made to get a supply of coal and sell to the poor at a nominal price. This has not been necessary this winter. There has been no famine in any of the necessities of life, although high prices have been asked for some commodities. The supply of ice has exceeded that of any in recent years, in fact, the ice dealers have been obliged to stop cutting, their ice-houses being filled. The ice is of exceptional quality and thickness and there is no reason why it should not be cheaper in price next summer than it was last year. While in many places people have had to suffer through a loss of a water supply, caused by a freezing of pipes or reservoirs, this city has experienced but little difficulty and in the several cases affected, relief will be obtained soon.

Those who enjoy sleighriding and skating have certainly had an enjoyable time this year. For nearly eight weeks the sleighing was fine and the liverymen reaped a harvest. As for the skating there has been no end of it. Both young and old have enjoyed the sport to their heart's content.

Mrs. John Doty is ill at her home in Elmwood place.

EARLY MORNING FIRE; 3 FAMILIES HOMELESS

Thrilling Escapes From a House on Manning Avenue, Firemen Aiding in Rescue.

LADDIES WORKED HARD

THE LOSS ON BUILDING ESTIMATED AT $1,200.

A Lamp is Said to Have Caused the Trouble — Adjoining Building Saved—One Man Was Badly Burned About His Face.

Thrilling escapes from second story windows attended the fire which broke out this morning at 4:40, in the home of Mrs. Celia Lewis at 88 Manning avenue. An alarm from box 132 at the corner of Manning and Westervelt avennes was turned in as soon as the fire was discovered by the sleeping inmates. On account of the extreme cold and the difficulty in rescuing those who were imprisoned on the top floor the firemen were hampered somewhat. Flames were leaping from the roof before the alarm was sounded.

Three families live in the house which is conducted by Mrs. Lewis as a colored boarding house. In the building were Mrs. Benj. Butler and the family of S. A. Cardwell. Smoke was discovered ascending from the down stairs rooms by the occupants of the upper floors and panic stricken they dashed for the hall stairs scantily clad only to find their exit cut off by flames which shot up the stairway.

A key to an alarm box was secured from John Goodwin's house and a neighbor turned in the alarm. In the meantime the people imprisoned in the rooms above gathered in the front room and begged those in the street to secure a ladder. When the firemen arrived the last person was being removed and Chief Stahl directed that the first stream be turned on the adjoining house owned and occupied by Mrs. John Carey, colored. The flames were already communicating with the walls of this house and were licking the shingles. Prompt action doubtless saved this building from being destroyed or damaged.

The loss will probably amount to $1,200, only partially covered by insurance. A lamp exploding in the rooms below is said to have caused the fire. Benjamin Butler in trying to save some of his personal belongings was severley burned about the face and hands.

Patrolman Messler saw the lurid reflection in the sky from his beat on East Second street and started to turn in an alarm from box 15 at the corner of Second and Washington streets. He had broken the glass to secure the key when he heard the alarm ringing in North Plainfield. He thought that the reflection was from a fire on East Front street.

Thrown From Trolley.

A young man whose name is said to be Owens, was thrown from the rear platform of a trolley car on Watchung avenue, near East Fourth street, this morning. His overcoat was torn and he received a severe shaking up. He was taken to Scribner's news stand and later went to his home without giving his name or address.

Explosion Averted.

Franz Woldt, employed by Charles Schanz, of 216 Park avenue, started a furnace fire yesterday afternoon with no water in the boiler, and to help things out emptied a can of kerosene on the coals. A possible explosion was averted by the timely arrival of Mr. Schanz.

Mrs. J. Henry, of South avenue, is under the treatment of an eye specialist.

This Advice Will Bear Repeating in Plainfield.

"Don't chase shadows."

Doubtful proof is but a shadow.

You can rely on testimony of people you know.

You can investigate local evidence.

Mrs Margaret Reville, of 732 West Third street, says: "For a long time I was troubled with a lame and weak back and I never found anything which gave me any relief until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store and began to use them according to directions. It was only a short time before I felt the good effect and from that time on I improved steadily under the treatment. My back pained me and was so weak and sore that I dreaded to bend and when I had a cold or over-exerted myself I suffered severely. I used several different kidney remedies but got little if any relief. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for my improvement. I think they are a fine medicine for a lame back.

CZAR'S CRUISERS AGAIN SUFFER

Russia Claims Storms and Cold of Winter as Her Great Allies—Japan Moves Immense Masses of Men Against Russia.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—A message from Rear Admiral Evans, commanding the Asiatic station, has transmitted to the navy department a cablegram from Commander Staunton of the gunboat Helena, now in mud dock at Newchwang, China, in which he says that conditions there are greatly disturbed and that he is vigorously investigating the report that the Russian officials have delayed certain American and British merchantmen.

In the event that the American consulate is endangered it is stated that Commander Staunton will land bluejackets and marines for the protection of Consul Miller. There is every wish on the part of this government not to give the slightest cause for complaint by either Russia or Japan of intervention, but the unalterable American policy of protecting American interests at all hazards will be adhered to.

An official from Tokyo announces one of the most important movements of Japanese troops yet made. One of the main branches of the army, consisting of three divisions and including a division of guards, is now on board transports ready to sail.

Previous separate landings of Japanese forces in Korea and elsewhere are said here to have been small compared with this simultaneous sailing of three divisions aggregating approximately 30,000 to 50,000 men.

It is believed that the destination of this force is a point near the mouth of the Yalu river or a spot on the Liaotung peninsula, flanking Port Arthur.

The Japanese have also concentrated about 60,000 troops at Wonsan, on the east coast of Korea, with the object of entering Manchuria.

Japan has already landed 120,000 troops in Korea, 80,000 of whom are extended along the fighting front south of the Yalu river.

St. Petersburg dispatches say the rigid censorship imposed here upon all news from the far east completely masks the movements of Russian troops and the plans of those in command, but what is being done is evidently satisfactory to the authorities here, as they manifest the utmost confidence that when the proper time arrives the enemy will be crushed. They say that the preliminary sea victories of the Japanese will be speedily forgotten.

Russia was taken unawares at the outset, and some little time will be required to complete the mobilization of Russian troops. There will be no disposition to meet the evident wish of the Japanese to rush matters to a decision. "Russia can afford to wait" is a common expression heard here, and time and patience always have been strong allies of the empire of the north.

Moreover, the excessively severe winter weather at the scene of war, it is averred, also fights on the side of the czar's legions, as it did in the days of Napoleon, when the Russian proverb, "January, February and March are among the emperor's ablest generals," was coined.

At Port Arthur the thermometer registers 2 degrees below zero F. The concentration of Russian troops will proceed as rapidly as possible, but it is fair to assume that Viceroy Alexeieff will not take the aggressive until he feels certain of his ability to administer a decisive defeat. Therefore, in spite of the extensive landing operations of the Japanese in Korea, an important land fight is not considered here to be imminent, although it is believed that the passage of the Yalu river by the Japanese will be disputed.

In the meantime troops are constantly going to the front from all parts of Russia, and some distinguished officers in the service of the czar are leaving for the far east.

These include General Zalinski, who is to succeed Major General Pflug as chief of staff to Viceroy Alexeieff; General Liapanoff, governor of Sakhalin island, in the north Pacific, and General Tserpiysky. General von Sesonkampf has been appointed to command the transbaikal cavalry, which was reported as going out under Prince Louis Napoleon.

The various societies throughout Russia interested in the Red Cross movement are showing remarkable activity, and, judging from the preparations which are being made for the sick and wounded, the war is destined to be a long and bloody one.

Voluntary contributions to replace the ships already destroyed by the enemy are already assuming large proportions, one man having given the sum of $20,000. It was through a similar movement that the present volunteer fleet was started after the Russo-Turkish war.

The report of a massacre of Jews near Kiev is denied by the minister of the interior, and it can be positively stated on good authority that the affair was confined to the infliction of slight injury upon three Jews. Last Monday while a crowd was indulging in a patriotic demonstration at Kiev some Hebrews began shouting, "Down with the czar!" and the crowd promptly punished the culprits, who were rescued from a worse fate by the timely arrival of the police.

A dispatch has been received from Major General Pflug, chief of staff to Viceroy Alexeieff, saying that Yuan Shi Kai, commander in chief of the Chinese army and navy, has ordered 2,500 men to Tsinchou to maintain order. The Japanese are forming bands of chunchus (bandits) to attack the railroad. Russian scouts did not find the enemy within a distance of thirty-four miles from the Yalu river.

The Japanese government, responding through United States Minister Griscom to Secretary Hay's note, has agreed to the neutralization of China, excluding Manchuria, which Russia is now occupying.

Japan reserves the right to counterbalance any action of Russia in violating China's neutrality.

The emperor, the supreme council of war, the privy council and a majority of the cabinet will probably depart on Feb. 20 for Kyoto, where it is planned temporarily to establish imperial headquarters. The date, however, has not yet been definitely decided upon. Later, it is expected, the emperor and councilors will go to Hiroshima, where the emperor will personally watch the embarkation of the troops.

A Tokyo dispatch says: "On the 13th of February a detachment of torpedo boat destroyers proceeded, braving the fierce north storm, toward Port Arthur. At 3 o'clock the next morning the Asagiri, a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer, amid a shower of shells from the enemy's fort and ships, torpedoed a Russian man-of-war and, further firing on the enemy's guard boat, safely returned to its headquarters. The Hayatori, another Japanese torpedo boat destroyer, at 5 o'clock of the same morning approached to the mouth of the port, where she found two of the enemy's men-of-war and, in defiance of their firing, immediately torpedoed one of them with effective explosion and safely withdrew."

The Russian volunteer fleet steamer Kherson was struck by a twelve inch shell in her upper works. A slight fire broke out, which was quickly extinguished.

Americans to Assist Russia.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Russian embassy is being flooded with offers of assistance from Americans in various walks of life. Letters from twelve physicians arrived. The Russian ambassador has been obliged to abandon his original intention to answer each of these offers with a personal letter, but a cordial letter of thanks is sent by the embassy to each writer. The offers are declined, as Russia does not stand in need of medical or military aid.

REVOLT IN DIAKOVA.

Sixteen Thousand Albanians Oppose Reform Plans.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 18.—Sixteen thousand Albanians are in revolt in the district of Diakova against the reform plans of the powers for Macedonia and obnoxious taxes. In conflicts which have taken place between Albanians and Ottoman troops the latter were worsted. Large re-enforcements have been dispatched to Diakova. The Albanians attacked the town of Diakova and plundered and burned a number of houses. Turkish forces subsequently attacked the insurgents' main position at Babajhosi, but were repulsed, with heavy loss.

Feverish activity continues among the Turkish authorities on the Bulgarian frontier in accumulating stores and repairing roads for the expected massing of troops.

Diakova (also spelled Jakova) is in the province of Ipek. The town of Diakova is situated eighteen miles northwest of Prizren. The population numbers 25,000 souls, and 80 per cent of the population consists of Albanians.

Baltimore Insurance Failures.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18.—Application was made for the appointment of a receiver for the Old Town Fire Insurance company of Baltimore. The bill of complaint alleges that the company is insolvent and unable to pay the claims against it by reason of the fire. The company is said to have assets of $124,970 and liabilities of $254,970. Receiver Richard B. Post of the Peabody Fire Insurance company of Baltimore announced that the company will pay policy holders in the burned district 40 cents on the dollar. The policies of this company not affected by the fire have been taken over by an out of town company.

G. W. Carey Debarred From Practice.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 18.—By a decision of Judge W. T. Elmer of the superior court Attorney G. W. Carey of Stratford is debarred from the practice of law. Attorney Carey was accused by the grievance committee of the Fairfield county bar of embezzling from an estate and also filing false inventories in the probate court. He did not defend the charges.

Bohemian Killed at West Warren.

WEST WARREN, Mass., Feb. 18.—Sczepan Kut, a native of Bohemia, employed in the freight yards of the Boston and Albany division by the Thorndike company handling freight, was struck and instantly killed by the governor's train while at work. He was thirty-three years old and leaves a widow and several children in Bohemia.

Lawyer Guilty of Misconduct.

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—Harry W. Mason, a well known member of the Suffolk county bar and a resident of Newton, was debarred by Judge Fessenden in the superior court. Mason had been found guilty of misconduct, chiefly in converting to his own use money and property belonging to his clients.

Measles on the Maine.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 18, 1904.

If you should happen to want an article that has gone out of fashion, the best place to look for it is in the store of the man who never advertises. —Exchange.

John G. Rockefeller has given himself a dividend of $16 per share on Standard Oil stock for the first quarter of the year. Bet Dr. Harper had a fainting spell when he heard the news.

The Trenton State-Gazette says that "James Smith, Jr., would like to see Grover Cleveland Governor of New Jersey, but he never will." It fails to state however, that the principal reason why James Smith's wish will not be granted is that Grover Cleveland is altogether too great a man to accept a governorship after twice filling the highest office in the gift of the whole people of the United States.

Fairness demands that the citizens of this city should suspend judgment on the Common Council until that body takes final action on the applications for the three new licenses which have been made. It is but reasonable to suppose that the members of that body will be prompted by a desire to carry out the wishes of the community at large in disposing of the petitions of additional liquor licenses. The members of the Common Council know full well that the matter before them is of far more moment than the mere addition of a few licensed places. The real question to be decided is whether it is for the best interests of the people of this municipality for more liquor establishments to be started here from year to year. In deciding the matter, it is not proper to draw comparisons between this and other cities. Plainfield is a peculiar place in this respect. When we use the word peculiar we mean to point out that the tone of the community and the class of its citizens is far above that of the average city in the State. It is no idle boast to say that the city is a model one and its present high position among its sister municipalities has been brought about by the excellent government it has enjoyed for many years. If the number of licensed saloons and hotels are to be increased from time to time a marked departure in the policy of the local government is to be made. And we think that it will be harmful in effect. In a residential section of the West End a hotel has been erected at a large expense and the conditions there are such that no one could be made to believe at this time that the venture would be a success unless a license is granted. It has been heralded broadcast that a promise of some sort has been made that the ostensible owner shall have a license. The opposition to the scheme is growing stronger day by day and we believe that before the Common Council meets to take action on the petition the license committee will be convinced that it would be unwise to recommend the granting of the petition filed. It is openly asserted, however, that the dominent party's regular organization in the Fourth ward sanctions the granting of the petition. One reason given is that it will put an end to alleged speak easies in that section. The argument is a poor one on its face. If the desire is only to abate a present nuisance in this respect, the organization can find all necessary relief by acquainting the police department with evidence against the alleged speak-easies and arrests will surely follow. In the vicinity where the hotel is located there are several large manufactring plants and while the mechanics in this city are a fine body of men, law-abiding and thrifty, yet at the same time it would be most unwise to place a drinking establishment near to their places of employment. There appears to be little reason for the granting of the license in question. At another time we shall have something to say about the other two applications for new licenses.

Many complaints are heard from the patrons of the trolley company, on account of the cold cars during the extreme weather of several days past. The cars have been worse than ice boxes. EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Feb. 21: "Using the Sabbath."—Mark i, 21-34.

The sentiment with which the Sabbath is regarded depends largely upon early training and association. One who in the quiet of country or village life was early taught to avoid all unnecessary labor and noise, to attend church and spend the rest of the day in reading or some neighborly calling on sick and needy ones will never become completely accustomed to the noise and activity of the metropolitan centers, where many things go on as during all other days.

Though the rigid rules of the Jewish Pharisees and of the sterner type of New England Puritans of former days may not be desirable at the present time, the utter laxity so widely prevalent is much worse than that.

It is not good for body or mind or soul to work without intermission. It has been repeatedly demonstrated that even machines must have their periods of rest or deteriorate. One day in seven for physical rest has been found by ages of trial of all possible schemes to be the best interval. How this was first found out we cannot tell with certainty. Among the ancient Babylonians it was surely common. The Hebrews early placed the seventh day rest in their laws, and in later ages it has prevailed among Christians everywhere.

The most needful use of the rest time is for the soul life rather than for the body. It is this fact which makes Sabbath recreations and excursions most harmful. They are usually indulged in under the plea of hard work during the week time and the need of a change on the Sunday. The usual result of such efforts is greater fatigue on Monday and less of fitness for work than usual. The unusual exertion and excitement of excursions and visiting and such like diversions tax the body and mind excessively and often require several days to restore the balance. The efforts are exhausting instead of restful. The effect on the moral nature is still worse. The spirit of reverence is violated; sober thinking on spiritual concerns is dissipated; the spirit of frivolity and worldliness, if not something worse, is invited.

The example of Jesus must ever stand before us as authoritative. He had no sympathy with overrigid observance of the day and no allowance for sanctimonious fanaticism, but His custom was to take part in the synagogue worship, to meet those who were interested in seeking spiritual advancement and to help the poor and sick. What a Sabbath was that described in the Scripture lesson for this week! It will well repay close study.

We need to meet God's people. We need the solemn influence of the sanctuary worship. There is restfulness to body and soul in the hymns, the prayers, the meditation. New insight into God's trust and will for us, broader views and more hopeful outlook come to us in the sermon and Bible reading. Companionship and interest in welfare of others are stimulated by meeting with the people in worship. Our part in the work of church and community and world comes home more forcibly, and higher resolves are formed. God truly meets us, and a holy spirit helps us more sensibly than at other times and places.

The day should have some quiet intervals for meditation alone, for private prayer and heart examination.

If well used, the Sabbath becomes a delight and blesses all the other six.

The Victory of Faith.

When we reach heaven we may discover that the richest and deepest and most profitable experiences we had in this world were those which were gained in the very roads from which we shrank back with dread. The bitter cups we tried to push away contained the medicines we most needed. The hardest lessons that we learned are those which teach us the most and best fit us for service here and glory hereafter. It is the easiest thing in the world to obey God when he commands us to do what we like and to trust Him when the path is all sunshine. The real victory of faith is to trust God in the dark and through the dark. Let us be assured of this, that if the lesson and the rod are of His appointing and that His all wise love has engineered the deep tunnels of trial on the heavenward road He will never desert us during the discipline. The vital thing for us is not to deny and desert Him.—Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D.

Zeal According to Conviction.

There is great power in enthusiasm. Not one of the disciples who had been in intimate daily companionship with the Master, seen His miracles, heard His wonderful teachings, observed the crystal purity of His life, surpassed Paul in zeal for the gospel. With his mind at rest concerning the truth of the gospel and with the great powers of his logical and cultured intellect employed in persuading men to be reconciled to God through Christ, Paul's zeal made him well nigh irresistible. It was not a zeal without knowledge, but a zeal according to intense and settled convictions.—Independent.

Strength by Trial.

The purest lives I have known have not been those carefully screened from the world, but which, coming up in it, have kept themselves unspotted. The sweetest and truest have grown and ripened under conditions, you would say, most hostile, but which have been wrought into the means of a grandly elevated faith and life.—J. F. W. Ware.

The Christian Life.

Put your whole soul into the Christian life. No one ever was guilty of backsliding who was pressing with all his might toward Jesus.—Philadelphia Methodist.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 28—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Heroism and other lessons from China.—Acts xiv, 19-23.

There is no Christian mission field that has not its stories of self denial and heroism to tell. These characteristics are seen in the apostle Paul upon his first great missionary journey, as illustrated in the passage before us. Paul is at Lystra and has been received with favor for his work's sake. But enemies come from Antioch and Iconium. The people are stirred up against the apostle. They stone him and carry him out of the city, supposing him to be dead. But he was not so, and as the disciples stood about him he arose, went back into the city and thence to Derbe, continuing to preach the gospel. Is not this heroism? And yet it is but the story that may be told of every missionary field.

Turn from Asia Minor to China and to modern missions, and you will find this assuredly true. I have on the wall of my study a picture containing the portraits of five comparatively young people, two ladies and three men. I look at them now. Their faces are handsome, intelligent and cheerful in appearance. Their every expression shows culture and refinement. Beneath this little group I read these words: "Martyred Missionaries of Pantingfu, China, June 30, 1900."

June 30, 1900! Over 1,800 years since Paul was supposedly martyred at Lystra, yet still the work of martyrdom goes on in leading the world to Christ, and without going further this group of martyrs may teach us "heroism and other lessons from China." The names of these missionaries are Rev. F. E. Simcox and wife, Dr. C. V. Hodge and wife and Dr. George Y. Taylor.

1. Missions in China teach heroism, and nowhere is this better illustrated than in our group of martyrs. They knew of the Boxer movement and of their danger, yet they heroically stood at their post of duty. When their mission house was attacked Mr. Simcox had firearms, with which he might have caused great destruction among his persecutors, but he threw them down, refusing to use them. The house was set on fire, and there they stood, these five heroes and their children, and died as heroically as any martyrs ever died for Christ. The last seen of them was Mr. Simcox holding the hand of his little child as the flames leaped all about them. Such examples should spur us all to Christian heroism. We should dare to do our duty no matter what may be the difficulties or dangers that surround us.

Where duty calls or danger,
Be never wanting there.

2. Missions in China teach lessons of sacrifice and self denial. These young people were all from Pennsylvania. Dr. and Mrs. Hodge were Philadelphians and members of two honored Philadelphia families. They all left homes of comfort—yea, even of luxury—to go to China to preach the gospel and heal the sick for Christ's sake. None but those who go knows what it costs to leave home and country and to go to a foreign mission field, where you are cut off from all familiar associations except with the little band of people at the mission station. We speak of our self denial for Christ, but what is it in comparison to the sacrifices of those who leave all for Him and risk all for Him? Let us think of the Hodges and Simcoxes occasionally and ask ourselves, What have we done for Christ in comparison to those who have died for Him in distant lands with no human eye to pity and no human hand to save?

3. Missions in China teach lessons of loyalty. This is beautifully illustrated in our little group of martyrs. Dr. Taylor was absent from the mission house at Pantingfu when the danger became most imminent. He had gone away on a business trip, but had promised to return. But before returning he heard of the danger that threatened his friends. Other friends pleaded with him not to return, but he listened not to their entreaties, but went back to keep his promise and to face life or death with his associates, as the case might be. What a story of loving loyalty and how it should teach us to be loyal to our friends, and especially to our greatest friend, the Master Himself!

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. lxxii, 8, 17-19; Isa. vi, 1-8; xxxv, 1-10; Matt. x, 16-33; Luke x, 1-12; xxiv, 45-48; Acts i, 1-11; xv, 26; Rom. x, 14, 15; II Cor. xi, 18-33.

He's My Brother.

A gentleman once met a little girl carrying in her arms a sturdy little baby brother and inquired if the burden was not somewhat heavy. "Why, he's my brother; he's not heavy," was the simple but beautiful reply. How love lightens burdens, and how much easier all life is when lived in the spirit of love.

Pennsylvania State Song.

[Tune—"Trust and Obey."]

Pennsylvania for God!
By the help of the Lord
We will reach every village and home,
For the Master says, "Go!"
And His love fills us so
That we gladly will herald His "Come!"

CHORUS.

Come to the Lord!
Oh, believe in His word,
And the Saviour will cleanse you
From all sin by His blood.

To the rich and the poor
Christ has opened the door,
And He sends us to tell them the way
With a heart full of joy
Tell each girl and each boy
That the Saviour will save them today.

Then, with Christ in the lead,
To His voice giving heed,
We will fight till we conquer the foe.
So we'll all lend a hand,
And together we'll stand
True to "Christ and the Church" here below.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, OR LOWEST PRICES and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FRESH AIR.

It Has a Value Which Some Women Do Not Seem to Recognize.

"Fresh air is one of the greatest discoveries of modern times." As the doctor made this remark he smiled whimsically.

"But people always had fresh air!" cried the little woman, who took things literally.

"Yes, but they didn't use it. In the middle ages windows and doors were shut and remained shut for indeterminate periods, just as the floors were only swept on state occasions and baths were a luxury. Nowadays there are plenty of people living in as unventilated a way as if they were back in the middle ages. Stuffy offices, heavily draped windows, unaired, overheated bedrooms—these are the things which bring wrinkles to a woman's face before she has passed her first youth and make a man's skin flabby and yellow and destroy his appetite and thereby his constitution, paving the way for consumption. And then what happens? It is a call back to nature. He is not put into a warm bed in a warm room and fed medicines. He is sent up in the frozen north to sleep, eat and fairly live out of doors, with the thermometer at 30 degrees below zero and deep snow on the ground. Protected by a fur coat and heavy mittens, he breathes in the pure life giving air that he starved for so long and gradually becomes a well man.

"There are plenty of women who cannot be made to realize what fresh air will do for them. They pay for beauty tonics and face massage when all they need is more pure, bracing atmosphere. You, for instance, my dear madam, have complained of headache and lack of energy in the morning. How do you sleep? With your window shut? It's cold? Nonsense! Keep the heat on, put on more clothes, but never think of going to sleep without fresh air and plenty of it. Sleep with your window open, both at the top and at the bottom, so that the air is constantly changing. Make it a practice to take a walk every day, no matter how cold it is, unless it is raining. Never allow your rooms to become overheated, and several times during the day open the windows and air them out." HELEN BENTLEY.

An Arrangement Which May Be Carried Out In Town or Country.

Nowadays, when there is so much talk of the benefits to be derived from sun baths, a sun parlor is an excellent place for the members of the family to gather for their fancy work, reading, etc.

house a corner of the piazza can be partitioned off with glass. The cut shows this arrangement.

The sides are of glass arranged in small panes, and there are remov[illegible] shades of bamboo matting reaching to a shelf extending all around the room, upon which plants are placed. A bamboo divan with cotton pillows occupies one corner, and wicker lounges, chairs and tables add to the comfort. The portieres are of Japanese material. The rugs are of jute, pretty, but inexpensive. The ceiling is done in a Japanese pattern representing a big sprawly yellow sun on a rich blue ground. H. DE LA BAUME.

GENUINE SORROW FELT AT CLEVELAND

A Representative Gathering Will Take Place Tomorrow at the Bier In the City That Claims the Honored Dead as a Son.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 18.—The special train bearing the body of Senator Hanna and the funeral party has arrived here.

The train consisted of one baggage car, a dining car, two Pullman sleepers, a private car and an observation car. The observation car was cleared of all of its observation seats, and in this space the casket was placed. Around it were banked the many floral offerings, and nearly every seat remaining in the car held one or more of these perfumed burdens. The car carrying the remains was the first in the train.

The funeral party was composed of the following: Mrs. M. A. Hanna, Mr. H. M. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. J. Medill McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dover, Miss Mary E. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Baldwin, Governor Myron T. Herrick, Bishop Leonard, Andrew Squire, General and Mrs. Charles Dick, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fisher, Dr. E. P. Carter, J. H. Dempsey, Miss Morton (nurse), Frank V. Bennett, John Kisley and several servants.

Before she left Washington President Roosevelt called on Mrs. Hanna to pay his respects and to offer his condolences. He remained in the family apartments at the Arlington for nearly an hour conversing with Mrs. Hanna and other members of the family. While there he was shown the casts of the death mask made of Senator Hanna by U. S. J. Dunbar, the sculptor. He agreed with the members of the Hanna family that the likeness was notably fine.

The funeral services over the remains of the late senator in the senate chamber at Washington, the scene of his most recent activities and of his entire official life, was imposing and quite in harmony with the public estimate of the great man's service to his country and the world. The ceremony was dignified and simple, in consonance with his character. The senate chamber lent itself naturally to the occasion. It was practically barren of decoration, and the dark furniture, heavy walls and subdued light were quite in keeping with the sorrowful proceedings which were the occasion of the gathering.

Seldom has a more distinguished body of people been collected in Washington. The floor of the chamber was filled with the representatives of the official life of the national capital, the galleries with people from all the higher walks of society.

In the front rank of the eminent assemblage gathered immediately about the bier of the departed statesman sat the president. He was flanked by the members of his cabinet, all of whom had been closely affiliated with Senator Hanna by ties of friendship and political association. Near by were the chief justice and the associate justices of the supreme court of the United States, garbed in their black robes of office, which fitted well into the scene of sorrow. There were scarcely any absentees from among the members of the senate. Each and all of them were visibly affected, and it was not difficult to detect in their sorrowful countenances the sense of personal loss which all felt in Mr. Hanna's death. The desk of their late colleague was heavily draped.

The religious ceremony was fittingly placed in the hands of Dr. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the senate, giving it an official character while preserving its solemnity and insuring its simple dignity.

After the prayer by Dr. Hale the Gridiron quartet, stationed in the press gallery, sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." This was the last tribute of an organization with which Senator Hanna had been a great favorite and was a tender and delicate farewell from those who had known and loved him.

The hymn concluded, President Pro Tem. Frye addressed the assembly, saying:

"We commit the body of our beloved senator now to the two committees of the houses of congress and to the officers of the senate to be conveyed to his late home in Ohio and to its final resting place. May God sanctify his life and death to us who loved him well."

Besides Senator Foraker, at the funeral services there will be the three secretaries of the president's cabinet, Messrs. Taft, Wilson and Cortelyou, the delegation from the senate and the house of representatives. There will also be in attendance the entire Ohio state legislature, consisting of about 160 men, who will come from Columbus on a special train. Governor Herrick and staff and ex-Governor Nash and ten friends will also attend. So far as known, Governor Durbin of Indiana is the only state executive outside of Ohio coming to the funeral. Governor Durbin will be accompanied by his staff. Among others who have sent telegrams of their intention to come are:

George B. Cox and a party of ten from Cincinnati, M. W. Hissey and a party of six from Zanesville, John R. Malloy of Columbus, N. B. Billingsley of Lisbon, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Spitzer, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pomeroy of Toledo, J. H. Prince of Boston, F. L. Bayard and Hon. N. H. Swayne of Toledo and Harry S. New of Indianapolis.

All public and parochial schools will close tomorrow, and no theatrical performance will be given at the Euclid Avenue Opera House tonight. Senator Hanna owned that theater, and Manager Hartz pays this tribute of respect to his memory.

Hanna pictures are in every store window in the city, surrounded either by simple mourning draperies, an American flag or some handsome and appropriate floral design.

LAND FRAUDS' OUTCOME.

Indictments For Conspiracy Found Against Prominent Western Men.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—As a result of the investigation of alleged wholesale public land frauds in many western states the grand jury of the District of Columbia reported a joint indictment for conspiracy against John A. Benson, a wealthy real estate operator of San Francisco; Frederick A. Hyde of San Francisco, closely identified with Benson in land affairs; Harry C. Dimond of California, an attorney representing Benson and Hyde, and Joost H. Schneider of Tucson, Ariz., an agent of Benson and Hyde. Schneider has been arrested. Secret Service Agent William J. Burns has been quietly investigating alleged public land frauds in a number of western states. Schneider was taken before Justice Barnard, and the latter fixed his bail at $20,000. Attorneys Cole and Donaldson, representing the defendants, asked that bail be fixed at $5,000, while the government insisted on a $25,000 bond. Schneider has been a witness before the grand jury in the cases against the other defendants. Benson already has been indicted here on a charge of bribery and is now believed to be in New York, while Hyde is thought to be in San Francisco.

The indictment is a voluminous document and sets forth a number of transactions by which land is alleged to have been fraudulently acquired from the government in California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada and elsewhere. Most of these transactions are alleged to have occurred under the lieu land law.

It is charged that all of the indicted parties in this city conspired with other parties to the grand jury unknown to defraud the United States out of the possession of and title to numerous large tracts of public lands of the United States open and for the selection in lieu of lands included or to be included within forest reserves in various states, the conspiracy being carried out by means of "false and fraudulent practices."

The scheme outlined in the indictment and alleged to have been practiced in these transactions was to obtain school or other lands by applications, assignments and purchases in the names of fictitious persons or of persons not really desiring or qualified to purchase them. Hyde and Benson paying them small sums for the lands.

The indictment charges that there were false representations in all these transactions and that the applications supported by the indicted parties were forged, false and fraudulent. In pursuance of this alleged conspiracy thus carried through by dummy applicants certain unsurveyed tracts in the Olympia (Wash.) land district, containing 3,400 acres, selected in the name of C. W. Clarke, Frederick A. Hyde and John A. Benson, were obtained and other lands specifically cited were secured, including large tracts in the Visalia and Vancouver land districts in Washington, in the Woodward land district in Oklahoma, the Cascade range forest reserve country in Oregon, the San Francisco land district and the Carson City (Nev.) land district. The arrest of the other parties indicted is expected very soon.

BE READY FOR WAR

Secretary Moody Advocates Large American Navy.

COMMAND OF THE SEA MEANS SUCCESS

"This Is a Great Country and Can Afford a Great Navy, and the World Must Know That at All Times We Are Ready."

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—Secretary of the Navy William M. Moody, speaking at the annual dinner of the New England Rubber club at the Hotel Somerset, strongly advocated a large navy and in the course of an earnest speech declared that if the United States desired to maintain peace it must be known that at all times it was ready for war.

Secretary Moody was the chief guest at the banquet, at which the other speakers were Governor John L. Bates and Congressman David A. De Armond of Missouri. President L. De Wart Apsley presided.

Secretary Moody was cordially received as he arose to speak. He declared that there was never a time when the importance of power upon the sea was more manifest than it was today. He referred to the Russo-Japanese war and pointed out that, although one of the nations was superior in many ways to the other, yet the weaker nation by her success on sea had rendered every part of her territory secure from invasion. He said in part:

"The United States is weaker than the other powers so far as submarine and surface torpedo boats and other boats under 1,000 tons displacement are concerned, but still is fifth in relative naval strength and has under construction a greater amount of tonnage in ships than any other country except Great Britain and almost as much as that country. This is a great country and can afford a great navy, and the world must know that we are at all times ready for war.

"We are at peace with all countries. We wish to continue and will continue in that happy relation if honest diplomacy and just regards for the rights of every nation will maintain peace, but we must provide a navy so as to provide for war. If we are strong enough to enforce the Monroe doctrine, we shall never have to do it. Let us, then, be backed with God and with the sea which he hath given us for defense. In them and ourselves our safety lies.

"To bring about sea strength I believe national honesty at home is most important. We must fight public dishonesty as if it were a loathsome disease. If money that is appropriated to the building of ships is directed to improper uses, then the United States ships will be as if they were painted coffins."

In closing Mr. Moody referred in a complimentary way to the personnel of the navy.

Carnival Results In Bloodshed.

ROME, Feb. 18.—The carnival festivities have resulted in disorder and bloodshed in southern Italy and Sicily. Troops and police were obliged to intervene, and a score or more persons have been wounded. Many arrests have also been made. At Trani a number of socialists in masquerade costumes started the trouble by insulting state institutions, and in the fighting which followed several officers and soldiers were wounded. The police then stepped in, and as a result the jail at Trani is now full. At Piazza Armerina, in Sicily, the masquerading brought about a conflict between the members of two local political parties, and an attack was made on the city hall. The disorder became so great that troops were called out and fired on the people to disperse them. Fourteen of the rioters were wounded.

Large Part of Seaside, N. J., Burned.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Feb. 18.—A large part of Seaside, a fishing settlement near this place, has been burned. About fifty frame buildings were destroyed. The fire started in a boarding house occupied by men employed in the fish pounds and swept along the beach. Among the buildings wiped out were many fishermen's huts. The entire population fought the fire, and this town, Atlantic Highlands and Long Branch sent help. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

To Prevent Floods.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Secretary Taft has sent to congress an estimate amounting to about $10,000,000 submitted by an engineer board for the improvement of the Kaw river at Kansas City so as to remove the possibility of disastrous floods. The army engineers here feel that about twice that sum will be necessary to effect the improvement, but the estimate is transmitted without change in order that congress itself may determine which is right.

Chinese Labor Bill In Commons.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—After a long discussion in the house of commons the amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne moved by Herbert L. Samuel, Liberal, which was against the admission of Chinese laborers to South Africa, was defeated by the comparatively small majority of 51.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN EPISCOPAL AND ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

Lent, the season on the religious calendar when the faithful churchman forbears worldly pleasures for things spiritual, has arrived and for forty days special services will be held daily in the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches. Egan, the pastor, officiated at mass and last night preached upon the subject of "Lent" and officiated at the rite of the distribution of the ashes which were blessed at the early morning mass. Similar services were held in St. Joseph's R. C. church in the borough by Rev. William H. Miller. At all these services the attendance was large. At St. Mary's church devotions will be held each Tuesday, Friday and Sunday evenings during Lent.

Services in the Grace Episcopal church appropriate to Ash Wednesday were held last night at 8 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Judge, rector of St. Matthew's church, New York, who was to have delivered the sermon, did not arrive.

WILLIAM G. BESLER SPEAKS ON RAILROADING

Vice President of the Central System Tells of the Practical Operation of a Road.

DEVELOPMENT OF MEN

EMPLOYES OF CENTRAL HAVE IMPROVED MORALLY HE SAYS.

Requirements for Promotions — Drunkenness a Cause for Immediate Dismissal—Duties of the General Manager.

A largely attended meeting of the men's club of the First Presyterian church last night was addressed by W. G. Besler, of North Plainfield, vice president and general manager of the Central Railroad.

Mr. Besler began by illustrating the purpose of a railroad which is to furnish transportation for persons and things. He mentioned some of the things expected and required of employes. He spoke of the general moral improvement which had taken place among the employes of the Central in recent years. This he attributed in part to better schools and Y. M. C. A. work, but more largely to the men themselves.

All applicants for positions on the road, it was explained, must be sound in morals, mind and body. All employes are regarded in the line of promotion according to their ability and merit, men older in service being preferred, with other things equal.

There are certain offenses, said Mr. Besler, for which the penalty is sure and immediate dismissal and most prominent among them is drunkenness. No excuse for intoxication is accepted and the guilty employe is instantly discharged.

The manifold and varied duties of a manager of a railroad were described. It was said that the manager who undertakes to do everything himself makes a stupendous failure. As to applicants for positions in his office, the manager has usually to advise candidates to seek technical and practical knowledge of some sort in some one of the many branches of railroad work.

Mr. Besler sketched the development of the railroad historically. He said that of 231,774 miles of tracks in the United States, Canada and Mexico, 215,734 or 93 per cent. are operated in the United States. He explained the adoption of a standard time at the general time convention in 1883, the number of standards being reduced from fifty-three to four. He discussed the American Railroad Association and the International Railroad Congress which will convene in Washington, D. C., in May, 1905.

General passenger traffic, the speaker said, is extremely unprofitable. There are only two railroads in the country which claim a profit from passenger traffic, and the probability in these cases is that the profit may be explained by the peculiar system of bookkeeping in vogue. The many items of expense, care of cars, stations, baggage, etc., were mentioned in illustration, besides actual running expenses of the trains. Each car costs $12 to $15 for every 1000 miles it travels.

Mr. Besler referred to the automatic block signal system and said that the system of the Central Railroad is considered among the best if not the foremost in the country. He described some of his own experiences in meeting railroad emergencies including train robberies.

At the conclusion of Mr. Besler's talk, refreshments were served. A musical programme included vocal solos by William Jeffery and R. Wilson Derby.

S. M. Craft's Funeral.

The funeral services of the late Samuel M. Craft were held from the home in Rockview avenue, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, there being present a large number of relatives and friends. Rev. W. Montgomery Downey, of the Church of the Holy Cross, conducted a short service. The interment will take place today at Woodlawn Cemetery, New York.

Handball Tournament.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. are practicing steadily for the annual handball tournament which is scheduled to start somewhere about Saturday, February 27. The athletic meet for the members of the boy's department will take place in about two weeks and the senior gymnastic championships will close the indoor season.

The book "The Catholic Church in New Jersey," by Very Rev. Joseph M. Flynn, rector of the Church of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Morristown, has just come from the press. The work is one that has been awaited with anticipation, and a very general interest will be taken in it.

The sizable volume contains nearly 700 pages, and is fully illustrated. The binding is in blue and gold. In the upper left hand corner of the front cover is the seal of Archbishop Bayley, and in the other corners are the seals of Archbishop Corrigan, Bishop Wigger and Bishop O'Connor, the seal of Seton Hall having a position a little below the cover's centre. The seal of the State of New Jersey is impressed on the reverse cover.

The opening pages are devoted to "The Colonial Period," this part of the historical review being followed by sections on "The Revolutionary Period," and "The Formative Period."

Then come sketches of the individual parishes and of eminent churchmen, with accounts interspersed of events of importance to the Catholics of the State. A valuable feature of the work is the list, printed in the appendix, of names of "secular priests who have labored in the diocese of Newark, some of whom were not incardinated, from its foundation to the present." In the appendix, is given, also, the portion relating to New Jersey of the baptismal records of Rev. Ferdinand Farmer. The work is completely indexed. The book is published at Morristown.

TOLD OF WORK IN THE WEST

FORMER MISSIONARY MADE ADDRESS BEFORE CONGREGATIONAL ASSN.

A missionary tea held under the auspices of the Women's Home Missionary Association of the Congregational church, yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. William B. Wadsworth, of 452 West Eighth street, attracted a large number of members and friends of the organization.

After the transaction of a little routine business, including the presentation of the monthly reports of the secretary and treasurer, Rev. Mr. Baird, of New York, a returned missionary from North Dakota, was introduced, and for over an hour he held the closest attention of his audience.

The minister told of the encouraging and discouraging features of the work in the far west, yet with it all he said that the task is progressing most satisfactorily and converts are being received into the church steadily. He praised the Congregational church for the work done in the home mission fields, declaring that it was the pioneer denomination in this work in the United States. Incidently he related many interesting incidents in connection with the work of the missionaries. The speaker was a missionary in North Dakota for many years, but now holds a clerical position for the denomination in New York.

After the address tea was served and a social hour enjoyed. Miss Kirkner and Miss Louise Jenkins poured in the dining room, and they were assisted by Miss Wadsworth and Miss Ethel McIntosh.

A feature of the programme was two soprano solos by Miss Etta Raybert.

VAN STRUCK BRIDGE.

John Winzenreid Sustains a Loss by the Accident.

In driving under the Clinton avenue bridge Wednesday morning, the top of a van driven and owned by John Winzenreid hit the structure and was badly damaged. The harness was broken. Mr. Winzenreid, it is said, is contemplating starting a suit for damages against the city authorities, who, he claims, are obliged by law to make the bridges in the city twelve feet from the ground. This law he claims, in the case of the Clinton avenue bridge was not complied with.

Missionary to Return.

Miss Minnie Carpenter, who has been a missionary in Japan for a number of years, is about to return on account of ill health, to her home in New Market.

—Evaporated fruits should be selected with great care. Neuman Brothers do the selecting, that is why their stock is the best. Everybody who wants to get the best in the grocery line trades at Neuman's.

Of the committee in charge of this William Newcorn, of this city, is chairman.

On Thursday evening the delegates will be tendered a banquet at the Hotel Sterling, Trenton.

AUCTION PARTY AT CLUB

SOCIETY FOLK HAD A JOLLY TIME LAST NIGHT.

Society folk of Washington Park last night bought and sold articles at auction. They bought "cats in a bag" as it were, because what they purchased they did not know until after they had opened the packages. It was a successful affair as is shown by the proceeds which amounted to $32, which will be devoted to the furnishing fund of the club.

Charles Lyman was auctioneer. He described the outside of each package with great care but was careful to give no clew as to what was wrapped up within. Each article was supposed to be worth at least twenty-five cents and when they were put up at auction some brought much larger prices. The affair was in charge of the entertainment committee of the club, of which Mrs. Charles A. Reed is chairman.

City Engineer H. C. VanEmburgh is wearing the-smile-that-won't-come-off today and his friends are slapping him on the back. You see it is all because there's a bright little girl down at his home on Richmond street. She tips the scales at nine and a half pounds, but her papa says she's worth her weight in gold.

LATEST WAR DISPATCHES

A report has reached London from several sources in the Far East that another attack has been made by the Japanese on Port Arthur. The cable was cut by the Japanese yesterday and it is now presumed that that was the first act of the most recent attack. From Tientsin comes a despatch that the crippled remnant of the Russian squadron tried to get out of the harbor of Port Arthur and that the Japanese fleet drove it back, inflicting more damage. The same message says that the forts at the entrance to Port Arthur were also considerably damaged. Lawlessness among the Russin troops from Port Arthur, through Manchuria to Harbin, is on the increase.

ELECTRICITY TO THAW CONGEALED WATER PIPES

Successful Experiments Made by the Plainfield Water Supply Company.

WORK IS QUICKLY DONE

THE PLUMBERS INTERESTED IN THE TESTS WITH ELECTRICITY.

The Method—Takes Less Than Ten Minutes—Two Electric Light Wires Are Used to Do the Work.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company being more or less troubled with service pipes freezing, made several experiments yesterday and in case the congealed pipes were opened within a few minutes. Electricity was employed to do the work. The success of it seems assured.

In the work two electric light wires are used, being attached to the street lighting current. One wire is run to a ground and the other wire is taken into a house or wherever the trouble is the pipe is found, and fastened to the pipe. When the current is applied Jack Frost relinquishes his hold and water runs freely. In several cases yesterday pipes were opened in less than ten minutes and in one case it required only six minutes. It is proposed to continue the work until all trouble is removed. More than ordinary interest was manifested in yesterday's experiments by several plumbers, who have had their own troubles lately in thawing out frozen pipes.

Several bon fires lit up the streets of the city and borough last night in an effort to thaw out frozen water pipes and electric light conduits. These were kept going all night, in many cases the citizens keeping a close watch on the blaze to keep it from dying out. One series of bon fires was maintained at the corner of Watchung and North avenues, and another in front of the home of Samuel Boss, on Craig place corner of Duer street. Several others were kept going on the outskirts of the town. The frost is said to have gone into the ground as much as four feet.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

COLORED MAN'S CLOTHING IGNITED FROM BLAZE IN BED CLOTHES.

A lighted pipe or cigar but was the probable cause of a $40 fire in a tenement house at 209 Plainfield avenue shortly after midnight last night. The pipe started the bed clothes blazing in a first floor room occupied by Manning Fields, colored, who narrowly escaped being a victim of his own carelessness with his tobacco. Fields' clothes, which he had not removed on going to bed, caught fire, and the flames were extinguished only after Fields had been pulled out of doors and heroic measures applied by George Feiring.

Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, of the First M. E. church of this city, will make an address before the Literary Circle of Dunellen, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Hammon, next Tuesday evening. Dr. Snodgrass's subject will be "England."

DISAGREEMENT OF JURY IN THE CRUDUP CASE

Colored Pastor Will be Tried Again on Charges Preferred by Member of Congregation.

CHARGE A SERIOUS ONE

JURY STOOD ELEVEN FOR CONVICTION AND ONE FOR ACQUITTAL.

Letter Signed by Woman Figured in Case—Attempt to Prove An Alibi—Claim of Duress Made—Jury Out All Night.

The jury in the trial of Rev. Essex J. Crudup, pastor of the Filmore Avenue Baptist church, who was charged with immoral conduct with Regetta E. Randolph on April 7 last, has disagreed. The case was given to the jury by Judge Benj. A. Vail, of the Court of Quarter Sessions, at Elizabeth, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the jury was discharged this morning at 10:15 o'clock. It was reported that the vote stood eleven for acquittal and one for conviction. The disagreement means a new trial.

As witness for the State, Richard Randolph, Martha Randolph and Mary Randolph were called yesterday and gave direct testimony as to the pastor's conduct on the night in question. For the defense, Robert Randolph and Ella Randolph, Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Thomas testified that Crudup was at a prayer meeting April 7, and counsel for the defense attempted to prove an alibi. Dr. J. C. Anderson, called by the defense, testified to making a call at Crudup's home to treat a sick child but admitted on cross-examination that it was on the night of the 6th instead of the 7th of April.

A letter signed by Miss Regetta Randolph in which she characterized as untrue certain allegations of improper conduct on the part of her father, Richard Randolph, was produced, as was an affidavit signed by her before Justice Huff and witnessed by John Manley which stated that before her preliminary trial she had been kept in concealment and her testimony forced by Crudup. Miss Randolph claimed yesterday that the statements were made under duress.

The State was represented by William Newcorn, Esq., and the defense by Codington & Swackhamer and William G. DeMeza.

Another charge of a like offense against Crudup is also before the court. In this, the clergyman's accuser is Miss Eleanor Johnson. The case was to have been tried first yesterday, but when it was called Constable Cram informed the prosecutor that he had been unable to find Miss Johnson, who had disappeared mysteriously. He said he had searched unsuccessfully for her in Madison and Chatham.

Still another charge of the same sort against Crudup was brought by John Alston, but the Grand Jury refused an indictment on this account, partially, it is said, in the hope of reuniting Alston and his wife. Since then, Mrs. Alston has also mysteriously disappeared.

NOT A BRANCH STORE HERE

REPORT THAT FIEDLER'S WILL LOCATE IN PLAINFIELD IS INCORRECT.

This item appeared in the February number of "The House Furnishing Review," of New York: "Plainfield, N. J., is to have a department store, which will be known as 'Fiedler's.' The incorporators of the company which will conduct this store are: William C. and Bertha Fiedler, Louis Borsum and Frank H. Somer. The capital is $50,000."

Inquiry was made at the home of Louis Borsum, of Woodland avenue, concerning the statement and it was denied that the company is to locate a department store in this city. It was said that the company has two stores in Newark and it is proposed to make one of them a department house.

Readings From "Pickwick."

Before a large and appreciative audience Charles F. Underhill, the well-known reader, appeared at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, last night, in readings from "Pickwick." The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Boys' Mission Band of the church, and a handsome sum was realized as profit for mission work. Mr. Underhill's work was up to the standard and the familiar subject was greatly enjoyed as given by him.

AGRICULTURISTS IN SESSION

FARMERS DISCUSS THE EFFECT OF THE SAN JOSE SCALE.

The Union County Agricultural Association met yesterday afternoon at the home of E. P. Beebe, East Grand street, Elizabeth, with J. L. Headley, president, in the chair, and F. E. Woodruff, secretary, in his position. There was a large attendance, including some visitors. Three new members were elected. The association appears to be having a new lease of life as much interest is being taken in its meetings and in the subjects discussed. William Henry Rogers, of Watchung, a member of the State Board of Agriculture, was present and joined in the general discussion.

"Spraying for San Jose scales," was the principal subject introduced at the meeting and after a lengthy discussion of the various methods for spraying and the kind of a spray used, it was decided that as the subject is such an important one, to continue the discussion at the next meeting to be held on Thursday, March 3, at the same place.

Mr. Sperry, an agriculturalist of Cumberland County, Pa., was present at the meeting and he gave an interesting talk on fruits. He spoke of the robin, declaring himself in favor of the bird. He claims that the robin is an insectivorous bird, which does much good. He condemned the action of the Legislature in adopting measures to kill the robin, claiming that such work is cruel and unwarranted. Other members took exception to Mr. Sperry's remarks concerning the robin, claiming that all the bird does is to eat worms and fruits. A majority of the members, however, favored the action of the Legislature.

AMUSEMENTS.

The success it has achieved is the best criterion to go by when theatrical attractions are concerned and that is why "The Girl from Kay's" is drawing crowded houses at the Herald Square after being on the boards at that play house for nearly four months. Sam Bernard, whose reputation is as wide as the continent, and Hattie Williams, whose name is a synonym for clever work, made a hit the first night and since then the popularity of the production was assured. There's sixteen songs and 5,000 laughs for the man in the orchestra chair was well as for him among the gallery gods. It is a fountain of fun which sends forth a continuous stream of wit. Evenings at 8:10; Saturday matinees at 2:15.

Klaw & Erlanger's London Drury Lane spectacle, "Mother Goose," will begin its last week at the New Amsterdam Theatre next Monday afternoon, special Washington's birthday matinee, and will end its run Saturday evening, the 27th inst. This production will be followed, beginning Tuesday evening, March 1st, by Richard Mansfield in Alexis Tolstoi's "Ivan, the Terrible," presented for the first time in America. He will play this piece two weeks. The third week he will revive "Beau Brummel" and the last week will present his old successes, as follows: Monday and Friday evenings, "Beaucaire;" Tuesday and Thursday evenings, "A Parisian Romance." Wednesday evening and Saturday matinee, "Old Heidelberg," and Saturday night, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Dainty Virginia Earle is now an established and successful comic opera star, a position which the clever little lady is eminently fitted to adorn. In her comic opera "Sergeant Kitty," she has scored a genuine hit of the most pronounced sort. The part of Kitty LaTour, a pretty, wilful and altogether fascinating young woman, whose airs and graces coupled with her mischievous tendencies to play larks, keeps a whole regiment of French Hussars on the jump for a time, is one which Miss Earl is peculiarly to play as it affords plenty of opportunities for the display of her ability as a comedienne and admits of her singing a number of catchy songs in her own inimitable manner. George R. White has surrounded Miss Earle with a splendid company of singers and comedians, including Junie McCree, an eccentric singing comedian of artistic methods and supreme ability; Estelle Wentworth, prima donna soprano, late of "A Chinese Honeymoon," "Dolly Varden," and "The Bostonians;" Albert Parr, a gifted tenor, last season with "The Prince of Pilsen," Carrieand E. Perkins, one of the cleverest character actresses on the stage. The above attraction will be seen at the Casino, New York, on and after Washington's birthday, opening with a matinee, coming direct from a phenomenally successful run at Daly's Theatre. The sale opened yesterday.

This is the title of a great detective story by B. Fletcher Robinson, the collaborator of Sir Conan Doyle, which will be published in next Sunday's New York World. It is confidently expected that this story will make a profound impression on the readers of the Sunday World, for it is of remarkable strength and originality. Pierpont Morgan's nephew, some wonderful caricatures of Europe and America, the very popular page of theatrical novelty photographs and all the regular features. RUSSIA SEIZES WIJU

Five Thousand of the Czar's Troops on the Yalu.

BOYARIN WAS SUNK BY JAPANESE

British Steamer Seeking Shelter at Port Arthur Was Fired Upon by Russian Ships and Forts—Two Steamers Captured by Japs.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 19.—A report from Seoul, Korea, says that Russian troops to the number of 5,000 have arrived on the Yalu river.

An advance division of 2,000 has entered Wiju, the port of Korea lately declared open to the commerce of the world, and taken possession of it, leaving 2,000 men on the opposite bank of the river at Chintjencheng.

The first collision is expected somewhere near Wiju.

Reports from Tokyo say the navy department has information that the Russian second class cruiser Boyarin was torpedoed and sunk by the destroyer Heyatory in the torpedo attack on the Russian fleet at Port Arthur. Lieutenant Commander Tokenouchi did not know the name of the vessel struck by a torpedo discharged by the Heyatory, but the navy department has since learned from other sources that it was the Boyarin.

The British steamer Hsi-Ping, which arrived here from Chingwangtao, reports that she was fired on by the Russian ships and forts when seeking shelter in the outer roadstead of Port Arthur and that she was then ordered to Dalny, where she was detained four days in spite of her captain's protests.

The Russian gunboat Manjur has not gone up the river to be dismantled, as reported. She remains at Shanghai in defiance of the orders of the Chinese officials to leave this port.

A Port Arthur report says Manchurian bandits and Russian soldiers are pillaging everywhere in this place, and shopkeepers have armed to protect themselves.

Japanese refugees who have arrived on the British steamship Wenchow at Chefu say that they were frequently left without food by the Russians and that the Wenchow's signals for water were disregarded.

The Japanese on their way from Harbin to Port Arthur were pillaged and left penniless.

Telegrams received from Port Arthur say the Japanese have captured the Okhotsk-Kamchatka company's steamers Kolik and Bobrik.

A magnate named Salabek has arrived at Port Arthur, asking the viceroy's permission to go to the front with 5,000 Kurd horsemen. He only asks the government to provide for the transport of the men, their horses and arms. Admiral Alexeieff declined and referred Salabek to the czar.

The railroad is undamaged, and Port Arthur is secure. All the troops are eagerly awaiting an opportunity to meet the Japanese in a fair fight.

It is believed here that the enemy sustained heavy damage at the time of the bombardment and is carefully concealing the same.

The repairs to the Russian warships damaged during the bombardment are rapidly proceeding. The Cesarevitch, Retvizan and Pallada will soon rejoin the fleet.

About a hundred Russian families who left Japan intending to proceed to Port Arthur and other points are now living here under the protection of the Russian consul.

A SURPRISE TO RUSSIA.

Is Embarrassed by the Placing of Consuls In Open Ports.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 19.—The information contained in press dispatches from Washington that Secretary Hay had announced the negotiations in connection with his note to the powers on the subject of the integrity of China to be closed without awaiting Russia's formal response came as a surprise to official circles here.

An official of the foreign office appeared to be rather nonplussed at this news, but he displayed no irritation and said:

"If this is true it has not changed the Russian programme. Not to await Russia's reply might, however, offend Russian susceptibilities and tend still further to increase the feeling already existing here in certain quarters that the United States is not friendly to Russia.

"In this connection there is no doubt the government feels somewhat embarrassed by the desire of the United States to install consuls in the open ports of Manchuria immediately. The government does not like to be placed in the position of putting obstacles in the way, but that the entire territory is now under military control, and these ports would be within the sphere of the operations. Furthermore, trade is at a standstill at present, and the authorities cannot comprehend why Washington should press this matter now. None of the other powers is seeking to take immediate advantage of the privileges accorded by the Japanese treaties.

"As far as concerns Port Dalny, to which place an American commercial agent has been appointed, the situation is even worse, as it is not impossible that the military authorities will soon request all foreigners to leave there."

The Russian reply to Secretary Hay's note is practically ready and will be handed to Ambassador McCormick in a day or two, possibly today. It will be along the lines already indicated in these dispatches.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 19, 1904.

A Long Branch paper wants to know what excuse there is for the Hearst presidential boom. Answer is that advertising pays.

South Orange people protest against any increase in the number of liquor licenses in their community, knowing that saloons breed disorder and lower the tone of a community.

Unless some have forgotten it we remind the dear public that Union county has three assemblymen at Trenton. Their voices can be heard answering to the roll call.

The Exempt firemen will not allow the $10,000 hose carriage to be taken to St. Louis. If any of the sightseers at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition would like to take a glance at the precious relic we invite them to come to Plainfield, where, at the same time, they will be afforded an opportunity of seeing a model municipality.

A Southwestern railroad manager whose interest is to attract not only travelers but also settlers to that section is convinced that by expending for newspaper space the sums heretofore paid for elaborate and costly booklets he can achieve much better results, says the Philadelphia Record. This is the tendency not only of railroad, but also of many other kinds of advertising.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Look at this great assortment of vegetables at Neuman's grocery store: Fancy head lettuce, radishes, tomatoes, rhubarb, cucumbers, Brussells sprouts, spinach, green beans and fresh mushrooms.

—The women of the Park Club enjoyed the weekly game of whist at the club house yesterday afternoon. There was the usual number present and the social features added much to the pleasure of all.

—On account of recent accidents caused by the trolley cars, the officials of Roselle have decided to enforce the ordinance as to the speed of cars. The ordinance calls for a speed of not more than ten miles an hour.

—One of the finest entertainments in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course will be that given Monday night by the Edison Projectoscope Company. Illustrated songs and moving pictures, sleigh bell solos and other musical specialties, will be among the attractions.

—It is possible that the joint committee of the Board of Health and Common Council will be able to present its report on the municipal collection of garbage at the meeting of the Council, February 25. It is understood that the Council favors a municipal system for the collection of garbage and is likely to introduce it in this city.

—The Indian play of "Hiawatha" at the Casino this afternoon and night should attract large sized audiences. It will be presented with all detail of costume and properties and the cast is entirely filled by genuine Ojibway Indians. In this quaint play three persons are required to represent the Indian prophet—a papoose, strapped to its board cradle, a seven-year old boy, and a grown man. All these will be with Mr Burton, and Nokomis, a venerable squaw who is a born comedienne, will sing the lullaby from which Longfellow took the lines, "Hush, the naked bear will get thee." Reserved seats at Armstrong's pharmacy up to 6 p. m., after that hour at the Casino.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held at Warren chapel tonight. The subject will be "God and Us," Psalms 139.

Sunday-school services will be held in the Whosoever Mission on Whitewood avenue, opposite Regent street, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Epworth League, of Monroe Avenue M. E. church, is planning for a "surprise social," to be held in Epworth House tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The circulating part of the Epworth House library will be open as usual.

Rev Dr. Daniel Halleron, presiding elder of the Elizabeth District of the Newark Conference, will be a delegate to the General Conference of the M. E. church that meets at Los Angeles, Cal., in May. He will be sent by the district as its representative.

The male quartette of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church will sing three selections at next Sunday afternoon's meeting for men at the Y. M. C. A. hall. The quartette consists of John W. Daub, John P. Thompson, David W. Jones and Juan A. Babcock. Miss Daisy Houston will be accompanist. The topic of the speaker, Sheldon Painter, a missionary returning from Japan, will be "Japan."

The Rev. Harry Gilchrist, formerly rector of St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal church of Roselle, made profession of his faith and was received into St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church at Roselle Wednesday by the Rev. Father Westman, the priest in charge of the parish. Mr. Gilchrist had recently followed a course of instruction under Father Westman. A number of friends attended the ceremony. After renunciation of the Protestant faith Mr. Gilchrist was baptized. The sponsors were Baron and Baroness VonOdinelle.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:

We appeal to the license committee of the Common Council, in behalf of the colored people of the West End, that the privilege to open another saloon be refused. No Christian in the Mayor's position, with so much opposition confronting him, on this question, could have taken a more lofty stand. Aside from that, his stand for high license and non-multiplicity of saloons should be ratified by all the people of this city. I hope that that portion of the Council which favors license and saloons will not allow the honor of the city to trail in the dust by contending against a righteous element in the Council which is trying to lift high and exhibit to the people of other cities the true moral status of Plainfield.

The moral law teaches what is right and wrong. As persons are differently formed in face and figure so they are differently endowed with mental and moral powers; there is a dissimiliarity in education, in habits of thought, in circumstances of life, business and social relations, which often marks a vast difference in men's estimate of right and wrong. But there should be no dissimiliarity in the sentiments and opinions of the people of this city respecting the view of the Mayor upon this liquor question. It seems to me that the Common Council is not aware of the fact that the multiplicity of saloons means multiplicity of crimes, and criminals, poverty and want. While the saloons only benefit the saloon keepers financially, they add to the expense of the city. Dr. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, well said in his sermon Sunday evening "that Christianity should be sent to men's hearts. For where the wicked reign, the righteous mourn, and where the righteous reign the people rejoice." E. E. Jackson.

Another Baseball Team.

The boys of the Y. M. C. A. branch connected with the Monroe Avenue M. E. church decided last night to put a baseball team in the field this spring. Guyon Fountain was elected manager of the team and Gideon Fountain captain. Red and black were chosen as the club color. If a city league is formed among the schoolboys, it is probable that the Monroe Avenue boys' team would become a member. The regular meeting of the boys' club was held last night with sessions for gymnastics and Bible study.

Dancing was resumed again at 1 o'clock and continued until a late hour. Guests were present from Westfield, Plainfield and the village. Suhr's orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

It is hardly likely that another pleasure resort will open near the Westfield Golf Club grounds. One has been trouble enough for the natives and a money losing venture for the owners, so it is hardly probable that another will be opened for the coming summer as reported.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

All winter, or at least since there has been good sleighing the Plainfield papers have contained glowing accounts of their speedway on Park avenue, and of the wonderful speed shown by the horses owned by local horsemen. These reports ceased suddenly last week, after our townsman, Edward Kinsey, drove his fast black, Seneca Boy, down to Plainfield, on Thursday morning, and in the afternoon raced nine heats with the fastest horses in Plainfield, winning every heat, and racing sometimes under difficulties. He drove his horse back home on Thursday night, and remarked that "it wasn't even exercise to race Plainfield horses." The Plainfield papers on Friday did not mention the afternoon's sport of the day before, but everybody else in Plainfield was talking about the "big fast black" from Somerville. On Friday afternoon some of the best racing of the season was seen on High street. All the fast ones were out and they raced four abreast all the way down the street. On Saturday several events would have been handled, but the sleighing was too far gone, and the sport had to be abandoned.—Somerset Democrat.

V. W. Nash, Sr., a member of the Board of Trustees of th Exempt Firemen's Association, explains some of the reasons for the action of the Board in refusing to allow the Amity hose carriage to be exhibited at St Louis. He pointed out the fact that the request for the carriage was made by the Hale Fire Fighting Exhibitors, an incorporated body, which desired the carriage for speculative purposes. Their intention, it was said, was to make a special exhibit of the carriage with an admission fee attached. Owing to the fact that it is the most unique and probably the handsomest and costliest hose carriage in the world, it was thought that it would prove a strong attraction and a financial bonanza. The question that the Board of Trustees of the Exempts was unable to answer to its satisfaction was as to why Plainfield should furnish material to enable this company to make money without receiving any adequate return. The only return promised was the honor that would come to Plainfield from being represented by an unusual exhibit. As answer to this it was given that the attention would be attracted to the carriage itself and not to the place from which it came. In addition the matter of insurance was one that troubled the Board of Trustees. The fair buildings are in their opinion flimsy structures such as none but extremely venturesome companies would be likely to insure and the consequent risk was regarded as too great.

Using a Plainfield Steamer.

George W. Arnett, chief of the fire department of Lambertville, reporetd that the old steamer known as Gazelle steamer which was in use in this city for twenty-five years and which was sold in 1889 to Lambertville, is still in use by the volunteer department of that town.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE NEW WOMAN

She Is Wide Awake and Moving

LATELY an estimable lady whom I know fell ill and was unable to attend to her household duties. She and her husband live alone in a flat, and the wife, a thorough housekeeper, does her own domestic work in a dainty, immaculately neat way that I admire. But when she fell ill it came about that the husband had to do his own cooking and the housework—that, too, nights and mornings in the intervals of business hours. He had never done anything of the kind before, and it came hard, very hard. At first all was a hopeless tangle, and the good man went wild. He used bad language. Then he set in to cut off first this, then that, of the items of housework. He reduced the variety of food. He adopted eatables that were simple and required little labor in the preparation. I am afraid, too, that he omitted the dusting more than once during that week of the disablement of Mrs. X. Finally he got his housework down fine. He rose to the point where he could contemplate it philosophically. He summed it all up thus: "Women are stupid. They make themselves twice as much work in housekeeping as they need to. They want everything just so nice and so fashionable. Now, what's the use of having two dishes where one will do? Potatoes will do for vegetables at dinner; salad will do for vegetables at dinner. What's the use of having both? One is enough. It's foolish to have so many courses and so many different kinds of silver to be cleaned, a fork to eat this food, another kind of fork for that food and a sharp spoon for this, a blunt spoon for that and a pair of tongs for something else. Women are stupid, I say." That settled forever the point in his mind. Worst of all, he was more than half right. Civilized housekeeping, with its innumerable fashionable requirements, has become a burden so heavy it is no wonder women try to get rid of it. Women do make work for themselves that is unnecessary.

I don't know when I have been more pleased and heartened than I was on an evening recently when I went to hear several addresses at a public meeting. One of the speakers was a lady of high position and forceful character. She was a beautiful woman, large, queenly, nobly proportioned. Her waist was not compressed in the least; her dress skirt was of convenient walking length. She wore a handsome gown—some kind of a confection of black and white lace and silk, quite up to date and most becoming to the lady, perfectly "stylish," if that is what one wants. But you scarcely thought of her dress at all. Your attention was attracted by the healthy, comely, radiant face, with its large, shining blue eyes. When it came her turn to speak this admirable woman reached her hand back into a pocket in her gown—an actual pocket, mind you, one that did not mar the look of her skirt in the least either—and drew from it the notes she used in a ringing address, full of tact, fearlessness and logic. The lady was M. Carey Thomas, LL. D., president of Bryn Mawr, and one of the most scholarly women living.

Miss Louise Forsslund, who discovered a new vein of romance among the old Dutch people of Long Island, has written a series of charming short stories with scenes laid among those quaint folk so dear to her. Miss Forsslund is spending the winter at San Antonio, Tex.

Let us train ourselves to be as pleasant as the good natured Japanese. Good temper wins every time. Here in New York is a luncheon place that advertises itself as a Japanese restaurant. As a matter of fact, the only thing Japanese about it is the man in charge of the dining room, the head waiter, yet he meets everybody who comes in with a manner so polite, so smiling, cordial and agreeable that he is drawing crowds to that little eating place just by that way he has.

In present day records is no utterance more touching than the dying words of George Francis Train, "I am sorry to leave the children and the birds."

There is one debt every human being owes to the innate human dignity residing in himself and in everybody else. It is the debt of politeness and good temper. Pay your debt.

The best spot on this earth for a woman to live in is New Zealand. There the gap between wealth and poverty is not so great as in the United States, nor is the social class line between rich and poor anything like so sharply drawn as with us. Poverty is almost unknown. It is the most prosperous country on the globe today. But what is the best and grandest fact of all connected with New Zealand is that there women have full citizen's rights. They can vote and be voted for at all elections and are in the eyes of the law the perfect equals of men. I shall steal off and go and live in New Zealand one of these days.

At the last general election in Melbourne, Victoria, women voters organized themselves thoroughly, cast a heavy vote and carried the day for the ticket of the Labor party, which now holds the balance of power in parliament.

CLEVELAND MOURNS

Senator Hanna's Body Viewed by Thousands.

CATAFALQUE IN GARDEN OF FLOWERS

Senator's Remains Will Rest For the Present In the Wade Chapel Vault at Lakeview Cemetery.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 19.—The mortal remains of Senator Marcus A. Hanna now lie in state upon a shrouded catafalque in the auditorium of the chamber of commerce, where they were taken immediately upon their arrival by special train from Washington.

Surrounded by a veritable garden of flowers and guarded by a detail of soldiers from the state militia, the city of Cleveland now claims its own distinguished dead. Fully 30,000 people have passed the flower covered casket and taken a last look upon the face of the dead statesman.

With snow blowing into their faces fiercely and a cold wind chilling them through and through, thousands upon thousands of people stood for hours in a double line stretching for more than five squares, waiting for an opportunity to pass into the building where lay the remains. Although the crowd was passing into the auditorium at the rate of more than sixty a minute, the line grew rapidly, and when the doors were closed for the night there were still several thousand who had waited patiently, but were compelled to return home disappointed.

Governor Herrick and the members of his staff then passed before the casket and after them the members of the special committee, all of whom had been close friends of the senator.

The chamber auditorium where the body now lies in state is most appropriately set for the occasion. From the four large chandeliers there is a huge canopy of black. From a black and white rosette in the center four white streamers extend to the corners of the canopy around the entire hall.

A great wreath fully five feet in diameter, presented by the office employees of the M. A. Hanna company, is also an imposing piece, while a large letter, likewise constructed of flowers, addressed to "M. A. Hanna" and bearing the postmark "Washington, 6:40 p. m., Feb. 15, 1904," occupies a prominent place on the platform back of the bier. This is the offering of the postal clerks of Cleveland. A gigantic G. A. R. badge, built principally of carnations, was sent by Memorial post, No. 141.

Upon the request of many friends of the Hanna family Bishop Leonard will deliver a short eulogistic address at the conclusion of the regular funeral services upon the life of the dead statesman. Bishop Leonard will be assisted in the services by Rev. William M. Pierce, president of Kenyon college, at Gambier, O.; Rev. Dr. McGrew of St. Paul's and Rev. A. H. Jones of St. John's church, this city, of which Mr. Hanna was a vestryman.

At the close of the services at the church the body will be conveyed to Lakeview cemetery and after a brief burial service in Wade Mortuary chapel will be placed temporarily in the Wade vault, it not having yet been decided where the body shall finally be interred.

Measure Has Encouraged Planters.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Max J. Baehr, United States consul at Cienfuegos, Cuba, states that "the sugar planters in the districts tributary to Cienfuegos are much elated over the recent passage by the United States congress of the long delayed reciprocity measure, and sugar grinding in these districts is beginning under the most auspicious circumstances." He adds that the crop of the province now at hand is much larger than that of any previous year.

Odell at New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Governor and Mrs. Odell and their little daughter have arrived here and will remain until Tuesday of next week, when the governor will return to attend the dinner of the Legislative Correspondents' association. It is said that there is no political significance in the visit of the governor.

ISLANDS' DEFENSE.

Fortification of Philippines Discussed In Congress.

BILL PASSED WITHOUT DIVISION

"People of the Island Group More In Danger and Less Able to Defend Themselves Than Any Other People Under Our Flag."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The house has passed the fortifications appropriation bill. The Philippine question was the subject of a brief but spirited discussion while the bill was under consideration.

An item in the bill provided for fortifications in the insular possessions. Mr. Smith (Dem., Ky.) proposed an amendment to preclude the use of any part of the appropriations for fortifications in the Philippines, holding that an expenditure of the sum necessary properly to fortify the islands was not warranted until the future of the archipelago shall have been determined. A party alignment on the proposition immediately followed.

Mr. Williams (Miss.) took the fight in favor of the amendment, declaring that it would be senseless to proceed to the fortification of the islands unless it should be determined that the islands were to be held by the United States. The dominant power, the reigning power in the White House and congress had not declared this, he said.

Mr. Smith (Ia.) in a brief but vigorous speech declared that the people of the Philippines were more in danger and less able to defend themselves than any other people under the American flag and that it was the duty of this government to give them the same protection that was given to the people at home.

"The people of the Philippines are not obeying the laws of this country," declared Mr. Williams, "because the laws of the United States have not been extended to them."

"They are obeying the laws of this country that apply to the islands," retorted Mr. Smith.

Mr. Williams applied to the situation a declaration that King George had one law for those under the flag at home and another for those under the flag in the colonies.

"Does the gentleman not believe that the United States will always maintain a naval station in the Philippines?" inquired Mr. Littauer of the minority leader.

Mr. Williams said he hoped the United States always would maintain a naval station in the Philippines, but he wanted the fact established that it was to be only a naval station.

"Does the gentleman base his opposition on the cost?" Mr. Hemenway asked.

Mr. Williams replied that his opposition was based on the fact that he did not want his children taught the lesson of colonialism and absolutism or that one people have a right to govern another.

Mr. Payne said it was not a question whether the Philippines were to be held, but that it was the duty of this government while the Filipinos are under its care to protect them. He declared that the United States never would leave the Philippines until it shall have established a naval station there.

By a strict party vote of 80 to 82 the amendment advocated by the minority was lost.

Amendments proposed by Mr. Robinson (Ind.) to prevent allotments for money for further experiments with the Langley airship failed.

The fortification bill without amendment then was passed without debate or division.

WOMAN'S PRESENCE OF MIND.

Destruction of Her Home Averted by Mrs. Charles Keller.

Fire threatened to destroy the home of Charles Keller, former assistant chief of the North Plainfield Fire Department, on Harrison street at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and it was only by hard fighting on the part of Mrs. Keller that the house was saved from much damage.

Mrs. Keller entered the kitchen to prepare the evening meal and struck a match to light the lamp. The head flew off and landed in a window curtain. In an instant the flames had reached to the ceiling and threatened the destruction of the building. With great presence of mind Mrs. Keller tore the flaming material from the sash and beat out the flames which were licking the woodwork. No alarm was sounded.

TO REVISE MILITARY LAWS

BILL IN PREPARATION FOR INTRODUCTION AT SESSION OF LEGISLATURE.

Again the military authorities of New Jersey are wrestling with a revision of the military laws of the State, in the effort to make the act of 1900 jibe with the recently adopted Dick act, which makes the National Guard an adjunct of the regular army. Some time ago it became apparent that much tinkering would be necessary to overcome some of the many discrepancies between the national law and that adopted in the State at the time of the Voorhees reorganization of the guard.

This duty was assigned to General George E. P. Howard, judge advocate of the division, and a bill drawn by him will be presented to the Legislature in the near future. Certain changes will be made in the document to meet the views of the practical soldiers of the State Military Board who do not take kindly to some of the provisions of the judge advocate. It is reported that the new bill will provide for carrying regimental officers who are not recognized in the regular army, such as paymasters, and the men who profess to know tell that in time of service, either in camp or on any other kind of duty, when the men of the guard are in the pay of the Federal Government, there can be no provision for the payment of these officers, unless the State shall foot the bills for them. The further statement is made that the new bill makes no provision for a company artificer, admittedly a useful man in a military company and recognized as such by the War Department and provided for in the regulations of the department. Instead, the bill is said to contain a provision for a company commissary sergeant, an officer not countenanced by the department and for which no pay is allowed. It is predicted that the new bill will contain a provision for paying to the officers of the National Guard a stated sum annually to defray the cost of uniforms and equipments.

Quartermaster General Donnelly will shortly make requisition on the National Government for the new khaki uniforms for the enlisted men of the State Guard, and when the requisition is honored the officers will be required to equip themselves with khaki also. There is some talk of discarding the sickly robin's egg blue shoulder straps and trousers stripes for the officers and of returning to the more popular and lasting white, and there will be another item of expense for the officers.

UP AND DOWN THE STATE

The town of Westfield will have but two public drinking places after March 1, when the Westfield Hotel, conducted by Samuel Godshalk, on Broad street, and Powers' Hotel, conducted by Lawrence Powers, on North avenue, will be the only licensed hotel within the borders of the town.

The one hundredth anniversary of the formation of the Township of Rahway will be observed February 27. On the same date one hundred years ago the State Legislature passed an act setting apart certain portions of the townships of Westfield and Elizabeth Town for a separate township to be called "the Township of Rahway."

It seems pretty well settled that ex-Senator Johnston Cornish, of Warren, will be chosen chairman of the Democratic State Committee, to succeed William B. Gourley, of Passaic, who has served notice that he would submit his resignation as chairman at the next meeting of the State committee. It is understood that Cornish will accept the place, if it is offered to him with any show of unanimity.

Mrs. Adeline Davison, of New Brunswick, has been sleeping out of doors this winter It is not because Mrs. Davison has not a comfortable house and pleasant rooms, but because she is battling with the monster, consumption, which had threatened her life. She feels that she is on the winning side and that it will be only a matter of a short time before she completely conquers the dread disease. The woman has been taking the open-air treatment and it has proven very successful in her case.

An organized movement is on foot among the charity workers to secure more effective legislation, during the present session of the Legislature, to compel the able-bodied sons of destitute parents to support them. The only New Jersey statute now in existence on this subject is copied from an old English law, passed in the reign of Elizabeth, and is included in the poor law. It provides that the relatives of those incapable of their own support may be made to contribute sums for the maintainance of such persons on order of the court, but makes no provision for a penalty. For this reason it has not operated very effectively.

THE CENTRAL BREAKS RECORD

THE "HARRISBURG FLYER" RUNS 73 MILES IN 78 MINUTES.

A new speed record has been made on the Central Railroad of New Jersey by the east-bound Harrisburg "flyer." This train on February 12th made the run from Phillipsburg, Pa., to Jersey City, a distance of seventy-three miles, in seventy-eight minutes. The time consumed included three stops, several slowdowns for crossings and bridges.

Many miles were made at the rate of forty seconds to the mile, and if the train had come through without stopping the run would have been made in about sixty-six minutes.

The train, known to the public as the "Queen of the Valley," leaves Harrisburg daily at 8 a. m. It left February 12th on time, and was held up twenty-two minutes at Bethlehem Junction waiting for the Philadelphia and Reading connection. That delay caused the train to pull into Phillipsburg behind time.

Engine 571 was drawing the train, with Frank Eck at the throttle. When Eck drew out of Phillipsburg he determined to make up some of the lost time. There is an up grade from Phillipsburg to Hampton Junction, but Eck took it in a rush.

From Hampton Junction to North Branch, a distance of fifteen miles, the run is down the side of a mountain, and when that stretch was reached the train fairly flew. Several miles were made on this section at the rate of thirty-eight second to the mile, or in other words at the rate of 94.74 miles per hour. From North Branch to Somerville, miles were made in forty seconds.

A stop was made at Somerville for passengers, and when the train pulled out a good part of the lost time had been made up. Between Somerville and Plainfield there was some more fast running. Another stop was made at Plainfield, and a third stop at Elizabeth.

The run in from Elizabeth was necessarily much slower, owing to the junctions and switches at Elizabethport. Another cause of delay at this point was the fact that the draw in the bridge over Newark Bay is being changed. The orders there are for trains to cross the bridge at that point at a speed not exceeding four miles an hour. The bridge is 7,000 feet long and trains run slowly over it at all times.

Owing to the multiplicity of switches in the Jersey Central's yards, which run from Elizabethport to Jersey City, the train proceeded slowly to the terminal, where it arrived at 12:28, exactly on time.

No preparation had been made for a particularly fast run and Eck was not looking to make a record when he did it. His sole effort was to make up the time lost at Bethlehem Junction. The engine which drew the train was formerly a compound that had been converted into a simple. The drivers are seven feet in diameter.—New York Mail and Express.

CITIZENS' PARTY.

North Plainfield Democrats to Place Independent Ticket in the Field.

The North Plainfield Democrats held a "pow wow" last night in the offices of Codington & Swackhamer on Park avenue. Most all the Democratic leaders of the borough were present and the meeting was presided over by David Carney. The principal business was the discussion of the question of whether or not to support a citizens' ticket. The majority of the members are in favor of this plan and accordingly it was decided to name a citizens' ballot. No date has been set for the caucus.

BOROUGH COUNCIL FIXES ANNUAL BUDGET

North Plainfield's Governing Body Arranges to Run Municipal Machinery for $20,800.

AUDITOR MAKES REPORT

TREASURER G. F. BROWN COMPLIMENTED ON SHAPE OF HIS BOOKS.

Mayor Smalley Makes a Speech—West End Hose Company Offers to Sell Its Wagon and the Council Will Consider Proposition.

There was little business to transact at the special meeting of the Borough Council, held last night. It was one of the few remaining sessions to be held before the election, and the most important action was to fix the amount of the annual budget. Mayor Smalley and Councilmen Nichols, Lee, VanArsdale and Arnold were present, while in the lobby was a large delegation of borough firemen interested in whatever action might be taken regarding the fire department and its changes.

Collector Brown's report showed the following receipts, expenditures and balance: Taxes and interest, $120.07; Board of Health, $1.15; special school, $22.31; John H. Snyder, sale of brick, $2; balance February 1, $9,293.25; total receipts, $9,636.75; disbursements, $7,692.52; cash on hand, $1,944.26.

In connection with the above report, the statement of Edward L. Suffern, certified public accountant, employed by the borough to examine the books of the collector and treasurer, is of special interest. The accountant has audited the books for the fiscal year ending February 8 and found them correct. He states that the apparent deficiency of resources is to be considered as arising from the fact that the full amount of the bond issue for the engine house appears among the liabilities, without regard to the date of maturity. The amounts shown as due from future tax levies for the Watchung avenue assessment, as well as the proportions of unpaid taxes due the Board of Education and the Board of Health, are as given him by the treasurer. Mr. Suffern further states:

"It seems proper, that in submitting this report, I should call your attention to the excellent manner in which the collector and treasurer's accounts have been kept, which have always been noticeable during the four years for which I have had the honor of making the audit. The accounts show great care and exactness. The cash receipts for the year have been $87,797.02 and the disbursements, $85,980.64."

The resources show $1,944.26 in cash; $14,943.97 in unpaid taxes from 1887 to 1903, inclusive. The total resources, less proportions due school and Board of Health, when collected, $1,898; Watchung avenue assessment, tax title to property bought in, $196.10, and deficiency to balance, $3,337.13, are $18,523.46. The liabilities amount to $18,532.46, itemized as follows:

Watchung avenue bonds, $8,000; less amounts to be collected through future tax levies, $7,000—$1,000; Somerset street improvement certificates, $3,000; engine house bonds, $10,000; Board of Education, $22.31; Board of Health, $1.15; bills payable, $4,500. The latter amount is accounted for by the fact that under the new school law, the assessment for schools for 1903, was paid in full, and not when collected, as heretofore.

Mr. Arnold offered a resolution authorizing the borough clerk to have 500 copies of the annual report printed for distribution among the taxpayers. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Lee offered a resolution specifying the various amounts thought to be necessary to run the borough for the coming year. These are the various sums: Police, $3,000; fire department, $2,000; streets, $6,000; light, $5,000; water, $1,300; poor, $1,000; incidentals and interest, $1,000; Watchung avenue bond, $1,000; Somerset street certificate, $500; total, $20,800.

The above resolution was adopted by unanimous vote.

Mayor Smalley introduced the subject relative to the disposition of the West End Hose Company carriage, stating that there were representatives of the company present and he invited them to speak. Charles Keller acted as spokesman and he said that the cost of the carriage complete was $494.50. He said that the company would like to sell the carriage to the borough, that it is in good condition, having been in service only since 1902.

Mr. Lee's motion that the report fromf the company be received for future consideration was adopted.

Mayor Smalley then made a few remarks on the subject. He said that no doubt the hose company would like to have the Council settle on some proposition at once and he believed that the Council would at the proper time treat with the company in a fair manner. He said that naturally the company would like to dispose of what it now has on hand, but he wanted all to understand that the Council is running this part of the government and would continue to do so. That the Council would treat the company as men he had no doubt. In conclusion he said that the new fire house was built so that the department could be put on a better basis and he believed that the West End Hose carriage would be needed there in the near future. "While some people believe that the Council is controlled by a one-man power," said the Mayor, "I believe that the company knows best what it wants to do and I am willing to believe that they will act independently and do what is for the best."

P. H. S. WON FROM THE LEAL'S

SUPERIOR ALL-AROUND WORK AT BASKET BALL BRINGS VICTORY.

Defeated in the first game of the series, Plainfield High School revenged itself upon Leal's School in basket ball at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium yesterday afternoon. The score was 17 to 5. Leal's never had a chance against the superior all-round work of the High School boys, who knew that they had to win to keep in the game for the championship of the series and who did not fail to take advantage of every opening.

Every member of the High School team played fast ball. Thompson was in the game to the finish, and it was largely his excellent guarding that kept Leal's score down. Collier made his re-appearance on the team and distinguished himself by good work. The High School team work was good, and Leal's, handicapped by an injury to one of her regulars, played pluckily. The third and final game of the series will take place March 11. Summary:

High School—Collier and Thompson, forwards; Guinn, centre; Gavett and Fenno, guards. Leals—Chapman and J. Haughey, forwards; Abbott, centre; L. Haughey and G. Strong, guards. Goals from the floor, Thompson 5, Collier 2, Guinn, Chapman 2. Goals from foule, Thompson, Strong.

PRODUCTION AT GRACE M. E.

CLEVER SKETCH GIVEN BY THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF THE CHURCH.

Not one of the many people who witnessed the production of the sketch entitled "Parson Poor's Donation Party" by the young people of Grace M. E. church last night who did not speak in the highest terms of the entertainment. The church was well filled and each participant took her part cleverly. It was given for the benefit of the church and was financially a great success.

The cast was made up of the young people connected with the Epworth League. The cast: Parson Poor, Benjamin Schuck; Mrs. Poor, the Parson's wife, Miss Adelaide Marsh; Parson Poor's daughter, Lucy, Miss Edna Sebring; Peter Poor, son of the parson, Harry Schuck; four boys visiting the parson, Arthur Stewart, Fred Krausse, David Fairchild and Harry Allen; Mrs. Martha Duesenberry, Miss Carrie VanArsdale; Terzah Ann Stubbs, Miss Grace Clark; Deacon Plunkett, Dykman Winkler; Mrs. Plunkett, Mrs. Dykman Winkler; Mrs. Sarah Jane Beebe, Miss Laura Dean; Mr. Hezekiah Beebe, J. Russel Harden; Madame Bradford, Miss Minnie I. Marsh; widow Sharpe, Miss Ada VanHorne; four girls, Misses Anna Hoagland, Lillian Treter, Jennie DeMott and Bessie Conroy.

A novel method was employed in collecting the admission to the entertainment. One cent for each ten pounds was charged for each seeking admittance. This provided much amusement to all. Dykman Winckler was official weigher and gathered in the sheckles. The net proceeds will probably exceed $30.

During the programme Vincent Sokol presided at the piano and Dykman Winkler favored with violin selections.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was Mrs. Dykman Winkler, chairman; Miss Emma Smalley, Miss Mary E. Steiner, Miss Alice Clark and Miss Della Voehl.

ASSEMBLYMAN MOFFETT FAVORS SIGNBOARDS

He Declares That Assemblyman Colby's Proposed Law is Unconstitutional.

THE FARMERS AROUSED

ALLEGED THAT MEASURE INTERFERES WITH INDIVIDUAL PROPERTY RIGHT.

Bill Introduced in Legislature As Result of Governor Murphy's Reference to the Nuisance—Swackhamer's Position.

The bill introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Colby intended to legislate against sign boards has aroused an active opposition, more particularly among the farmers of the State who are most affected. The idea of the bill is that the advertising billboards are unsightly and destroy landscape effects along railroad lines. Governor Murphy having taken this position in his annual message.

Assemblyman Charles L. Moffett, of this city, in an interview yesterday, announced his complete disapproval of the measure. He said: "I am bitterly opposed to the bill; it interferes with the rights of individuals to use their property as they see fit, and in this it is unconstitutional. It is an outrage upon the farmer in that it would deprive him of one of his readiest and surest means of utilizing his land for an income. The erecting of billboards cannot in any proper sense be construed as a nuisance and I don't think the injury they do to the landscape is serious. They affect only a small portion of the view near the tracks, beyond which there is plenty of scenery left for the delight of the traveller. Besides taking from the farmer his only means of 'easy money,' the bill would, by its absolutely prohibitive license fee, destroy a legitimate enterprise in the shape of bill posting concerns and throw many men out of employment."

Assemblyman Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, had this to say with reference to the bill: "I have not yet had the opportunity to examine this bill, but I shall take care to scrutinize with great jealousy any measure which I find is calculated to injure unnecessarily any industry or to deprive our farmers of a source of legitimate gain or profit."

The license fee which the bill calls for is not less than $5 for every square foot of sign, billboard or advertisement.

BOYS HELP MISSION WORKERS

CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH BAND AIDS WORK IN INDIA.

The meeting held by the Boys' Band in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church yesterday afternoon, was unusually interesting. In addition to the regular members, there were present a large number of friends of the Band, who came through the storm to listen to the address of Rev. William Harris, of Siam.

Mr. Harris is a missionary to the Laos country, and his account of the people and his work in that land was quite interesting. Among other facts, he stated that ten dollars of our money provides for the board, lodging tuition and books of a boy student for a term of seven months in the school at Cheing Mai. Beside his missionary work, Mr. Harris is a teacher in this school, and while on his furlough in this country, is endeavoring to raise sufficient money to erect a suitable building.

The Boys' Band recently contributed $35 to this sum, and yesterday devoted the collection taken up to the same object. VanWyck Brooks, president of the Band, conducted the exercises, the secretary, Lawrence Mead reading the minutes, and the treasurer, Jose Tweedy giving a report of funds on hand. At the close of the meeting all present were served with tea and chocolate by Mrs. Josiah Browne, Mrs. Augustus V. Heely and Mrs. Daniel Ginna.

Distinguished Preacher.

Rev. Dr. Dennis Wortman will occupy the pulpit at Trinity Reformed church, tomorrow morning and evening. The morning subject will be "A Noble and Neglected Cause," and the evening subject "Our Patriotic Indebtedness to the Netherlands." Dr. Wortman is president of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America and as an author and preacher is well-known.

Slight Damage in Both City and Borough as Result of Blowing Up of Power Mill.

LAFLIN - RAND WORKS

THREE MEN KILLED AND TWO HOUSES DESTROYED.

People in Plainfield Thought An Earthquake Had Struck the City—Window Glass Broken and Other Affects of the Jar.

The Laflin-Rand Powder Co.'s plant, six miles west of Paterson, was wrecked this morning by an explosion in one of its powder houses. Three men were instantly killed and two of the houses of the plant totally destroyed. So great was the force of the explosion that damage was done in this city and in North Plainfield.

The deep rumbling sound followed almost instantly with a vibration which could be felt in every house here. At the home of Charles Frey, on Harmony street, almost all the window panes were shattered. At the home of Frank W. Rowley, the borough clerk, a door was jarred open and L. M. French reports that the stove lids on his kitchen range were jarred out of place. O. W. Krausse, on Vine street, whose plumbing shop adjoins his residence, said that the stovepipe in his place of business was knocked to the floor.

The dead are Fred Weimar, of Wayne; Al Jackson, of Paterson, and J. Weit, of Peconic. At least forty men were injured. The plant is sometimes called the Wayne Company.

"HIAWATHA" PRODUCED AT THE CASINO

Ojibway Indians Sing While Frederick R. Burton Explained the Play.

BEFORE TWO AUDIENCES

SONGS IN THE INDIAN TONGUE AFFORD ENTERTAINMENT.

The Descendants of Famous Tribal Chiefs in the Troupe—Peaformances of a High Standard—In Native Costume.

Frederick R. Burton, of Yonkers, and his band of Ojibway Indians entertained two audiences at the Casino yesterdy afternoon and night. They presented "Hiawatha," "the Indian play, a literary and musical entertainment," a reproduction so far as possible indoors of the forest drama which is an annual event on the shores of Lake Huron. Scores from the play were presented in costume with the songs of the Ojibways sung in the aboriginal manner and followed by Mr. Burton's "harmonized versions in English."

The play was realistic and the actors, several of them, descendants of famous tribal chieftains. Mr. Burton claims for the songs of the Ojibways that they are "the highest type of aboriginal melody that has yet been discovered, they constitute a native American folksong of such intrinsic beauty as had not been supposed to exist;" and his claim was well sustained by the performances of yesterday.

The play reproduced faithfully in the Indian song Longfellow's story of "Hiawatha." The teaching of the boy, "Hiawatha," to shoot, sing and dance, was illustrated with an Indian boy as the principal and decidedly clever actor. The various dances, an Indian gambling game, and songs sung beautifully by untrained voices without accompaniment, appropriate to the events in Hiawatha's career, composed the unique and instructive programme. They revealed, among other characteristics not popularly supposed to belong to the Indian, his humor, and expressiveness. The laughing song magnificently sung that closed the entertainment would have done credit to an opera singer, and some of the love songs of the people as given last night would embellish an Italian opera.

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON FIRE DEPARTMENT

Mayor Smalley Gives Administration's Version of Council's Relations With Firemen.

HITS WARREN HARD

STAND TAKEN BY MAYOR IS SUPPORTED BY NORTH PLAINFIELD CITIZENS.

Why Council Decided to Use Part of the New Engine House—The Dealings With the Firemen—What is Planned.

Mayor Newton B Smalley delivered a special message to the North Plainfield Council last night, his subject being a review of that body's relations with the borough firemen. The object of the communication is to set before the people the administration's version of the unpleasantness which has culminated in an ordinance for the disbandment of the volunteer fire department.

This is his message as read by Clerk Frank W. Rowley:

"Gentlemen:

"On this occasion, when we are closing our year's business and reporting to our constitutents what has been accomplished since our last annual meeting, it will doubtless be proper for me to say something relative to one of our most important actions. Especially is this due to those of you whose terms are about expiring, and whose actions particularly in regard to the establishment of a paid fire department, are now the subject of much, and to my mind unjust, criticism.

"To put the matter fairly it is necessary that the facts be briefly stated. In the first place, every Mayor and Council of this borough has done all in their power to make the volunteer department a success, and to gratify its wishes. When, a year or two ago, Warren Engine Co. claimed that the engine house was too small to accommodate the accumulating apparatus, this body cheerfully joined in the effort to procure a new and larger house. At this time there was no claim that the second floor, or meeting room portion of the old house was insufficient. It was the ground floor that was too small.

"The issue of bonds to the amount of $10,000, authorized by popular vote, was found inadequate. This council came gladly to the assistance of the company, and by practicing the strictest economy in every possible direction, succeeded in arranging to devote out of the general funds, the additional $5,000 necessary to make the new house possible. Beyond doubt we all believed that the members of the company appreciated our efforts, and would in turn be glad to assist us in economizing and saving money, in order that our liberal expenditure on behalf of the department might not increase the burden of the taxpayers.

"One argument used at the time of the election to authorize bonds, was that the old engine house might be used as Council chambers, and thus a material saving of rent to the extent of several hundred dollars a year, would result. No formal action on this subject was taken, but the suggestion met with general approval, and doubtless would have been carried out but for other developments.

"During the past few years it has been becoming more and more apparent that the borough court room and lock-up are wholly inadequate for our needs. The court room fails to accommodate even those who are obliged to be present at many trials. The lock-up was never intended for other than the most temporary detention of prisoners. The action of the county authorities at Somerville, in repeatedly turning loose persons sent to the county jail from the borough, to serve terms to which sentenced by our court, has made it necessary to keep our prisoners in the lock-up, if they are to be imprisoned at all. For any such purpose the lock-up is absolutely unfit. To imprison anyone there for any protracted term is out of the question. No one who will examine it will deny the truth of this statement. If the peace and good order of the borough are to be preserved, a suitable lock-up must be provided. When it was recently suggested that the old engine house be used for borough lock-up, court room and police headquarters, for which it can be fitted at small expense, the wisdom of such suggestion became at once apparent. To carry out this plan it was necessary that the council first secure other meeting place, and the second story of the new engine house at once suggested itself. No one supposed the engine company would object. They would still have far more room left upstairs than they had in the old house, and it never had been asserted that the upstairs part of that was too small.

"When the proposition was made to the company, however, it met strong opposition. The company did not want the Council to meet in the building. A resolution was passed to that effect, and one of the spokesmen for the company said in effect that while a few members had voted to allow the Council to occupy a room in the building, that every man of them was really opposed to it. "Why," he said, "you want the best part of the house." Undoubtedly he spoke the truth from the point of view of the members. The social features are the main thing with them. They regard the building as a clubhouse furnished at public expense.

"Members of the volunteer department are frank to say that except for the social features, they would not belong to the department, and this is undoubtedly true. While the department theoretically belongs to the borough, practically it is a social organization in which the attendance on fire duty is merely an infrequent incident. It elects its own members, the council having only the power of veto. Threats that it would disband have from time to time been made when the Mayor and Council merely sought to exercise its duty of appointing officers, who were not always the choice of the members. Like all volunteer departments, it uses its organization in politics to elect councilmen who will serve its ends, and when the engine company formally resolved that the council should be refused permission to save expense to the taxpayers by occupying a small portion of a building erected at the public expense, it seemed to you and to me time to call a halt, and in this I believe the taxpayers will agree. Volunteer departments have everywhere given way to paid departments in the march of progress, and for the same reasons: The paid department is better, and in the end cheaper. They are the recognized servants of the people, and directly responsible to them. Many of our most prominent citizens and largest taxpayers have communicated with me, commending our action in this matter. I quote the following from a letter which is a fair sample of what has been said to me on the subject:

"'Dear Sir: Permit me to express my approval of the action of yourself and council in regard to paid fire department. I hope there will be no wavering in bringing about this reform. When a department of the borough puts its own interests or convenience before that of the taxpayers, it is time the latter asserted their rights. The only permanent solution of this problem is to discard sentiment, and put the fire department on a strictly business basis, with paid employes responsible only to the people, represented by their Mayor and Council. December 18th., 1903.'

"Many other communications of similar character might be quoted, but it is unnecessary. The taxpayers of the borough are awake to the situation. The new department, for which you have provided, will be more effective, and in the long run far more satisfactory than the old. The latter has done as good work as any volunteer department could do. It deserves the thanks of our citizens, and will go down into history as one of the pleasant things which the town has outgrown, like the old system of street ligthing and street sprinkling.

"You gentlemen, serving the public as you do, without other reward than the consciousness of duty well performed, have in my humble judgment earned the fullest commendation of your constituents. Not only in this particular, but in all things have you served them honestly and well. The bark of the critic may sound loudest now, but the time will come, and soon, when your faithful discharge of the trust reposed in you will receive the appreciation it so well deserves.

"Newton B. Smalley,
Mayor."

AMUSEMENTS.

Admiration expressed in verse has been flowing in on Miss Amy Ricard, who has the role of "Contrary Mary" in Babes in Toyland at the Majestic Theatre, New York city. Miss Ricard when questioned on the subject of beauty says that she is not pretty but numerous members of the stronger sex take the liberty of not believing her. Her charm of manner is hypnotic and at every performance storms of applause follow her singing of the quaint: "Barney O'Flynn." When Miss Ricard portrayed "The Girl from Butte," in "The Stubborness of Geraldine," last season, eminent New York critics spoke of her work with that of the star of the play and commented on her winning ways, manners and sterling worth and beauty. There will be an extra matinee on Washington's birthday. The box-office sale indicates that the extravaganza may stay at the Majestic all summer

Richard Carle's new musical comedy, "The Tenderfoot," in which this bright young actor-author plays the leading role, will be presented for a run at the New York Theatre beginning with a special matinee next Monday, Washington's birthday. When Mr. Carle produced this musical novelty at the Dearborn Theatre in Chicago a year ago, he met with great success. It took the City of Wind by storm and ran for 192 consecutive performances, the longest engagement on record in that place. The newness of the idea of the plot, the exceptionally unusual characterization, the novelty of the incidents and the brilliancy of the music, caught the public fancy at once and during its entire stay "The Tenderfoot" played to enormous receipts. This piece has been very aptly described as "Arizona set to music." The scenes are all laid in the Southwest and the characters are all typical of the fresh breezes of the plains. This implies the atmosphere of Augustus Thomas' great play. There are Mexicans and cowboys, Indians and Chinamen, senoritas from over the border and blue-shirted alkali-dusty rangers of Texas. In direct contrast with these living types of the Southwest, is Zachary Settibone, a retiring, guileless and timid tutor from Vermont, a character Mr. Carle built very adroitly to fit himself. No author ever took his own measure so skillfully. Speedily spotted as "a tenderfoot," the luckless Yankee is forced to drink more than is good for him, is roped at dinner and made to dance under the stress of revolver shots. His mishaps furnish most of the comedy situations.

LITERARY.

The pictures in the March Red Book, now on the news-stands, are better than ever before. The cover itself is a brilliant and striking portrait of Miss Alice de Winton, leading lady of the theatrical company which Charles Hawtrey brought from England to play "The Man From Blankleys." Miss de Winton posed for the portrait, which was painted by Gustavus C. Widney for The Red Book. Seventeen photographic art studies are included in the number, nine of them being specially posed by the Baker Art Gallery of Columbus, O., and eight by Morrison of Chicago. The illustrations to the stories are better than the average. It is announced that beginning with the next number The Red Book will be printed on coated paper throughout, and half-tone illustrations will be used. Beginning with the April number a series of specially posed studies by Falk of New York will appear in The Red Book.

Ainslee's for March opens with a novelette which takes the shape of autobiographical notes by a society girl which tells of her experiences from the time she was fifteen years of age to the time of her engagement. It is original and dramatic and, what is more important, interesting. It is called "Miss Vanity." Edited by Mary Hamilton Park. Maarten Maartens has one of his characteristic tales called "Five Minutes' Conversation." "Her Letters from Dakota" deals with a timely theme in an extremely taking fashion. It is by Miriam Michelson, author of "In the Bishop's Carriage." The second of the series, "Stories of the Street," by James H. Gannon, is called "The Matrimony Syndicate." Roy Horniman has an intensely interesting and dramtatic story called "The Wits of Basil Wynyard." An unusually humorous tale is "The Undoing of Ulysses Updegraff," by W. D. Nesbit.

Joseph Newman and William Gaub have returned from a visit to Atlantic City.

TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP.

Grant and Le Roy Win the Opening Game.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Play was started here in the fifth tournament for the indoor tennis championship of the United States on the board courts of the Seventh regiment armory. The champion of last year, Wylie C. Grant, drew a fairly easy opponent in the former Columbia university interscholastic champion, Floyd Smith.

Smith put up an aggressive game, but he was relatively outclassed by Grant, who allowed him but two games in the match. The expert Philadelphian, Colket, was unfortunate in drawing Le Roy of Columbia, and, although he fought the match to deuce sets, he was defeated in straight sets.

All of the contests were spirited, and practically all of the opening round of the singles was finished.

Close Finishes at Ingleside.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Close finishes marked a number of races at Ingleside. Cloudy weather prevailed, but the track was in good condition. A six furlong handicap was the feature. Ananias, a 12 to 1 shot, led until the last few jumps, when Dainty, under a vigorous ride from Martin, got up in time to beat him a nose.

Greenock Made Sensation.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 20.—Greenock at 20 to 1 won the six furlong race from such sprinters as Golden Rule, Cruzados, Rag Tag and The Goldfinder and thereby furnished the sensation of the day at Ascot. It was a bad day for favorites, only two of them getting first money.

Collegians Play Rough Game.

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 20.—Princeton defeated Harvard's basket ball team last night by a score of 40 to 11 in a rough game characterized by many fouls on both sides. Harvard lacked team work and scored only 2 points in the first half, while Princeton netted 18.

Rochester Defeated Hamilton.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 20.—The University of Rochester defeated Hamilton college at basket ball here by a final score of 16 to 9. The score at the end of the first half was 8 to 3 in favor of the local collegians. The play was fast and clean throughout.

Hopes For the Championship.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Columbia defeated Yale in the intercollegiate basket ball game in the Columbia gymnasium by a score of 21 to 5. Having defeated Yale, its closest rival, Columbia now hopes to win the championship.

JENNINGS MURDER.

Prisoner McNamara Denies That He Committed the Crime.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Frank McNamara of Elgin, Ill., who was arrested immediately after the crime and is charged with shooting and killing George R. Jennings, a manufacturer of window shades in Brooklyn, has been arraigned in a police court and held for examination until Friday next. The prisoner, who was not represented by an attorney and who seemed very self possessed, told the magistrate that he did not shoot Jennings. His request for bail was refused.

To the reporters McNamara declared he did not know Jennings was shot until he was arrested. He recited his financial dealings with Jennings and said that when he came east and asked for the money due him Jennings treated him brutally and said, "If you want that money you'll have to sue me for it." When asked whether there was any woman in the case he answered: "It was just a plain case of steal. It was all over money. When I went to Jennings' office and tried to get my money he turned on me and said, 'Get out of here or I'll give you this,' opening his desk. I saw a revolver gleaming there, and I walked out of the office. I had not gone far when some one came up behind me and knocked me down, holding me until I was arrested."

Canfield and Maid Asphyxiated.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 20.—An autopsy has been performed on the bodies of Mr. Canfield and the maid-servant found dead at his home here. Several physicians who assisted Medical Examiner Godfrey were of the unanimous opinion that death had been caused by asphyxiation. There was not a sign of poisoning in either body. It is said that the condition of Mrs. Canfield, caused by gas from the furnace which killed her husband and the maid, is quite serious. She is conscious only at periods, and her physicians are not at all certain of her recovery.

Former Minister Dead.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Frederick H. Winston, former minister to Persia in 1886 and for many years prominent in Chicago, is dead at Magnolia Springs, Fla. Mr. Winston had been in feeble health for some time and a month ago went to Florida to escape the severity of the winter. He grew worse after reaching the south, and a telegram was received announcing his death.

Young Man Committed Suicide.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 20.—A Ballston special says: "Guyce Burnham, a well known young man who had been missing for four days, was found dead here in an unused room of the fire engine house. He had committed suicide. The body was stiff and frozen to the floor."

St. Paul Fire; Loss, $75,000.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 20.—Fire in St. Anthony Park has gutted the three story brick building of the Union Manufacturing company, causing a loss of $75,000.

NATION, STATE, CITY PAY LAST HONORS

Last Services In St. Paul's Attended by Federal, State and City Representatives—"Now the Laborer's Work Is O'er."

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 20.—The nation, state and home city of Senator Marcus A. Hanna have bestowed upon him its last honors. Funeral services over the remains of the dead statesman were held in St. Paul's Episcopal church, at the corner of Euclid and Case avenues. The casket was taken from the Chamber of Commerce auditorium to St. Paul's church, two miles away. At the head of the column rode a platoon of twelve mounted police, followed by three platoons of Troop A. The hearse with its distinguished dead came next and was followed by 100 carriages carrying the pallbearers and official guests, which included members of President Roosevelt's cabinet, Governor Herrick's staff, the delegations from the senate and house of representatives, members of the Ohio legislature, city officials and delegations from several civic organizations.

Immense throngs of people lined both sides of Euclid avenue from the downtown section to the church entrance. Policemen were on duty all along the thoroughfare, and vehicles of every description were kept off the street during the progress of the funeral cortege.

When the body and its escort reached the church the edifice was closed to all but members of the funeral party. The eight pallbearers, Governor Myron T. Herrick, Samuel Mather, J. B. Zerbe, W. J. McKinnie, A. B. Hough, Andrew Squire, Judge W. B. Sanders and C. A. Grasselli, all prominent friends of the dead senator in his home city, removed the flower covered casket from the hearse and with bared heads bore it into the church and placed it upon the catafalque in front of the altar.

Mrs. Hanna was supported by her son Daniel. The two daughters of Senator Hanna, Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. McCormick, were accompanied by their husbands. H. M. and L. H. Hanna, brothers of the senator, were accompanied by their families. J. Pierpont Morgan, the New York financier, was of the family party and escorted Miss Phelps, a member of the Hanna household.

Immediately following the family and friends came Governor Herrick's staff. Directly behind them came the Washington delegation, comprising Senators Foraker, Perkins, Warren, Fairbanks, Kean, Scott, Beveridge, Kittridge, Cockrell, Martin, McEnery and Wetmore and Representatives Grosvenor, Van Voorhis, Southard, Morgan, Beidler, Cassingham, Hildebrand, Kyle, Snook and Nevin.

Next came Secretary Taft, Secretary Wilson and Secretary Cortelyou, representing President Roosevelt. The Ohio legislature and representatives of the National Civic federation, Loyal Legion of Honor, Sons of the American Revolution and other organizations followed.

President Pierce of Kenyon college read the lesson from First Corinthians, fifteenth chapter, from the twentieth verse to the end of the chapter. "Lead, Kindly Light," a favorite hymn of the senator, was sung by the choir, and then followed an eloquent eulogy by Bishop Leonard.

This was followed by a hymn by the choir, "Forever With the Lord." Dr. McGrew read the creed and prayers, and Bishop Leonard, assisted by Rev. W. H. Jones, followed with the committal service. The anthem "Lord, Let Me Know Thy Name" by the choir and benediction by Bishop Leonard concluded the service. The pallbearers again took up the casket.

As they proceeded down the aisle, followed by the family, the choir sang the recessional "Now the Laborer's Work Is O'er." As the assemblage passed out the organist played the "Dead March" from "Saul."

Long before the church was emptied the body of Senator Hanna, accompanied only by members of the family and Bishop Leonard, was on its way to Lakeview cemetery, where a tender farewell was taken in Wade Memorial chapel. The only service there was a simple prayer by Bishop Leonard. The body was deposited in a crypt in the chapel to await final disposition at the will of the family.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 20.—The coroner's jury inquiring into the cause of the loss of the steamer Clallam and fifty-four lives has delivered a verdict finding Captain Roberts guilty of manslaughter and Chief Engineer Delauney criminally culpable. Delauney is severely censured for negligence and incompetency. Captain Roberts is now in southern California.

Verdict Against Terlinden.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 20.—Judge Tarrant has rendered a verdict for $94,000 against Gerhardt Terlinden, the German absconder arrested in Milwaukee, in favor of the Disconto Gesellschaft of Berlin, which had charged him with misappropriating 400,000 marks. The money was deposited in Milwaukee banks by Terlinden prior to his arrest.

BOSTON, Feb. 20.—A large freight shed on Commercial wharf was destroyed last night by a fire that also burned the potato laden schooner Arabia of Lunenburg, N. S., tied alongside. The total loss is about $20,000.

MASSING AT HARBIN

Russia Preparing to Crush Japan's Land Forces.

WILL SOON HAVE 400,000 MEN ON YALU

Survivor Tells Story of Chemulpo Engagement—Coolness of the Russians Fighting Against Overwhelming Odds.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 20.—There is definite information here that Russian troops to the number of 400,000 are massing in the lower Yalu river. At the Russian base at Harbin, Manchuria, it is said that that number of men will have been distributed through Manchuria within twelve days.

The soldiers are taking all the provisions and fodder of the country, the value of paper money is falling, and an exodus of the demoralized populace has set in. Thousands clamor for transportation to western Russia by the Siberian railroad, which is unable to carry them owing to the demands upon it for the conveyance of troops.

It is expected that general supplies will be adequate for the troops, but for lack of certain lines of provisions, for sugar and for boots and for linen, there will be suffering before new stores can arrive.

Russia's reply to the Hay note has been handed to Ambassador McCormick.

The official Russian account of the battle off Chemulpo says the Variag and Korietz sank a Japanese cruiser and a destroyer and crippled a third warship.

The following account of the fight is from Shanghai by a survivor of one of the Russian ships held on board the French cruiser Pascal:

"A Japanese squadron consisting of six armored cruisers and eight torpedo boats arrived off Chemulpo prior to the declaration of war. Admiral Uriu, commanding the Japanese squadron, requested the cruiser Variag and the torpedo gunboat Korietz to put out to sea, threatening otherwise to attack them at their anchorage. A protest was made by the captains of the French cruiser Pascal, the British cruiser Talbot and the Italian cruiser Elba. The captain of the United States gunboat Vicksburg alone refrained from protesting.

"The heroism displayed by the crews of both the Russian warships so impressed the foreigners present that many of them wept, believing the Russians were going to certain destruction. As the Variag and the Korietz steamed past the foreign war vessels the crews manned the sides and cheered continuously, and the strains of the Russian national anthem accompanied the Russian sailors as they went into battle.

"As soon as the Russian ships approached the mouth of the harbor the Japanese poured out their fire upon them. Every gun took part in the terrific cannonade, which lasted for an hour. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the Variag, severely damaged, and the Korietz returned to their anchorage.

"The Russian officers and crew behaved splendidly. Three times flames broke out on board the Variag while she was under fire, and each time they were extinguished as coolly as if the men had been at drill. The wounded men were carried below, and the members of the crew who lost their lives were replaced by others. The holes made in the Variag by the projectiles of the enemy were not stopped up. The Variag sustained terrible damage. Both starboard and port bulwarks were destroyed, her guns were crippled, and her hull was riddled with shot. Thirty-three men on board of her were killed, including Midshipman Count Nirod. The captain of the Variag was bruised. The Korietz suffered no injury.

"The Japanese squadron lost many men. Two Japanese cruisers were severely damaged, and one torpedo boat was sunk.

"For four hours we remained in the harbor expecting the Japanese to enter and renew the attack. The injuries of the Variag made it impossible for her to fight any longer, and in order to prevent the Japanese from getting the vessels as spoils of war both the Variag and the Korietz were sunk, and the tender Sungari was burned.

"All the Russian survivors of the engagement were taken on board by the foreign warships present excepting the Vicksburg. The Japanese admiral demanded the surrender of these men as prisoners of war, but this the foreign captains chivalrously refused to do."

RUSSIA LIFTS EMBARGO.

Czar Has Abolished Censorship on All Foreign News.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 20.—The Russian government has abolished the censorship upon all news and other telegrams going abroad.

The lifting of the embargo, which has existed for generations, upon the free transmission of news from the Russian empire came as a direct result of consideration of the subject by the czar himself, and in some respects this abolition is regarded here as the most important act since the emancipation of the serfs.

Under a regime allowing perfect freedom to the foreign press it is believed that Russia will soon cease to be constantly subject to underground attack and that she will see herself through honest spectacles.

"For years," said a prominent official, "our country has been the victim of every imaginable slander and misrepresentation because it was known that telegrams addressed to foreign news sources went through the hands of the Russian censor. Any story, no matter how baseless or exaggerated that was sent surreptitiously across the border was greedily accepted abroad, especially by the Russophobes, as true because the government would not put its official stamp upon it. Regular anti-Russian news factories have been in operation in Berlin, Vienna and elsewhere, and these have spread the most absurd and preposterous libels supplied by the enemies of Russia. Every act of the government has been twisted and distorted. Insignificant student affairs or workmen's riots, such as would not attract general attention elsewhere, have been magnified into great movements of popular discontent until certain portions of the world have been led to believe that Russia was perpetually on the eve of a great revolution.

"Some English newspapers especially have conducted systematic campaigns against us. Moreover, the fact that dispatches were censored has often been interpreted as semiofficial authorization, when perhaps they in no sense represented the views of the government. Hereafter the correspondents of foreign newspapers will be untrammeled. We expect to see Russia presented in her true light. The opening of the floodgates may result in the evilly disposed stirring up as much mud as possible at first, but we feel confident that in the end truth will prevail. We are not afraid to have the light turned on. We are proud of our country, and we are entitled to faithful and honest presentation of our current history."

Foreign telegrams until recently were subject to censorship at the ministry of foreign affairs, but since the death last fall of M. Gretch, who was at one time connected with the Russian embassy at Washington, the censorship has been temporarily under the ministry of the interior, where the permanent censor bureau of plays, books and newspapers in Russia is located.

News telegrams addressed to foreign sources originating in the most distant parts of the empire—Vladivostok, for example, or Odessa—were formerly telegraphed to St. Petersburg to be passed on. M. Plehve, minister of the interior, and Count Lamsdorff, the foreign minister, both joined in the recommendation that the censorship be abolished.

The internal censorship is to be retained, but foreign dispatches are to be entirely free. Inasmuch as a state of war exists telegrams from the theater of hostilities will be subject to the same kind of military censorship enforced in all countries under similar circumstances.

NEW CRUISERS WELCOMED.

Shot Torn Flags of Russian Ships Presented to the Mikado.

TOKYO, Feb. 20.—The crews of the Nisshin and Kasuga, the two cruisers purchased by the Japanese government from Italy, were formally received in Tokyo. The men were brought from Yokohama on a special train. There was an enormous crowd of spectators extending from the Shinbashi station along the streets to Sibiyet park, where a garden party was held. Here the sailors were welcomed by Mayor Ozaki, who said they had done more than undertake a perilous journey. They were the bearers and embodiment of the sympathy for Japan of the enlightened west.

Captain Kurakami, commander of the Japanese armored ship Chijoda, has presented the emperor with the shot torn flags of the Russian cruisers Variag and Korietz, which were sunk at Chemulpo. The emperor was much affected. He congratulated the commander and made him the bearer of an affectionate message to the officers and men of the fleet.

The park and surrounding streets were decorated, and there was an illumination. The officers of the cruisers were given a gala dinner.

MAIN BASE AT HARBIN.

Russia Concentrating to Strike a Blow at Japanese Army.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—A representative of the Matin, who has reached the center of the Russian military concentration at Harbin after great hardships due to the Transsiberian railway trains being crowded with thousands of soldiers, in a dispatch dated from Harbin confirms the announcement that that place will be the main base of the Russian land operations.

Thus far the base has succeeded in maintaining its communication with Port Arthur. The concentration of troops proceeds systematically, and provision has been made for the speedy arrival of 120,000 men from the divisions of Moscow, Kiev and Varsovie.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Inclement Weather Has Barred Revival of Business.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Inclement weather alone prevents a definite revival of business. Outdoor work is retarded and traffic impeded to an extent that cannot be accurately measured, but it is obviously sufficient to neutralize the favorable effect of many encouraging factors, while winter wheat is threatened, although not yet definitely injured, and early farm preparations must be postponed. On the other hand, consumption of fuel is abnormally heavy, giving rise to unconfirmed rumors that the usual spring discounts will be omitted and maintaining a large demand for heavy wearing apparel and footwear, especially overshoes. Several leading branches of manufacture are increasing active capacity, and thousands of interior buyers are placing liberal orders at the principal cities.

The usual temporary advantages of war are felt in the markets for staple commodities, notably foodstuffs; but, while this helps the domestic producer, it harms a much larger number by enhancing prices to home consumers. There is little friction between employers and wage earners, except regarding the bituminous scale, but the cause of industrial peace has lost its foremost champion.

Cotton and coffee lost more of the recently inflated quotations, and speculative activity fell to a normal position, but after a large short interest had been created there was covering of short accounts, and prices rose, especially for the May cotton option, which received most attention. Domestic spinners have taken more freely, but exports have fallen below last year's figures. The statistical position is generally considered to warrant prices at 12 or 13 cents.

Wheat attained new high records, May options rising above $1 at this city for the first time since the Leiter corner in 1898. Minor cereals were also forced to much higher prices, followed by irregularity as profits were taken.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for February aggregated $5,344,692, of which $2,004,911 were in manufacturing, $2,515,179 in trading and $824,602 in other commercial lines. For the same period last year liabilities were $6,364,285. Failures this week numbered 287 in the United States against 247 last year and 20 in Canada compared with 26 a year ago.

FIRE ON FLAG OF TRUCE.

Dominican Rebels Punished by Our Warship.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 20.—The Cuban steamer Julia, which has arrived here from Santo Domingo, and the French steamer St. Simon, at this port from Puerta Plata, Santo Domingo, both report that General Jiminez, the Dominican revolutionary leader, has been completely routed, that his whereabout is unknown and that his cause is hopeless.

The recent fight at Pajarito, near Santo Domingo, was caused by revolutionists firing on a flag of truce carried by Americans, landed from a warship, who were going to consult with persons ashore. The Americans, it is asserted, retaliated and scattered the insurgents. No international complications are expected.

Santo Domingo city orders its provisions from Porto Rico direct, the supplies of that capital being exhausted.

SIXTEEN WERE SHOT

Fatal Poolroom Raid at Madison, Ill.

FIFTY CITIZENS USE SHOTGUNS

After Grand Jury Failed to Indict People Took the Law Into Their Own Hands In an Endeavor to Close Out Gamblers.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 20.—It is just reported that in a raid on a poolroom at Madison, Ill., sixteen persons have been shot, two fatally. Fifty or more citizens of Madison, armed with shotguns, left the main part of the town a few minutes before 5 o'clock for the Madison poolroom. They were under the leadership of three constables and declared they were going to repeat the effort to raid the poolroom made earlier in the afternoon. A few minutes before they left they received a message from the poolroom saying the police had the bookmakers, sheet writers and others under arrest and that if the constables and the posse made any effort to arrest them there would be bloodshed. The message was said to have come from the policemen at the poolroom, where the race results were being received and the betting was going on.

The raid was an effort to close up a poolroom that has for a long time operated in the outskirts of Madison, Ill., across the river from St. Louis. Three constables, augmented by a posse of citizens and bearing warrants for the arrest of six men connected with the poolroom, precipitated the riot, which resulted in the shooting of seven men. Two may die.

Lee Harlan, druggist, and Patrick McCambridge, policeman, were wounded probably mortally.

After the failure of the Madison county grand jury, which recently investigated the poolroom, to return indictments citizens took the matter in hand, with the intention of having the poolroom closed. Several days ago warrants were issued for State Senator David Nelson of Missouri, charging him with being a pool seller, and Victor Schuler, charging him with conducting the poolroom and being custodian of the funds. Schuler was arrested and gave bond of $500 pending a hearing.

The additional warrants were sworn out, and three constables appeared at the poolroom to serve them. Two policemen were within and declared they had arrested the operators of the poolroom and were guarding them. Betting was going on as usual at the time. The constables were ordered to leave the premises, which they did after argument. Proceeding through the neighborhood for the next half hour, the constables organized a posse of armed citizens numbering about fifty persons. The constables and posse then returned to the poolroom and entered. They were at once ordered out, and the doors were ordered locked. The posse demurred, and words followed. One posseman, it is stated, pointed a shotgun at Policeman McCambridge, who fired a revolver into the ceiling. Firing then became general. The policeman was shot through the body.

The crowd in the poolroom scattered hurriedly, many fleeing into a waiting Illinois Central train until it became packed. When the fusillade was over, the constables and posse had possession. The bookmakers, however, assert that the poolroom will be open as usual today. Although the poolroom men are now constructively under arrest, the police say they will not permit the citizens to interfere.

Warrants were sworn out before Justice of the Peace Isenmeyer of Granite City, adjoining Madison, for the arrest of Whitfield Brooks and Eugene Wall of Granite City and Thomas Riley, Charles Greenfield, Thomas Manley and Martin Johns of St. Louis, charging them with being connected with the trouble.

Cowboys Plead Self Defense.

NORTON, Kan., Feb. 20.—Motions to discharge Chauncey Dewey and McBride and Wilson, his cowboys, on trial for the murder of Burchard Berry, having been overruled, the defense opened its side of the case. State Senator Hessin, attorney for the defendants, said it would be shown that Dewey and his men had gone to the Berrys' on the fatal day upon a peaceful mission, that the three Berry boys had opened fire upon them simultaneously and that they had returned the fire in self defense. It would also be shown, he asserted, that some one had refilled Burchard Berry's revolver and cleaned the barrel after he had been killed.

Election Frauds Not by Women.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Former Congressman John L. Shafroth of Colorado, who resigned his seat because of election frauds in Denver, denies that these frauds were committed mainly by women. In an interview Mr. Shafroth said: "Of the persons implicated very few were women—not more than one in ten at the outside. The frauds were committed in the lowest part of Denver, where not many women live. The incident was not characteristic of the women voting in Colorado, and it is preposterous to make it an argument against woman suffrage."

Emperor William's Gift.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The first week in October next will witness the dedication of the statue of Frederick the Great, the gift of Emperor William to the United States, which is to be placed in the War college grounds. The site will be on the terrace near the walls of the War college.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 20, 1904.

Washington, N. J., man has a flying machine. There's a whole lot of Democratic "Presidential possibilities" who deserve seats in it.

February 22, the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, being a legal holiday, The Daily Press will not be published on Monday.

Professor George Ryan says that he is proud of being a citizen of New Brunswick. We merely draw attention to the fact to show that some people are easily satisfied.

When you get a good man in office, keep him there. Competant men are scarce in political offices, but Plainfield and North Plainfield have been singularly blessed with trustworthy and efficient public servants. The complimentary word uttered by the expert accountant who examined the books of the treasurer and collector for North Plainfield, George F. Brown, are entirely deserved. Mr. Brown is possessed of every qualification necessary in discharging the duties of the offices he holds and he is a man that makes use of those qualifications.

PAYING GOOD WAGES.

Girls at Local Skirt Factory Entered in a Competition.

What is believed to be a record breaker for the amount of work turned out by an operator in the skirt manufactory of Herzig & Kapp, on Watchung avenue, is held by Miss Pauline Hamilton, who is known in the shop as "Operator No. 5." In thirteen and a half days she made $28 40 working on piece scale, which is equivalent to $2.10 a day. This is the highest amount ever made by an operator at that factory and, it is believed, of any in the city.

This enterprising firm has established a merit system in the shop and this is the result of the first month's trial. A spirit of friendly rivalry has been encouraged in this shop between the operators. Some of the operators have decided to eclipse this record held by Miss Hamilton.

James Moore, who was injured in a recent runaway accident, is improving.

R. M. Fountain, district clerk of the Borough School Board, is quite ill at his home in Jackson avenue, with an attack of erysipelas.

Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, has returned from New York State, where he and his wife were called by the severe illness of Mrs. Howard's mother. The patient is now convalescing. Mrs. Howard will remain with her mother until she recovers.

Church Notes.

The finest city and village Churches are painted with the Longman & Martinez Paints, and we want every Church to accept our donation whenever they paint.

8 & 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M. and mix six gallons of pure Linseed Oil with it, making actual cost of paint about $1.20 per gallon.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a label on it.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of Linseed Oil mixed therewith.

Wears and covers like gold.

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Woolston & Buckle, Plainfield; H. C. Meyer, Scotch Plains.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES

Chicago Has an Abundance of Them to Deal With.

SERIOUS CONDITIONS FOR 1904

Municipal Expenses Are Increasing and the City's Revenue Is Decreasing—The Town Too Big for Its Pocketbook.

Chicago.—How to make one dollar do the work of two is the problem that confronts the officials of Chicago this year. The various departments have asked for appropriations totaling $18,000,000. The revenue of the city for the year will amount to but a little more than $9,000,000.

Mayor Carter H. Harrison.

For years the city has scrimped and saved in a vain effort to make both ends meet. The charter of the city does not permit more than a very limited indebtedness. There is no way of bonding the city so that future generations will have to pay for present needs, though it is proposed to present to the voters of the state at the next election for members of the state legislature a new charter for the city which will permit a municipal indebtedness not to exceed five per cent. of the full value of all the property within the city limits. Without some such relief the city is on the high road to the bow-wows.

Dirty streets, inadequate fire and police protection, a complicated and expensive form of government is some of the ills from which the city is suffering, and for which there appears to be no immediate remedy. All of these things existed last year when the city had $11,500,000 for corporate purposes, and ended the year about $1,000,000 in debt besides—a debt of unpaid bills.

The difference between last year and this is just about 20 per cent. But that 20 per cent. must be saved principally by a reduction in the number of employes in such departments as the police, the fire, the street cleaning, etc., rather than in the reduction of official salaries, which are fixed by law. The $105,000 paid the aldermen as salaries, the $10,000 paid the mayor, and all the other official salaries will be paid as usual.

Too Much Territory.

Chicago's greatest difficulty is its size. The town is too large in area for the value of its assessable property. The city limits enclose 122,240 square acres, or 191 square miles of territory. On the property within this area the equalized valuation is $411,424,280. The valuation on half that territory in New York city proper is double that amount, and the rate of taxes is considerably higher.

Walking a Rural Police Beat.

Chicago's 122,240 square acres would make a good sized Texas ranch, and within it may be found a number of fair sized Illinois farms.

Western avenue is the longest street in the city. It extends for 22 miles north and south within the corporate limits, and both ends of it are but a country road running through productive corn fields and extensive garden patches. Yet these farms and gardens are a part of Chicago and entitled to police protection.

Just what proportion of the $2,863,000 expended by the police department last year was devoted to the giving of police protection to these farms is hard to say, but it was no inconsiderable amount. Of the 2,863 policemen in the city a goodly number are engaged in walking beats in the rural districts. A standing punishment for slovenliness on the part of the patrolman is assignment to one of these rural beats where he will find but little company other than the farm animals or the dairy maids. The crossing policeman of the business district who fails to keep his trousers pressed and his shoes polished suffers banishment for a time to the farming districts, where he must wade through the mud of unpaved streets and break paths through the snow drifts of winter.

Paved and Unpaved Streets.

That portion of Chicago that is as densely populated as large cities are generally supposed to be is fairly well cared for in the way of paved streets and alleys. It is the abutting property owners who must pay the bills for these improvements, and so the work progresses as the population grows.

Going to a Farm-House Fire.

Some idea of what the farm section of Chicago amounts to may thus be had from the statement that of the 4,173 miles of streets and alleys in the city, only 1,375 are paved, the remaining 2,800 being dirt roads, not even up to the general country standard. On the south, especially, these dirt roads wind through native forests that have as yet hardly resounded with the ring of the woodman's ax, save where the early homesteader made his clearing. In these forests the enterprising subdivider has platted town lots and erected wooden dwellings for sale or rent. A scattering population live in these, and, like the farmers of the city, are entitled to the luxuries of city government.

Fire protection is one the things these scattering settlements and the farmers are supposed to have, and they get as good as the city can give. A proportionate number of the 1,413 fire alarm boxes of the city are scattered through these districts, and there is scarcely a day passes but one or more of the 125 fire engines are sent plowing through the mud or snow to reach an isolated farmhouse fire.

The city employes in its fire department 1,175 men, at a cost of $1,699,000 annually. The underwriters of the city complain bitterly of a lack of fire protection, and to give adequate protection Chief Musham asks for $500,000 more this year than he had last. Instead of this increase, however, he must manage to get along with more than $300,000 less, and if he is to accomplish this it may be expected that more farm houses will burn in 1904 than were destroyed by fire in 1903, as the tendency is to leave the farms to shift for themselves and revert to the bucket brigades of the olden days.

A City of Hustlers.

But, though hampered by inefficient laws, a charter that is more applicable to a village than a city of 2,000,000 people, and burdened with a vast, and partly sparsely populated territory, that means more expense than revenue, Chicago is making the most of every advantage, laughs at its hardships, does the best that it can under adverse circumstances and hustles to better them.

The Lighting of Country Roads.

The severe criticism that fell upon the building commissioner's department because of the Iroquois fire caused a request for the employment of more inspectors on the part of that official. Instead of more he must get along with less.

The police department has claimed that much of the reign of crime with which the city has struggled for some months was due in part to inefficient lighting, and that department of the city government wanted more money so that the number of lights might be increased. It will get 20 per cent. less. Here, again, the farming districts of the city prove expensive. They are within the city limits and must be lighted. The city is paying for 5,282 electric lights, 24,828 gas lights and 6,068 gasoline lights every night. Many of the first two classes and practically all of the last class are found in the farm districts. It is no unusual thing to find a long line of lights shedding their rays on a farm yard, a wheat or corn field, or a garden patch. The gasoline lamps are strung along country roads over which the night traveler is an exception rather than the rule, but the roads are inside the corporate limits. It is an evidence that the city is growing in territory faster than she is growing in assessable wealth.

That the dirty streets will have to be born with is evidenced from the fact that the $1,282,000 which failed to keep them clean last year has this year dwindled to about an even $1,000,000.

Enforcing the Law.

The agitation for a strict enforcement of law which followed the Iroquois theater fire is bringing results. One law which it seemed impossible to enforce was the midnight closing of the saloons of the city. For a time it looked very much as though the saloon element was predominant, and the element opposed to their doors being open all night helpless, but they close now sharply at midnight.

The Law Is Strictly Enforced.

The city has more than 7,000 saloons, and it is safe to say that of this number there is less than one dozen that can be found open after the stroke of 12. Whether this is but one of the city's periodical virtuous spells, or whether it will last is yet to be seen. Efforts have been made to accomplish the same results before, but there has always been determined violators who seemed to have sufficient pull to keep them out of the hands of the authorities, and permit them to run as they pleased.

The present crusade has driven from the city a number of the noted saloon characters of the levee districts. "Mushmouth" Johnson, a colored tough, is typical of these. After a fight extending over several months his license was revoked and he was forced out of business and out of the city. Another persistent violator was a saloon and restaurant located near Thirty-ninth street and Cottage Grove avenue on the South side. It not only kept its doors open all night, but it was filled with private drinking rooms for months after they had been placed under the ban. An influential police officer was interested in the place, and it was in his own district, but after it had been the scene of several stirring scandals its "pull" failed to work, and its license was revoked. It is now open again, but minus the private rooms, and its doors close at midnight.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

ROSE HERE, HEROINE.

A Fisherwoman Who Piloted Shipwrecked Sailors to Safety.

An English newspaper gives silver medals to those performing brave and humane acts wherever and whoever the people are. Recently the medal was awarded to Rose Here, a humble, modest fisherwoman of the island of Ushant, near the coast of Brittany, France.

Winds sweep across the Atlantic from the west and strike the west coast of Europe with fury. Along all this coast the ocean strikes the rocks with whirlpool violence, boiling with foam. Reefs, always hidden at high tide or in high wind, lurk in wait for ships that approach unwary or are driven by gales toward the shore. It is a coast as dangerous as that of western North America.

The western extremity of France, in the department of Finistere, is Brittany, or Bretagne, whose people wrest their livelihood from the sea. Bretagne was an ancient Roman province. Its inhabitants are a people to themselves, of the Celtic race, speaking a language of their own. Druid monuments stand to this day as survivals of the olden religion of the Bretons—nay, Bretons themselves are still given to superstitions that were religious beliefs 2,000 years ago. Their very dress is different from that of other civilized folk. It is picturesque and many colored. Bretons are a powerfully built dark race, rather short of stature, noted for their courage and robust health. Apparently a woman is as good as a man among the Bretons, for women, too, go out fishing and till the little fields.

The Bretons have overflowed their native province and spread themselves upon adjacent islands. The Ushant group occupies the very western tip of France off the Bretagne coast. The largest of the group is named also Ushant.

In a cottage on the rough coast lives Rose Here all alone. She has a tiny plot of land attached to her cottage, and this she cultivates in the times when she is not out upon the sea in her boat fishing. With the gardening and the fishing Rose earns her living. She is a single woman forty years old.

One morning about 8 o'clock Rose Here in her cottage on the Ushant coast happened to be looking out over the sea toward Runion cliff. She says:

"I heard from the sea shouts for help. The cry was like that of people in despair. I looked and saw that the cries came from men in a little boat. The boat was being pitched about among the reefs and currents till it seemed every moment in danger of being knocked to pieces."

It did not occur to Rose Here to run out and find some men who would go to the rescue of the shipwrecked men. She did not wait long enough to think to do that. What she did was this, as she tells in her own words:

"I ran down to the rocks, threw off my outer garments and swam out to the men. There were in the boat M. Coursol, master of the shipwrecked steamer Vesper, and thirteen of his crew. They had no idea where they were and had been tossing about for five hours.

"I got into the boat and piloted them through the reefs, which I knew by heart, into the little bay of Pen-ar-roch, lying about two hours' journey from Runion, and here the shipwrecked men got ashore without trouble."

That is all the story as the modest, humble woman told it. Her name is Rose Here, but it ought to be Rose Hero.

You see her picture here, that of a woman who is an "old maid" and poor, getting her living by the hardest kind of manual labor, dangerous labor at that. And yet would you not rather be Rose Here than the richest, handsomest woman of fashion, who spends three or four hours a day in bodily adornment? I would.

The newspaper sent its silver medal to Rose Here. The owners of the Vesper were asked to give a substantial money reward to the woman who saved its captain and part of its crew; the British consul at Brest, Finistere, has sent a gift of money to Mlle. Here, and the story of the deed has been told to the French minister of marine. This was an act so brave, so heroic and so merciful that hardly any words can describe it, an act so great that it belittles and causes to look mean all the blazonry of the fashionable woman's life. It has been found, too, that this was not the first time Rose Here had helped shipwrecked sailors.

If you contemplate the face you will see beauty in it, a beauty to be perceived by those who know and understand—the supreme beauty of goodness and soul force. It is a face quiet and strong. The figure itself expresses the grand repose of power.

GOSSIP OF NEW YORK

How the Metropolis Has Taken to Various Antiquities.

THREE WASHINGTON RELICS

The Jamel Mansion to Be Preserved —Auction Sales of Art Treasures and the People Who Buy Them.

New York.—To the country at large George Francis Train was almost a forgotten name. Yet the old philosopher of the Mills hotel had been in his day philanthropist, merchant prince, promoter, ship owner, real estate capitalist. He had introduced tram cars into England. In France he had faced and cowed the commune.

Train and the Children.

Train was eccentric and grew more so as his years advanced. Yet Dr. Spitzka, who examined his brain after death, says that it was not only of unusual size, but that it had not shrunken at all, indicating that its owner had retained his mental power unimpaired. The size of Train's brain was twenty-sixth in a list of men of unsual mental power. Tourgenieff was first on that list, Ben Butler Sixth, Daniel Webster, with his imperial presence and his apparently great dome of thought, Webster, whom Sydney Smith named "a steam engine in breeches," had fewer ounces of brain matter than the old philosopher, who lived out his days in a 15-cent lodging hotel.

Train lived so long that he had time for many things. In his 20 years of retirement he found occasion to go round the world in 80 days while that was still a feat. For years he sat every fine day in Madison square, talking only with children, thus preserving his "psychic force," refusing to touch any human being for fear of losing personality.

I know the people who arranged with Train for the publication of his book. Sitting in his little cell-like room at the Mills hotel, he dictated the entire volume in a few sessions to a perspiring stenographer. Never did he pause for a name, a date. At the close of a week Train was fresh, the stenographer in a collapse, the book on paper in pothooks. Nothing more was needed.

The Jumel Mansion.

Whether the Colonial Dames or the Daughters of the Revolution win in their fight for its possession, the Jumel house is to be a permanent exhibit. With the old Fraunces tavern, in whose long, low dining-room Washington bade farewell to his officers of the revolution, and which is now to be put in its ancient form as shown in contemporary engravings, the Jumel house will be one of our three principal Washington relics of colonial architecture. Hamilton Grange, whence Alexander Hamilton went forth to cross the Hudson to Weehawken, there to lose his life to Burr in a duel, is no longer recognizable. Up to a few years ago the 13 trees Hamilton set out for the 13 states, according to the legend, were still standing within an iron fence. They were all living. Two or three were big and flourishing. One, Little Rhody, perhaps, had never grown much. The third and perhaps the finest reminder of old days is the Phillipse mansion, where Washington vainly courted Mary Phillipse. This is now the Yonkers City hall, beautifully preserved; it is proposed to make it a state charge to preserve it.

Disturbing the Ghosts.

The Jumel house was before the revolution that of Col. Roger Morris, Washington's successful rival for Mary Phillipse's favor. To this mansion he intended to bring the lady, but when the war broke out Morris sided with the tories, and took his bride to England. In the house he left Washington made his "headquarters" until driven from the city by the British.

The Tory Morris' property was confiscated by the nation. The British government compensated Morris in part, and the "original" John Jacob Astor bought up the claims of the Morris heirs. He sold the house and home acres to Jumel, a Frenchman, whose widow long survived him. In her old age she married Aaron Burr. So that with this old house on the heights are associated the names of many men and women prominent in American history.

The Picture Auctions.

About this time the old New Yorker, according to his almanac of experience, looks out for picture auctions. The distributions of galleries, the sales of the effects of artists who have died or been unfortunate are usually reserved for midwinter and early spring. Death more than misfortune favors high prices. The remaining pictures of the late J. Wells Champney were recently sold in this manner, bringing prices considerably above what they would have commanded under other circumstances. Prices given in the exhibition catalogues are considerably higher than the market price as fixed by the auction sales. It is assumed that anyone who buys a picture in an artist's studio or at an exhibition is in his modest way a patron of the arts, and that he can afford to pay for art's support. Hence an artist will avoid the "studio sale" as long as he can, or at best will intrust to the block no more examples of his work than are absolutely necessary to buy bread and butter, for fear of depressing his prices.

The Auctioneer.

The dispersal of galleries is a different matter. It is instructive to see how quickly the fashions in pictures change. Enter an auction room where are displayed the "art treasures" of a man who has outlived his greatest collecting activities, and a glance along the walls will reveal the smudgy look of the pictures that were fashionable 25 years ago. Modern impressionism has changed the very atmosphere of the picture galleries. Light has followed darkness.

Paintings—"straight oil" work—are little sought except in the case of acknowledged masters. About the most popular little exhibition I have seen this winter was of a small group of Whistler etchings. The death of the artist had furnished the needed note. The supply was now definitely limited. It is curious to see how this limitation affects prices. In his later years Whistler adopted a policy of printing a small number of etchings from each plate and destroying it. The merest bits treated in this manner are now priced at $300 and $400 because of each perhaps only 30 or 35 copies were made. The artist's earlier work, printed in larger editions and far more interesting to artists as illustrating the earlier manner of a great master of design and stroke can in a few cases be had under $100.

Auction Room Flotsam.

The auction season sees every year ten times as much value in miscellaneous articles as in pictures disposed of. Rugs, antique furniture, Chinese and Japanese ceramics, embroideries and the like interest an amazing number of people. I have seen stern old Gen. Sickles stumping along on what Gettysburg left of his leg, taking the keenest interest in a Sheraton cabinet. Charles A. Dana, who was as big in physique as in mind, was an enthusiast. He owned a "peach-blow vase" only less perfect and valuable than the famous one that at the Morgan sale brought $10,000—something like $2,000 for each inch of its height. R. W. DeForest, the retiring tenement house commissioner, is a collector of Japanese bronzes.

The Furniture Sale.

With women there has been a great increase of recent interest in colonial furniture, bedspreads, "samplers" and other homely antiquities. It is a taste nurtured by the many books which deal with colonial life and domestic ways. The old towns of Connecticut, New Jersey and Long Island are a storehouse of such treasures. In few places in the world has time stood still withal as it has done in some of the quiet homesteads upon the eastern end of Long island. The Admiral Nicol Ludlow estate near Oakdale, which was recently sold after being 200 years in one family, was an instance. When William K. Vanderbilt with ruthless hand tore down a dozen fine old farm houses to make way for his suburban estate the auctions of old furniture which resulted were a remarkable revelation of unsuspected riches.

A Game Club in the Suburbs.

This passion for great landed estates near the city, where they must inevitably interfere with its growth, is having another unfortunate illustration just now in the formation of Mr. Rockefeller's Tarrytown Gun club. Headed by the two Rockefellers, a number of the very wealthy men of Tarrytown have joined to purchase rifles and hire keepers who will make it hot for poachers and trespassers. The region to be thus protected lies 30 miles as the crow flies from the Battery and only 12 miles from the city line. It overlooks the thriving village of Tarrytown, whose citizens are so completely hemmed in by big estates which cut off improvements, defy trolley cars and monopolize water courses that a committee of his fellow townsmen petitioned Mr. Rockefeller very meekly a few months ago to let the village have water, the first necessity of life, after air, from his land. The outcome of that petition is yet uncertain.

The American Gamekeeper.

William Rockefeller has had some experience with game keepers and poachers in the Adirondacks, where at the time of the Dexter murder he was threatened by wandering fishermen, and where when the forest fires were devastating his land he could hire no one of the neighbors to fight them. It remains to be seen how the experiment of hiring men to guard suburban lands from simple trespass will work.

OWEN LANGDON.

No Doubt About It.

"Uncle," said the high school young man, "is 'politics' singular or plural?"

"Sonny," was the reply, "in de paht of de country whah I come f'um dey's sing'lar, mighty sing'lar."—Washington Star.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

A new president of the Western Golf association has been elected in the person of B. Franklin Cummins, of Chicago. Allan L. Reid was named as vice president. Mr. Cummins, who was vice president last year, is recognized as a strong golfer himself and is a wise executive, having made a good record as president of the Highland Park club. He formerly played at the Washington Park club and was one of the best players on the South Side club. Edward P. Martin, the retiring president, has been an officer of the Western Golf association ever since its organization. The remainder of the ticket named is as follows: Treasurer, L. L. McArthur, Glen View club; secretary, George A. Carpenter, Onwentsia club; directors, E. C. Potter, Midlothian; Steward Stickney, St. Louis Country club; John S. Sweeney, Detroit Country club; John D. Cady, Rock Island Golf club; H. J. Leavitt, Omaha Country club.

B. Franklin Cummins.

There has been a great deal of talk recently regarding future international golf matches. Since the very successful visit of the Oxford and Cambridge team last season the impression is gathering ground that the American golfers should return the compliment and send a team abroad at an early date. Leading golfers have discussed the matter only among themselves informally, but the effort to have the United States Golf Association send over a team under its auspices is admitted to be the only way a representative American team could be picked and receive the official standing on foreign links necessary to a well-conducted series of international matches. President Windeler is thoroughly in earnest over the subject, and he has been in conference with J. L. Low, captain of the Oxford-Cambridge team, regarding the matter. The idea is to arrange for annual international golf matches. Among English golfers the proposition has been discussed with considerable favor, although the difficulties of complete success are recognized. It may not prove altogether an easy matter to give effect to this proposal. A British team visiting America would need to be away at least three weeks, and it might not always be possible for the best amateurs to be absent for so long a period. But the difficulties no doubt will be overcome, and it goes without saying that the matches will excite the keenest interest on either side of the Atlantic. International rivalry at sports and pastimes makes wholly for good, and is no unimportant factor in encouraging friendly feelings between the two nations.

In speaking of the value of a college ball player recently, Frank C. Selee, manager of the Chicago National league team, and regarded as one of the best judges of players in the country, said that if a man was good with the bat he did not hold his college training against him. This joke of Selee's devising really reflects, quite accurately, the general feeling among professional managers concerning the college players. A few years ago the college stamp marked a young player as being so desirable that the magnates broke their own backs hustling to get the college lads. Phenomenal college pitchers received phenomenal salary offers, and the craze lasted for three or four seasons, when the managers came to the conclusion that the collegians were nice young men, but that the boys from the vacant lots had the better baseball material in their hides. "It's a funny fact," said Mr. Selee, "that the brainiest collegian is often at a loss to work out thinking plays which an uneducated 'kid' off the lots turns like a flash. This means, therefore, that college education and baseball sense are not the same. I have seen a college player who ranked with the topnotchers in an educational way stand and hold a ball, utterly bewildered, while the uneducated fellows right and left of him knew just what to do, how it should be done, and were frantically calling on the collegian to take action. I don't think Lajoie or Wagner ever saw a college unless when a train rolled by one. Lajoie was a hackman and Wagner was a butcher, I believe. Quite a few good players have been developed in recent years from the little colleges around the country, but few from the big universities, and, for that matter, the managers have quit looking for them at Yale, Princeton and Harvard. The reason for this is simple. Young men, who attend the little colleges are usually hard-working chaps who appreciate the value of money, and, if they see they are good enough to play ball and increase their income, are glad to seize the chance. The boy who goes to Yale or Harvard is generally of a wealthy family, and, no matter how fine a player he may be, is too well fixed financially to need or wish to follow the professional game after graduation."

Frank C. Selee.

The meeting of the baseball magnates of the big leagues which took place at San Francisco recently resulted in the Pacific Coast league being taken into the Minor Leagues association.

Tom Sharkey won in the wrestling bout with John Piening before the Criterion Athletic club at Boston recently. Piening contracted to throw the sailor three times within an hour. Piening got the first fall in 16 minutes, and the second in 34 minutes, but failed to get a third.

Eloquent Clergyman.

Rev. Dr. A. S. Crapsey, who is announced to speak at Grace Protestant Episcopal church on Wednesday evening next, is conceded to be one of the most original minds in the Episcopal church today, and a speaker of considerable power. Those who were interested will remember that Dr. Crapsey was one of the speakers at the Congress of Religion held in the Charity Organization Society's building, New York, some three years ago. His address on Civic Righteousness given then received considerable notice. Dr. Crapsey began his work in the ministry in Trinity Parish, New York, but has for many years been the head of very active work as rector of St. Andrew's church, Rochester, N. Y. During his week in Plainfield, he will also preach each day at noon in Philadelphia.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Democratic county committee named its standing committees for the ensuing year and adopted the proposed amendments to its constitution at its meeting in Elizabeth last night. There was some idea of planning a banquet for Jefferson's birthday, April 13, but the idea did not receive unanimous approval.

Senator Jackson, of Middlesex County, has introduced a bill in the Legislature, which creates a police court in second-class cities having a population of more than 50,000, and provides for the appointment of a judge of the court by the Common Council for a term of either three or five years, at a salary of not less than $1,500 nor more than $2,500 a year, the judge to be an attorney or counsellor at law. The bill proposes to give the judge jurisdiction to try all cases of assault and battery, petit larceny and other offenses where the punishment prescribed by law does not exceed six months' imprisonment or $100 fine.

Ex-Congressman DeWitt Clinton Flanagan lost a live pigeon shooting match at Dover on Wednesday. Mr. Flanagan, it is stated, is to be a candidate for Congress again next fall, and the Trenton Times suggests that "here will be an opportunity for the voters who are opposed to such cruelty in the guise of 'sport' to manifest their opposition. Union, Warren and Morris Counties ought to defeat Flanagan by 10,000; he was defeated by only 1,140 in 1902. And if there are any other live pigeon shooters nominated, they should get the same dose, whether they are Democrats or Republicans."—Elizabeth Journal.

UP AND DOWN THE STATE

There has been a presentation of another historic flag, it being the one carried by the late Edward Manning Estabrooke, of the First Maine Cavalry, when the regiment rode through this (?) city on its way to Washington in 1861. The donor is a woman, and the recipient is Ulric Dahlgren Post, No. 25, Grand Army of the Republic. The flag, which was presented to the regiment previous to its departure for the seat of war, was in the possession of Mr. Estabrooke up to the time of his death, December 22, 1903, and was kept by him as a valued treasure up to the day of his death.

ADVENTURE OF AN AUTO.

Dark Green Devil Loses Bar of Steel Out of Its Vitals and Never Misses It.

The automobile certainly does not break down so often as it did. In fact it is a rare thing now, or at least an unusual thing, to see a red devil halted with its horns drawn meekly in, while somebody tinkers at its vitals. But things do happen, says the New York Sun, to these demons still, occasionally; and some of them queer things; as for instance:

Here was an auto devil, a husky looking dark green devil, humping along at a good lively gait down Seventh avenue above the park, on the snow. Just after this dark green devil, still a-humpin', had passed the south crossing at One Hundred and Sixteenth street, there dropped out from the under side of it something like a greatly enlongated axle box; or like a two and a half foot length of iron pipe, or like a bar of steel, or like a spare axle. It must have been pretty hot when it got loose from wherever it belonged in the demon's interior, for when it struck the snow it sent up a little cloud of steam.

The dark green devil never missed the thing, whatever it was, a bit. It just kept right along; but three or four men who saw it in the snow shouted to the driver of the auto and he got the curb on the devil when he was half a block below, and jumped out and came running back and picked up the bar of steel, and ran back with it to the auto, and got in himself and cast off the brake and turned on the power and went on a-humping as before

REV. DR. WORTMAN AT TRINITY REFORMED

President of General Synod Preached at Morning and Evening Services Sunday.

GIFTED AS A MINISTER

FIRST ADDRESS IN BEHALF OF DISABLED MINISTERS AND WIDOWS.

"Patriotic Indebtedness to the Netherlands," the Subject of His Discourse at Night—Desired a Certain Sum From Congregation.

A large congregation was present at Trinity Reformed church, Sunday morning and evening to hear Rev. Dr. Denis Wortman, an able divine. Dr. Wortman is president of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, and is known as an author, poet and preacher. In the morning he spoke in behalf of the Disabled Ministers' and Widows' fund and his earnest words stimulated a greater interest among those present for this work. Dr. Wortman referred in condemnatory terms of the present-day tendency of churches in general to get rid of a pastor who is advanced in years and secure a younger man for the pulpit.

He said that in the business world a man with experience is the most to be desired. By way of illustration he pointed to instances where men after serving a long time in the judiciary and having been retired their services and advice are eagerly sought after. In his opinion the minister who is ripe in years, experience and Christian living is more valuable than the young man and should be regarded as such by a congregation.

In the evening he delivered a sermon on the subject "Our Patriotic Indebtedness to the Netherlands," during which he held the closest attention. His earnest plea in behalf of greater patriotism for this country could not help but arouse a deep feeling in the hearts of all. During the services, the choir rendered one of Dr. Wortman's compositions.

In the morning after the sermon the annual collection for the object represented by Dr. Wortman was received, a goodly sum being contributed. The preacher desired that Trinity Reformed church contribute $75 annually toward the Disabled Ministers' and Widows' fund and no doubt this will be done. In the evening a large American flag was used to decorate the pulpit.

NOW MRS. J. S. VOORHEES

MISS CORNELIA MILLER WEDDED AT HOME, TWO MINISTERS OFFICIATING.

Miss Cordelia Miller, daughter of the late Theodore J. Miller, and J. Stanley Voorhees, of 888 Carlton avenue, were quietly married Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride on Park avenue, in the presence of only the immediate relatives, owing to the recent death of the bride's father. There were no attendants. The home was simply, but prettily decorated with palms and flowers.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, assisted by the groom's cousin, Rev. A. A. Murphy, of New Brunswick. Following the ceremony, there was a wedding repast, after which the couple left for a short trip in the South.

The bride and groom are both actively engaged in the work of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. The groom is engaged in business in New York, and has been a resident of this city several years.

No Cause of Action.

By a twelve-man jury a verdict of no cause for action was returned in the case of Andrew F. Marsh against Albert C. Brown, on contract, in Justice Huff's court Friday afternoon. William Newcorn, Esq., represented the plaintiff and Hetfield & Hetfield the defendant.

HOPE'S PATRIOTIC SERVICE

SUNDAY-SCHOOL PUPILS HOLD A SPECIAL CELEBRATION.

Special patriotic services were held by the Sunday-school of Hope Memorial chapel Sunday afternoon. Hymns, responsive readings and addresses made up the programme. Rev. Lawrence R. Howard, of the chapel, gave an interesting address on Patriotism and Ira W. Travell read an extract from one of Rev. Dr. William R. Richards' lectures on Christian Patriotism. A pretty feature of the exercises was the part taken by the children of the primary department who were drilled by Mrs. Noble C. King. Fifteen of them marched about the platform each bearing a banner with a letter inscribed, the whole spelling out "God Bless America." "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" was sung by the entire primary class and the same hymn sung by the entire school closed the services.

BOYS CELEBRATED THE DAY

OBSERVANCE OF THE DAY BY THE Y. M. C. A. JUNIOR DEPARTMENT.

Washington's birthday was appropriately observed yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. Hall by a patriotic concert given by the members of the boys' department, assisted by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra. Many of the moving pictures and illustrated songs of the Edison Projectoscope Company, the Star Course entertainers in the evening, were included in the programme. The music was excellent, the pictures inspiring, and the illustrated songs, partly sentimental and partly patriotic in tone, were very much of a success. The programme:

Overture, Grand American Fantasia, Bendix; "Star Spangle Banner," 71st N. G. N. PRIMARIES NEXT WEEK

ELSTON M. FRENCH NOT LIKELY TO RUN FOR ASSESSORSHIP.

Citizens' Party Has No Definite Plans to Announce—Walter Linbarger It is Reported Wants An Office—Political Gossip.

Francis J. Blatz, Esq., will be the running mate of Charles L. Nichols on the Councilmanic ticket of the Republicans in North Plainfield, according to the party leaders. Mr. Blatz will succeed James P. Northrop, who declines a renomination, unless the proposed citizens' party will be strong enough to defeat the present administration at the coming election. It is reported that John P. Emmons will be named by the Republicans for assessor. Elston M. French is not likely to accept a nomination for that office again and the Democrats, who propose to adopt a fusion ticket, will select another man for the place. It is said that Walter Linbarger is after a nomination for the office.

The Republicans will hold their primaries next week, but the exact date has not been set. It is said that no one has been slated for justice of the peace, there being two vacancies to fill by expiration of terms. The proposed citizens' party has given out no information as to its plans, although it is claimed that representative men will be on the fusion ticket.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

SCENES FROM THE HOUSE BOAT ON THE STYX PROVED ENJOYABLE.

The reproduction of scenes from the "House Boat on the Styx," by John Kendrick Bangs, given by the class of 1905, Plainfield High School, at Franklin Hall Saturday night, successfully entertained a large audience and netted about $60. The humor of the play was well displayed and the players showed effects of good training under the direction of Miss Ball. A mandolin duet by Chester Briggs and Theodore Gavett was heartily applauded. A candy table conducted by several girls of the class of 1905 was a special attraction. Dancing was in order after the performance. Music was by Suhr's orchestra.

COMPANY K'S FAIR DRAWS A BIG CROWD

Curios and Relics Attractive Among the Many Exhibits Displayed in the Armory.

CAPT. MARTIN IN CHARGE

YOUNG WOMEN ASSISTING SOLDIER BOYS IN THE UNDERTAKING.

Booths Gayly Decorated—Dancing a Feature—Some Historic Flags Shown—Fair to Continue the Remainder of the Week.

Company K's fair had a distinctly successful opening last night. The attendance was large, from seven to eight hundred, the booths furnished attractions for everybody and dancing on the company's floor generally considered the best in the city, made a delightful feature. The decorations consisted of the National colors as befitted a military fair, the walls being covered with American flags. Among the curios exhibited were the first American flag raised in Honolulu, which floated over the customs house in 1898 and which is the property of Co. I, of Elizabeth; the flag that waved over the Capitol building at Washington when the House of Representatives was debating on the Spanish-American war; the autograph of President Roosevelt, and a silk handkerchief embroidered by Mrs. McKinley.

The booths were decorated in green and red and included a chocolate booth from which souvenir cups were given with every cup of chocolate sold; a fancy table and candy, ice cream and novelties table; and a refreshment counter. Elaborate preparations for the reception of guests at the fair, including a private reception room, had been made. Music for dancing was provided by Suhr's orchestra.

Those in charge of the booths were Mrs. C. A. Peterson, Mrs. A. I. Littell, Mrs. A. Goldsack, Mrs. W. B. Harsel, Mrs. A. R. Tranchand, Miss L. Conkling, Mrs. L. Emmons, Miss F. Bilyeu, Miss H. M. Apgar, Miss Daisy Snyder, Mrs. Judson and Mrs. A. Niles, composing the women's auxiliary committee of the company.

Of the general committee in charge of the fair, Captain W. B. Martin was chairman. The floor committee consisted of Sergt. A. I. Littell, chairman; Lieut. Lewis, treasurer; Sergt. Peterson, Sergt. Seiders, Corp. Apgar, Corp. Bilyeu, Corp. Harsell, and Private Wilson, Post, Frazee, Jennings and Brennan. The printing, tickets and press committee included Corp. Tranchand, chairman; Privates Conkling, Clark, Vail and Stiglitz. On the donation committee were Corp. Whitney, chairman; Privates Sampson, Stiglitz, Jennings and Brennan; contests committee, Corp. Bilyeu, chairman; Corp. Apgar and Private Weaver; refreshment committee, Corp. Orth, chairman; Corp. Apgar, Corp. Stover, Privates Peterson, Brennan, Judson and Goldsack; decoration committee, Lieut. Kitchell, chairman, Privates Weaver, Frazee, Post and J. Niles.

Smoking was not allowed and the ventilation of the hall was as nearly perfect as possible. An inspection of the hall had been made by Chief Doane, of the fire department, who announced that he had no changes or improvements to suggest and that the arrangements were excellent. Exceptionally good order was preserved throughout the evening. A fireman is in attendance at the hall throughout the week of the fair.

Wednesday night will be one of the big nights of the week at the fair. The presentation of medals and trophies will be the feature. Brigade and regimental officers will be in attendance. Next Monday night an exhibition drill will be given by the company.

VOTE ON SCHOOLHOUSE PROPOSITION TONIGHT

North Plainfielders to Take Action on Plans Presented by Board of Education.

THE SEVERAL SCHEMES

MAYOR SMALLEY'S OFFER TO BE MADE AT THE MEETING.

Session to be Called at 8 o'Clock—James R. Joy to Preside—Need of More School Accommodations Urgent.

It is probable that the mass meeting in the Somerset street High School to night will be largely attended and that there will be some opposition to erecting the proposed school house on Grove street.

While many people favor the Grove street property on which to locate the new school building there are some who favor accepting Mayor Smalley's offer to place the lot in the West End. The principal objection to the Grove street lot is that being erected on filled-in land, it will cost considerable to place a solid foundation. The close proximity of the brook is a constant danger both in summer and winter. The opposition, on the other hand, to the West End site is because it is not as centrally located as the French property.

The meeting in the borough tonight will be called at 8 o'clock and all taxpayers are urged to be present. The questions to be discussed are: Shall the 200 foot lot on Grove street, between Rockview avenue and Greenbrook road, be purchased and on it be erected an eight room school building at a cost of $35,000 and shall bonds be issued for that amount?

ICE JAM THREATENS BRIDGE

GEORGE DANIELS, OF PUTNAM AVENUE, HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Many people gathered at the bridge spanning the brook above Tier's lake at Sandford avenue yesterday morning to view the ice jam there. The sudden thaw caused the ice in the pond to break up and flow out and while nearly all the floes in the lower pond passed over the dam the bridge at Sandford avenue formed a barrier and the great chunks piled up there, backing up the water which spread out over the road flooding property in that vicinity.

Men and boys with pike poles and axes worked at the pile of ice all day. So great was the weight against the bridge that it was thought at one time that the structure would give way. Many of the streets were flooded with water from curb to curb.

While trying to release the ice at the Sandford avenue bridge, George Daniels, of Putnam avenue, was thrown into the torrent and had a narrow escape from being crushed by the great cakes of ice. He disappeared from sight twice before he managed to catch hold of a long pike pole and was brought to shore but not before he received numerous bruises. The report that the ice lifted the bridge several inches is untrue.

School Quarantined.

Unfortunately a case of diphtheria recently developed at the branch of the Randolph Cooley Collegiate school, 107 West Seventh street, and Miss Hartridge, who conducts the school, has been able to arrange with Mase Edwards to continue the school at the Casino. Miss Hartridge appreciates Mr. Edward's kind offer, enabling her to cause no interruption in the studies. No. 107 West Seventh street has been quarantined.

Park Club's Holiday.

DRAG HUNT MUCH ENJOYED

JOLLY PARTY OF PLAINFIELDERS FOLLOWED THE HOUNDS OVER COURSE.

A successful and highly enjoyable drag hunt was held on Saturday afternoon, a number of persons from this city and other places joining in the exciting sport. The hunt was started at G. P. Mellick's bungalow near the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club grounds, a boy starting a half-hour in advance on a pony, dragging the annis seed bag. The hounds, ten in all, were laid on the scent in the fields near the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Oak Tree and they followed it closely to the finish near the old golf grounds on Plainfield avenue. At Oak Tree there was a rest of fifteen minutes while the check was made.

At times the hunt was very exciting, the hounds making considerable noise and leading the riders a merry chase. Those who rode horseback were W. B. DeHaven, C. S. Bellows, Irving Clark, Dr. M. O'M. Knott and Archibald Mair, the whip, of this city; Captain Mason Matthew Patrick, of West Point; Miss Noe, of Westfield; R. A. Shebbeare and Miss Palmer, of New York.

If the weather is favorable there will be another hunt on Saturday.

LIFE SAVERS' WORK

Wreck of Cromwell on Long Island Shore.

THE CAPTAIN AND FIVE MEN PERISH

Three Surf Crews' Brave Attempts at Rescue Were Unavailing—Crew of Doomed Vessel Did Not Work Life Lines.

BELLPORT, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Five men, including the captain and mate, have been lost in the wreck of the three masted schooner Benjamin O. Cromwell off this place. Two men came ashore on bits of wreckage and were taken to the Bellport life saving station exhausted. The first one saved reported the drowning of the mate.

Three life saving crews, those from Bellport, Oak Point and Jones Inlet, made half a dozen ineffectual attempts to launch lifeboats. One boat succeeded in getting through the surf, but was unable at first to get to the outer bar, where the Cromwell was lying.

At least four lines were shot over the wrecked ship, but for some reason, probably because the crew or those that were left were in another part of the vessel, the lines were of no avail, and the breeches buoy could not be used.

The Cromwell was laden with yellow pine and was bound from Charleston, S. C., to Fall River, Mass. Her home port is Portland. She came ashore in the early morning, and when she struck the outer bar two of her three masts went by the board.

The captain, mate and crew sought safety in the rigging of the remaining mast, and when daylight broke the men could be seen clinging to shrouds and stays. The heavy ground swell caused the Cromwell to pound heavily, and it was feared that she would break up before the men could be taken off.

Just before the last mast went two men were seen to drop into the sea. One grasped a piece of wreckage and drifted toward shore. The "human life line" formed of the three life saving crews waded into the surf, and the man on the bit of wreckage was dragged exhausted to the beach.

The other man disappeared. The man rescued was taken to the station and there revived. He was too weak to talk much, but managed to give the name of the vessel, her hailing port and to tell the life savers of the death of the mate.

By the combined efforts of the three crews a lifeboat was forced through the surf, and finally the wreck was reached.

Another man came ashore on a bit of wreckage while the lifeboat was at the wreck. Eager hands dragged him to safety, and he, too, was rushed to the life saving station, where he was revived.

The Cromwell is fast breaking up and will be a total loss. Already much of her cargo is coming ashore. Captain McLean was in command of her.

WRECK NEAR PORTLAND.

Two Sailors on Schooner Killed by Heavy Seas.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 23.—Advices from Astoria state that a three masted schooner has been wrecked on the north head of the Columbia river at a point between Beard Hollow and Long Beach, on the Washington shore. Part of the crew are clinging to the rigging. The scene of the wreck is most inaccessible.

The beached schooner is the Frank W. Howe, from Port Townsend to San Francisco, Captain Keegan. A life saving crew has taken five men off. Two men of the schooner were killed by the heavy seas.

The schooner was driven on Long Beach by the strong southerly winds sweeping along the coast.

Warrants In Poolroom Raid Case.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23.—Notwithstanding the service of nine warrants on policemen and poolroom attaches as a result of the riots in Madison, Ill., the poolroom opened again, with Policemen McCambridge and Street on guard. The attendance was larger than usual, many who stayed away seemingly regaining their courage. Everything was quiet, and the betting was brisk. A sharp lookout was kept for the possible approach of another posse. Warrants were served by Sheriff Crowe of Alton on Chief of Police Patrick McCambridge, Policemen John Meehan and William Street and William Coyle, son of Mayor Patrick Coyle. Six of the warrants were against Meehan, who is charged with false imprisonment in five warrants and with liberating a prisoner in the sixth. Street and McCambridge are charged with resisting an officer and Coyle with attempted murder.

VICEROY AT HARBIN

Headquarters of Russian Army Leaves Port Arthur.

CRUISER FIRES ON GERMAN STEAMER

Attempt Being Made to Save Gunboat Mandjur From Japs—Russian Stronghold Said to Be Short of Food Supplies.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A Yinkow dispatch says Viceroy Alexeieff and his full staff have just arrived at Harbin, where headquarters have been established.

Viceroy Alexeieff before leaving Port Arthur for Harbin handed over the command of the navy to Vice Admiral Stark.

Advices from Chefu say the captain of the German steamer Pronto, just arrived from Dalny, says positively that besides the torpedo gunboat Yenisei, accidentally destroyed by one of her own mines, the Russians lost another ship, the Boyarin, by accident. In avoiding some mines she ran upon rocks, from which she eventually slipped off into deep water and sank. There was no loss of life.

The Russian authorities insist that there is no truth in the story that a force of 1,000 Japanese landed at Pigeon or Dove bay had been annihilated. Port Arthur is said to be entirely out of beef and vegetables and drawing upon Dalny for a slim supply. Troops are being rushed toward the Yalu with all expedition possible.

The Pronto was sent from Port Arthur to Dalny for refugees, chiefly Japanese women. While leaving Port Arthur with all lights out she was fired upon by a Russian cruiser, fifteen shots striking her upper works. It was subsequently explained that she was mistaken for a Japanese torpedo boat.

The entrance to Dalny is honeycombed with mines. Nothing was seen on the passage to this port of either the Russian or Japanese fleet.

It is said the Japanese troops may now wait possibly two or three months before undertaking aggressive operations in Manchuria.

Russia has been found so unexpectedly unprepared that the Japanese land forces may be contented with establishing a thorough organization and advancing only as the construction of the railroad toward the Yalu river progresses. Russia appears to be less prepared than was China in 1895. Only three trains a day can be run through Manchuria, and Russia cannot perceptibly strengthen her land forces before April.

Japan's naval coup has been so unexpectedly successful that the army will take its time. The shallow inlets are now frozen over, retarding the disembarkation of Japanese forces.

A Tokyo cable received here says that the Russian minister to China, Paul Lessar, has successfully bribed Chinese officials, with the result that the instructions given the Russian gunboat Mandjur to leave Shanghai have been canceled.

The Japanese government considers this to be a breach of Chinese neutrality and is taking steps in the matter.

The Mandjur was ordered to leave Shanghai some days ago, but did not do so. It is also reported that a Chinese squadron has arrived at Shanghai to force the Mandjur to leave.

A Japanese cruiser is said to be waiting at Woosung, below Shanghai, to attack the Mandjur when she comes out.

The Nagasaki correspondent of the Daily Telegraph reports that the Japanese squadron has captured four Russian torpedo boats at Port Arthur by means of using Russian signals.

This dispatch appears to confirm reports from various quarters of a fresh attack on Port Arthur by the Japanese.

The report reached Nagasaki from Chefu, and it adds that the Russian crews of the four torpedo boats have been transferred.

No other news of this attack has been received in London, but the Chefu correspondent of the Morning Post in a dispatch says the statement is current there that the Japanese torpedo boat destroyers in the attack on Port Arthur sank or damaged two Russian battleships in addition to the torpedo boat already reported.

Viceroy Alexeieff's retirement to Harbin is an accomplished fact. Port Arthur is now strictly a naval stronghold, and the forts are being manned by naval gunners. Only twenty foreigners are now at Port Arthur, and they are traders disposing of their stocks before getting out.

A RUSSIAN NOTE.

Czar's Government Sending Protest Against Japan.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Russia is addressing to the powers, either through their representatives at St. Petersburg, the emperor's envoys abroad or probably through both, a vigorous communication charging Japan with repeated violation of the laws of nations—first, as the note alleges, in threatening to attack a neutral port, Chemulpo, Korea, unless the Russian ships within came out to face an overwhelming force, and, second, it states in attacking Port Arthur before war had been declared and while the Japanese minister at St. Petersburg was still enjoying the protection and courtesies of the Russian government, to which, it is claimed, he had just previously addressed a communication expressing his belief that the interruption of diplomatic relations between the two countries would be brief. The note is to the following effect, although the text is not yet obtainable:

That the Russian government, believing all civilized powers to be faithfully desirous that the law of nations shall be strictly adhered to in the present war, respectfully calls the attention of the neutral governments to these two instances in which Japan has violated this law:

In threatening the neutral port of Chemulpo, where warships of many nations were gathered, demanding the departure from that port of the Russian men-of-war Variag and Korietz under penalty of attack within the harbor and in attacking the Russian fleet at Port Arthur on the night of Feb. 8 and 9 and on the following day, these several attacks having taken place prior to a formal declaration of war and before the Japanese minister at St. Petersburg or the Russian minister at Tokyo had left their posts.

In the diplomatic corps the news of Russia's intended address to the powers has caused great interest. A diplomat whose government is inclined to sympathize with Russia said that the Russian government did not expect other nations to pass on the attack at Port Arthur, but as to the threatened attack on Chemulpo this diplomat said the Russian government expected the powers in the interest of internal law would give this matter their earnest consideration. Several of the foreign naval commanders at Chemulpo, he said, were reported to have protested against the action of the Japanese commander at the time, and if it were true that the American commander refused to join with the other foreign commanders in protesting to the Japanese commander against his action in threatening the town he thought it likely the action of the commander of the Vicksburg would be the subject of an exchange of views between the St. Petersburg and Washington governments.

TRANSSIBERIAN ROAD.

A German Staff Officer Doubts Its Capacity.

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—An officer of the German general staff, speaking of Russia's prospects of re-enforcing her army in east Asia through means of the Transsiberian railroad and especially of the section crossing Lake Baikal, where the difficulties to overcome are enormous, says that the limited capacity of the line is to be a much more serious matter than is generally known by military officials. The present troop moving capacity of the railroad from Russia's experience of last summer in moving two brigades to Tschita, east of Lake Baikal, which was only accomplished at the rate of eight and a half miles an hour, shows this to be the case. At this rate it would take thirty-six days to convey 25,000 men from the Ural mountains to Mukden or Vladivostok.

The present strength of the Russian army in eastern Asia is said to be 158,761 men, and upon the foregoing estimate of time required to move troops it will take until April 20 for Russia to raise the strength of her east Asiatic army to 233,000 men.

His opinion was that the easiest thing for Japan to do to compel Russia to abandon Manchuria is to strike at the center of the country, or, in other words, concentrate her forces against Harbin, now the headquarters of the Russian army of the far east.

MEMORIAL TREES.

Washington's Birthday Celebrated at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt celebrated Washington's birthday by planting each a tree in the White House grounds. The trees are fern leaf beeches. They were removed from Garfield park, it being necessary either to transplant or to destroy them on account of excavations in the park incident to the construction of the new railroad terminal station. The trees were planted in the area within the semicircular driveway leading from Executive avenue to the east terrace of the White House, one on each side of the main walk. They were placed in position in excavations prepared for them under the direction of Colonel Thomas W. Symons, superintendent of public buildings and grounds.

The colonel handed to the president a specially made spade, the handle of which was adorned prettily with red, white and blue ribbons. President Roosevelt, raising his hat to a considerable crowd which had assembled on Executive avenue, stepped briskly to the tree on the north side of the walk and threw a few spadefuls of dirt into the excavation around the tree. Mrs. Roosevelt then was given a small garden spade, adorned as the other was, and with it she threw some earth into the excavation around the other tree. The assembled people applauded her cordially as she completed the task.

In a big earthen pot the president, Mrs. Roosevelt and the children then planted seeds of the Xanthocerus sorbifolia, a Chinese flowering shrub, the only specimen of which in this country is in the propagating gardens in this city. It is the intention of Colonel Symons and the government landscape gardener, George H. Brown, to raise some of the shrubs, to be planted in the parks in Washington.

The spades used in the ceremony will be preserved in the White House. On the blades of each will be painted a scene of the tree planting and a legend indicating the location and time of the setting out of the trees. They thus will form a permanent record of the ceremony.

Landslide Dammed River.

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 23.—A landslide of immense proportions blocked the Heber City branch of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad near Bridal Veil Falls. Rocks and trees were carried up the opposite side of the canyon, and Provo river was dammed. The track is buried for 200 feet under eighty feet of snow and debris.

OUR ASIATIC FLEET

Vast Interests In Philippines, China and Korea to Guard.

WEAKNESS IN FAR EAST LONG FELT

Present Disturbances May Demand Presence of Protecting Cruisers at Any Time at Many Different Points—Ships Now Too Few.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Naval officials are considering earnestly the strengthening of the American Asiatic fleet in view of the vast interests of this country in the Philippines and in China and Korea and the probability that disturbances may necessitate their protection at any time. At the same time that the fleet is regarded as too small there is a desire to avoid exciting the suspicion of the old world powers, lest this government may be put in the false light of interfering in the eastern struggle notwithstanding our declaration of absolute neutrality. A high naval officer said:

"The need of increasing the Asiatic fleet has long been felt. It was intended that the new battleship Ohio, building at the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, should be sent to the Asiatic station in the spring and that she should be followed there by the armored cruiser South Dakota and the protected cruiser Milwaukee as soon as these vessels are completed. The Ohio, however, will not be ready before autumn, and we are now considering the dispatch within the next month or two of an additional battleship. It has been suggested that the Iowa be selected for this mission, but no decision has been reached. She is now receiving rush repairs at the New York yard.

"In addition the Tacoma, which was commissioned a short time ago and is getting ready for sea, has been tentatively selected to go to the Asiatic station as the relief of one of the vessels of the cruiser squadron, but under present circumstances it is probable that none of the cruiser squadron will be brought home now, however many ships are added to it. It also has been suggested that the New York, now at Panama, be returned to the Asiatic station and that she make the cruise with the Tacoma. This is undecided, and the uncertainty of the Panama situation together with the fact that the New York is due for a thorough overhauling rather militates against sending that vessel to join Admiral Evans' fleet.

"So rapidly are events in the far east moving that it is impossible to say one day what move on the Asiatic station the next day's developments may demand."

WAR IN BALKANS.

Chekib Bey Is of Opinion That Trouble Cannot Long Be Averted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Chekib Bey, the Turkish minister at Washington, believes war in the Balkans is impending. In a conversation the minister said:

"Illness has prevented my transmitting heretofore an important communication which I received from my government several days ago about the reported trouble in the Roumanian provinces. I hope to see the secretary of state some time this week and have a conference with him on this subject. To correct the false impression which already, I fear, has gained ground in this country about the attitude of my government toward the reforms in Roumania I shall give you the substance of the cablegram from my foreign office. It is to this effect:

"'The porte most strenuously denounce as maliciously false the reports which have been given wide circulation in certain European papers that trouble is brewing in Roumania because of the failure of the imperial government to carry out the promised reforms there. The facts in the case are that the imperial government is fulfilling to the letter its pledges, the reforms are being vigorously inaugurated, and there is no trouble brewing in that section, as reported.'"

Of the Balkan situation Chekib Bey, who has had considerable experience in that section, said:

"Although my advices are meager, the news I get indicates that the Bulgarians are assuming an attitude and pursuing a course which it will be impossible for the imperial government to submit to much longer with patience. It is reported that they are arming the inhabitants, stirring up strife in Macedonia and doing everything possible to harass the imperial government. I hope this is not true, but if the reports be correct hostilities in the Balkans cannot be much longer averted."

St. Louis Man Found In Seine.

PARIS, Feb. 23.—The body of Henry Hazleton of St. Louis, who had been missing since Dec. 20, 1903, has been taken from the river Seine near the Nouilly bridge by some sailors. There were no marks of violence upon the body.

Henry Hazleton was a dealer in laces and fine fabrics in St. Louis, and it had been his custom to go abroad annually to secure stock for the spring trade. He went to Paris early in December, and his family received letters from him regularly for the first two or three weeks of his stay there. He disappeared at Paris on Dec. 20.

BIG CROWD AT THE Y. M. C. A.

PEOPLE TURNED AWAY AT THE STAR COURSE ENTERTAINMENT.

People were turned away from both the afternoon and evening entertainments given yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The evening's programme was varied and extremely interesting. Moving pictures by the Edison Projectoscope Company, especially a series picturing the recent Baltimore fire, made a decided hit. Humorous readings by Miss Helen M. Gomes provided much amusement. They were: "Mustard Plaster," by Howard Fielding; "Priscilla Pruin," and "A Misunderstanding," all cleverly and expressively rendered. Sleigh bell solos by D. W. Robertson made a unique number and illustrated songs by Miss Marie Pierson proved popular. Other numbers were a piano solo by Howard d'Argoe, and a soprano solo by Miss Pierson.

Miss Allan's Funeral.

The funeral services of Miss Jessie Allen were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas G. Hendry, 925 West Fourth street. Rev. L. R. SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

Collector George W. Day gave a chicken supper to the members of the borough Council at his home on Front street, Saturday evening. The event marked the close of their year of administration with the best showing, financially and otherwise, in several years.

Owing to the heavy rain of Sunday and the blocking of the culverts with ice, Church street was flooded yesterday between Washington avenue and Jackson avenue. A large gang of men were set to work yesterday and by night fall the water had been lowered considerable.

The Literary Circle will meet this evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton. Rev. Dr. Snodgrass, of Plainfield, will address the meeting and essays will be read by members of the clubs.

The water rose at the Rock avenue trolley switch to a heighth of two and half feet yesterday, and the people travelling by trolley were compelled to get out and ride across in wagons.

Levering & Garrigues' Iron Company's Works was compelled to shut down yesterday because of the high water which flooded the belt-pits and stopped the machinery.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

So far there seems to be only one candidate for the nomination of freeholder on the Democratic ticket. William R. Stanbury, of the borough, will no doubt receive the nomination when the primaries are held unless some dark horse is trotted out. His opponent on the Republican ticket will no doubt be the present incumbent, John Robison, who is also a resident of the borough. This will insure the borough its first real resident representation in the Board of Freeholders in a number of years. The township and borough are allowed one representative jointly. As the township polls the larger vote they have practically controlled the nomination even since the borough was incorporated under a separate government.

The Saturday afternoon shoot of the Brookside Gun Club was one of the most successful weekly shoots the club has held this winter. A number of out of town shooters were present including several of the crack shots of Plainfield. The scores made were creditable and show that Brookside could place a team in the field that could keep the best of the shooters guessing. The holiday shoot held yesterday afternoon was not so well attended, only a few of the members being out to enjoy the sport.

The ladies' night leap year dance held by the members of the I. C. T. Club last night in their rooms, corner Park and North avenues, was well attended by the friends of the club in town.

Sleighing continued good Sunday, especially on the country roads and quite a number were out enjoying the sport, but the rain Sunday night ended it.

Mrs. Benjamin Clark, of Prospect avenue, is spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. Otto Peterson, of Newark.

The members of the Baptist Young People's Society held their weekly meeting in the church parlors Sunday night.

The weekly meeting of the Epworth League was held in the class rooms of the church last night.

TONE UP YOUR SYSTEM.

As spring approaches, the system often shows signs of debility. It may be only a cough—or possibly it's catarrh you have.

Notice is hereby given to the legal voters of the Borough of North Plainfield, in the County of Somerset, that a Special School Meeting will be held at the School House, Somerset street, on Tuesday Evening, Feb. 23, 1904, 8 o'clock, at which meeting the following items of business will be acted upon:

1. To receive the report of the Board of Education with reference to the purchase of a plot of land and the building of a New Schoolhouse thereon.

2. To authorize the purchase by the Board of Education of a plot of land in the Borough of North Plainfield situate upon the west side of Grove street, between Greenbrook road and Rockview avenue, said plot fronting two hundred feet on Grove street and extending back to Stony brook, it being the most northerly portion of the vacant plot of land above stated. The amount thought to be necessary for the purchase of said plot is eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800).

3. To authorize the Board of Education to erect and construct upon said land a new school building to be built of brick and to contain at least eight class rooms; to purchase school furniture therefor, and other necessary equipment, the latter to include heating and ventilating, and a proper water closet system. The amount thought to be necessary for this purpose is thirty-three thousand two hundred dollars ($33,200).

4. To authorize the Board of Education to borrow money to defray the expense of the purchase of said plot of land, the building of a school building thereon, the purchase of school furniture therefor, and other necessary equipment, the latter to include heating and ventilating, and a proper water closet system, and the payment of the same by issuing the bonds of the Borough to the amount of thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000) in the corporate name of the Borough, in such sums, at such rate of interest and payable at such times as the legal voters of the Borough may direct.

JAMES R. JOY, President.
(Copy) R. M. FOUNTAIN, District Clerk.

Every boroughite interested in the welfare of that community should attend the special school meeting which takes place at the Somerset school building tonight. Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

WOMEN SCULPTORS
At the World's Fair

THE Louisiana Purchase exposition makes a distinct advance of public opinion on the woman question.

The disposition the exposition authorities are making of the exhibits of women's work shows that now public opinion regards this work as strong enough and important enough to be judged side by side with that of men in the same department. In brief, a woman is now as good a man as anybody in the matter of work.

A woman will be a member of every awarding committee which is to judge departments in which woman's work is.

Particularly in the line of sculpture and modeling women have made progress since 1893. Half a million dollars was appropriated for decorating the fair grounds and buildings at St. Louis. Of the sculptures adorning both the grounds and buildings some of the largest and most important figure pieces are being modeled by women. Strong pieces they are, too, expressive of power and strength, not merely pretty and ornate.

STATUE OF "VICTORY," BY ENID YANDELL

Some of the marble figures modeled by women are sixteen feet high. There are in the grounds two restaurant pavilions, at the end of the beautiful Colonnade of States. Rather oddly, these restaurants are to be surmounted each with a statue of "Victory" in the attitude of triumph, whether the triumph of the restaurant keeper or his customers is not plain. At any rate, the twin statues are to be the work of the Kentucky sculptor, Miss Enid Yandell, who has her studio in New York. The beautiful "Victory" stands airily, lightly draped, her right hand holding a trumpet through which she is sounding the shrill note of triumph. In the other hand she holds a wreath of bay leaves, other bay leaves crowning her hair. The conception of this figure is wonderfully spirited.

Two recumbent statues, male and female, heroic size, will adorn, one upon each side, the piedmont at the entrance to the Palace of Liberal Arts. They are in classic Greek drapery and express remarkable grace, repose and power. The conspicuous place in which they are posited shows the estimation in which Carl Bitter, the director of exposition sculpture, holds these two fine statutes. They are the work of Miss Edith B. Stevens, still a very young woman. Those of her sex who behold them will feel proud that a woman can do such work.

Figure work, which is the most difficult of the branches of sculpture, has been placed in the hands of women modelers to an extent no less surprising than gratifying. A considerable number of the portrait statues that will adorn the impressive colonnade of states will be made by women. A fact worth noting, too, is that these American feminine sculptors are almost without exception still quite young, so that they are only in the beginning of their careers. Miss Julia Bracken of Chicago has modeled a statue of James Monroe. James Monroe does not represent any special state, but he it was who, in 1803, as minister plenipotentiary, negotiated with Talleyrand, Napoleon's minister of state, the treaty whereby all the "Province Louisiana" was sold by France to the United States.

A young artist of St. Louis, Miss Carrie Wood, executed a figure called "The Spirit of Missouri" for the dome of the Missouri state building. Miss Evelyn B. Longmans has the commission for the female figure above the Varied Industries building. What is considered to be the most important sculptural decoration that has been entrusted to a woman is the designing and modeling of the ornamentation of the spandrels on the Palace of Machinery, a commission executed by Miss Melva Beatrice Wilson.

The W. C. T. U. has ordered a beautiful permanent fountain made by Miss Elsie Ward of New York, herself a native of Missouri.

MARY SMITH RAY.

ANOTHER FATAL FIRE.

Chicago Theater Burned, and Three Deaths Resulted.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Fire has partially destroyed the building occupied by the Alhambra theater, hotel and apartments. The structure was three stories high and fronted on Archer avenue and State and Nineteenth streets.

After the fire was extinguished the remains of three persons, two men and a woman, who had been suffocated, were found in the ruins. There were many narrow escapes.

Fully fifty of the guests, most of them women, were carried down ladders by firemen. The three bodies were found in a room on the top floor of the building. From the position of the remains the two men apparently had attempted to assist the woman to escape, but all had been overcome by the smoke.

All the clothing was burned from the bodies, and the flesh was seared and scorched.

The remains of the men were identified as William Fisher and Frank Beckman, both of whom recently had arrived here from Cincinnati. The body of the woman was identified as that of Anna Smith.

In the theater, which was partly destroyed, new stage fittings and furnishings had been installed and remodeling done in compliance with the new theater ordinance.

The fire is believed to have started from an overheated boiler in the basement of the Alhambra restaurant. Smoke filled the upper halls, and but for the night clerk, Philip Vingo, the firemen asserted, there probably would have been more loss of life. Vingo ran through the halls awakening the two hundred guests. A moment later the halls were filled with half clad men and women who groped their way down the stairs to the snow covered streets and sought refuge in neighboring shops.

CRANK WITH PISTOL.

Arrested at the White House After Writing President Many Letters.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Edward Relgar, who gave his address as 271 South Clark street, Chicago, has been arrested at the White House and locked up pending an inquiry into his mental condition. Relgar evidently is of unbalanced mind.

He has written many letters to the president suggesting that people be named in accordance with their occupations. Thus, he maintains, a dealer in wood should be named Wood, a carpenter should be named Carpenter and so on throughout the list of names.

For many weeks the secret service officers have been on the lookout for him, and when he appeared he was promptly placed in custody. Relgar desired to see the president to ascertain why his letters had not been answered. When he was searched a loaded revolver and a box of cartridges were found in his pockets. The officers had no difficulty in getting him away from the White House.

He was taken to police headquarters, where he was turned over to the authorities. Relgar says he is a miner and a railroad man. He arrived here Saturday night and engaged a room on Louisiana avenue.

NEEDED THE MONEY.

Mrs. French, Arrested, Owns Up to Theft From Postmaster Payne.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Mrs. Agnes French, recently employed as a nurse in the family of Postmaster General Payne in Washington, has been arrested in Brooklyn by central office detectives. She is said to have decamped from the Arlington hotel, Washington, with $100 in cash and about $1,700 worth of jewelry belonging to Mrs. Payne and other members of the family. The theft was committed during the excitement attendant upon the funeral of Senator Hanna.

Mrs. French was traced to this city and when brought to police headquarters acknowledged her guilt, saying: "I am guilty and am willing to take the consequences. The fact is I needed the money."

She surrendered to the police $55 in cash, about $700 worth of jewelry and a handsome fur boa, which she had purchased with the proceeds of the theft, remarking, "I might as well give this up too." She will be handed over to the federal authorities today.

Worst Cold Wave In Fifty Years.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Feb. 23.—The worst cold wave for fifty years was experienced in Newfoundland, when, accompanied by a furious gale, the temperature dropped to from 25 to 45 degrees below zero. The whole of the seaboard is frozen, and trains are delayed. The intensity of the weather causes the belief to prevail that the arctic ice floes will be impassable to the sealing steamers, which will soon start on their annual cruise.

Locomotive Explosion Cost $50,000.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Feb. 23.—An oil burning locomotive attached to a westbound limited train on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad caught fire while standing at Tehachipi station. An explosion of the oil tank followed, wrecking the locomotive and burning a buffet car and the station. The loss is $50,000. No one was hurt.

Expulsion of Monks Costly to France

PARIS, Feb. 23.—According to a report submitted in the chamber of deputies by M. Buisson, itadical Socialist, the suppression of instruction in France by the religious orders will be expensive, as this step will entail the erection of new schools costing $12,800,000 and an annual expense for teachers of $1,300,000.

A FITTING TRIBUTE.

A Citizen of Plainfield Pays a Well-Earned Tribute.

The following public statement of a respected citizen adds one more emphatic endorsement of merit to the scores that have appeared before:

Mrs. R. Wortman, living with her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Cook, of 204 Somerset street, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results for severe pains across my back and hips, which no doubt was caused by the kidneys being out of order. It was painful for me to stoop or bend forward and I could not sit ten minutes in one position but had to be continually changing about. I used many different kinds of medicine recommended for kidney trouble but I could not see that any of them benefitted me. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured for me at L. W. Randolph's drug store and it is the only remedy I ever used that gave me any relief. I always keep a supply of them on hand and would not think of being without them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

The character of the work and improvement is the opening and laying out of Myrtle Avenue between the points stated in the abovementioned title of said ordinance.

The lands taken are designated on a map and schedule accompanying said report and assessments, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, entitled "Assessment Map for the laying out and opening of Myrtle Avenue from the centre line of Compton Avenue to the City Line in Green Brook, February, 1904," to which map reference is made for greater certainty.

The lands assessed for benefits are the lands fronting on Myrtle Avenue as ordered laid out and opened by said ordinance, and other lands fronting on Dunellen Avenue (including its intersections with Compton Avenue, Albert Street, and Mariners Place, respectively), which lie on the southeasterly side of Dunellen Avenue between the southwesterly terminus of Myrtle Avenue, as so ordered laid out and opened, and the centre line of Mariners Place, and on the northwesterly side of Dunellen Avenue between said terminus and a point one thousand five hundred and sixty-eight feet southwesterly therefrom, and are also shown and designated on said map and schedule, to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty.

Tender Lamb, Veal and Rich Beef; also a fine lot of Capons, Long Island Ducks, Geese, Turkeys, Roasting Chickens and Broilers will suit an epicure to perfection. Don't value our meats and poultry by so many cents per pound, but by the high quality. During Lent special inducements in our Seafood Department. Telephone 155.

BOMBARDIER WON THE DERBY.

Skinner's Horse, Bought For $1,000, Leads In Close Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Bombardier, ridden by See, has won the California Derby at Oakland. Judge finished second, but was disqualified for fouling Formaster early in the race. Second money went to Formaster, and Toledo received third money.

Hendon and Ananias were scratched, leaving four to compete in the Derby, which was at a mile and a quarter, with a value of $3,550. Bombardier was 10 to 1 in the early betting, but closed at 6 to 1.

Bombardier and Judge raced on almost even terms to the stand, when Judge showed in front. Bullman tried to get through with Formaster, the favorite, before the first turn was reached, but Daly cut in with Judge, and the favorite was knocked back. After that Bombardier went to the front and was never headed.

Daly, the rider of Judge, was summoned to the stand, and his mount was disqualified. Bombardier is owned by Frank Skinner, a California newspaper man, who bought him from Walter Jennings for $1,000.

Tennis Championship.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The championship doubles formed the interesting feature of the play here in the tournament for the indoor tennis championship of the United States on the board courts of the Seventh Regiment armory. The final and championship round was reached, and the holders of the title, Grant and LeRoy, won two sets to one of an unfinished match for the honors. Their opponents were the Princeton-Harvard veteran pair, Little and Wright. The latter played with great speed and vim, but were not steady enough at the critical moments. The contest is for the best three sets in five. In the singles the play was good, and Kelly, Pell, Raymond and the present champion, Grant, got their places in the semifinal round.

Yale and Princeton Athletes.

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 23.—Yale and Princeton joined in a dual gymnastic exhibition in the new gymnasium here before a large audience. Both teams showed the result of careful training, but the Yale men excelled in the finish of their work. Princeton's specialty was the performance of E. Karow on the balancing trapeze, while Captain W. L. Anderson of Yale excelled on the side horse. A special feature in double trapeze work was offered by two Princeton men, F. T. Blakeman and F. B. St. John.

Sport at Tuxedo Park.

TUXEDO PARK, N. Y., Feb. 23.—The national amateur squash championship competition on the courts of the Tuxedo Tennis and Racket club has ended. W. P. Blagden defeated G. I. Scott in the final match by winning three straight games. This gives Blagden one leg on the trophy presented by James Henry Smith, president of the club. The first and second class tennis handicaps were also decided, Pierre Lorillard, Jr., defeating T. S. Tailer in the former and J. G. Douglas defeating F. F. Carey in the latter.

Princeton's Team Work Won.

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 23.—Princeton defeated Yale in basket ball here by the score of 35 to 22. The game was unusually rough, and thirty-five fouls were called in forty minutes of playing. Princeton showed superior team work, and during the first half, which ended 22 to 13, the ball was in her territory most of the time. Vanderbilt was the star for Princeton and caged seven goals, while Church, for Yale, was repeatedly applauded for throwing goals from fouls. He secured ten points in this manner.

Defeat of Tribes Hill.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23.—The defeat of Tribes Hill, strong first choice in the George Washington handicap, was a feature of the day's racing. De Reszke and Mauser, neither fancied in the betting, finished necks apart for the prize of $1,455. The slow, lumpy track tired Floral King, who made all the early running. Cedar Rapids was the only other beaten favorite.

International Checker Match.

BOSTON, Feb. 23.—An international checker team match between the ten best players in Great Britain and the seventy best in the United States has been arranged at the annual meeting of the New England Checker association in this city. WM. M'DOWELL CORIELL DIED THIS MORNING

Prominent Citizen Passed Away at Age of Eighty-Nine Years.

FATHER OF B. F. CORIELL

FOR MANY YEARS A DIRECTOR OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

Ruling Elder of Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church—Hat Manufacturer by Trade—Director of Old Washington Insurance Co.

After a long battle with death, William McDowell Coriell, one of Plainfield's representative men, succumbed to old age, passing away at his home in Clinton avenue this morning. He was eighty-nine years of age and had been ill for some time. Surviving him is one son, B. Frank Coriell, of West Fifth street, sheriff of Union County and prominent in civic, industrial and fraternal affairs in this city. His other two sons, William H. Coriell, and Ephraim Coriell, are dead, but the former left surviving Mrs. F. Valentine and the latter, Raymond and Ephraim, both of whom live in Larchmont, N. Y. B. F. Coriell's children are William Coriell and Miss Lucy Coriell.

The dead man was a son of Ephraim Coriell and was born in Dunellen on December 19, 1815. After receiving the advantages of a district school education, at the age of seventeen he was apprenticed to VanNostrand & Conover, hat manufacturers, who had an establishment on Clinton avenue, which was then a part of Plainfield township.

On October 20, 1840, Mr. Coriell married Miss Eliza C. Runyon, daughter of Benjamin Runyon, of this city. She died in January, 1881. In 1844, with five others, he succeeded that firm in the business, but two years later he purchased the plant himself. In 1849 he erected a large establishment. His son, B. Frank Coriell, was taken into partnership in 1873 and the firm continued to prosper under the name of Coriell & Son until 1894 when it was dissolved.

Mr. Coriell settled on the estate of his grandfather, Lenox Coriell, in 1849, which was in Clinton avenue, and in 1856 he erected the commodious dwelling in which he lived until the time of his death.

When Plainfield was incorporated in 1865, Mr. Coriell took an active interest in civic affairs, becoming a member of the Common Council, in which he served for several terms. Previous to that he had been a member of the Plainfield township committee. He took no interest in fraternal orders, but spent much of his time with affairs connected with the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, of which he became a founder in 1857. He was made a ruling elder of the church, succeeding his father in that office in 1858.

Mr. Coriell was one of the directors of the old Washington Fire Insurance Company of Plainfield and was also a director of the old Union County State Bank, of this city, which was succeeded by the First National Bank, he being a director of the latter institution until a few years ago.

The funeral will take place from his late residence Saturday afternoon at 2:30 and the interment will be in the North Plainfield cemetery.

INTEREST IN LICENSE QUESTION

BIG CROWD EXPECTED TO WITNESS COMMON COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Considerable attention is just now being directed toward the probable outcome of the license question to be considered at an adjourned meeting of the Common Council to be held tomorrow night. At this meeting action will be taken on the applications for liquor licenses, retail and wholesale, as well as hotels. While temperance people in general have been much exercised of late concerning the John Goff application for a license to sell liquor in his new hotel on West Front street, many Councilmen are profoundly silent.

"It is to be regretted exceedingly," said one of the city fathers last night, "that Councilman Wilson was absent from the last meeting. It makes no difference how he would have voted on the question of high license, the fact that he was absent gave rise to the belief that he remained away intentionally. I believe that it would have looked far better if Mr. Wilson had been present, especially as he is a new member. He must necessarily have the interest of the city at heart to some extent."

It is expected that the lobby will be filled with interested spectators tomorrow night. That there will be remarks pro and con there seems to be no doubt, as several ministers have signified their intention of attending the meeting and having something to say. Then there will be a number of petitions, private and public. In many of the churches on Sunday petitions were presented for signatures, petitions protesting against the granting of licenses to Mr. Goff for a retail license on West Front street and Adolph Wolgang for a wholesale place in Park avenue.

The Republican leaders of the Fourth ward are making a canvass for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is any real opposition to the granting of a liquor license to John Goff for his hotel on West Front street, near Clinton avenue.

BANKERS TO MEET.

First Annual Convention of Association to Convene at Atlantic City on Friday.

Representatives of the local banking institutions will attend the first annual convention of the New Jersey Bankers' Association, which will be held at Atlantic City, on Friday and Saturday. The association has a membership of about 125, which includes representation from every institution of any consequence in the State.

The programme includes addresses by Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, Gov. Franklin Murphy, Congressman Charles N. Fowler, former Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage and Attorney-General Robert H. McCarter. The bankers will be formally welcomed by S. T. Stoy, Mayor of Atlantic City.

The Plainfield members of the association are the Plainfield Trust Company, the City National Bank and the Dime Savings Institution. William F. Arnold, cashier of the City National Bank, who is a member of the executive committee, and J. Herbert Case, secretary, treasurer and director of the Plainfield Trust Company, will attend the convention, which will be held at the Hotel Chelsea, Atlantic City. Edward C. Stokes, president of the association, will preside.

Miss Mary Smith, of this city, has been visiting Raritan friends.

SCHOOL BOARD'S PLAN DEFEATED BY CITIZENS

Proposition to Erect Schoolhouse on Grove Street Vetoed at Public Meeting.

FIREMEN WIN FIGHT

VOLUNTEER MEN LINED UP AGAINST THE ADMINISTRATION.

Dr. H. K. Carroll Presided at Meeting Held in Somerset Street School—Citizens Out In Force—Another Delay Necessary.

The North Plainfield volunteer firemen fought against Mayor Newton B. Smalley at last night's special school meeting and incidentally ruined the Board of Education's scheme to erect a school house on the Grove street site. The opposition to the plan contended that the proposed site is on filled-in land and for that reason is unhealthy as well as impracticable. The defeat of the suggested plan was a decisive one, 215 votes being cast against it while 187 were piled up in its favor. As a result there will be a further delay in bringing about relief for the overcrowded schools and many of the pupils will be compelled to submit to half-time sessions for some time to come. Naturally the Board of Education as a body is much chagrined over the defeat, although a few of the members disapproved of the proposition submitted to the citizens.

The session held last night in the Somerset street school building was attended by over 400 citizens and a lively interest was taken in the proceedings. James R. Joy, president of the Board, called the meeting to order, stating the object of the call. Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll was chosen chairman and Percy Brown was selected as secretary, without opposition.

Mr. Joy read the report of the committee appointed to investigate the school proposition which was incorporated as the report of the board. It dwelt at length upon the overcrowded condition of the school—a condition worse than that of any other school district in the entire State,— and pointed out the absolute necessity for relief. The seating capacity is but 990 while the enrollment reaches 1165. Consequently 175 pupils are affected by the present situation. The causes for the delay were briefly related and then the plan of the Board was presented. It called for an eight-room building to be erected on the French property in Grove street at a cost of $35,000. The argument made was that the Grove street site was preferable to all others for the reason that the future growth of the borough is more likely to be in that direction, the eastern section of the municipality being well built up at present. The report stated that no fear is felt on the part of the Board that the site is an unhealthy one and moreover there would be no great expense in building a substantial foundation for the structure.

Without any debate this resolution was submitted to the citizens:

"Resolved, That the Board of Education of the borough of North Plainfield be authorized to purchase the lot 200 feet on the west side of Grove street between Green brook and Rockview avenue at a cost of $1,800, and that the Board of Education be authorized to issue bonds of the borough to the amount of $35,000 in the corporate name of the borough in such sums and at such rate of interest as the legal voters of the borough may direct. This will be used to defray the expense of the erection of such building, the purchase of school furniture, and other necessary equipment, the latter to include heating, ventilating and a proper water closet system; to be placed on said plot of land and that bonds be issued in $500 denominations at five per cent. interest to be payable as follows: One in 1910; two in 1911; two in 1912; two in 1913; five in 1914; ten in 1915; ten in 1916; ten in 1917; ten in 1918; ten in 1919 and eight in 1920."

Max Munger and Thomas H. Stafford were chosen tellers and Harry Brokaw was selected as clerk. When the result was announced after much delay occasioned by time necessarily consumed in casting the ballots the opposition to the scheme, the majority of whom were opposed to the plan on principle, rejoiced over the victory.

Mayor Smalley declared that he has no regrets. "My enemies," he said, "are willing to sacrifice principle and the good of the borough, in order to accomplish my defeat. They can not defeat me for I am on the side of the right, working as I always have been for the best interests of the borough. You can say for me that I was proud to see the type of citizens supporting me last night. They were a strange contrast to those composing the opposition. I hope to deserve their support in the future."

Samuel Townsend, who has spent much time in bringing about the much desired relief from overcrowded conditions in the schools, said today: "It is a strange thing that so many residents of the western section of North Plainfield, known as Washington Park, should have made it their duty to attend the meeting and vote for the proposition to erect another school house, only to find their good efforts frustrated by citizens of the eastern section of the community. The people of Washington Park are slightly benefitted by the schools. They pay their taxes and send their children to other schools which their means allow them to do. The people who voted down our proposition, as a rule, send their children to the public schools. They are the ones that will suffer. I feel that I have done my duty, which I promised to do when accepting a position as a member of the school board."

Mayor Smalley says that Mr. Joy delivered a rebuke to Dr. J. H. Cooley, another member of the board, last night, who had charged that trickery had been resorted to by the friends of the school house plan. Mayor Smalley declares that Dr. Cooley had secretly removed many ballots, which were marked against the $1,800 appropriation, and caused them to be distributed about the borough during the day.

NEW TRIALS ARE ORDERED

FRED KANEN CASE TO BE HEARD BY JURY AGAIN IN UNION COUNTY.

The Supreme Court yesterday ordered new trials in the two Plainfield cases of Frederick Kanen against the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company and the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, and Myra Rose Searles against the Elizabeth-Plainfield and Central Jersey Railway Company, both on the ground that when the first trials were held, the physicians were unable to testify definitely whether the injuries were permanent or merely temporary. The verdicts in the first trial of Mr. Kanen's case was for $18,000. Craig A. Marsh, counsel for Mr. Kanen, says that the boy's parents are glad that there is to be a new trial next May, because the physicians now know that the injuries are permanent, and a much larger verdict is expected.

In the Searles case, the court decides the first point in favor of Mrs. Searles—namely that the Street Railway Company is liable. The court next declares that the physicians admitted that the result of the operations performed a few weeks before the trial was not entirely clear when the trial took place. The court says that if the injuries were permanent, the verdict of $15,000 would not be too large, but as the plaintiff's own physicians could not testify that the full benefit of the operations had been ascertained, justice required that there should be a new trial. Mr. Marsh is also counsel for the plaintiff in this case, and says that the court could hardly have done otherwise under the medical testimony, and that on a second trial, it will be easy to prove that the injuries complained of are permanent.

The Prudential in 1903.

During last year The Prudential wrote a larger amount of business than it did in any other year since it was founded, placing no less than $293,000,000 of new insurance, and bringing the total amount of insurance now in force up to $931,000,000. This result attests its popularity, and such figures have not been equaled by any other company when of the same age as The Prudential, nor by The Prudential itself in any former year. The causes which have brought about such exceptional success apparently are greater appreciation of life insurance by the masses and the excellent business methods of The Prudential. Write to the Home Office of the Company, Newark, N. J., for information concerning its policies, which furnish guaranteed protection to the family as well as dividends to the policy-holder.

As field officers and staff, Captain Anderson has been promoted to be major; Adjutant Babcock will continue in that office; Sergeant Neagle will be quartermaster; Sergeant Eckert, sergeant major; Cadet Cline, quartermaster sergeant; Sergeant Elliot, color sergeant; Cadet Strong, principal musician; Bugler Briggs will again be bugler, and Scott will continue as drummer.

In Company A, Quartermaster Koons will be captain; Sergeant Fenno, first lieutenant; Sergeant Craig, second lieutenant; Sergeant Brown, first sergeant; Corporal Slocum, sergeant; Corporal Titsworth, sergeant; Corporal Leichtentritt, sergeant; Corporal Clanders, corporal.

Those promoted as officers of Company B are: Sergeant Thompson, captain; Lieutenant Tweedy, first lieutenant; Sergeant Long, second lieutenant; Corporal J. Gavett, first sergeant; Cadet Platt, second sergeant; Cadet T. Gavett, sergeant; Corporal Rottberg, sergeant.

The appointments are made by order of James D. Macnab, commandant and countersigned by Adjutant G. L. Babcock. By the amount of interest exhibited in the drills by the pupils, a highly successful season is indicated.

Musician Strong is a new member of the battalion, coming to Plainfield from the Montclair Military Academy. He was a bugler at Montclair. With this year's graduating class, most of the field officers and staff will leave school. Examinations will probably be held the latter part of May to fill the vacancies for the fall term. All cadets possessing uniforms will be requested to wear them during the drills of this spring but others will not be required to buy them during the present school year.

KING'S DAUGHTERS' LUNCHEON

SILVER CROSS CIRCLE HOLDS AFFAIR IN PARK CLUBHOUSE.

Under the auspices of the Silver Cross Circle of King's Daughters, of North Plainfield, a charity luncheon was given at the Park Club, yesterday. The purpose of the affair was to raise a fund to fulfil the pledge of $50 which the Circle made to the City Union, King's Daughters, toward the support of the city nurse. There were nine tables very attractively decorated and there were about seventy five members of the Circle and their friends present. A delightful menu was prepared and served by Mrs. Johnson, wife of the steward of the club. Between $75 and $80 was the net receipts and it is believed that about half of the sum will be profit.

Following the luncheon an informal musicale was given in which Mrs. W. L. Saunders sang, Miss Hyatt played the violin and Miss Saidee Mae Howell gave piano selections. Miss Howell also accompanied Mrs. Saunders and Miss Hyatt. The various numbers were cordially received.

Mrs. F. W. French, as president of the Circle, was in charge of the luncheon, and she was assisted by other members, nine being selected to preside at the various tables.

MONROE AVE. CHURCH SUPPER

FAIR A FEATURE OF ATTRACTION AT WEST END CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

A fair and supper given last night in the Monroe Avenue M. E. church by the Ladies' Aid Society was one of the most successful and profitable to the general church funds of any yet held. There were 135 seated at the four tables and many more who enjoyed the informal musical programme.

In charge of this affair was this committee: Mrs. I. T. LaRue, Mrs. Fred Wenzel, Mrs. Nicholas Brouard, Mrs. J. W. Daub, Mrs. W. B. Grannatt, Mrs. J. C. Pierson. The serving committee consisted of Mrs. Theodore VanPelt, Mrs. E. J. Cumberson and Mrs. J. D. Brown. Presiding over the four tables were Mrs. N. M. Smith and Mrs. R. M. Sortor, Miss Charlotte Aldrich and Miss Lida Ackerman, Miss Emily D. Haff, Miss Grace Palmer. The waitresses were Miss Editn Manning, Mrs. Walter Manning, Miss Daisy Brouard, and the Misses Beulah and Olla Cline.

The tables were attractively arranged and their contents found ready sales. At the fancy table, Miss Anna Wenzel and Miss Mary Cumberson presided. Candy was sold at a table in charge of Miss May Brouwer, Miss Sadie Brouwer, Miss Carrie Brouwer and Miss Meeker. A musical programme of mandolin, banjo and piano selections was presented by the Misses Brouwer.

TOLD OF JAPS.

Missionary From Flowery Kingdom Attended Forward Movement Club Session.

Rev. Sheldon Painter, the missionary lately returned from Japan, who is en route to his home in England, held an informal discussion on things Japanese with the members of the Forward Movement Club of the Y. M. C. A. last night. President Cahoone, of the association, presided. The discussion was confined principally to Japanese customs concerning which Mr. Painter answered questions of all sorts.

Mr. Painter is spending the week as the guest of Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood, of the Y. M. C. A., who was his pupil in England. He will sail for England on the Campania Saturday.

A. S. PARK DEAD.

Former Plainfielder Passes Away at His Home in Emerson, Ga.

Word has been received here of the death of A. S. Park at his home near Emerson, Ga., on February 18, last. Mr. Park moved from Bound Brook to 151 Duer street, North Plainfield, in 1888 and was one of the bosses employed in the construction of the Pond Machine Tool Works. Several years ago he moved to Georgia, where he continued his residence up to the time of his death. While in this city he made many friends. The funeral services and interment took place at Emerson on February 19.

To Produce Faust.

The Willard Dramatic Club has no dates for future performances definitely fixed but expects to give a presentation of "Faust" directly after Lent. There is a general plan for holding entertainments by club talent every two weeks in their hall on East Second street. The hall has a seating capacity of one hundred and the stage and scenic equipment are complete. Besides rehearsing "Faust," the club is continuing work on "Who Is Who," which was to have been presented at the Casino last night.

Entertained Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kirch, of 66 Duer street, entertained about thirty-five of their friends at their home last night. The evening was spent in playing games, while a feature was the vocal music by George Taylor and "Skinny" Wilson. They also gave banjo duets and entertained the guests for over an hour. Before the guests retired to their homes a collation was served.

WHAT THE SALOONS ARE COSTING PLAINFIELD

Alexander Millar Gives The Daily Press Readers Some Astonishing Statistics.

FACTS AND FIGURES

1,650 MEN ARE PAYING $88,000 A YEAR FOR RUM.

Each Drinking Man Deposits $53 Per Year in the Barrooms—Great Responsibility Rests on the Common Council.

Editor, The Daily Press:

I have been much interested in the discussion which has recently taken place in the pages of The Daily Press over the license question in Plainfield, not only regarding the action of our City Council in rejecting Mayor Jenkins' recommendation to raise the fee, but also in relation to their probable action on applications for an increased number of saloons. My interest is due partly to the fact that I came from a Massachusetts no-license town with a population similar to Plainfield, but more largely due to my constant amasement at the lethargy of this intelligent, cultured, and generally religious community in permitting such a drain on the lower and working classes as the saloon, to exist in our midst.

This interest has led me to do some figuring on the probable cost of our saloons to the community and while no accurate figures are obtainable, a pretty good approximation can be had. We are often told that our saloon business is not very bad and that we do not have many in proportion to the population. On analyzing the figures, however, we find the saloons draw their subsistence from a small number, comparatively, although a much larger number are unfavorably affected by their operation. Let me present some figures as to the city: Population, estimated, 15,000; families, estimated, 3,000. Allowing two minor children to a family, or say 6,000, leaves the adult population 9,000, of whom one-half are women, leaving: Adult male population, 4,500. Estimating that 1,200 men go to business elsewhere, daily, leaves 3,300 men residing or working daily in the city, on whom the saloons must draw. Assuming that one-half of these men patronize the saloons, we have in round numbers 1,650 men supporting fifteen saloons.

Now as to their cost, and necessarily these figures are estimates: 15 fees, averaging $600, $9,000; rents, average $600, $9,000; salaries, 30 at $1,000, $30,000; other expenses, $10,000; profit, average $2,000, $30,000; total, $88,000, which equals $53 a head on the male population of 1,650 as above estimated.

Who and what these 1,650 men are I cannot even guess. They do not belong to the commuter class to any extent, and I cannot believe that any large proportion of our self-respecting, skilled artizans are spending either much time or money in such resorts. On whom then does the burden fall?

Even if my figures are 100 per cent. out of the way, we must conclude that the money comes from even less than 1,650 men, and that those who thus tax themselves and those dependent on them, do so to a much larger extent than a possible dollar a week, large even as that aggregate appears. If this is true then the cost of the saloons comes from the poorest paid part of the working population, that part which can least afford to spend in that way, the result being that such poor are always getting poorer and poorer and less able to cope with old age and disease. The Salvation Army, the city missionaries, the churches and local charities can easily supply the details which make the sad history of the poor cursed by the saloon.

If this poor class of people are now investing $88,000 more or less in rum, instead of putting it in food, clothing, furniture and education, absolute necessities in an intelligent community, what possible excuse can we the voters, or our servants the Council, give for opening more doors to squander the money which represents the toil of the poor?

If our City Council fairly represents the sentiment of the voters, then Plainfield ranks low in moral force in spite of all our boasting; but if on the other hand the Council is acting independently of public opinion they assume a responsibility which men can only afford to assume when they know absolutely that they are right.

If any of your readers can give me actual figures where mine are estimates, they will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,
Alexander Millar.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

If your goods are not safely delivered, you should blame yourself. You should have given the order to Hoagland, the Park avenue expressman.

If you are willing to benefit by the experience of others, you will never buy your fish at any other place than the Rogers Seafood market, of West Second street.

No matter where you may go for meats, it is almost sure you cannot get any better meat than that to be secured at the store of M. R. Giles, on Park avenue, corner of Second street.

Woolston & Buckle, the leading paint and supply dealers in this city, make a specialty of catering to painters. They have a special stock of brushes, oils and fillings. Drop in and get their prices.

The Boston Cloak and Fur Store on West Front street is a good place to purchase a warm fur or cloth coat at reasonable prices. The concern is now anxious to sell its desirable stock of furs and an excellent opportunity is offered to get a bargain.

Putnam & DeGraw's dry goods store is just the place to purchase goods suitable for spring and summer wear. A trifle early to think about warm weather, but this firm is prepared and will be pleased to show you the desirable line of goods carried.

The very best laundry work is that done by hand. Meissner's laundry on Watchung avenue, near Fifth street, does all work by hand. A specialty is made of laundrying fine laces and delicate material of all kinds. Try this laundry and you will patronize no other.

When the inner man gets hungry nothing but a substantial meal will satisfy. It is for this reason that so many people dine at Timbo's restaurant on North avenue. A first-class meal with all the appetizing accompaniments can be had there for a reasonable price.

You can't find anywhere else in Plainfield goods of quality equal to Peck's, West Front street. You can't find the same goods in any large city stores with very few possible exceptions. Peck's dry and fancy goods are the choicest, in many cases varities prepared especially for Peck.

Have you visited "The Fair" in the Babcock building? There the best bargains are offered in fine women's ware. Everything is sold on the quick-sale-small-profit plan and consequently the purchaser reaps the benefit. In the stock displayed is seen some of the finest women's waists and skirts, ready made, but fitting just like tailor made.

As the spring time approaches many persons will need medicine or a tonic to build up the system after such a severe and trying winter. L. W. Randolph, the West Front street druggist, has just what you want, and he also has the proper compounds for grips, colds and all sorts of ailments. This is headquarters for Huyler's famous confection and refreshing soda water with all the latest fruit syrups, including the delicious walnut frappe.

There is a good deal to be gained by buying your clothing at Rottberg Brothers' New York bargain store. There is good reliable clothing in up-to-date styles to be gained for one thing, and for another there is a big gain in the saving in price which at the N. Y. bargain store is the lowest in town; for a third advantage there is the fact of one of the largest assortments of the very best fabrics from which to choose. In addition special inducements are offered those who wish to take advantage of an extraordinary mark-down sale of winter goods.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Academy of Music, New York, Shubert-Nixon & Zimmerman are presenting "The Jefferson De Angelis Opera Co.," in the musical hit, "The Toreador," which is one of the most satisfying musical comedy productions that we have had in a number of seasons. It is filled with fun, its music entrancing, and nothing but admiration expressed for its scenic surroundings and costuming. Every moment of Jefferson De Angelis' assumption of the timid and unwilling adventurous "Tiger," Sammy Gigg, brings laughter for his unique personality and frolicsome humor. The music of the "Toreador" is full of gems of song, choruses and con to ditties. De Angelis' "Dreamy Eyes;" Edgar Norton's "Everybody's Awfully Good to Me;" Margaret McKinney's "Language of Flowers;" Edward Metcalfe's "Toreador Song," and Norma Bell's 'Keep Off the Grass," are among the most popular numbers which get numerous encores. This engagement will be limited to two weeks, owing to time booked elsewhere and the inability on the part of the management of cancelling same.

The introduction to Broadway of something out of the ordinary has been the obligation assumed by John C. Fisher and Thomas W. Byley in bringing out their Daly Theatre success, "Glittering Gloria," a piece described as "a comedy with music." The work is by Hugh Morton who wrote "The Belle of New York" that ran so long in the city, while the music is by Bernard Rolt, a young Englishman who has rapidly come to the front abroad. That the public likes "Gloria" there is every indication and the length of time she will shine on the stage of Daly's will be determined only by her own sweet will. The comedy is refreshing in that it is composed of a coherent story, the plot of which is never lost. As it is described a comedy with music, so it is and the introduction of the several dainty choruses and individual vocal efforts does not destroy or seriously interrupt the course of the story. The company was selected with a view to make actor and character fit and in Cyril Scott, Percy Ames, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Forrest Robinson, Eugene O'Rourke, George Schiller, Adele Ritchie, Phyllis Rankin, Adelaide Prince and other well-known stage people, the characters created by the author are carefully and consistently portrayed.

There are an unusual attractive array of specialists at all of the Proctor houses for the Sunday concerts, which will continue from 2 until 11 p. m. At the Twenty-third Street among the leading entertainers will be the Kaufman Troupe, Adolph Zink, Ward and Curran, and Blocksom and Burnes. The Fifth Avenue will offer as its principal features, Paul Spandoni, Alcide Capitaine, Binns, Binns and Binns; T. Nelson Downs, etc., while the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street will present Ryan and Richfield, Julius M. Tannen, Bailey and Madison, Eddie Lack, and other stars. and at the Fifty-eighth Street Lillian Burkhart, Cressy and Dayne, Raymond and Caverly and Irene La-Tour will head the lengthy programme.

JERSEY CENTRAL'S SCHEME.

Sending East Bound Freight for New York Central Over Another Route.

The New Jersey Central was experimenting last week with a view of sending all east-bound freight for the New York Central Railroad from Easton, Pa., by the way of the Lehigh and Hudson and the Central New England railroads over the Poughkeepsie bridge. Many miles are saved in transit and the floatage across the North river is also saved. For Central Railroad crews have been on the Lehigh and Hudson conducting the experiments, but it is not known whether the plan is considered a success or not. Should the scheme be adopted the Central would take off about three fast freights daily across this State.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gaston, of this city, have returned from a visit with Somerville friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Howard Perry and Mr. and Mrs. David M. Perry, of West Front street, will soon return to their former home at Bound Brook.

—Alexander Stills, the small-pox patient, is steadily improving. Dr. Lufburrow, the city physician, thinks he and his wife will be able to leave the isolation hospital within three weeks.

JAPANESE HANGED.

Officers Disguised as Coolies Try to Blow Up Bridge.

CAPTURED AND TREATED AS SPIES

Russian Expert Says War Will End by September In Complete Defeat of the Japs—Military Tactics Foreshadowed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 24.—A party of Japanese officers who were captured by the Russians in Manchuria have been hanged as spies. They were attempting to blow up the railroad bridge over the Sungari river at the time they were taken and were disguised as coolies. They were arrested just as they were about to make the attempt. Inquiry revealed that they were Japanese officers of the general staff—namely, Colonel Assai of the engineers and Lieutenants Zoncloiascha and Kaourata of the sappers. They were all hanged on capture in culverts of the bridge.

General Sakharoff, chief of staff of the military district of Turkestan, has been appointed to act as minister of was during the absence of General Kuropatkin.

"The war will end in August or September in the complete defeat of the Japanese," says a high authority in intimate touch with the Russian war plans, whose opinion can be taken faithfully to reflect the belief in the highest official quarters. He adds:

"How the Japanese can hope to succeed when our army in the east is strengthened to a point equal or superior in numbers to that of our adversaries we are honestly unable to comprehend. It will not be difficult to place 200,000, 400,000 or even 600,000 additional men in the field if necessary. When our forces are concentrated and ready they will finish by driving the Japanese into the sea."

M. Jeletz, a military expert who is to accompany General Kuropatkin to the front and whose opinions are consequently of increased value, predicts that the Japanese will make their base of operations along the line between Pingyang and Wonsan, Korea, relying upon protection from their fleet against a flank attack.

The Japanese army will from this line have to march 200 miles over mountainous country to the Yalu river, where they will find the Russians strongly intrenched. If they succeed in forcing this line back they will find another strong Russian line extending from the Yalu to Mukden. They may then divide their forces, using one-half to hold the Russians in check while the other half goes south to besiege Port Arthur. In this event the Japanese will be liable to a flank attack by the northern Russian forces from Kirin.

The appointment of Admiral Makaroff to command the Russian Pacific fleet is gazetted.

Foreign Minister Lamsdorff has sent the following circular to Russian representatives abroad:

"Since the rupture of the negotiations between Russia and Japan the attitude of the Tokyo cabinet has constituted open violation of all customary laws governing the mutual relations of civilized nations. Without specifying each particular violation of these laws on the part of Japan the imperial government considers it necessary to draw the most serious attention of the powers to the acts of violence committed by the Japanese government with respect to Korea. The independence and integrity of Korea as a fully independent empire has been fully recognized by all the powers, and the inviolability of this fundamental principle was confirmed by article I. of the Simonoseki treaty and by the agreement especially concluded for this purpose between Japan and Great Britain on Jan. 30, 1902, as well as by the Franco-Russian declaration of March 16, 1902.

"The emperor of Korea, foreseeing the danger of a possible conflict between Russia and Japan, addressed early in January a note to all the powers declaring his determination to preserve the strictest neutrality. This declaration was received with satisfaction by the powers, and it was ratified by Russia. According to the Russian minister to Korea, the British government charged the British diplomatic representative at Seoul to present an official note to the emperor of Korea thanking him for his declaration of neutrality.

"In disregard of all these facts, in spite of all treaties, in spite of its obligations and in violation of the fundamental rules of international law it has been proved by exact and fully confirmed facts that the Japanese government first, before the opening of hostilities against Russia, landed its troops in the independent empire of Korea, which had declared its neutrality; second, with a division of its fleet it made a sudden attack on Feb. 8—that is, three days prior to the declaration of war—on two Russian warships in the neutral port of Chemulpo.

"Recognizing that all the above facts constitute a flagrant breach of international law, the imperial government considers it to be its duty to lodge a protest with all the powers against this procedure of the Japanese government, and it is firmly convinced that all the powers, valuing the principles which guarantee their relations, will agree with the Russian attitude. At the same time the imperial government considers it necessary to issue a timely warning that, owing to Japan's illegal assumption of power in Korea, the government declares all orders and declarations which may be issued on the part of the Korean government to be invalid.

"I beg you to communicate this document to the governments to which you are accredited."

The newspapers of Port Arthur take a little less than three weeks to reach St. Petersburg. Troop trains probably require a longer time on account of the difficulties at Lake Baikal, where provisions and troops are crossing both on ice trains and sledges. The cold is exceedingly severe. Thirty-six degrees below F. is recorded at Irkutsk and other places. The stories of sufferings of the troops at the crossing are persistent. Some reports say 600 men were frozen, but they lack confirmation. One telegraph line devoted exclusively to government business runs direct to Irkutsk, whence, with a single relay, it connects with St. Petersburg. The czar recently stood at the telegraph key and talked with Viceroy Alexeieff practically uninterrupted.

Military men desiring to accompany the Russian army have been formally notified that they can proceed when convenient, but it is added that accommodations and commissariat supplies cannot be guaranteed before March 15. No authorizations have yet been issued to war correspondents, and it is improbable that anything in this direction will be done till the concentration of troops is completed.

The Chinese minister here has presented to the foreign office a note similar in tenor to that handed to the government at Tokyo regarding China's neutrality and the respect to be paid to the imperial tombs. It is understood that Russia has not made a specific reply, but communicated to the minister a copy of her reply to Secretary Hay's note on the subject of China.

Neutralisation of Newchwang.

YINGKOW, Feb. 24.—The consuls have decided on concerted action looking to the neutralization of Newchwang. They will, however, endeavor to secure an expression of Russian official opinion before acting further. An authoritative Japanese report says that 100 Japanese refugees sent to Port Arthur had not been accounted for up to Feb. 19. Persistent refusal of official information complicates United States Consul Miller's difficulties. An officer of the Russian intelligence department is leaving for Peking and the interior of China for the purpose of reporting on the attitude of the Chinese.

Don Jaime to Serve the Czar.

ROME, Feb. 24.—Don Jaime of Bourbon, son of Don Carlos, the Spanish pretender, having asked the czar to be sent to the scene of action in the far east, has come to Rome and was received by the pope in private audience. Don Jaime entered the presence of the pontiff in full hussar uniform and wearing the decorations he gained in the last Chinese war under Admiral Alexeieff. The pope received him cordially, gave him his benediction, wished him good luck and asked him to do whatever lay in his power for the protection of Roman Catholics in the far east.

Like Army Bards of Old.

KHARKOV, European Russia, Feb. 24.—Bands of strolling musicians, many of whom are blind and who sing Russian folk songs, are leaving for the far east for the purpose of reminding the young soldiers of the exploits of their ancestors. These musicians always accompanied small Russian armies in the olden times.

Cassini Will Present Protest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—At an important conference scheduled for today at the state department between Secretary Hay and Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, Russia's protest to the powers against Japan's alleged violations of international law will be communicated to the Washington government.

Jealousy Kills Three.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 24.—Jerry Dugan, a section hand, killed Mrs. Benjamin Ramsey, her daughter Myrtle, aged four, and her son Albert, aged two. Dugan then sought a policeman, confessed the crime and gave up the razor which he had used in cutting the throats of his victims. He had been staying at the home of Mrs. Ramsey for some time and admitted that he had committed the crime while in a jealous rage.

HIS LAST LETTER

Senator Hanna on Deathbed Thanked President.

"YOU TOUCHED A TENDER SPOT."

Roosevelt Replied With a Heartfelt Wish For Restoration to Health of His Friend—Letter Will Be Treasured as Memorial.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Senator Hanna's last written words were in the form of a pathetic letter to President Roosevelt, in which he acknowledged in a way quite characteristic the president's thoughtfulness in calling at his hotel to inquire about his condition. The letter was written by the senator on the afternoon of Friday, Feb. 5, and was the last business of any kind transacted by him. Mr. Dover that afternoon informed the senator that President Roosevelt had called to inquire about his condition.

"Wasn't that nice of him?" whispered Senator Hanna. "Wasn't that good?"

Later the senator again expressed his deep appreciation of the president's courtesy and a little while afterward called for pencil and paper and wrote the following:

"My Dear Mr. President—You touched a tender spot, old man, when you called personally to inquire after me this a. m. I may be worse before I can be better, but all the same such drops of kindness are good for a fellow."

The next day a reply was received from the president with a note stating that it was to be shown to the senator when Mrs. Hanna thought best. Senator Hanna never saw the reply, which was as follows:

"Indeed it is your letter from your sickbed which is touching, not my visit. May you very soon be with us again, old fellow, as strong in body and as vigorous in your leadership and your friendship as ever."

After Senator Hanna's death President Roosevelt sent the letter to Mrs. Hanna in order that copies of it might be made by the family for preservation. The original will be returned to President Roosevelt, who will treasure it carefully in memory of his dead friend.

German Will Move Against Hereros.

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—Colonel Leutwein, governor of German Southwest Africa, cables that a number of Ovambez under Captain Nechale attacked the police post at Amatoni and were repulsed, with a loss of sixty men killed. A division under Lieutenant Schultze had a fight with the Hereros at South Tsumana in which the enemy lost ten men killed. The Germans sustained no casualties, and Lieutenant Schultze captured large herds of cattle. The principal German forces are gathering at Okahandja, where they will await the arrival of re-enforcements before undertaking a general movement against the Hereros, but in the meantime the enemy will be engaged occasionally as opportunity offers. The Hereros are apparently centered about Otjosongati and Waterberg.

Suicide of Yale Student.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 24.—The body of Robert J. Rich, a member of the sophomore class in the academic department of Yale university and whose home was in Fort Dodge, Ia., was found on a ledge near the foot of West rock. The rock rises almost perpendicularly from the flats of West river and is 384 feet above the sea level. While laboring under heavy mental depression due to causes not known unless the result of overwork at his books, Rich hurled himself from the top of West rock. When some Yale students discovered the body it was not yet cold, but that the man was dead was at once apparent.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—For two days the national committee of the fusionists and the national committee of the middle of the road faction have been in session here endeavoring to agree upon a date and place for holding the national convention of the Allied People's party. After many agreements, followed almost immediately by disagreements, the fusionists submitted a proposition to hold a joint convention at Springfield, Ill., on July 4 and adjourned on the presumption that the proposition would be accepted.

Insane Baronet Wires King Edward.

MENTON, France, Feb. 24.—Sir Home Seton Gordon, bart., became suddenly demented here and behaved in such a manner that he eventually was taken into custody and placed in charge of a doctor. He telegraphed to numerous hotels, ordering rooms for 300 imaginary friends, and created a scene at the British consulate. He sent also a telegram to King Edward and the British foreign office complaining of the way he had been treated.

Decision Against Deadheads.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The question as to whether a passenger on a railroad train riding on a free pass who loses his life on account of an act of carelessness on the part of the railroad company stands on the same footing as a passenger who pays his fare has been decided by the United States supreme court against the free passenger.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 24, 1904.

That the special school meeting held by the boroughites last night was without any desirable result so far as the early erection of a much needed school house is concerned is to be regretted. The existing deplorable condition, caused by the lack of proper accommodations for the pupils, is of much moment and the action last night shows that the citizens of the municipality, or at least 215 of them, are in no hurry to afford to the children what necessity demands. School houses are far more important to North Plainfield than engine houses, or in fact any other kind of municipal buildings. The youth should receive the education which the age demands and this can not be obtained when there is a sad lack of proper facilities. The least that could be expected of the opposition was that some definite plan be proposed, when they found the site recommended by the Board of Education unsuited to their wishes. We hope that the act of obstruction was based on principle for the children of those voting against the proposition must share equally in the suffering occasioned by the result of the meeting, which is that North Plainfield will be hampered by overcrowded schools. The municipality cannot expect to attract home-seekers for some time to come.

It will be a disappointing surprise to the community to find tomorrow night that the Common Council has granted any one of the three new applications for liquor licenses. There is a growing feeling that the rumors circulated during the last fornight are without substantial foundation. The members of that body are respected by their fellow citizens, whom they represent most fittingly. It is well-nigh impossible to believe any rumor concerning their official life which would tend to degrade them in the public eye. Consequently we are sanguine that no promise, expressed or implied, has been made to any of the three petitioners or to their friends. This paper has no fight with the Common Council. It has no fee l ing against the three men who have applied for new licenses. But it has a duty to perform on behalf of the community. The public press should always be on the side of right. The people of this community have shown by the type of men they select to represent them in the municipal government that they believe a community should be of a high moral tone. Wherever you find a community with a large number of saloons, you may expect to find a place where crime is prevalent and the police court is working over-time. No argument has been advanced by anyone why a license should be granted on West Front street near Clinton avenue. None has been made why another one should be added to Park avenue. None has been made why another one would disgrace West Third street. When the Common Council meets in the Smalley building in North avenue at 8 o'clock tomorrow night the friends and enemies of the scheme to blight the good reputation of Plainfield by adding licenses are expected to be on hand. As a mere suggestion, we ask that the Common Council allow the taxpayers a public hearing before the vote is taken. Let there be a free, orderly discussion of a subject which is a serious one to the community.

THOSE IN CHARGE

MRS. HAROLD SERRELL CHAIRMAN OF REFRESHMENT COMMITTEE.

Some Attractive Decorations—Candy Table a Feature—Reception Committee—Programme of Music—Excellent Menu.

The New England supper given in the lecture room of the First Baptist church, last night, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the church, was a great success. The rooms presented an attractive scene, large American flags being used extensively throughout, while the numerous incandescent electric lights covered with red crepe paper added to the brilliancy of the decorations.

The menu was well prepared and nicely served under the direction of the members of the society. The refreshment committee was composed of Mrs. Harold Serrell, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. George H. Batchelor, Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins, Mrs. George H. Robins, Mrs. Stephen VanHorn, Mrs. S. B. Joseph, Mrs. Elvaine VanName.

Those presiding at the tables were Mrs. Hannah Flanders, Mrs. J. B. Probasco, Mrs. S. B. Joseph, Mrs. L. W. Randolph, Mrs. L. H. Biglow, Jr., Mrs. Edward T. Wilson, Miss Florence Marsh, Mrs. George A. Chapman. Assisting as waitresses were these young women: The Misses Ella, May, Josephine and Minnie Serrell, Pauline Denton, Bessie Flanders, Bessie TenEoyk, Carol Bird, Ethel King, Ida Jeter, Annis Kinsman and Ada Fountain.

In addition these women had charge of the candy table: Mrs. W. B. Vail, chairman; Mrs. J. Herbert Case. Miss Bertha Needham, Miss Mae Batchelor, Miss Bertha Thorn, Miss Etta Acker, Miss Grace TenEyck, Miss May MacLaughlin, Miss Carrie Drake, Miss Sue Woodland. Mrs. R. W. Barnes and Miss Alice Scribner were in charge of the ice cream, assisted by Miss Josephine Serrell, Miss Helen Adams, Miss Marguerite Lee, Miss Edna Oakley and Miss Gladys Burt, while Miss Helen Robins and Miss Elizabeth Wilson were in charge of the lemonade well.

Those who arranged the decorations and acted as a reception committee were Mrs. J. B. Probasco, Miss Florence Serrell, Miss Edith Cairns, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, Mrs. Hannah Flanders, Miss Ella Serrell and Miss May Shreve. Miss Florence Serrell was the cashier.

Miss Ada Fountain as president of the society had much to do with the success of the affair in which she was so ably assisted by the other members. After the supper an informal programme of music was presented. This consisted of vocal and instrumental duets by William Holmes, George Smith and the Misses Serrell.

Harold Vanderhoef had charge of tickets, and Frank Jones assisted in the kitchen. Over 200 suppers were served.

CREDITORS AFTER HORTON

ATTACHMENT AND DISTRESS WARRANT ISSUED IN LOCAL COURTS.

When Constable Weaver went to the house of W. C. Horton yesterday at 717 South avenue for the purpose of attaching his goods, he found them already seized on a distress warrant issued from Justice Nash's court for Horton's landlord, David Clark, and served by Constable Manley. Horton is the man who disappeared from this city three weeks ago, leaving, it is thought, numerous creditors behind him.

Constable Weaver's attempt to attach the goods was made as the result of a suit brought in Justice Hand's court by McManus Brothers, of Elizabeth, represented by H. C. Runyon, Esq. Horton bought goods from McManus Brothers on the installment plan, which is in effect a lease until full payment is made. An attempt will be made to replevin the goods in behalf of McManus Brothers. Mrs. Horton, who, it was thought, had disappeared with her husband, was in town yesterday.

Protest Against License.

Editor, The Daily Press:

If any of the city Councilmen in defiance of the wishes and protests of Christian people and property owners intend to vote for a license for Goff's saloon, it is well for them to bear in mind that in the event of its being granted the money thus gained by the city will soon be needed for another policeman to take care of the drunkards made in that place, and in all probability next winter many families in that locality, now comfortably situated will be obliged to draw on the city poor fund because the money they should have had for support will have been spent in Goff's saloon.

Taxpayer.

The Saloon.

Editor, The Daily Press:

The temperance people are not opposed to saloons as places of comfort and convenience to patrons, but only to the kind of beverage offered for sale in them, and which does so much harm.

The drinks they get under the various names of liquors, which, if submitted to a chemical analysis would be found to contain a small percentage, if any, of pure spirits—and that is known full well.

No drink that was wholesome and in any way beneficial would have led William Ross to have hanged himself in jail, or would have robbed George Gardner of his young manhood and caused him to become an inmate of the reformatory at the State's expense; to say nothing of what it has cost our city for his arrest so many times, and many others, who might be named, who are well-known to police records.

Abolish the demoralizing and poisonous drinks, and supply their place with those which are wholesome and then each year the saloon keeper need not face this growing opposition which people have a right to make, because the business is interfering with the health, happiness and prosperity of our fair city.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

AN ERA OF FLOUNCES.

Many Pretty Gowns Carry These Ever Popular Decorations.

There is a new material, silky and yet rather stiff, but altogether beautiful. It is thin and intended only for evening wear and for outdoor wear in the summer. Its colors are such as pale pastel tints, white and black. Along the edges of some of the pieces of goods are borders in two and three lines of varying width in satin weave. This on the thin stuff looks like so many ribbons sewed along the edges of the flounces. By the way, there is a great and growing liking for flounces. All kinds of flounces are to be worn on skirts and waists and even sleeves. We shall no longer be able to get a dress out of seven yards of wide material.

The skirts of these really graceful and elegant dresses have from three to five flounces, so that the upper one starts from the waist. The thin ones have the borders run around so that each flounce seems to have as many rows of ribbon as there are stripes. The effect is beyond measure pretty and a relief to eyes long wearied with lace, lace and still more lace.

A white dress with rows of the narrowest of satin ribbon, white or pink or blue, on the edges of the flounces makes a lovely garment, the changing folds of the flounces giving new and graceful effects. Two waists are generally made of these thin materials, one intended for day wear and the other for evening. It does not require much material to add an evening waist, and it is certainly desirable. The day waist should follow the style of the skirt as closely as possible, with flounces at the elbows. Some sleeves are made with large squares for the flounces and these trimmed with as many rows of ribbon as are on the skirt flounces, while that part of the sleeve above the elbow is laid in tucks. Tucks and ruffles are both used on the front of the waist, but horizontal.

One dainty design which can be easily made at home is of fine silk mull, both waist and skirt in flounces and with a row of fine valenciennes lace on each. This is peculiarly well adapted for the young.

A waist of the very fashionable black silk for a middle aged lady has a regular bertha cape of netted silk, with a fringe of the same on the shoulders. Silk fringe is found on many of the prettiest of waists, not always black, but in colors as well and also white. This particular waist has the fronts bloused with three box plaits, while the back is quite plain. The sleeves are puffed in what now passes for the newest in invention, yet our great-grandmothers knew the same shapes. The puff is obtained by shirring the sleeve down the inner arm seam to the deep cuffs. Shirring is to be seen on many things this coming season. Many waists have a sort of yoke defined by close shirrings, and there are flounces where there are shirred puffs above the flounce itself. Very many of the thin skirts are cut quite straight, and the upper portion is gathered by the shirring to fit the hips closely and left to flow out below. One very beautiful pattern dress from abroad had the whole dress cut in one length from neck to foot, and many shirrings fitted it to the figure. The shirrings about the waist were closer than the others. At the foot there were six narrow ruffles, each edged with a ruffle of fine lace. In that way the bottom of the skirt was made to hold out in the approved style.

While it is quite true that the skirts are made to fit the outline of the figure closely, the fitting is done in a different way from that which has obtained so long. The skirts are much wider around the bottom and even the hips, but somehow this fact has been cleverly hidden in the making.

In answer to two queries I would say that skirts are still lined with silk, but it is of a softer finish and does not rustle so crisply. As to silk petticoats, they are quite as much in vogue as ever. They are as full around the bottom and have as much folderol as before. Black for ordinary and colored for those who like the brighter effects. And, speaking of effects, one may mention the surprising stockings now shown in the stores. They are fine and close and hand painted in flowers, birds and fancy figures in colors. Some have lace insets, and some are hand embroidered. Others have threads drawn in the Mexican work and wrought with many delicate traceries. Of course these are for dress occasions. For general use the black hosiery is considered best.

TREATY RATIFIED.

Senate Has Passed Bill Which Insures Panama Canal.

NEXT STEP NOW "TO SCRATCH DIRT"

Administration Intends to Press Forward the Work on the Big Ditch With All Possible Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The United States senate has ratified without amendment the treaty with Panama for a canal across the isthmus of that name by a vote of 66 to 14. The result was a foregone conclusion, the interest in the matter being only in the division of the vote on the Democratic side, which was not known definitely until the roll was called, all the Republicans being for ratification.

Fourteen Democrats voted for ratification and fourteen against. Two Democrats, Clark of Montana and Stone of Missouri, were paired in favor of the treaty, and three Democrats—Overman, McLaurin and Martin—were paired against it, so in the total vote sixteen Democrats were for the treaty and seventeen against it. The Democrats who were present and voted for the treaty were Bacon, Berry, Clarke of Arkansas, Clay, Cockrell, Foster of Louisiana, Gibson, Latimer, McCreary, McEnery, Mallory, Simmons and Taliaferro.

The only other vote was on the amendment offered by Senator Bacon providing for an arrangement to compensate Colombia for loss of the territory of Panama. This was rejected by a vote of 24 to 49. It was a party vote on the affirmative side and also on the negative side, with the exception of Mr. Gibson and Mr. McEnery, Democrats, who voted with the Republicans. Four Democrats were absent when this vote was taken, and no pairs were announced for them. Some Republicans also were absent on this vote.

Senators generally commend the management of the treaty by Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, who has had charge of the measure during both the plain and stormy sailing. The vote was taken much earlier than was anticipated at first, when its opponents were vigorously trying to secure enough votes to prevent ratification.

The debate in executive session was generally on the merits of the treaty with reference to the secret papers, which were sent to the senate by the president. Senator Morgan made a set speech, which occupied the greater part of the time. Senator Culberson made comments on the secret correspondence and asserted that it showed that the "reasonable time" referred to in the Spooner act was known to have expired both for negotiating the Hay-Herran treaty and its ratification. Senator Culberson also read from a letter addressed to Albert Shaw, M. D., by the president, dated Oct. 10, 1903, in which the president said he saw no hope for any negotiation with Colombia and that he would be delighted should a revolution occur on the isthmus.

Everything is ready for the speedy consummation of the Panama canal treaty, and both the war and state departments have made preparations for the next step, the former by the dispatch of troops to the isthmus and the latter by the completion of arrangements for the exchange of ratifications of the treaty, which must take place in Washington. There is no reason why this ceremony should not occur within the next forty-eight hours. M. Bunau-Varilla, the minister from Panama, has been at the state department in relation to this matter and very soon after he has made the exchange of treaties will lay down his mission, according to the notice he has already given. His successor as minister here will be Pablo Arosemena, the present head of the constitutional convention and father of the secretary of the Panama legation here. Mr. Arosemena is described as a lawyer of ability and a man of means.

The administration intends to press the canal project by all proper methods. As a cabinet officer expressed it, the next step after the appointment of the commission will be "to scratch dirt," and already such members of the commission as are assured of their places, like Admiral Walker and Major General Davis, have been giving some attention to the provision of the clerical force and the engagement of engineering talent to conduct the actual work of canal digging.

Senator Kittredge (S. D.), a member of the interoceanic canal committee, immediately after the ratification of the canal treaty introduced a bill to provide for the temporary government of the Panama canal territory and the protection of the canal works and for other purposes connected with the construction of the canal.

VARILLA TO AMADOR.

Ratification of Canal Treaty Insures Completion of Work.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—As soon as he learned of the ratification by the senate of the Panama canal treaty M. Bunau-Varilla, the minister from Panama, sent the following cablegram to President Amador of the republic of Panama:

"The senate has ratified the Hay-Bunau-Varilla treaty. This great historical fact insures the completion of the Panama canal and the protection of the Panama republic. It crowns my laborious compaign of fifteen years on the political and diplomatic fields to save the honor of the great French conception, as I had previously saved its life on the technical field after four years of warfare in the isthmus against almost insuperable obstacles. While defending the great French enterprise, almost killed by falsehood and calumny, I acted in the capacity of a French citizen defending a great moral interest of France. This excludes all idea of material remuneration. Therefore I request the government of the republic of Panama to withhold the salary of my office. It should form the nucleus of a fund for the erection of a monument by the grateful republic of Panama to Ferdinand de Lesseps, the great Frenchman whose genius has consecrated its territory to the progress of the world, for the honor of Panama and the glory of France and of the United States."

FREEDOM CASTLE CELEBRATES

THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF THE KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN EAGLE OBSERVED.

The membrers of Freedom Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, last night celebrated the third anniversary of the organization of the lodge with a musical and literary programme and a mock trial. The affair was arranged by the good and welfare committee and was a great success. The wives and friends of the members were invited and the hall in the Babcock building was filled.

The trial was that of The State against "Obediah Root," charged with stealing watermelons from a neighbor's patch. Clarence Rittenhouse was the prisoner before the bar and Charles M. Dolliver was judge. The lawyer for the prosecution was Albert Schomp and for the defense, E. D. Young. The witnesses for the defense were Clarence Rittenhouse and Miss Nettie Kreitling and those for the prosecution, Frank Platts, W. J. Trembath and Miss Bessie Wilson. Frank Bach was clerk of the court. The trial resulted in the case being dismissed.

Those assisting in the musical and literary programme were: Mrs. Nagel, Martin H. Korff, E. D. Young, Mr. Hummer and Miss Levers. Following the trial an elaborate repast was served. The committee in charge of the programme was Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, William F. Randolph, Percy Banghart, William J. Trembath and Charles M. Dolliver.

In opening the meeting, Dr. Buchanan, chairman of the good and welfare committee, made a short address in which he spoke of the dead members of the lodge and of the principles of the organization. He welcomed the visitors in the name of the committee and extended an invitation to all the men present to join the lodge.

Mrs. Howard Martin was discharged from Muhlenberg Hospital on Sunday, where she underwent an operation. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are now residing on Westervelt avenue.

BURGLARS IN DUNELLEN.

Activity on the Part of Marauders Disturbs That Borough.

Dunellen is suffering from a burglar scare similar to the one that has afflicted this city, and there is much talk of forming a volunteer police force to patrol the streets at night. The Lucky residence on Prospect avenue was entered late Monday night and $40 in cash and some valuable silverware taken. An attempt was made to enter the house of Dr. P. W. Brakeley, of Front street, but the would-be burglars were frightened away.

Patriotic Service.

The meeting of the Loyal Temperance Legion, yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the W. C. T. U., was in the nature of a patriotic one. The members recited selections appropriate to the observance of Washington's birthday and also sang patriotic songs, the programme concluding with a flag song, in which each one present waved a flag. After the meeting Miss May E. Howlett, the superintendent, presented each member with a small American flag.

Used Bad Language.

Mrs. Lena Buss and her daughter, Freda Buss, arrested on complaint of Jacob Herman, charged with the use of indecorous language, told their tale of woe to City Judge Runyon this morning. The parties to the suit were found at fault and all were severely reprimanded and the case was dismissed.

Picked Adleberg's Pockets.

POW-WOW OF RED MEN IN TRENTON TODAY

Delegates of Wetumpkah and Miantonomo Tribes Among Big Indians in Attendance.

400 CHIEFS PRESENT

GREAT COUNCIL WAS ORGANIZED THIS MORNING.

Twenty-Seven Decisions on Points of Law Decided by Great Sachem Referred to the Council—Some Interesting Statistics Given.

Members of the Improved Order of Red Men from all sections of this State assembled in the hunting grounds at Trenton today to attend the annual powwow of the great council of New Jersey. More than 400 chiefs are present to take part in the deliberations of the council and to assist in electing a corps of great chiefs to rule the order in this State during the coming year.

The sessions are being held in the Y. M. C. A. building.

The first session this morning was devoted to the work of organizing the great council welcoming the new representatives and receiving reports of the great chiefs. Great Sachem Walter S. Whitmore submitted a report of seventy-three printed pages.

Great Sachem Whitney reported all his official visits and twenty-seven decisions on points of law were referred to the council for review. Some of the most important decisions are the following:

"Question—Has a tribe the right to reopen charter? Answer—No."

"Question—How long must a keeper of wampum and chief of records serve to be eligible for the degree of past sachem? Answer—Five great suns' continuous service (five years.)"

"Question—Has the sachem the right to appoint a member of committee pro tem? Answer—No; original committee must be discharged."

"Question—Can a pale face be accepted as an honorary member? Answer—No."

"Question—In case of the sachem and senior sagamore sending in their resignations can the junior sagamore be elected to occupy the sachem's stump. Answer—No; the junior sagamore must serve as senior sagamore before he will be eligible to the stump of sachem."

"Question—If the sachem and senior sagamore each resign, would it be legal for the junior sagamore to be elected senior sagamore and at the next meeting advanced to the chair of sachem?" The decision on this question will be watched with interest by the representatives.

"Question—Has a tribe the right to accept a pale face as an honorary member, he being too old to join and wishing to become a member, he desires social membership. Answer—No; it is inconsistent with the usages of the order to admit any honorary or non-beneficial members."

The reports of the fifty deputy great sachems give detailed information about the condition of the tribes throughout the State. The question of the eighteen-year-of-age law being mandatory is still in doubt. It appears that at the last session of the great council of the United States a law on the subject was adopted, but some held the opinion that it was an optional measure. To secure a decision on the question, the great sachem asked the great incohonee for a ruling. Word was received that the matter is now before the judicial department of the order and that an early decision is looked for. It may be that the decision will not be received in time to be read at the session today, in which case the matter will remain in doubt until the next session of the council.

Great Chief of Records Daniel M. Stevens, of Camden, will submit "a few facts and figures" as he calls them. He will report that during the great sun (one year), 17 district sessions of the great council were held, at which 192 members, representing 97 tribes, received the great council degree.

The summary to be submitted by Chief Stevens will show these figures: Members at last report, 21,661; adopted during the great sun (year 1903), 2,876; reinstated, 318; admitted by card, 114. The losses were: Withdrawn by card, 55; suspended, 1,995; expelled, 8; died, 305; by surrender of charter, 49; no report from Topoanmuo Tribe, No. 210, 32 members; leaving a membership of 22,625 in this State.

CO. K'S TROPHY NIGHT ATTRACTS BIG CROWD

Prizes Are Awarded Company and Individual Members for Good Marksmanship.

MANY OFFICERS THERE

CAPTAINS BELL, MARTIN, PARK AND HALL IN ATTENDANCE.

Gold Medal for A. I. Littell—Bronze Statuette for Company K—The Soldier Boys' Gift to Captain William B. Martin.

The biggest crowd of the week was present at Company K's fair last night to witness the distributing of individual and company prizes won during the past year. The attendance was estimated at 850.

The feature of "trophy night" was the presentation to the company of a handsome bronze statuette of a soldier awarded the company in the Second Regiment qualifying the greatest number of marksmen. The presentation was made by Capt. Bell, inspector of rifle practice, and the trophy accepted by Captain William B. Martin, on behalf of the company. The solid gold medal awarded the man making the highest individual score in the State was presented Sergt. A. I. Littell.

Other medals were presented to Capt. Martin and Private Terhune, expert marksmen; Sergt. Littell and Corp. Phillips, sharpshooters; Lieut. Lewis, Sergt. Peterson, Sergt. Pearsall, Corporals Whitney, Hart, Bilyeu, Harsel and Stover, and Privates Brennan, Goldsach, F. R. Pearsall, Sampson, W. R. Peterson, W. B. Mosher, Emmons, Vail, Fravee, marksmen; and Sergts. Randolph and Seiders, Corp. Tranchand, and Privates Hayes, Turner and Niles, first class marksmen.

Prizes recently won at Newark in the armory qualifications were presented Capt. Martin, Sergt. Pearsall, Sergt. Littell, Sergt. Pearson, Corporals Apgar, Bilyeu, Phillips and Whitney, and Privates F. R. Pearsall, Pope, Sampson and Wikoff. One hundred per cent. service medals for the past three years were awarded Lieut. Lewis, First Sergt. Peterson, Sergt. Littell, Corp. Tranchand, Corp. Bilyeu, Private Niles. A one year service medal was awarded Private Wilson.

Col. Collins, of the Second Regiment, who was expected to attend, sent word that he would be unable to come owing to the illness of his wife. Capts. Park and Hall, of Elizabeth, were present with delegations from their commands, Companies C and I.

A pleasant incident of the evening was the presentation of a sofa pillow containing the regimental coat of arms to Capt. Martin. The pillow was the gift of the company.

The bowling tournament was won last night by Private Terbune and Tuesday night by Dr. W. Kempton Browning. The fair will close next Monday night with an exhibition drill by the company.

AUDUBON SOCIETY'S MEETING.

Annual Session to be Held in the Crescent Avenue Church.

The annual meeting of the New Jersey Audubon Society will be held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Tuesday night, March 1, at 8 o'clock. After the transaction of business, there will be a free lecture on "Bird Music," by Henry Oldys, of Forest Glen, Maryland. In commenting on this lecture, the Washington Times says: "One feature of the forenoon session that met with hearty applause was the address by Henry Oldys of this city on "Form in Bird Music." Enlarged scores of songs of different birds were displayed to the members and Mr. Oldys reproduced the sounds by whistling."

"Smiling Jimmie" Signs.

"Smiling Jimmie" Montross, who has made an excellent record in this vicinity as a baseball pitcher, having made his debut with the Hope Y. M. A., and continuing with the Westfield team later, has signed to pitch in the A. J. and G. New York State League this season. Jimmie is in the best of condition and he says that he is sure he can "make good."

Former Plainfielder Dead.

Miss Annie M. Hall, formerly of this city, died on Sunday last at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. W. White, at Uniontown, Pa. Her remains were taken to New Brunswick on Tuesday night and the interment will be at Nauright, Hunterdon County, today.

ROBIN RED BREAST IS SAFE

INHUMAN MEASURE RECEIVES A KNOCKOUT BLOW IN LEGISLATURE.

Supported by a petition almost twenty feet long with the names of hundreds of farmers and bird lovers in this section of the State upon it, and with the claim that the bill to allow the unrestricted shooting of the robins is cruel, Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer was largely instrumental in effecting the defeat of the proposed law, when it came up in the House of Assembly at Trenton Tuesday.

Of a total of fifty-four votes only eight were registered against it after Mr. Swackhamer made a strong plea on behalf of the birds. Mr. Swackhamer's contention was that while the fruit growers suffered a little, the benefit of protecting the birds was derived largely by the wheat and rye growers. There were 2,000 signatures on the petition presented by the Somerset Assemblyman.

Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer has received information to the effect that another robin bill is to be introduced in the Legislature at Trenton aiming at the robins, in spite of the fact that the Camden bill was killed a few days ago. It is said that the new bill will differ from the original in that the words "have in their possession or to kill them" will be substituted for the word "shoot." The effect of the bill as the proposed change suggests, will make it just as dangerous as the first one and Mr. Swackhamer says he is preparing to defeat that bill too. He has received many letters commending his action in defeating the measure.

SOME EDITORIAL KNOCKS

PLAINFIELDERS WHO GET RAPS FROM THE STATE PRESS.

Smalley.

It may be expected that at the next election, the volunteer fire department of North Plainfield will prove to Mayor Smalley that it is something more than a mere social organization. The Mayor has invited the men to turn the hose on him, and they are not likely to be slow in accepting his suggestion.—Newark Evening News.

Moffett.

One of the assemblymen who represent Union county has been heard from. Charles L. Moffett, the Plainfield representative, has arraigned himself as an opponent of Mr. Colby's bill to rid the State of the unsightly advertising bill-boards which destroy the landscape effects along the railroad lines. Mr. Moffett's view is that the proposed measure is unconstitutional and that it takes away individual property rights, and would deprive farmers of one of their means of utilizing their land for an income.—Elizabeth Journal.

Martine.

It is an easy matter for a man to attract attention to himself nowadays if he is only ingenious enough to devise some unsual way of catching the public eye or the public ear. The Hon. James E. Martine, of Plainfield, has done this successfully. He is not a great man nor even an impressive orator, but he has an enthusiastic way of saying things that is peculiar to him. He is seized upon by the literary hackmen of the day as an interesting novelty and his fame is made. We are told that Finley Peter Dunne, the author of the Mr. Dooley stories, has been spending two or three days with Mr. Martine with the purpose of getting material for a series of funny political articles. Mr. Dunne undoubtedly went to a fruitful source in his search for material for funny political stories. New Jersey has looked upon Mr. Martine as a funny man ever since he blossomed out in 1896, and whether or not Mr. Dunne can improve on the Union county farmer's humor remains to be seen; but one thing is certain, and it is that after Mr. Dunne has finished with Mr. Martine, that gentleman will be as widely famous as is the north pole. There is a whole lot of free advertising in store for him that ought to be able to turn to good account.—Trenton State Gazette.

That New 'Phone Company.

New Brunswick is wondering what has become of the telephone company which was granted a franchise to do business in that city about a year ago, and which made application for a franchise in Plainfield. The company had barely started on its new system when work ceased. Unless it gives a satisfactory accounting for itself, it is said the franchise will be withdrawn.

In the second and third games the association team had more than 100 pins to spare. The third game was to have been rolled on the Y. M. C. A. alleys, as in a previous match in the association gymnasium, the third game was postponed for lack of time. Capt. Morris Sutphen, of the Y. M. C. A., was high roller with 182. The scores:

REPORTS OF GRACE M. E.

ENCOURAGING REVIEWS OF THE METHODIST CHURCH ACROSS THE BROOK.

For the purpose of talking over plans to create even greater activity in church work, the Official Board of Grace M. E. church called a conference of the church members last night. The meeting was largely attended and several of the officers made interesting addresses regarding the problems which have to be met. A report of the financial condition of the year was made by E. E. Winkler, the treasurer, and later refreshments were served.

Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp made an address on the spiritual needs of the congregation and a short talk was given by Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, who was chosen chairman. E. P. Stevens told of the social needs of the congregation, declaring incidently that no one should wait for someone else to come up and shake hands with him in a church. If one has not the courage to address a large number of people, the speaker said [it is his or her Christian duty to extend the hand of good fellowship to those who are strangers in the House of God.

Superintendent of the Sunday-school, John Valiant, told how the membership of the church and Sunday-school attendance had increased. The financial statement made by the treasurer, E. E. Winkler, was interesting to the contributors of the church. He said that the valuation of the church property was now $30,000. Only a small amount of this is covered by mortgage. Besides the $2,100 mortgage on the church improvements, yet to be paid off, there was $400 on the old mortgage and $400 on the organ. The parsonage, lot and church lot are all clear of indebtedness.

A committee composed of the young people of the Epworth League served the refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake. It was composed of Mrs. Anna Most, Miss Mary E. Steiner, Russell Harden, Benjamin Schuck and John Valiant.

Call to North Plainfield Voters.

A call has been issued, signed by fifty-two citizens of North Plainfield, of both political parties, for a primary of the Citizens' party for tomorrow (Friday) evening, in the basement of the Somerset street school house, at 8 p. m., and those voters are invited who believe that a Citizens' ticket should be placed in the field at a borough election.

Borough Republican Nominations.

The borough Republicans will meet at the Somerset street school house Saturday night to nominate candidates for assessor, collector, councilmen, freeholder, justice of the peace, commissioner of appeals, etc.

GOODWIN CASE LAID OVER

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT IN SUPREME COURT IN CASE AGAINST BOROUGH.

The case of John Goodwin against the Mayor and Borough of North Plainfield, came up in the Supreme Court at Trenton yesterday and was held over until the court records supposed to have been taken at the trial in North Plainfield, can be secured or testified to by the recorder. Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed represents the borough and Codington & Swackhamer are counsel for Goodwin.

The court yesterday received the testimony said to have been given during the trial. This was objected to by the counsel for the complainants on the ground that it did not set forth the evidence correctly and that it certified to evidence never produced in court and that it had been collected three months after the trial had taken place in the face of the admission alleged to have been made, that no written record was kept of the court proceedings. Mr. Swackhamer maintained that the evidence should precede the judgment and be a part of the written record in the docket of the judge before it could be available to support the judgment of the higher court.

The court decided that they would hear Mr. Swackhamer on those questions when the case comes up again and gave an order compelling the recorder of North Plainfield to answer certain questions regarding the proofs submitted at the hearing and directing him to certify whether certain witnesses testified to particular facts regarding the arrest and trial. This will be done in a few days and the case will again be called for a final review.

BILLS IN LEGISLATURE

MEASURES OCCUPYING ATTENTION OF GOVERNOR AND LAWMAKERS.

Mr. Lange, of Hudson, has introduced a measure in the Legislature which has for its object the abolition of capital punishment and makes a life term in State prison the penalty for murder in the first degree. The bill went to the judiciary committee and from bits of gossip from the house the bill will probably meet the same fate in committee as the one providing that murderers be imprisoned for life.

Among the more important ones introduced in the House is one by Mr. Henry, of Middlesex, which provides for the establishments of State laboratories by the State Board of Health for the manufacture of diphtheria anti-toxin for free distribution to the inhabitants of the State.

Governor Murphy has transmitted to the Senate and House a copy of the report of the commission appointed last year to investigate the necessity for and the advisability of establishing and maintaining a reformatory for women.

The commission recommends the establishment of such a reformatory and on the cottage plan and advises the purchase of about 150 acres of farming land in a location easily accessible to the larger cities of the State and to erect five brick cottages. It further recommends that the reformatory be managed exclusively by women after the manner of similar institutions in Massachusetts and New York.

The estimate cost for the accommodation of 150 women is put at $148,000, including $100,000 for the five cottages, $6,000 for a superintendent's home, $7,500 for the farming land, $1,500 for a farmer's home, $3,000 for stables, $5,000 for sewerage, $15,000 for furnishings and equipment, and $10,000 for contingent expenses.

Each cottage would accommodate from twenty-five to thirty women and the annual cost of maintaing the institution, filled to its capacity, is estimated at $240 per head, or $36,000.

The commission asks for an appropriation of $75,000 and recommends the amendment of the existing laws so as to immediately commence the commitment of women prisoners to the proposed institution, except those whose sentence shall be more than five years. The commission says it has no bill of expense to present.

Witnessed the Mardi Gras.

A letter received from Ephraim M. Vail, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Gulfport, Miss., states that he and his wife have been enjoying the Mardi Gras at New Orleans. He says that it is fine as ever and the weather conditions are perfect, it not being necessary for the men to even wear a top-coat at night. Mr. Vail is still assistant engineer on the Gulf and Ship Island Railway.

LARGE CONGREGATION HEARS REV. DR. CRAPSEY

Rochester Clergyman Talks at a Seven Days' Mission Service in Grace Church.

ON REPENTANCE OF SIN

MADE SHORT ADDRESS FOLLOWING HIS SERMON.

Christ Taught Men to Think Differently of God—When One's Mind is Changed, Said He, His Whole Life is Changed.

There was a large congregation, last night, to hear Rev. Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey, of St. Andrew's church, Rochester, who is conducting a seven days' mission at Grace church. He will have charge of some of the services today and again on Wednesday night, March 2, he will preach. Dr. Crapsey is a preacher of much power and his discourse last night was especially helpful. His text was Matthew 4:17—"From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say Repent: for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand."

In part Dr. Crapsey said:

"At the time of our text religion had ceased to be a power in the world. The social life of the people had lapsed into an undesirable state. Men were looking for a sign in the Heavens when this young man came out of Nazareth. He went out to preach the coming of the Lord. There was nothing striking in what Jesus did. He began as a preacher rather than a teacher. By the word 'repent' is meant a change in your mind, your opinions. The whole work of Christ was to change men's way of thinking about God, to dispel errors, to make them think differently about God and His divine and human relationship.

"By this preaching it was possible to change from the old to the new existence. Its purpose was to change the texture of man's mind; to alter the whole thought of the inner life. If you go into the south today and preach equality between black and white you at once arouse a feeling of hostility, or if you go among the wealthy class and tell them that the poor class is their equal you will see how quickly it will be impressed upon you that your absence is preferred to your company.

"John the Baptist preached a negative repentance. He left no great body of thought as Christ did. When our minds are changed our whole lives are changed. I want you to think the thoughts of our Lord Jesus Christ. Though Christ has been preached to the world for two thousand years the minds of the people are still set on unrighteousness. Our minds are not set on Heaven as they should be. This is a time for the serious consideration of our mental attitude toward God."

Dr. Crapsey in his discourse endeavored to impress upon his hearers the importance of learning what the mind of the Lord is and he said that later he would have something to say especially along this line.

Following his sermon he gave a short address appropriate to the thoughts expressed in his discourse. Instead of the usual offering being taken, an opportunity was given those present at the close of the service to contribute as they left the church, the collection plates being placed on small stands near the doors.

Remedying Acoustic Properties.

For the purpose of bettering the acoustic properties of the Park Avenue Baptist church money is now being raised. It is proposed to place a board ceiling in the main part of the church. It is argued that this will not only make it possible for everyone to hear distinctly, but will mean a great saving of at least half in the cost of coal. Nearly $1,000 has thus far been raised toward the project. It is estimated that $2,500 will be necessary in order to do the work.

Mr. Besler to Speak.

W. G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the New Jersey Central, will address the Young Men's Brotherhood of the First M. E. church at a meeting to be held in Vincent chapel, tomorrow night. His talk will vary considerable from the one given at the First Presbyterian church last week.

Miss Leichtentritt's Wedding.

Miss Nettie Leichtentritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Leichtentritt, of West Front street, and Nathan Samuels, Jr., of New York, will be married in New York on Tuesday night, March 1. The couple will reside in Somerville.

WATCHUNG COUNCIL IN ITS NEW QUARTERS

Plainfield Members of Knights of Columbus Have An Elaborately Furnished Home.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

THE ORGANIZATION SPENT $3,000 IN FURNISHING ITS ROOMS.

District Deputy M. J. Sweeney, of Jersey City, Installing Officer—Over 100 Members Present—Description of Rooms.

Watchung Council No. 553, Knights of Columbus opened their sumptuously furnished rooms at 118 East Front street with an installation of officers by District Deputy M. J. Sweeney, of Jersey City last night. Over one hundred members were present and during the evening congratulations were exchanged on securing the finest appointed lodge rooms in the city, if not in the entire State.

The officers installed to serve for the ensuing year were: Grand Knight, A. E. LaPorte; deputy grand knight, J. F. O'Keefe; chancellor, W. J. O'Keefe; warden, C. R. Guinee; financial secretay, J. J. Hines; recorder, J. W. Graham; treasurer, A. A. Cannon; lecturer, W. A. Boone; advocate, F. J. Blatz; physician, Dr. W. C. Boone; inside guard, W. H. Scheafer; outside guard, Thomas Carty, Sr.; chaplain, Rev. J. T. Delahanty; trustees, J. J. Kenney, J. C. Traynor and P. Traynor.

The local council was organized on January 8, 1901 and has enjoyed a steady growth in membership and strength financially. Owing to the increase in membership it was seen not long ago that larger quarters were necessary and the rooms on the top floor of 118 East Front street, which are now known as Columbus Hall, were leased and $3,000 were spent in furnishing them. The decorations are a combination of a dark olive green richly set off by a red velvet carpet and finished with white. An expensive chandelier forms a center for the ceiling and this is lighted by electricity. The banquet hall, entered by a majestic flight of stairs leading from the main assembly room, is large and airy and the appointments are fine. All the furniture in the rooms is of oak.

The formal opening and reception will not be held until after Easter. At that time it is expected to invite a large number of out-of-town knights. While the plans have not yet been formulated for this event it is understood that it is probable it will be the greatest in the history of the Council.

CITIZENS' MEETING CALL

NORTH PLAINFIELD ANTI-ADMINISTRATION MEN TO NAME TICKET.

Republicans, Democrats and independent voters, opposed to the administration of Mayor Smalley in North Plainfield, have joined forces to place a non-parisan ticket in the field, including nominees for council, assessor, collector and justices of the peace. A call has been issued for a meeting to be held in the Somerset street school house tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. No one has been selected to act as chairman as yet, and those supporting the movement say that no candidates have been agreed upon.

COULDN'T PAY BILLS.

Thespians Had No Board Money and Didn't Present "East Lynne" at the Central Theatre.

The Spanton-Blake company which was booked to present "East Lynne" at the Central theatre, left town last night after passing through much trouble. An attachment on the company's goods was issued from Justice Nash's court and Constable Manley attempted to carry out the court's decree but when he went to the theatre could find no goods to attach. The show was not given and those who were present received their money back. The writ was issued for Mrs. Isabella VanNest, who had a bill against the members of the company of $28.50 for board at her Park avenue restaurant.

The leading man and woman of the company, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bowman, who registered at the Hotel Kensington, refused to go on the boards last night because, they claimed, they had not received their salary. The entire company returned to New York.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

Public Library Notes.

Little by little has the modern public library come to be regarded not only as a distributer of books, but as a bureau of information. This distinct need has been met by the progressive public library as it has realized the educational possibilities involved. The latest and best books of reference are placed in a room removed from the confusion incident upon the circulation of books, in charge of a competent assistant whose whole duty it is to assist inquirers. All matter which has possibilities of usefulness, bibliographies, newspaper clippings, pictures, etc., are so kept as to disclose the elusive bit of information with the least expenditure of time. This systematization, allied with co-operation with other libraries has brought this work in large public libraries to a high degree of efficiency, so that in addition to the general reference room, special reference rooms are set aside for patents, art, for class rooms, for school reference work and even individual rooms are provided in which a student engaged in serious research may work alone. While these developments obviously are possible only for the city library, even the small town library should have one light room with adequate book and seating capacity. Without this the limit of a library's usefulness in this direction is soon reached.

In our own public library, which probably does more reference work than any in the State, excepting only Newark and Jersey City, the work is greatly impeded by most hampering conditions. Space limitation prevent the shelving of but a small fraction of the library's reference books where they will be accessible. There can be no provision for quiet, as there is but one large room, which is common to the varied and conflicting uses of students, borrowers, magazine and newspaper readers and children. That nevertheless, this department has come to be widely known and used, not only by our own residents, but by those of neighboring towns to a very considerable extent is an indication of its possibilities of usefulness under the more favorable conditions enjoyed by other libraries. It is consulted by authors, designers, inventors, clubwomen, debaters, mechanics, the architect, the clergyman, the teacher, the housewife and always the school children. One may be called from furnishing material on an academic question like the "Influence of the Norman conquest upon the English language" to answering the more individual and pressing question of "How to take care of a teething baby."

As an illustration of the wide range of this work a few of the questions recently answered are given: "On what day of the week did March 5, 1870 fall?" "What is the Hague conference, and what has it accomplished?" "Something on the waterways of Russia." "What are the coal centers of Europe?" "A recent account of the Trans-Siberian railway," "Maps which will show the route of the early discoverers of this country," "All you have on the literature of Holland," "Something about Parsifal," "Christmas customs in Germany," "How to grow violets," "Account of the old English game of quarterstaff," "Reproductions of all the famous pictures of Joan of Arc," "Child labor in New Jersey," "Should colleges accept ill-gotten gifts?" "What employers are doing for their employes," "History of the Plainfield Quaker meeting house."

These are but a few of the many questions that are being constantly brought to the Public Library for solution.

A FITTING TRIBUTE.

A Citizen of Plainfield Pays a Well-Earned Tribute.

The following public statement of a respected citizen adds one more emphatic endorsement of merit to the scores that have appeared before:

Mrs. R. Wortman, living with her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Cook, of 204 Somerset street, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results for severe pains across my back and hips, which no doubt was caused by the kidneys being out of order. It was painful for me to stoop or bend forward and I could not sit ten minutes in one position but had to be continually changing about. I used many different kinds of medicine recommended for kidney trouble but I could not see that any of them benefitted me. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured for me at L. W. Randolph's drug store and it is the only remedy I ever used that gave me any relief. I always keep a supply of them on hand and would not think of being without them."

FOUR SHIPS SUNK.

Russians Successfully Defend Port Arthur From Attack.

JAPANESE TRIED HOBSON TACTICS

Official Dispatches From Viceroy to Czar—American Built Retvizan's Grand Defense—Russian Loss Nil.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that the Japanese attempted to send four steamers filled with explosives among the Russian fleet in Port Arthur harbor. These fire ships did no damage and were themselves destroyed, two being sunk and two going ashore. Two Japanese boats escorting the fire ships were destroyed by Russian guns.

An official dispatch from St. Petersburg says a telegram from Viceroy Alexeieff to the czar has just been received, as follows:

"At a quarter before 3 in the morning numerous Japanese torpedo boats attempted to attack the battleship Retvizan and sink large steamers loaded with inflammables. The Retvizan was the first to observe the torpedo boats and opened a strong fire on them. She was supported by the land batteries. She destroyed two steamers near the entrance of the harbor. They were coming directly toward her. One of them went on the rocks near the lighthouse on Tiger peninsula, and the other sank under Golden hill. The Retvizan observed four steamers in a sinking condition and eight torpedo boats departing slowly to rejoin the waiting Japanese warships. A portion of the crews of the Japanese vessels was drowned. The grounded steamer is still burning. The enemy is observed in the offing of Port Arthur in two lines.

"The Japanese crews saved themselves in boats, and it is possible that some of them were picked up by the enemy's torpedo boats.

"I am proceeding to examine the coasts. The entrance of the harbor is open. I attribute the complete derangement of the enemy's plan to the brilliant action and destructive fire of the Retvisan. Floating mines are still visible in the roadstead. I have recalled the three cruisers sent in pursuit of the enemy and will at once clear the roadstead of floating mines. We had no losses."

The Russian embassy has received a later dispatch to the effect that the Japanese squadron during the night tried to block the entrance of Port Arthur harbor, at the same time attacking the Russian warships there with torpedo boats and trying to set them on fire. The Russian battleship Retvizan, supported by the coast batteries, repelled this attack, forced the Japanese to retire and succeeded in sinking four of their vessels.

Another and the most circumstantial report is that the Japanese attempted to bottle up Admiral Stark's fleet in Port Arthur by sinking two stone laden vessels at the entrance of the harbor, employing the tactics which were considered, but not executed, by the late Admiral Sampson, U. S. N., with the Merrimac at Santiago during the Spanish-American war. According to this account, two Japanese ships appeared off the harbor, with a Japanese fleet behind them ostensibly in pursuit. The Russians, however, suspected a ruse, and their ships steamed out, sank the stone laden vessels, engaged and defeated the enemy and drove them off. The reports of the loss inflicted are conflicting.

All the stories include the feature of the vessels loaded with stones; but, according to some versions, the Japanese fleet was convoying transports with the purpose of effecting a landing at Pigeon bay, and after the failure of this preliminary maneuver the Russians played havoc with both the Japanese warships and the transports, sinking four of the former and two of the latter. It is reported that the battleship Retvizan particularly distinguished herself during the action by ramming and sinking one of the Japanese battleships.

The news of victory was accompanied by two stories, one that after the first decisive Russian victory the emperor would offer peace and the other that Japan had deposed the emperor of Korea and formally annexed that country.

The greatest praise is given to the commander of the Retvizan, and the splendid action of this American built vessel places her name foremost on the roll of the Russian navy.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says General Kuropatkin left for the far east today.

The Korean minister at St. Petersburg has subscribed $25 for the Russian fleet.

It is reported that the Japanese while attempting to land at Pigeon bay lost two cruisers and two transports.

Viceroy Alexeieff has caused a proclamation to be issued throughout Manchuria notifying the Chinese that Russia is at war with Japan on account of Japan's treacherous attack on the Russian fleet.

This proclamation is under six headings. The first warns the inhabitants that they must prevent the encroachment of Chinese on Russian territory.

Second.—Russian and Chinese interests are declared to be identical, but as China says she wishes to maintain neutrality therefore all officials in Manchuria instead of hindering must assist the Russian army.

Third.—The people shall continue their occupations and shall treat the Russian troops with confidence.

Fourth.—The railroad telegraphs are left to the protection of the people, who will be held responsible in case they are injured.

The fifth heading warns the people not to obey the threats of the chunchus (bandits), who are the curse of Manchuria, but assist the troops to exterminate them. If they do not assist in this they also will be treated as robbers.

Sixth.—If the people antagonize the troops or show them hatred they will be exterminated without mercy. The government is taking all steps in any event to protect its interests.

The proclamation makes an earnest appeal for the sympathy of the people in the present crisis, when, it says, "Russia must put her back to the wall."

H. B. Miller, United States consul at Newchwang, is increasingly active in his endeavors to protect Japanese refugees and has made further demands for information as to the whereabout of refugees. He has made strong representations in the matter of right of search and inspection.

A Berlin dispatch says in an interview Count von Bulow, the German imperial chancellor, has declared that a friendly feeling toward Russia is a tradition in the policy of Germany, but that did not imply hostility toward Great Britain or lack of appreciation of Japan's valor and efforts toward progress. He denied emphatically that Germany had aggressive plans in the far east or the near east. Germany was peaceful and sought commerce, not conquest. He declared also that the idea that Germany was seeking to supplant France with Russia to be entirely without foundation and added:

"We are convinced that the Franco-Russian alliance, like the triple alliance, is an element in the preservation of the European status quo. We do not seek to destroy this alliance."

Cable From Guam to Japan.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Inquiries have been addressed to the government by representatives of the Commercial Cable company as to whether permission could be secured to land on the island of Guam an ocean cable connecting with Japan. The request is based on apprehension that the existing Japanese cables, both of which run to Shanghai, crossing the mouth of the Yellow sea, may from their exposed positions be cut by the Russians and Japan be left completely isolated from the world.

Military Officers to Watch War.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Colonel Crowder of the general staff, who has been selected to accompany the Japanese army in the field during the war, has left for Yokohama. Nominally General Allen will be military attache to the United States legation at Seoul.

Russia Will Ignore Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Russia will ignore Japan's newly negotiated treaty with Korea guaranteeing the independence and integrity of the Hermit Kingdom and has so informed the United States. Japan, it may be stated, assumes practically the same attitude of indifference toward Russia's protest to the powers, which, on high authority, it is declared, will be ignored by the Tokyo government.

JAPS' CLEVER MOVE

Treaty With Korea Checkmates Russian Protest.

APPEAL SHOULD COME FROM SEOUL

In Using a Korean Base of Operations Mikado Has Fully Reassured the Hermit Kingdom's Emperor of His Friendship.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Minister Allen, at Seoul, has informed the state department that Japan has made a treaty with Korea in which the independence and integrity of Korea are guaranteed. This information is regarded as of great importance in connection with the charge made by Russia that Japan had violated the neutrality of Korea.

In the Russian note particular attention is called to "the acts of violence committed by the Japanese government with respect to Korea." Apparently Korea and Japan have a complete understanding, and it is the belief that Korea has no fear of Japanese violence.

It is pointed out here that the question of a violation by Japan of Korean neutrality concerns only Korea and Japan and that an appeal to the powers to be effective should come from Korea and not Russia.

The terms of the Japanese-Korean treaty have not been made public, but in the absence of any complaint from Korea, the only party to be aggrieved, it is thought that Japan's action in using Korea as a base of operations against Russia is fully understood by Korea and that the Korean authorities are not nearly so much alarmed over what the Russians term Japanese violence as the Russians are themselves.

A dispatch from London confirms the news that Japan has proclaimed a protectorate over Korea.

American and Spanish Tars Fight.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., Feb. 25.—A fight has occurred here between sailors from a Spanish and an American warship which resulted in the wounding of several men and an ultimate victory for the Americans. The fight originated when a seaman from the United States cruiser Columbia jostled a sailor from the Spanish cruiser Rio de la Plata as he passed him in the street. The Spaniard was with a companion from his ship, as was the American sailor, and all the men were on shore liberty. The Spanish sailor drew a stiletto and seriously wounded the American who had brushed against him. Other men from the Columbia who were on shore gathered around their companions and attacked the two Spaniards, who defended themselves with their knives and succeeded in slightly wounding several other Americans. They finally escaped, ran to the wharf and jumped into the water. They were picked up by a harbor boat and taken on board their ship. The wounded American sailor is in a hospital here in a critical condition.

Starch Mill Wrecked; Three Dead.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Three men were killed and eighteen injured last night in an explosion that wrecked the starch mill of the Warner Sugar Refining company at Waukegan, Ill. It is possible that the number of dead will exceed three, but it will be at least a fortnight before the wreckage of the mill can be cleaned up in such a manner that it can be positively known that no more bodies are in the debris. The reports of the dead run all the way from three to twenty-five. The evidence, however, is in favor of the lower number.

"The Heathen Chinee Is Peculiar."

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 25.—Moy Lung, a well dressed young Chinaman, has been sent to jail here in default of $500 bail to await trial on a charge of falsely representing himself to be a government inspector of Chinese naturalization papers and procuring money from local Celestials as such pretended official. He is said to hail from California.

Skagway Records Missing.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 25.—The town of Skagway, Alaska, is in peculiar municipal straits, as all the early town records have disappeared along with the files of the newspapers. This is a particularly perplexing situation since it is impossible to tell what franchises have been granted or what privileges the franchises contained.

German Baron Killed by Bruin.

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Feb. 25.—The body of Baron Martin von Schlosser, formerly an officer in the German army and for many years a resident of this city, has been found on the range south of the hot springs near the body of a dead bear. The baron undoubtedly had been killed by the bear while hunting.

Icebound Schooners.

CITY ISLAND, N. Y., Feb. 25.—This harbor and as far as can be seen with a glass to the eastward the sound is apparently clear of ice. But from Stepping Stone light to Throgs Neck the ice is solidly packed. Four schooners bound east, one three master and three two masters, are stuck in the ice between those places.

University Has Good Friends.

APPLETON, Wis., Feb. 25.—Lawrence university has received a gift of $8,000 from an unknown donor with which to endow a chair of English Bible study. This makes almost $200,000 received by the university this year.

Fatal Explosion In Starch Factory.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—An explosion in the factory of the Western Starch company at Waukegan, Ill., has killed three men and injured eighteen others.

Amen!

Much satisfaction is expressed by boroughites over the excellent report presented to the North Plainfield Council by Assessor Elston M. French. Mr. French has invariably discharged the duties of his office in a commendable way and has proven a valuable public servant.

Congress adjourned as a tribute to the memory of Marcus A. Hanna, but refused to adjourn out of respect to George Washington. Congress has taken official notice of the greatness of the Commander-in chief and first President of the United States. But still he was "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

In a community established by him at East Aurora, N. Y., Elbert Hubbard publishes a magazine called The Philistine, which is as peculiar as its editor can possibly make it and he is the most peculiar man in seven States. You only have to gaze at his picture to know that he is a crank but some cranks are brainy fellows. He preaches a gospel to his flock of Philistines, but one of his critics says that it does not include the Ten Commandments. Hubbard is an original mortal and for that reason, no matter how much you may disagree with his views, there is always something to be learned from what he writes and says. There is much in The Philistine that one is bound to agree with. In a recent issue he condemns Richmond B. Hobson's idea to expend two billion five hundred million on a navy, pointing out that a nation's greatness depends on the standard of intelligence of the masses rather than upon its fighting strength. Here is a sensible proposition he advances: "This country raises for our public schools two hundred million dollars a year. And the appropriations for war and war appliances were, for the year just past, over four hundred million dollars. Hobson's desired appropriation would double the pay of every school teacher in America for ten years, and place manual training apparatus in every school house from Cape Nome to Key West. Now suppose we quit talking about war and set ourselves to this problem of educating our boys and girls. Educate them to be useful—one session a day for books—the morning for study and the afternoon for work—what say you then? * * * No overworked school teachers and no yellow, frayed-out scholars—and pay enough so to secure the biggest and best men and women for teachers—suppose we try that! We have the money—we can do it if we have the will."

—A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Moses Schloss, of East Front street.

—D. Adleberg and family will move March 1 from West Front street to East Second street.

SOMERSET COUNTY'S SCHEME

WANTS FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO PURCHASE TRACT FOR MILITARY CAMP.

Constituents of Representative Lanning living in Somerset County think the Federal government should purchase a tract of land in Franklin township for a government reservation to be used for manoeuvres by the regular army. At their request Mr. Lanning has introduced in Congress a bill making an appropriation of $600,000 for the purchase of 10,000 acres of land in Somerset County. The bill has been referred to the committee on military affairs, of which Representative Parker is a member. The idea of the Somerset County people is that there is no better site in the East than that in Franklin township, which is largely made up of deserted farms. There are ample railroad accommodations and the Delaware and Raritan canal could be used for the transportation of supplies.

Under a suspension of the rules Mr. Fordyce introduced a resolution in the Assembly yesterday empowering the speaker to appoint five commissioners to investigate and see whether the Assembly could not assist Congressman Lanning to secure the passage of his bill in Congress, which calls for the location of a military camp of instruction in this State.

This site is said to be located in Franklin township, Somerset County, and if secured by the Government it would be used as a field for army manoeuvres this fall, in which it is proposed that the National Guard of the several eastern States participate.

MOY WANTS WILL WITHDRAWN

TESTIMENT OF WM. BIRD FILED IN MIDDLESEX TO BE GOTTEN OFF RECORD.

George V. W. Moy, of this city, has made application before Judge Woodbridge Strong, of Middlesex County, to have the will of William Bird, whose death occurred in Dunellen some time ago, returned to him claiming that a mutually agreeable will had been filed in New York. Judge Strong in refusing to grant the application said that the will was part of the court records and could not be taken away without proper application and proof.

Mr. Moy said that one of the articles of the stipulation of the agreement between the contesting parties is that the will on file here be turned over to the son, Harrison Kerr Bird, who is the military secretary to Governor Odell, of New York State. Mr. Moy said that the people he represents will not get any of the money until this will is taken from file here. The other will will not be probated until this one is delivered.

Mr. Moy said that he is unable to say where the man's home is, as he had drawn up two wills for him in which he said that Dunellen was his home, and that there had been four or five other wills in which he declared that New York was his home.

Judge Strong told the lawyer to prepare a petition and an order and that he would then consider the matter.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The Borough Council held a special meeting last night in the town hall. The statement which was submitted by the finance committee was approved. Those who have been worrying for the last few months about the borough going in debt, can rest assured that there is enough cash on hand to pay all immediate debts and leave a comfortable balance.

The management of the Dunellen baseball team has practically decided not to enter the proposed combination with Bound Brook and two Plainfield teams, but to play independent series, the same as last year. Joining a league would mean that the team would have to play out of town the greater part of the time.

The Levering & Garrigues' Iron Company's works have secured several contracts for the iron works on the new buildings which are to be erected in Baltimore, and the shop will no doubt be working full force in the course of a few weeks.

Suit has been entered by Mrs. A. Merle, wife of the late Theodore Merle, who was killed on the Prospect avenue crossing, against the Central Railroad for $10,000. The case will be tried at the spring session of the Supreme Court at New Brunswick.

The spring election day is less than two weeks distant and neither party has made any move to secure men for their ticket. This is quite unusual for our boroughites who take an active interest, even in local elections.

A thirsty St. Bernard dog searching for water caused a mad-dog scare yesterday. The excitement nearly approached panic until a man with a gun frightened the dog from the streets.

Mrs. Anna Hammer, of Bayonne, will address a mother's meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Edmund Teel this afternoon. All are invited.

A number from the borough attended Miss Westcott's dancing class at the Casino in Plainfield yesterday.

Mrs. McMahan and Miss Fern, of Brooklyn, are the guests of their sister, Miss Carrie Heyl, this week.

The local bowling team will play the team from Bound Brook on Taylor's alleys tomorrow evening.

Miss Gladys Vail has recovered from a week's illness, having been laid up with a severe cold.

Mrs. Carrie Skillhorn has returned from a visit with her grandmother at Bloomfield, N. J.

Miss Annie Runnebart is entertaining her cousin, Miss Hadden, of New York.

George Conklin, of Port Reading, is visiting for a few days with his parents.

David Smith, of New York city, visited friends in town last evening.

Miss Anna Campbell has resigned her position at Dealaman's.

Walter Brokaw is suffering with an attack of the grip.

NEW MARKET.

David F. Blackford has started up his sawmill at Samptown which has been idle for the past three years.

A dance will be held in Friendship Hall tomorrow evening under the auspices of the New Market band.

Friendship Circle met with Mrs. Nelson Giles yesterday afternoon. A social time was enjoyed.

TONE UP YOUR SYSTEM.

As spring approaches, the system often shows signs of debility. It may be only a cough—or possibly it's catarrh you have.

Dr. Gibson's Peruvian Tonic is the best cough remedy—blood purifier, liver and stomache medicine known.

For Catarrh, it has no equal.

It reaches the spot at once—and drives the disease from your system.

L. W. RANDOLPH,

Abraham G. Nelson has recovered from an attack of the grip.

Mrs. L. M. Titsworth is visiting friends in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Meeker has returned from a visit with city friends.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Sometime during the past three or four weeks tramps or boys have forced an entrance in the vacant house known as the Mollinhaner house on Union avenue. Windows in the house and barn have been broken and other damage done the property. The owners are on the lookout for the guilty parties and an example will be made of them if caught.

Judge Clark suspended sentence on John Higgins, who was picked up helplessly drunk on Park avenue by Officer Guerrier last night. Higgins was a stranger in town and promised the Judge if he was released he would give the place a wide berth in the future.

John Falvey, who has been spending several weeks at his home near Lake Hopatoong, has returned. Mr. Falvey reports ice is nearly 30 inches thick at the lake this winter.

The family of Jacob Sourmilch, who has been ill for several weeks past with diphtheria, has recovered and quarantine has been removed from the home.

The members of the Chautauqua Boys' Club held one of their interesting weekly gatherings in the class rooms of the Methodist church last night.

The ball club has leased the ball grounds used last season for another year. Looks as though Scotch Plains would play ball this summer.

The Amity Club, the literary society of the town, has changed the evening of its weekly meetings from Tuesday to Thursday nights.

The case on contract of Denso against Conklin will be tried in Judge Clark's court on Saturday morning.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., meets in weekly session in the library rooms tonight.

William E. Collins, of the borough, has returned from a week's stay at Atlantic City.

The regular meeting of Camp 41, P. O. S. of A., will be held tonight in Washington Hall.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Unity Lodge, K. of P., will meet tonight. A full attendance is desired for the discussion of important business.

Plainfield Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, initiated two new members last night. At next Wednesday night's meeting, District Deputy Charles Smith, of Jersey City, will be the guest of the lodge.

By the election of John Symonds to be grand master workman of the A. O. U. W., of Massachusetts, the faction opposed to the supreme lodge, has won a victory. The vote shows that this faction is strong enough to compel Massachusetts to secede from the supreme lodge of the United States. Mr. Symonds was elected by a vote of nearly 3 to 1, in the convention yesterday.

—Joseph C. Martin, of Woodhull & Martin's store, who has been enjoying a week's vacation, has returned home.

—A rehearsal of the Hope chapel minstrels will be held tonight at 9 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

—E. B. Rathbun, representing Buckley Brothers Company, of Oneonta, N. Y., is spending a few days in the city.

—A large sale of horses was conducted by A. S. Case in Three Bridges yesterday. Several Plainfielders were among the buyers.

—It is a noticeably fact that since taking possession of the new hospital, there have been a far less number of accident cases treated at the institution. In many cases of accidents the patients are taken home for treatment, it being nearer than the hospital. This applies only in cases of minor accidents.

Dr. Cooley vs. Mayor Smalley.

Editor, The Daily Press:

In your last evening's issue, in reporting the result of the School Board meeting, and the vote on the purchase of the dump-heap on Grove street as a site for a new school building, will you allow me to say that my opposition to the measure, like that of nearly all who voted "No," was not in any wise because of the ownership of the property, or because Mayor Smalley may have desired that location. The location in itself, because of the marshy condition of the land and the nature of the filling in, and its unsanitariness, was so bad in the opinion of those who voted against the project, that no matter if the Angel Gabriel had owned the property, we could not have conscientiously cast our votes for it. The Mayor may take the defeat as a personal matter, but that is because everything which goes his way is right, and everything opposed is wrong.

The Daily Press in reporting what the Mayor says printed the following: "Mayor Smalley says that Mr. Joy delivered a rebuke to Dr. J. H. Cooley, another member of the board, last night, who had charged that trickery had been resorted to by the friends of the school house plan. Mayor Smalley declares that Dr. Cooley had secretly removed many ballots, which were marked against the $1,800 appropriation, and caused them to be distributed about the borough during the day."

If the Mayor stated what is printed, he stated what was wholly false. Mr. Joy did not rebuke the writer, but I did say that the presence of tickets printed "Yes" and an absence of tickets printed "No" looked very much like a trick. It is not true that I "secretly removed many ballots, which were marked against the $1,800 appropriation, and caused them to be distributed about the borough during the day." Every ballot printed by the Clerk of the Board, both for and against the appropriation (but which could not be used owing to the form of the resolution presented), was in the room ready for distribution before the meeting opened. Extra ballots against the appropriation were ordered printed by myself, paid for by me, and some were distributed by me in advance, as I had a perfect right to do.

The Mayor's methods in school matters, which he now thinks he can control, or in politics, where he does seem to be "boss," are not mine.

Justus H. Cooley.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 28—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Heroism and other lessons from China.—Acts xiv, 19-22.

There is no Christian mission field that has not its stories of self denial and heroism to tell. These characteristics are seen in the apostle Paul upon his first great missionary journey, as illustrated in the passage before us. Paul is at Lystra and has been received with favor for his work's sake. But enemies come from Antioch and Iconium. The people are stirred up against the apostle. They stone him and carry him out of the city, supposing him to be dead. But he was not so, and as the disciples stood about him he arose, went back into the city and thence to Derbe, continuing to preach the gospel. Is not this heroism? And yet it is but the story that may be told of every missionary field.

Turn from Asia Minor to China and to modern missions, and you will find this assuredly true. I have on the wall of my study a picture containing the portraits of five comparatively young people, two ladies and three men. I look at them now. Their faces are handsome, intelligent and cheerful in appearance. Their every expression shows culture and refinement. Beneath this little group I read these words: "Martyred Missionaries of Pantingfu, China, June 30, 1900."

June 30, 1900! Over 1,800 years since Paul was supposedly martyred at Lystra, yet still the work of martyrdom goes on in leading the world to Christ, and without going further this group of martyrs may teach us "heroism and other lessons from China." The names of these missionaries are Rev. F. E. Simcox and wife, Dr. C. V. Hodge and wife and Dr. George Taylor.

1. Missions in China teach heroism, and nowhere is this better illustrated than in our group of martyrs. They knew of the Boxer movement and of their danger, yet they heroically stood at their post of duty. When their mission house was attacked Mr. Simcox had firearms, with which he might have caused great destruction among his persecutors, but he threw them down, refusing to use them. The house was set on fire, and there they stood, these five heroes and their children, and died as heroically as any martyrs ever died for Christ. The last seen of them was Mr. Simcox holding the hand of his little child as the flames leaped all about them. Such examples should spur us all to Christian heroism. We should dare to do our duty no matter what may be the difficulties or dangers that surround us.

Where duty calls or danger,
Be never wanting there.

2. Missions in China teach lessons of sacrifice and self denial. These young people were all from Pennsylvania. Dr. and Mrs. Hodge were Philadelphians and members of two honored Philadelphia families. They all left homes of comfort—yea, even of luxury—to go to China to preach the gospel and heal the sick for Christ's sake. None but those who go knows what it costs to leave home and country and to go to a foreign mission field, where you are cut off from all familiar associations except with the little band of people at the mission station. We speak of our self denial for Christ, but what is it in comparison to the sacrifices of those who leave all for Him and risk all for Him? Let us think of the Hodges and Simcoxes occasionally and ask ourselves, What have we done for Christ in comparison to those who have died for Him in distant lands with no human eye to pity and no human hand to save?

3. Missions in China teach lessons of loyalty. This is beautifully illustrated in our little group of martyrs. Dr. Taylor was absent from the mission house at Pantingfu when the danger became most imminent. He had gone away on a business trip, but had promised to return. But before returning he heard of the danger that threatened his friends. Other friends pleaded with him not to return, but he listened not to their entreaties, but went back to keep his promise and to face life or death with his associates, as the case might be. What a story of loving loyalty and how it should teach us to be loyal to our friends, and especially to our greatest friend, the Master Himself!

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. lxxii, 8, 17-19; Isa. vi, 1-8; xxxv, 1-10; Matt. x, 16-33; Luke x, 1-12; xxiv, 45-48; Acts i, 1-11; xv, 26; Rom. x, 14, 15; II Cor. xi, 18-33.

He's My Brother.

A gentleman once met a little girl carrying in her arms a sturdy little baby brother and inquired if the burden was not somewhat heavy. "Why, he's my brother; he's not heavy," was the simple but beautiful reply. How love lightens burdens, and how much easier all life is when lived in the spirit of love.

Pennsylvania State Song.

[Tune—"Trust and Obey."]

Pennsylvania for God!
By the help of the Lord
We will reach every village and home,
For the Master says, "Go!"
And His love fills us so
That we gladly will herald His "Come!"

CHORUS.

Come to the Lord!
Oh, believe in His word,
And the Saviour will cleanse you
From all sin by His blood.

To the rich and the poor
Christ has opened the door,
And He sends us to tell them the way;
With a heart full of joy
Tell each girl and each boy
That the Saviour will save them today.

Then, with Christ in the lead,
To His voice giving heed,
We will fight till we conquer the foe.
So we'll all lend a hand,
And together we'll stand
True to "Christ and the Church" here below.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Feb. 28: "Princely Men In the Heavenly Kingdom."—Acts xiii, 1-4.

The world is vastly changed by some men, and they not always the ones most prominent and best known among those of their own times. Some cities come to stand for certain facts also, so that the mention of their names is equivalent to the statement of a principle. Such a city is Antioch. Such men were Barnabas of Cyprus, Simon and Lucius of Cyrene and Saul of Tarsus. They were of great stature in soul, whatever they may have been in body.

Was this Simon Niger, the one on whom the cross was laid as Jesus sunk under its weight on the way to Calvary? If so, and it seems likely to have been so, then he had good cause to remember Christ and to become a prophet as well as cross bearer. Barnabas was a princely spirit among the early disciples. Only less influential than the very apostles themselves, he was leader in all generous enterprises and the first to find out how to relieve the poor disciples in Jerusalem by sale of his own private property. He was the discoverer of a St. Paul in Saul of Tarsus. He alone of all in Jerusalem had confidence in his integrity and in the genuineness of his conversion when he returned from Damascus to Jerusalem. And when the work in Antioch became extended and the interest of the gentiles required a master mind to aid then Barnabas went to Tarsus after Saul. This same Barnabas is also leader in the first missionary tour ever voluntarily undertaken and deliberately planned. What a large souled man he is in all his doings! Even when John Mark deserted in the midst of dangers he did not judge the young fellow harshly, but on the very next trip insists that he shall go again with them. When the more rigid Paul cannot endure such cowardice and will in no way consent Barnabas goes straight ahead and takes Mark with him to Cyprus and lets Paul go his own way. And Barnabas was right. He saved a valuable helper whom Paul was glad to welcome in after years as beloved companion in toil.

With all his peculiarities and angularities where will you find a more princely soul than that same Paul? More scholarly than any other man in the early church, saturated with the learning of the Jewish rabbis, but overmastered by the logic of Stephen, receiving at Damascus an experience profoundly affecting all his nature and completely shifting his viewpoint and altering all the current of his life, he came to be the great evangelist to the gentiles. His influence changed the face of the world. His writings have determined the teaching of the Christian church in all subsequent ages. His views and opinions have become the doctrines of the church to such an extent that lately it has been suspected that some interpretations put upon them have led to a misunderstanding of the truth as taught by Christ Himself.

No man of whom the world has preserved memory was ever more completely devoted to another than was Paul to Jesus Christ. Whatever others may think of Jesus, it is clear that Paul gave Him the place of God. Whatever others may think of the resurrection of Jesus and His power to save, Paul believed He had risen and was alive and would in the fullness of time raise all His true followers in His own blessed likeness and bring to consummation this world age in the kingdom of God the Father.

Other missionary heroes the church has had and still has of whom it is well that we should learn, but these first missionaries of Antioch lead the van of princely men.

Trust God.

Providence hath a thousand keys to open a thousand doors for the deliverance of His own when it has come to the greatest extremity. Let us be faithful and care for our own part, which is to do and suffer for Him, and lay Christ's part on Himself and leave it there. Duties are ours; events are the Lord's. When our faith goeth to meddle with events and to hold a court, if I may so speak, upon God's providence and beginneth to say, "How wilt Thou do this or that?" we lose ground. We have nothing to do there. It is our part to let the Almighty exercise His own office and steer His own helm.—Samuel Rutherford.

Compromises.

Men and women who compromise too much become insincere and untrustworthy. Those who do not compromise enough are stubborn, obstructive and useless. Those who compromise just enough, at the right point and the right time, become good husbands and wives, large hearted fathers and mothers and useful members of society.—Christian Register.

Word and Work.

Word and work—the two W's. You will soon get spiritually gorged if it is all word and no work, and you will soon be without power if it is all work and no word. If you want to be healthy Christians, there must be both word and work.—Moody.

Life and Death.

We cannot solve the mystery
Which o'er each pathway lies,
Yet this is given each reverent soul
To know—our God is wise!

Life's mysteries may never be
By sages understood,
Yet it is given the little child
To know our God is good!

Why death despoils the happy home,
While all around are those
To whom its rests were welcome gift,
Our Father only knows!

Yes, He doth know and He doth rule
O'er sin and woe and strife,
And He can give the crown of death
Who gave the joy of life!

HANDSOME WRAPS.

Evening Coats of Fine Cloth and Lace Lined With Satin.

A long coat of some material is necessary during the spring and even the summer months. The present loose and shapeless style renders the garment easy to make at home by a neat dressmaker. Pale gray or tan cloth, heavy silk, all over linen lace lined with satin and later on pongee are all favorite materials.

A GRAY COAT.

Lace boleros are all the rage, and they are simply lined with chiffon, which renders any lace richer than if unlined or lined with other materials. Three-quarter length coats are also smart in lace, and for evening wear a long coat of lace and chiffon is the richest material possible.

The little bolero, which is sleeveless, is one of the best ways of utilizing remnants of veiling, chiffon, lace, etc. Odd lengths of embroideries also form the trimming and eke out the lace as well.

The collars of blouses are high, and they are often finished off in the front by tulle jabots. The tulle bow at the back of the neck seems to have disappeared owing to the low coiffure, with which it interferes. Jet dog collars made the same as the pearl ones are greatly in vogue.

Fashion this spring has returned to the directoire period, with its long jacket, its embroidered waistcoats, its gauntlet cuffs and its jabot and frills of lace. These will be features of the early spring fashions. In velvet for the moment and satin for the future they will continue among the modes for the south. They must be worn with a fairly long skirt, or the effect is anything but elegant. They are not, of course, so universally becoming as the bolero and the bolero effects. The length of the directoire coat, though it has its uses and is reminiscent of a beautiful period of, dress, detracts from the height of the wearer.

The picture shows a pale gray long coat with revers of lace and silver embroidery. The deep cape is edged with fringe. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SPRING FASHIONS.

Mixed Goods to Be Fashionable—The 1830 Sleeve.

The new woolen materials for spring wear are composed of different woven threads combining different tints, but the whole is so faint that at a distance it produces the effect of one color. Blurred white or colored squares appear on some of them, suggesting a check or even a tartan, and these are especially smart made up in short suits, with the coat and seams of the skirt piped with suede or velvet.

Velvet buttons are all the rage. They even appear on evening dresses. A costume of this sort which I saw recently had, in fact, two turquoise green velvet buttons holding down the end of a lace scarf. They were enriched with tiny applications in the center of guipure lace.

Gray hats will be another feature of the spring and particularly those where a touch of white is introduced.

Corduroys and lightweight striped velveteens will be worn late in the season, and these really make charming walking suits trimmed with braid and smart buttons.

The 1830 sleeve is becoming more pronounced, and it is changed by its trimmings into a multitude of styles.

The picture shows a white silk turban trimmed with a band of gold braid, a white rosette and a black [illegible] tuft. JUDIC CHOLLET.

INVENTOR DEAD.

James Parish Lee, Who Gave Name to Lee Rifle, Has Passed Away.

BRANFORD, Conn., Feb. 25.—James Parish Lee, the inventor of the Lee rifle, is dead at Short Beach after a lingering illness.

Mr. Lee, with his granddaughter, Miss Anna Belle Lee, had been living at The Barracks, the summer home of Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox at Short Beach. He had been in poor health for several months, and his death was not entirely unexpected.

Mr. Lee was born in Hawyer, Scotland, seventy-one years ago. He was the inventor of the Lee-Enfield rifle used by the British army and also of the Lee rifle, used by the United States government several years ago. His home was in Hartford.

Mr. Lee is survived by a son, George Miles Lee of Hartford, and two granddaughters, Miss Anna Belle and Miss Dorothy Lee.

GRANT IS CHAMPION.

Expert of the New York Club Wins Prize For Second Time.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Wylie C. Grant of the New York Lawn Tennis club has won the championship title in the singles of the tournament for the indoor tennis championship of the United States on the board courts of the Seventh regiment armory. This is the second consecutive time that Grant has been able to win the title.

He defeated C. C. Kelly of the West Side Tennis club, New York, after five hotly contested sets. Kelly played much the better tennis of the two, but was lacking in steadiness at the critical periods. He made it impossible for Grant to get in his terrific overhead smashing by playing the ball low over the net.

Because of these tactics Grant was compelled to rely upon his skill at passing, and he was somewhat erratic in playing these shots. Grant, however, was fortunate in his placing of the ball when he needed the points to win the games, and in this way he gained the victory.

The Consolation singles resulted in a victory for Calhoun Cragin, who defeated Shepard Homans, the former Princeton football player, whom he met in the final round.

Grant Advocates Athletics.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Athletics and physical culture are to be a prominent feature of the work of the United States troops stationed at Fort Sheridan this summer. Brigadier General Frederick D. Grant, the new commander of the department of the lakes, who is an enthusiastic advocate of athletics as an aid to the making of good soldiers, has mapped out an elaborate programme for the systematic instruction of the men who make their homes in his department. General Grant has outlined his plan. There will be baseball, handball, football and track teams in addition to all kinds of classes in gymnastics and calisthenics. There also will be contests and prizes for winners.

Ryan Quit Hitting Beauscholte.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 25.—Tommy Ryan, middleweight champion, defeated Jack Beauscholte last night in the Auditorium rink in the sixth round of what was to have been a ten round fight. Ryan went to the floor twice from hard swings in the first and second rounds, but in the third and fourth rounds sent Beauscholte to the floor with right swings on the jaw. Again in the fifth round he sent Beauscholte to his knees, and he took the count for eight. Beauscholte was groggy and was at Ryan's mercy, but was not put out. In the sixth round Beauscholte was in such condition that Ryan quit hitting him and was given the fight.

Boston Bench Show Winners.

BOSTON, Feb. 25.—The exhibit of cocker spaniels by W. T. Payne of Kingston, Pa., was the feature of the third day of the bench show of the New England Kennel club. Late awards have given Mr. Payne sixteen blue ribbons, which, added to the two firsts won by him, make him the largest winner of the show so far. His most successful dogs were Silver Blaze and Romany Rye. Twelve of Mr. Payne's firsts were taken in the judging of the special classes. In the regular class the Selwonk kennels of Magnolia won three firsts with Selwonk Mignon.

Kenilworth Won $1,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Several good things went through at Oakland, and while only two favorites won many of the books were hit hard. The $1,000 handicap resulted in an easy victory for Kenilworth. Nigrette was second and Modicum, the favorite, third. It rained all day, and the track was muddy.

Hands Across Defeated.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25.—Hands Across, whose best races have been run since he passed into Sam Hildreth's hands, suffered decisive defeat by Port Royal in the fourth race, in which he was a strong favorite. Miss West and Aggie Lewis were the other beaten favorites.

Stemwinder Broke Down.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Two favorites, three second choices and one third choice were successful at Ascot. Stemwinder, favorite in the six furlongs handicap, which was the feature of the card, broke down while leading in the stretch.

Middies Beat Quakers Fencing.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 25.—The fencing team of the Naval academy defeated the University of Pennsylvania here by a score of 6 to 3. The regular teams of the two institutions took part in the contests.

DICK TO SUCCEED HANNA.

Republican Caucus Takes Unanimous Action.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 25.—The Republican legislative caucus has nominated General Charles Dick to succeed Senator Hanna by unanimous acclamation. There has been considerable discussion about the successor to Senator Hanna as chairman of the Republican national committee. The names of Senator Scott of West Virginia, Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania and Representative Charles Dick, who is slated to be Senator Hanna's successor in the senate from Ohio, were most frequently mentioned.

General Charles Dick was nominated by acclamation for both the unexpired and regular terms for United States senator to succeed the late Senator Hanna at the caucus. The name of General Dick was the only one presented, as the Republicans have a large majority in both branches. General Dick's election is assured, and the balloting will be only a formality.

The caucus was decided upon, it being the opinion of members of the legislature, concurred in by General Dick, that, inasmuch as the election was to fill a vacancy, the caucus should not be dispensed with, even though more than enough votes to elect had been pledged.

The caucus was held in the senate chamber. Senator Overlarff of Delaware presided. One hundred and nine Republican members answered the roll call, two senators and six representatives being absent. General Dick's name was presented by Senator Harris of Ashtabula and seconded by Representative Williams of Hamilton and Representative Treadway of Cuyahoga. General Dick was then nominated by acclamation.

NEW SHIPS FOR BRITAIN.

Estimates Passed For Strengthening the Navy, $58,270,880.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The British new naval estimates, just passed, provide a total of $58,270,880 for new construction, of which $3,210,415 will be devoted to the commencement of new ships. The admiralty will devote $9,050,000 to the purchase of armor during the coming year and says it now has no difficulty in securing an adequate supply of the quality desired.

Orders have already been placed for nine submarine vessels in this year's programme, but the preparation of special designs for the tenth submarine has delayed the placing of the contract.

The admiralty is considering the possibilities of an internal combustion engine for torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers because of the economy in fuel consumption to be obtained by this method.

The construction will be begun during the present year of two battleships, four armored cruisers, ten submarine vessels and fourteen torpedo boat destroyers.

In submitting the estimates the Earl of Selborne, first lord of the admiralty, said the admiralty was aware that the estimates were large, but parliament must remember how great is the responsibility cast upon the board of admiralty in providing the country with a navy strong enough to sustain a struggle with the navies of any two powers and to insure reasonable security for the country's vast sea borne trade and the food supply of the people.

Newark's Commander Tells Why He Opened Fire.

ATTACKED AMERICAN SHIP AND LAUNCH

When Battalion of Marines Landed General Jose Tiburzier Concluded to Retire His Force Into the Interior.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—By order of Secretary Moody the report of Captain Richard Wainwright, commanding the Newark, regarding his recent reconnoissance about Santo Domingo has been made public at the navy department. Captain Wainwright found on his arrival at Sanchez that the daughter and brother-in-law of the American consular agent both had been wounded by the same bullet in the fighting there. As it was expected that the attack would be repeated the following day, he wrote a letter to the commanders of the government and insurgent forces protesting against further firing in the streets of the city or toward the houses of the inhabitants and to make his protest effective landed a force of twenty marines and a company of bluejackets, who took up their position in a general merchandise store for the night. The night passed without an attack. The following day the Montgomery arrived and landed marines to relieve the forces ashore from the Newark. Captain Wainwright had an interview with President Morales on board the Newark that day as to conditions in Samana bay.

Regarding the firing on the American steamship New York by the insurgent forces while she was unloading her cargo Captain Wainwright says:

"The Columbia's steam launch, with a large United States flag on the bows, went into the dock, preceding the New York, also flying an American flag. The insurgents from the east bank of the river fired upon the New York and upon the Columbia's steam launch. After consultation with Captain Miller and by his direction I moved to a position directly opposite the river and shelled the east bank of the river in order to drive back into the interior all insurgents in that neighborhood, preparing the way for landing a battalion composed of the landing force of the Columbia and Newark.

"The battalion, under command of Lieutenant Commander Parker, equipped in light marching order, landed at about half past 4. At a small town about half a mile in the interior the insurgents were found in some force under the command of General Jose Tiburzier. The general was warned to remove his forces at once back into the interior, away from the east bank of the river, and that he should not fire on the town again from that side. He signed another written agreement to that effect and at once collected his forces and marched his men into the interior."

The loss is estimated at $70,000. Fire Chief McCloskey and Fireman Arthur Thompson were injured by falling walls. The department will be rebuilt and operations resumed in a month.

Russian Student Not Loyal.

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Bern, Switzerland, says that 400 Russian students of both sexes attending the Bern university held a meeting and adopted resolutions expressing their hope that the revolutionary elements in Russia would mobilize and turn the war against Japan into a war of the masses against official Russia. The resolutions are concluded with these words: "Down with czarism! Long live international socialism!"

COMMON COUNCIL DELIVERS BLOW TO LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Carrying Out the Wishes of the People the City Fathers Not Only Refuse to Increase the Liquor Places, But Even Take Away One License.

VOTED TO A MAN AGAINST JOHN GOFF'S PETITION.

COUNCILMEN MURPHY AND GARRIQUES OPPOSED ALL APPLICATIONS.

Plainfield's Common Council stamped its disapproval upon any proposed scheme to change its custom as regards the regulation of the liquor traffic by denying all new applications for licenses and reducing the original number of licensed places from fourteen to thirteen. The action of the Common Council was received with general satisfaction, although there were spirited incidents to mark the meeting as one of the most exciting of any in recent years. Every member of the body was present and the evening was devoted almost exclusively to the consideration of the liquor question. There were a large number of petitions received from persons protesting against the granting of liquor licenses, especially the new applications made by John J. Goff for his hotel on West Front street, Adolph Wolgang for a wholesale place on Park avenue and William J. Dwyer for a retail place on West Third street. In several instances several old applicants had narrow escapes in securing licenses, the vote being six to five in their favor. That the people in general were deeply interested in the subject of licenses was shown by the presence of nearly two hundred citizens in the lobby and the sentiment was divided for and against. There was a committee from the Monroe Avenue church, headed by the pastor, Rev. John McMrray, while Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, representing Trinity Reformed church, was there. Of course, the friends of the saloons and hotels were present to watch the proceedings. They had nothing to say, however.

Patrolman Overbaugh was at the door and several times he had occasion to refuse admission to interested persons, the lobby being too crowded to admit any more. The crowd was orderly, except when the cause of temperance triumphed. Then there was an outburst of applause which President Tolles had no desire to quiet.

Probably, the most sensational feature of the meeting was the decided stand taken by Councilman Clarence L. Murphy, who announced his intention of voting against all applications for liquor licenses, as well as for the privilege of keeping an inn and tavern. His action had much to do with the result of the license question, as did also the action of Councilman Wilson, who cast his vote in several instances against applications. It was the inability of the pro-license members of the Common Council to secure the necessary six votes in some instances that changed the result and all the members wisely voted together in the particular applications which have caused a storm of protest from certain quarters.

These applications were granted:

Jacob Blimm, Somerset street; Henry Haurand, East Front street; A. B. Rosell, Park avenue; J. A. Staats, Hotel Kensington; Henry F. Windham, Waldorf Hotel; A. D. Findlay, East Second street; John Rafferty, Park avenue; Christopher Gloeker, Front and Somerset streets; Charles Schantz, Park avenue; Eastern Bottling Company, wholesale, West Second street; Frank Linke, wholesale, West Front street; Michael Watson, Grant avenue; Bernard Clark, Liberty and West Third streets.

As stated Mr. Murphy voted against all applications, while Mr. Garrigues voted against all applications to sell liquor in any establishment. He voted for the application to keep an inn and tavern. The other members voted for all applications, except in the application of A. B. Rosell. The negative votes in this case were Messrs. Bullock, Gloak, Murphy, Randolph and Garrigues. On the application of Frank Linke for a wholesale license, Messrs. Garrigues, Lee, Tyler and Murphy voted in the negative and in the cases of Bernard Clark and Michael Watson Messrs. Murphy, Daniel, Garrigues, Tyler and Wilson cast their votes against the applications. On the application of Adolph Wolgang for a wholesale license, Messrs. Bullock, Daniel, Garrigues, Gloak, Higham, Murphy, Tyler, Wilson and Tolles voted no, while Messrs. Lee and Randolph were the only two who voted in the affirmative. As for the much-discussed John J. Goff application all the members voted in the negative for an inn and tavern license as well as for the privilege to sell liquor. The same vote was recorded in the case of the application of William J. Dwyer for a saloon license on West Third street and in the case of the application of E. P. Turner for a renewal of his license for a saloon on the same street.

There were numerous petitions protesting against the granting of license applications and in nearly every instance the applications of John J. Goff and Adolph Wolgang were made the object of special mention as to be undesirable. Petitions were received from the First Baptist church, Congregational church, Religious Society of Friends, Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, R. O. Cumback, superintendent of the Pederick & Ayer Works, and other officials as well as a majority of the residents in the Fourth ward who would be particularly affected by the granting of a license to Mr. Goff; James Craig, John A. Goodwin and others and one from nearly all the merchants in the business section protesting against the granting of the application for a wholesale license on Park avenue.

After the presentation of the petitions and before the liquor license applications were offered for action, Councilman Murphy made a few remarks in explanation of his change of views and his intention to vote against all applications. He said that when the ordinance raising the license fee to $1,000 was originally introduced he had the idea that the change was made solely for revenue. He had learned to regard the saloon as a necessary evil and that it was better to have it properly governed and under police protection. He afterward doubted the wisdom of the city receiving so large a sum from such a source and if it was wrong to ask a thousand dollars as a license fee it was wrong to demand any sum. Accordingly he announced that he would vote against all applications for licenses. He stated further that the loss to the city in case all licenses were refused would amount to $9,600. This would mean an increase of about ten or eleven points in the tax rate. He added that he owns three houses and a vacant lot and he would cheerfully pay the increase if necessary to make up the deficiency. He has honestly come to the conclusion that all saloons should be abolished and as for the application of John J. Goff he asked all members of the Council to vote in the negative with him.

Mr. Tyler then stated that the license committee in response to a request had received and considered much information on the question of the various applications for license and he asked the president to limit all speakers on the subject to five minutes. This President Tolles announced he would do.

Rev. John McMurray was the first speaker, but he said that he would rather give those in favor of the granting of licenses an opportunity to speak first. He gave way to Alexander Millar, of Madison avenue, who entered the first protest against the liquor applications. He announced that he was present to show which side he was on. He declared that the city stands high and there appeared to be no reason for an increase of licensed places. "Those who have wine cellars know nothing of the suffering caused the poorer class by the license system," continued Mr. Millar. "I would like to know a good argument in favor of granting Mr. Goff a license. These roadhouses are a disgrace and marks the beginning of the downfall of many young women."

Rev. Mr. McMurray stated that he was present to represent the Monroe Avenue church. He voiced the sentiments of Mr. Murphy, adding that they were those of the best element. He said that the granting of a license to Mr. Goff could do no possible good, except to the Rising Sun Brewery Company, where it would have a place to sell its product.

"I mean to fight against rum till my dying day," declared Mr. McMurray. "There is no reason for additional licenses. A conservative estimate shows that there are five hundred people in the city who visit saloons and thirteen saloons are enough."

At this point Mr. McMurray repeated Mr. Murphy's statement that he understood the revenue from the liquor business in the city was $9,600 and he asked Mr. Randolph, chairman of the police committee, the annual expense of his department. Mr. Randolph replied that last year it was $1,500.

"Then," continued Mr. McMurray, "the most that the police have to do is to look after drunks. Judge Runyon would have little to do if it were not for these cases of drunkenness. If a license is granted to Mr. Goff it will cost the city $1,800 a year to police that section of the town and the revenue from the licensed place would only be $700. As I understand it a policeman in the West End nowadays is good for sore eyes. I find that twelve persons have signed for Mr. Goff's license. Nine of them live a considerable distance from the place, while one signer lives in Elizabeth."

Former City Judge William R. Coddington, of the law firm of Coddington & Swackhamer, was the next speaker. He directed his remarks directly toward the application of Adolph Wolgang for a wholesale place in Park avenue. He said he was not present to dictate to the Council, but he simply represented the business interests and he desired to protest against the granting of an application to Mr. Wolgang. He said that while the Council cannot control the number of applicants or say who they shall be it can decide who shall receive licenses, if any are granted. He asked the Council to consider the necessity for a wholesale place in Park avenue, the location and the qualifications of the applicant. He stated further that within two hundred yards of the place asking for a license there are eight saloons. He cited that the place is midway between the railroad station and the postoffice, in a shopping district where wives and daughters are called frequently. If the place was licensed it would mean that these women would go elsewhere to shop. In conclusion Mr. Coddington said that he knew of no one outside of the signers to the application who wanted the license granted.

At this point the applications for liquor licenses, as well as for licenses to keep inns and taverns were taken up with the result as already told. No comments were made concerning the applications until the one presented by Mr. Goff was reached. Mr. Tyler, as chairman of the license committee, reported that the committee had considered this application and in its opinion there was found to be no need for licensing this place. He therefore moved that the application be denied. A unanimous vote against the application for an inn and tavern was cast, but in the excitement the members forgot to deny the request to sell liquor, and after a recess Mr. Tyler referred to this omission,

LIQUOR LICENSE FEE MAY YET BE RAISED

Councilman Garriques Attempts to Have Vote on Fee of $1,000 Reconsidered.

TYLER SUPPORTS HIM

CORPORATION COUNSEL MARSH TO GIVE OPINION ON LEGALITY OF MOVE.

The Bonds of Street Commissioner Gavett and Constable Manley Approved — Licenses Granted Hackmen and Others.

After the members of the Common Council returned to the regular order of business, last night, followed the consideration of the liquor license application, Mr. Garrigues raised the question as to the vote on the ordinance which provided for the raising of the license fee to $1,000. He contended that the ordinance could again be called up and another vote taken, inasmuch as the last vote stood five to five. His contention being that that vote neither defeated or passed the ordinance. For the purpose of having the action properly recorded in the minute books, Mr. Tyler moved to correct the minutes accordingly. As to the right to recall the ordinance and take another vote, the members believed it was a question for Corporation Counsel Marsh to decide. Most of them thought it would be necessary to re-advertise the ordinance. The question raised no end of discussion in which there were many complications. Aside from correcting the minutes nothing else was done. The legal phase of the question will be decided by Mr. Marsh.

Charlotte J. Herlick petitioned the Council to remit her tax assessed in error and the matter was referred to the proper committee. The bond of Street Commissioner Gavett approved by the Corporation Counsel was received and on motion of Mr. Daniel was filed. Mr. Daniel also reported on the bond of Constable Manley, and moved it be filed.

Mr. Gloak offered a resolution authorizing the committee of streets to advertise for bids for crushed stone, culverts and crosswalks. This was adopted.

On a motion offered by Mr. Tyer, chairman of the license committee, the various applications for hack, peddlers and garbage collectors, truckmen and the lunch-wagon were granted after the usual fee is paid. After Mr. Lee announced that the fire committee had purchased 2,000 feet of hose which would be delivered soon, the Council adjourned at 11:30 o'clock and there was a universal sigh of relief.

AS TO LAW STUDENTS RIGHTS

RULING CONCERNING THOSE WHO DO NOT PASS BOTH EXAMINATIONS.

A decision of the Supreme Court this week respecting the rights of a class of law students who successfully passed their law examinations last year, but were not admitted to practice because they failed to take the academic examinations prescribed by the Supreme Court, relieves the students, but denies their legal rights to the court's recommendation to the Governor for an attorney's license.

The students took their bar examinations as provided for by an act of the Legislature. The Supreme Court made a rule requiring that in addition to the requirements set out in the legislative act, the student must, before presenting himself for the law examinations, present a certificate showing that he had had the proper academic education.

The court holds that as a legal right the students are not entitled to the court recommendation to an attorney's license, but it also holds that the students had a right to rely upon the legislative act and adds that if the successful students will present to the court, before the February term of 1905, a certificate showing that they have duly taken an academic course as prescribed by the court rules, they will be admitted to practise law without again being required to take the law examinations.

YOUNGSTER SETS HOUSE AFIRE

WHILE MOTHER IS AWAY BOY STARTS BLAZE UNDER A BED.

While Mrs. John Louden, of 221 Stebbins place, was away from home this morning, one of her children decided it would be fun to build a bon fire under the bed on the second floor. He accordingly secured some matches and soon his fire was blazing in a satisfactory manner. The child did not know that the flames were eating a large hole in the flooring and when his mother arrived home the house was filled with smoke.

A neighbor turned in an alarm and she proceeded to put out the fire. Several pails of water quenched the flames and saved the house from destruction. The fire was out when the firemen arrived.

COLORED INDUSTRIAL WORK

REV. E. E. JACKSON HEAD OF MOVEMENT TO HELP COLORED CITIZENS.

The Industrial Association for colored people, which caused much discussion in this city among the residents of Netherwood when it became known that a site was being sought in that vicinity on which to locate a home, is already doing work for the colored people. The association is the outcome of an industrial movement among the members of the Mount Olive Baptist church, of which Rev. E. E. Jackson is pastor.

A meeting has been held recently and a large number of the members of the church listened to reports of progress being made and to discuss methods of increasing the usefulness of the association. Those who are interested in the plan are the Sunday-school teachers and the superintendent, N. G. Pollard.

The pastor made an interesting address in which he said that it is the duty of the colored people of this as well as every other city to educate their own children. While all will not be professional men and women much good is bound to be derived from a system of education in the various trades. He said the colored people should not sit and wait for the white race to do all the educating. The colored people should help themselves. For forty years the white people have done everything they could to uplift their colored brethern and now it is time for the colored people to step out and do something for themselves.

Mr. Jackson intends to continue the work already begun in the instruction of the colored children of his church along some branch of trade. As the work grows other branches will be taken up. Beginning with the first of the month the shoe manufacturing and repairing industry will be taken up. Gifts of old shoes and clothing for the tailoring department are asked for.

This work is being done at present in the chapel of the church on Thursday afternoons. The pastor has been assured of assistance from several wealthy white friends who have promised to provide a more suitable place where the work may be carried on more advantageously.

COMPANY K COINING MONEY

SOLDIER BOYS REAPING RICH HARVEST AT THEIR WEEK'S FAIR.

The attendance at the fair of Company K, in the armory on West Front street, was large last night and the articles chanced off brought good prices. Dancing was the principal feature of the evening. The expenses have been covered by the generous patronage already given and the proceeds of the remaining three nights will be clear profit.

Special attractions will be on the boards tonight and tomorrow and it is expected that some of the State officers will be present tonight and Saturday.

Sherman Haberle won the prize last night for rolling the highest score on the bowling alleys. Benevolent Council, No. 226, Jr. O. U. A. M., has accepted the company's invitation to attend the fair tonight in a body. A feature of the fair especially noticable is the absence of begging schemes usually, so conspicuous.

CHRISTIANITY AMONG KOREANS

REV. GILBERT LOVELL GIVES ILLUSTRATED LECTURE AT HOPE CHAPEL.

"The Possibilities for the Kingdom in the Empire of Korea" were treated entertainingly at Hope chapel last night in an illustrated lecture by Rev. Gilbert Lovell, of Brooklyn, formerly of this city, who is a prospective missionary. The views presented, were many of them beautifully colored and gave a large audience an excellent conception of the general nature of Korea, its people and its scenery, and the work of Korean missions. Several excellent maps assisted the speaker in his descriptions of the empire and its opportunities and possibilities.

BASEBALL IN SCOTCH PLAINS

MANAGER SAYS TEAM WILL BE PUT IN FIELD IF SUPPORT IS FORTHCOMING.

Scotch Plains is to have a baseball team this year if its friends are willing to assure it sufficient financial support. This statement was made by Manager Johnston in response to a question concerning a rumor that the 'Plains would not be represented on the diamond this year. Mr. Johnston's view of the situation is in effect as follows:

"Scotch Plains will have a team in the field this coming season if the local fans want it, and I believe they do. The only thing necessary is to arrange a plan for the raising each week of a guaranteed sum, which must be larger than in previous years. Winning baseball material will cost more this year than ever before."

Scotch Plains baseball success in the past is attributed largely to the manager's policy of signing players for the entire season and guaranteeing a full season's play. This policy has cut down expenses and made possible a higher grade of team work. The success of last year is indicated by the treasurer's report which, at the close of the season after all expenses, including the cost of new bleachers had been paid, showed a balance of more than $400.

Manager Johnston does not consider this a sufficient sum with which to start the season, which he thinks will be the greatest in the history of the game. Faster nines, he says, will be put in the field than ever before and this means that the 'Plains boys will be obliged to take on additional strength to have a chance with the rest. A team that loses games, says Manager Johnston, will also lose money.

If the lovers of the game in Scotch Plains are willing to subscribe a sufficient sum, Mr. Johnston says that he can get together a nine that will make the speediest aggregation in Jersey or the metropolitan district look to its laurels. He has applications on file from the strongest semi-professional players about New York or Brooklyn.

A meeting of the club will be held tonight or tomorrow night to consider plans for raising funds by donation or season tickets. From the amount of interest and pride shown by 'Plains rooters in their nines in the past, it is safe to predict the success of whatever plan is adopted.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL.

Captains Elected by the Classes of 1906 and 1907.

The classes of 1906 and 1907 of the High School elected officers of their baseball team for the coming season yesterday. Phillip Smith, '07, was chosen captain and Harold Robert, '06, manager. It is expected that the classes will be able to develop a strong nine, as most of the school players are in these two classes.

Last year a league was formed of the classes of '06 and '07 of the High School, with the Whittier School and Y. M. C. A. Juniors. The High School boys carried off the honors and were presented with a silver cup which is now the property of the school. The season's games will be booked as soon as possible.

Mrs. Tomlinson on Woman Suffrage.

"The ballot in the hands of the women," was the subject of an able and helpful talk given at the W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon by Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson, county superintendent of the Union. She favored placing the ballot in the hands of intelligent women. She cited the fact that in three states women are allowed to vote and the plan works successfully.

SWACKHAMER SPOKE WISELY ON MONEY

Said Greed for Gain Without Regard to Right or Wrong Works Moral Disaster.

AT TRINITY REFORMED

MEN'S ASSOCIATION HELD ITS FIRST ENTERTAINMENT.

Excellent Programme Successfully Presented—Music by Quartette—Committees Appointed by President Marshall.

The Men's Association of Trinity Reformed church held its first regular meeting since its organization last night, with much success attending the efforts of C. E. Ball, who arranged the programme. As an indication of the value of the plan for meetings combining entertainment and instruction, the opening of the association's work was propitious.

Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Greed for Personal Gain," and the burden of his thought was that men should not allow themselves in their thirst for gain to overstep the line of demarcation between right and wrong. He described the ills that accumulation of wealth often brings and characterized the present age as one of materialism. He said that money should not be man's central or chief idea in life. He related incidents graphically descriptive of the miser's misery. Quoting Walpole's statement that every man has his price, Mr. Swackhamer said that he was glad to be able to mention numerous exceptions in American life.

The man worthy of respect in political life, said the speaker, is the man who does not desert his constituents for price. He then illustrated the power of money for good or evil, and showed that crime is often the inevitable result of a greed for gold. Referring to the social influence of money, "the doors of respectability," he quoted, "swing upon silver hinges." He concluded by impressing the fact that the individual or nation with none but material aims has no guarantee of permanency.

A vote of thanks was extended Mr. Swackhamer. It was announced that the subject of the next meeting, March 31, would be life insurance and that the speaker would be Mr. Davidson, of the Prudential Insurance Company.

Last night's meeting was presided over by President H. W. Marshall. Music was provided by a quartette consisting of F. S. Cutter, W. B. Gilbert, Elmer E. Runyon and William Jeffery, accompanied on the piano by Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan. Appointments of entertainment and advisory committees by the president were confirmed: Advisory committee, Robert Clark, Jr., T. R. VanZandt and F. E. Smith; entertainment committee to serve three months, E. F. Sheppard, chairman, R. E. Boban, G. M. Hoagland, H. J. Martin and C. W. Dunham.

brought to his attention by Mr. Wean, acting clerk, and a unanimous negative vote was cast against the second section of the application. A similar report was presented on the new application of William J. Dwyer and all the members voted against licensing the place.

When the application of E. P. Turner was presented, Mr. Tyler spoke at some length concerning it, after Mr. Lee stated that two members of the license committee favored the application and one was against it. Mr. Tyler reviewed the history of this application of a year ago, when the character of the applicant was considered. He said that originally John L. Shea applied for a license, and that just before the night when action was taken on licenses, the name of the applicant was changed to E. P. Turner. There was a question as to the signature on the application and there appeared reason to believe that forgery had been committed, it being a question as to whether the applicant changed the names. Mr. Tyler stated that he understood that Mr. Turner did not run the place last year, but that John L. Shea was in command. He even stated that Mr. Shea's name and not that of Mr. Turner was displayed in front of the saloon. He spoke strongly against this disregard of the law and the city ordinance and further stated that Mr. Shea's name did not even appear on the sign as manager.

Mr. Murphy added a few words at this time, stating that he believed that the Council had been tricked. While Mr. Tyler's objections appeared to be along the lines of technicalities, he believed that the fact that Mr. Turner was not running the saloon himself formed a far better reason for refusing his application for a renewal.

Mr. Lee withdrew his motion that the license be granted and moved that the application be denied. All members voted against the application.

Bernard Clark's application was the next taken up and here Mr. Tyler raised an objection. He said that the people who live in the vicinity of Mr. Clark's place have just as much right to protest against a licensed drinking place, as those who live in the more aristrocratic parts of the town. He entered a strong plea against licensing this place. While the rich could move, the poor are obliged to stay where they are and put up with these evils. Mr. Garrigues endorsed Mr. Tyler's remarks. In response to a question by President Tolles, Mr. Tyler replied that no complaints had been received from Mr. Clark's place.

The presentation of Michael Watson's application was the occasion of considerable comment and protest in which Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, Mr. Tyler, Mr. Garrigues, Mr. McMurray, Mansfield Smith, E. C. Martin took a part. Mr. Schenck said that he had seen so much evil as a result of this licensed saloon that he thought the application should be refused if for no other reason than that it stands near the doors of one of the largest works in the city, a place where the toilers as well as their families are made to suffer by reason of its existence.

When Mr. McMurray arose to speak on this application, Mr. Lee moved that the regular order of business be proceeded with, adding that he was tired of so much talk. The reverend gentleman took occasion to say that as a citizen he had a right to speak and the privilege was granted him by vote of the Council.

The last application, that of Adolph Wolgang for a wholesale place in Park avenue, also occasioned much unfavorable comment on the part of Mr. Tyler in which he intimated that members of the Council have friends and that they are often under obligations to return a favor, even to the voting for a liquor license. He felt sure that no promises had been made by Councilmen, but when he intimated that he was afraid that one application which had been denied, was not a permanent refusal for the year, Mr. Lee quickly objected, stating that it was a reflection of every member of the Council. Mr. Tyler said that no reflection was intended.

Mr. Garrigues said he could see no reason to increase the number of wholesale places and being elated over the excellent results of the evening, remarked "Let the good work go on." This remark called forth hearty applause, concluding with a recess on the part of the Council. This application was the last one to be considered. The lobby was soon cleared and the members of the Council took a brief rest.

After the recess a question was raised as to whether an inn and tavern license carried with it the privilege to sell any kind of liquor. Mr. Murphy said that he was under the impression that it did, but Mr. Randolph secured a copy of the ordinance, read the section on the subject and proved that he did not give the right.

AMUSEMENTS.

Richard Carle and his musical comedy, "The Tenderfoot," in which he plays the title role, have made a great hit at the New York Theatre, where a run of several weeks was begun last Monday afternoon. This is certainly a most unique production and teems with novelty from start to finish—novelty in story, novelty in locale of scenes, novelty in characterization and novelty in music. This piece captured the favor of two great holiday audiences at the New York on Washington's birthday, the unstinted applause showered on every feature indicating unusually enthusiastic approbation. It is refreshing in its newness of theme and is the first comic operetta that deals with the wild Southwest and the Texas-Mexican borderland with its rangers, cowboys, Indians, Mexicans, senoritas and border girls. In contrast with these unconventional characters is the part played by Carle, Zachary, Pettibone, a Vermont traveling tutor to a flock of pretty seminary girls from the East. He is a typical "tenderfoot," lean, lank and retiring and a fiting subject for several very spirited Wild West pranks, which furnish much of the humor of the piece.

There appears to be a most pleasing unanimity of opinion on the part of the dramatic writers of the metropolitan press as to the emphatic success scored by Henry W. Savage's latest musical production "The Yankee Consul," introducing Raymond Hitchcock as a new comic opera star, which was presented for the first time in New York at the Broadway Theatre on Washington's birthday. Seldom has such praise been lavished on a new star or on a new musical play in that city. Indications all point to the conclusion that Raymond Hitchcock in "The Yankee Consul" is the one big musical hit of the season in the metropolis and that the Broadway Theatre has added another to its list of big musical successes. Acton Davies, the critic of The Evening Sun, in the course of a review of the performance said: "It's a long, long time since playgoers have come away from a musical show of American manufacture in as satisfied and enlivened a frame of mind as the two big audiences which saw the first performannoes of 'The Yankee Consul' yesterday. In short 'The Yankee Consul' has success written all over it. It will live long and prosper as it deserves to do, while in the stellar advent of Raymond Hitchcock, the theatrical firmament is the richer by one real star. Mr. Hitchcock does not merely twinkle, he cracles."

Robert Edeson under the direction of Henry B. Harris continues to attract uniformly large and fashionable audiences to the Hudson Theatre notwithstanding that on Monday afternoon, Washington's birthday, "Ranson's Folly" began the sixth week of its New York run. Richard Harding Davis' comedy delights all theatregoers because it unfolds in an entertaining and artistic manner the story of the book of the same name. Possibly the great charm of "Ranson's Folly" is due to the fact that it tells a story of boy and girl life, the sort of story that when we are old makes us sit on a footstool and stare into the fire and smile, and when we are young entertains us because it seems a vital transcript of youth's experiences. Thrilling climaxes punctuate the action of the play and Lieutenant Ranson as vitalized by Mr. Edeson is shown to be a young man of daring, determination and honor who laughs at misfortune and who cannot suppress his sense of humor.

The Amaroff Murder Mystery.

Of course, you read the first instalment of that thrilling detective tale, "The Amaroff Murder Mystery," in last Sunday's New York World. It left off at a most exciting place, and you will naturally be interested in learning how the crime was solved. This you can do by getting next Sunday's World, in which the conclusion of the story will be printed. Other features of interest will recommend the paper to you. There is a story about Dr. Anita Magee, the young woman who is to head a force of American nurses for the Japanese army; Mrs. Bradley Martin and her forty pairs of shoes, the wonders of Coney Island that will be seen next summer, a story of New York fire heroes and many other features of equal interest, to say nothing of the comic section, the Metropolitan section and the regular news pages. Next Sunday's World.

—The regular meeting of the McAll Auxiliary will be held at the Public Library on Wednesday morning, March 2 at 11 o'clock.

—The Westfield fire department is now organized and its first chief engineer appointed. Frederick C. Decker, who was second assistant chief of the old township department, has the honor of being the first head officer of the new department organized by the town of Westfield.

Miss Alice Burpese, of New York, has returned after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Evans, of Somerset street.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 26, 1904.

It is reported on good authority that a tempting political plum would not shake a young councilman's determination to vote against the liquor licenses. If it be so, he deserves the thanks of the people.

When the citizens of North Plainfield soberly reflect upon the immeasurable amount of harm done by failing to adopt any immediate scheme to relieve the crowded condition of the public schools, they will be awakened to a sense of duty they owe the young generation in the borough. The consequences of the action of those voting against the Grove street site, and offering no other plan will have to be borne by the pupils. There should have been a free discussion before any vote was taken, but as this was not done there should have been some other feasible site suggested by the citizens opposed to the erection of any school house on Grove street. The present indications are that no steps will be taken in the immediate future to bring relief to the deplorable conditions existing at present. This is to be regretted. The North Plainfield Board of Education should take up the subject again at an early date. Several sites should be suggested at the next special school meeting and an opportunity afforded any citizen to make any suggestion he sees fit as to a suitable location for the much-needed school house.

The idea of The Daily Press that the Plainfield Common Council would heed the public protest against any increase in the number of liquor license places has proven to be correct. That body has shown by its action at last night's special meeting that the suspicion of certain citizens, who feared that corrupt influences had been brought to bear to make certain the granting of the new applications, especially that of John Goff's, was totaly unwarranted This paper expressed its confidence in the integrity of the municipal lawmaking body and the result of the meeting shows that that confidence was well placed. The recommendation made by Mayor Jenkins was followed and Plainfield will not be burdened with any increased number of rum shops. In fact there will be one less licensed place, the number renewed being thirteen. A vote of six to five made possible the renewal of licenses of the Hotel Rosell, in Park avenue, Michael Watson's establishment in Grant avenue, and Bernard Clark's place in Liberty street. It is unfortunate that these three could not be wiped out, but the victory is a great one nevertheless. Next year more improvement may be expected judging from the present attitude of the people. The Common Council has discharged its duty most nobly.

Undemocratic in Principle.

Editor, The Daily Press:

As one of those who voted on Tuesday night, in favor of the new borough school building, I would like, with your permission, to say a word or two about the meeting.

Mr. Joy's admirable statement seemed to leave little to be said on the other side, but, in a matter so important as the voting of $35,000—and the building of a new school house, it was not democratic or wholesome that it should be decided without discussion. Our republic is to live, if it does live, through the town meeting, and the decision, however wise, of a few men on an important matter, is, it seems to me, less to be desired than a decision, after discussion by the people who are to learn by their successes and their failures how to govern themselves. The omission to invite discussion and the failure to provide "Noes" as well as "Yeses" on the voting slips furnished were, I think, calculated to prejudice some voters against a measure whose fate was, apparently decided by feeling rather than judgement.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

A supreme court decision of much interest to all who are concerned in the welfare of union labor has been handed down in Cincinnati in the case of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America against William H. Goldberg. It establishes the principle that the law protecting the union label is entirely constitutional, and also upholds the idea that ignorance of the fact that a label is counterfeit is no defense in a suit brought for violation of the statute.

C. Brewer Stout, of Centreville, claims the record for being the oldest in point of service in the Government Postal department. He has served forty-seven years. He was appointed postmaster at Readington in 1857. He is now seventy-four years old.

GERMAN SOCIETY CELEBRATED

EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY OF BENEFICIAL ORGANIZATION OBSERVED.

A banquet was the form of the celebration last night, marking the eighth anniversary of the Germania Beneficial Society. The dinner was served in the parlors of Charles Schantz on Park avenue. It was an elaborate affair and during the evening speeches were made by the members in which the prosperity of the organization was the principal topic.

The society was organized in 1896 and since then the membership has steadily increased and the financial condition has attained much strength.

During the evening the regular monthly meeting was held and routine business was transacted. Reports were read and they showed that the society has prospered during the eight years of its existence. The anniversary speech was made by August Wolff and Rudolph Wruger gave a classical recitation. An address was made by Vincent Wisnifsky and President William Gardner also made a few remarks.

Each member received a gift. The affair was arranged by the committee consisting of the officers of the club who are: President, William Gardner; vice president, George Zepp; secretary, Joseph Haurand; financial secretary, August Wolf and treasurer, John Wirth.

CHURCH SUPPER.

Eighty Members of a First M. E. Church Society Enjoy Repast.

There were about eighty people gathered about the tables at Vincent chapel last night for a supper given by the First M. E. church Woman's Home Missionary Society. The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to auxiliary missionary work. Mrs. W. C. Snodgrass was chairman of the committee in charge, and was assisted by the members of the society. A delightful social evening was spent.

On account of a lack of a quorum the meeting of the William Randolph Hearst Association was not held last night. A meeting will be held Thursday night, March 3.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Referring to recent explanations made of the action of the Board of Trustees of the Exempt Firemen's Association, Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department, denies that the exhibit of Amity Hose carriage was intended as a source of gain by the Hale Fire Fighting Exhibitors who had requested the privilege of showing it. The Chief states that no admission fee would have been charged other than the general admission to the fair grounds. The carriage would have been exhibited conspicuously with the words "Property of the Exempt Firemen of Plainfield, N. J.," in large letters above it and would, in the Chief's opinion, have been the best possible "ad" for Plainfield. A man would have guarded the carriage constantly and the members of the company had expressed the willingness to furnish any bond required for its safe return. The Exempt trustees could have named their own insurance company. More than this the entire expense of shipping the carriage to St. Louis and of cleaning it would have been borne by the exhibitors, and an opportunity would have been given for the exhibition of photographs and other Plainfield subjects in the same building.

Having attained an age of almost double the alloted age of three score years and ten, Noah Raby, an inmate of the Piscataway township poor farm, is slowly dying. It is feared he will not reach his one hundred and thirty-second birthday which comes on April 1. The man is being kept alive by stimulants. These have been administered to him for a year. No solids pass his lips and hot drinks he will not take. This announcement is made by Overseer of the Poor Henry G. Hummer, who has been the old man's guardian for twenty years. He says his aged ward has suffered a complete collapse.

Noah is believed to be the oldest man in the United States. He has been an interesting study. Day after day he sits in his little room in the sunniest part of the home and waits for death to claim him. He is not morose. His sight grew weaker until a few years ago he became entirely blind. His hearing he retained, however, and his intellect remained clear. Even in his old age he was fond of receiving callers and very often Mr. Hummer would engage him in conversation and declares he always found him bright, sensible and ready for debate. During the last few years all visitors have been denied him, because after their departure it was seen that he was much weaker.

Wonder has often been expressed by residents of Scotch Plains that use has not been made of the old public school building on Grand street by an active Y. M. C. A. or similar young men's organization. The opportunity for utilizing the building in this way was given the young men of the 'Plains years ago, but, from lack of leadership, advantage was never taken of it. Prominent 'Plains people told a reporter for The Daily Press the feasibility of the scheme and the benefits that it would bring to Scotch Plains and Fanwood.

When the present village school house was erected fifteen years ago, there was much doubt as to the best disposition of the old building, which was finally purchased by Dr. J. Ackerman Coles. It was remodeled, fitted with electric lights and other improvements and offered the young people of the village as a clubhouse, the only restriction placed upon it being that it be used for an organization such as a Young Men's Christian Association

When this offer was made, Rev. J. S. Braker, then pastor of the Baptist church, was the chief advocate of its acceptance, and it was through his efforts that several preliminary meetings were held. Before an organization could be effected, however, Mr. Braker was called to a church in Waltham, Mass., and interest in the plan was allowed to drop.

The building was then used as an Italian mission with Sunday services by an Italian missionary from New York and was finally abandoned altogether. It is unoccupied today, although its front bears the sign in large gold letters "Y. M. C. A.," with a smaller "Italian Mission" sign underneath.

A.O.U.W. SESSION AT TRENTON

GRAND LODGE TO MEET ON THURSDAY, MARCH 10.

The Grand Lodge meeting of the A. O. U. W. will be held at Trenton beginning Thursday, March 10. The debate on the adoption of the new plans of assessment voted by the Supreme Lodge will begin the following day and is expected to be of the red hot variety. The acceptance or rejection of the assessment plans will be the most important step taken by the Grand Lodge probably in its history, the practical meaning of their rejection being separation from the Supreme Logde. The advocates and opponents of the plans will marshal their full strength for the final battle which will end a campaign of months. the leader of the faction opposing adoption being Vincent W. Nash, of this city.

A discussion of the plans will be held by Central Lodge, No. 48, tomorrow night. All Workmen of the vicinity have been invited to attend and special invitations have been extended to the members of Columbia Lodge. Among those who will be present to speak will be Grand Master Tomlinson, of Elizabeth; Grand Guide Fowle, of Irvington; Chairman Roake, of Bayonne, of the finance committee; Chairman Wolff, of Newark, of the law department, and probably Deputy Pastorus, of Elizabeth. Supreme Representative Nash will attend and may possibly participate in the debate, though not scheduled for a set speech.

WON HIS WAY UP.

Timekeeper Herbert B. Wykoff at Jersey City—Prominent in Fraternal Circles.

Herbert B. Wyckoff, the subject of this sketch, is a son of Mayor Wyckoff, of Dunellen, N. J., and was born November 13, 1879, at Whitehouse, Hunterdon County, N. J. He moved to Dunellen, N. J., with his parents, in 1890, and entered the service of the New Jersey Central as a messenger in the spring of 1894, and was soon thereafter promoted to a clerkship in General Superintendent Olhausen's office, where he remained several months, when he was again promoted to an important position in the time-keeping department.

A few months since he was advanced to his present position of timekeeper, a position in which he commands the respect and confidence of his superiors and associates.

Mr. Wyckoff has just been elected chief ranger in Dunellen Court No. 1123, I. O. Red Men, being the youngest member that has ever been chosen to rule that court and hold this responsible office. He is also a member of Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., in which order he is an active and enthusiastic worker.

Mr. Wyckoff is one of the most popular young men in the employ of the New Jersey Central, which fact is largely due to the uniform courtesy which he extends to every one.—Railroad Employe.

Leader Colby has had a concurrent resolution adopted in the House providing for the final adjournment Wednesday, March 23, at 3 o'clock. This is the first indication of the end of the session.

City Clerk J. T. MacMurray and wife will return home from Atlantic City on Sunday afternoon.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

THE NEW COSTUMES.

Spring Jackets—Louis XV. Costumes Almost Perfect Representations.

The long straight jacket is to be much worn this spring. It is a jacket perfectly fitted in the back and sides and over the chest, but falling in the front straight from the bust downward to about ten inches below the knee.

Louis XV. costumes have the skirt in tiers, the skirt of the coat forming the third tier. The hat worn with this sort of costume is a modified tricorne, the whole suggesting the hunting costumes of the time of Louis XV. The resemblance is made more striking by the embroidered waistcoats and the filmy jabots and lace undersleeves falling well over the hand.

A costume of this sort seen recently was of Veronese green velvet, with a waistcoat of pale robin's egg blue embroidered in silver. A jabot of point de venise and ruffles of the same gave the required touch of softness. The hat was in dark, with a rosette embroidered in silver.

Passementerie and braid work, especially those showing a silky finish, will be much used for coats, and there will also be a great demand for fringe in all its varieties.

Some notable changes are being effected in the realm of hair ornaments—always a fruitful subject to la mode. Wide flat bows have taken the place of the tiny upstanding ornaments which were prime favorites a short time ago, and these are carried out in paillettes in the most exquisite shades—deep rose or blue toning down to white and of course jet and beads as well as gold and silver.

The picture shows a gown of black chiffon velvet or silk. The collar, yoke and belt are of light silk, which show beneath the openwork embroidery.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

TRIFLES OF DRESS.

Lace Flounces and Berthas—The Useless Remnant.

It is not correct to mix several kinds of lace on one dress, and yet this is frequently done by the dressmaker who is not particular.

A wide lace bertha is always a dainty and suitable finish for a decollete waist, but a wide lace flounce on a silk dress is an abomination, for it cuts the figure and makes the upper half of the skirt look cheap.

If you have any flounces of real lace, turn them either into berthas or into boleros, or else they can be used to excellent advantage on an evening coat.

Remnants have caused more than one woman to regret bitterly that she ever bought them. They may be cheap, but there is never enough of them to make anything decent, and combinations of two or three remnants are rarely successful.

There is nothing prettier for a child's frock than accordion plaiting, especially in white or pale blue.

The picture shows a walking costume of blue cloth. The plaited skirt has a hip yoke. The loose hanging front of the bolero is also in plaits. The revers are of white silk. The hat is blue and white, with a white bird.

JAPS AGAIN ATTACK

Russians Drive Back Mikado's Fleet a Third Time.

REPULSED ALL ALONG THE LINE

Japanese Army Said to Have Landed at Possiet Bay, Manchuria—Russian Irritation Against United States Increasing Daily.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 26.—Viceroy Alexeieff has telegraphed as follows to the czar:

"The enemy has for a third time attacked Port Arthur. The Japanese fleet from a distance of about five miles shelled the ships and fortifications of Port Arthur for two hours. The attack was everywhere repulsed by our ships and the heavy fire of the forts. The enemy evidently intended to bombard the city, but found the fire of our guns was more than they could withstand. The guns of the forts on the Tiger peninsula, Golden hill and Electric cliff were turned upon the enemy, and a furious cannonade was kept up until the enemy retired. Then the firing slackened and became desultory."

A report from Paris gives additional details of the Japanese attempt to close the entrance of the harbor of Port Arthur. It states that the Japanese sent five or six old transport hulks, conveyed by torpedo boats, to Port Arthur with the evident purpose of sinking the hulks at the entrance of the harbor.

Having been the first to discover the torpedo boats and having opened a fierce fire on them, the Retvizan, supported by the shore batteries, destroyed near the entrance to the channel two steamships which were bearing straight down on her. The first of these went on the rocks near the lighthouse on Tigrovy peninsula. The other sank near Mount Tolstoi.

The firing against the torpedo boats was continued until dawn.

Daylight revealed four steamships destroyed in the roadstead and eight torpedo boats fleeing toward warships which were awaiting them at sea.

The Japanese crews saved themselves in boats. Some of the men were drowned, and probably some were picked up by the enemy's torpedo boats.

The channel to the harbor is clear.

The complete derangement of the Japanese plan was owing to the brilliant resistance and destructive fire of the Retvizan.

One of the Japanese steamships burned for many hours. Floating torpedoes are still visible in the roadstead.

The enemy's fleet left the offing in two lines.

The fire of the Retvizan was strongly seconded by that of the shore battery north of Port Arthur. The report adds that two Japanese ships lie in Tiger bay, that along the shore another Japanese ship was burned and that a fourth lies wrecked on the shore outside Tiger bay.

It is believed that these wrecks are not warships, but hulks designed to be sunk at the entrance of the harbor. The wrecks are said to be at considerable distances from the harbor entrance, which remains open.

The Japanese failed to effect their purpose.

Two of the ships lie between the entrance of the channel and the Laothieshan peninsula.

The cruisers Bayan and Novik pursued the Japanese torpedo flotilla. It is said that one of the torpedo boats was sunk.

The fact that the Japanese have renewed the attack is interpreted here to mean that they are determined to bottle up or destroy the Russian fleet at Port Arthur in order to give themselves freedom for land maneuvers to cut off or invest the city or as a feint to cover a movement elsewhere.

A report from Kinkon says the Japanese landed at Possiet bay and subsequently undertook operations against Hunchun and toward Kirin, in Russian Manchuria.

Hunchun is on the left bank of the Tumen river and about forty miles to the west of Possiet bay. Kirin is a big Manchurian town and lies about 220 miles inland and to the west of Possiet bay.

This reported advance has produced consternation among the European civilians residing on the line of march.

It is reported also that the Russian government bureau at Vladivostok has withdrawn to Khavarovsk.

A Peking dispatch says the director general of Chinese railroads reports that 100 Russian infantrymen, an officer, a gun and a large supply of ammunition are at Yaoyangho and that 200 Russian cavalrymen and two guns have arrived at Lulichang. These towns are both on the west side of the Liao river.

The director general reports also that the Manchurian railroad is guarded by detachments of Cossacks of thirty men each, who occupy high watch towers at intervals of a mile.

A Tokyo dispatch says that three weeks ago it was thought in some quarters that the opening of the war would be speedily followed by a movement of the Russian forces toward the south, Pingyang being picked as their objective point. The appearance later of Russian scouts in the vicinity of Wiju tended to confirm this opinion and created the impression that there would be an early conflict in that vicinity.

If the Russians ever intended to make this movement they have apparently been beaten by the rapidly moving Japanese. The latter are said to have a large enough force to check the Russians, thus insuring the possession of Korea as soon as they are capable of making an aggressive northern movement themselves. The small bodies of mounted Russians who were scouting south of the Yalu river speedily withdrew to the northward.

Storms are interfering with naval operations. The Yellow sea is being swept by gales, heavy snow is falling and the weather is bitterly cold. The forces of Japan are going to the front splendidly equipped to withstand the cold, but despite their preparations both sides will suffer much during the next sixty days.

The irritation against the United States on account of the supposed unfriendly attitude of that country toward Russia, which was slightly noticeable throughout the negotiations, seems to have become daily more pronounced, and since the Vicksburg incident at Chemulpo, when the commander of this American gunboat is said to have refused to unite with the commanders of other foreign warships at Chemulpo to protest against the fighting which resulted in the loss of the Russian warships Variag and Korietz, and the fact that the Vicksburg did not take on board survivors of the Russian ships, American business men here are really alarmed concerning the possible effect upon American trade. Within the last few days orders for American goods have been countermanded, the only explanation given being that the prospective purchasers did not desire to buy American goods under the present circumstances.

United States Consul General Watts has been appealed to in the case of an American firm which had a large contract for school supplies, the contract having been peremptorily canceled. Orders for the importation of a big consignment of wood pulp have also been countermanded, the intending purchaser saying in his letter that he could not be expected to do business with America after the Vicksburg incident. Mr. Watts has felt it to be his duty to write to the state department, pointing out the state of public feeling here and the great prospective damage to American trade unless measures were taken to allay the irritation.

Americans here believe that an official explanation of the Vicksburg incident would be opportune and have an excellent effect. The government officially has not taken notice of the incident, being without direct official advices from the far east on the subject. In government circles, however, it is seen plainly that Russian susceptibilities have been wounded, and the fear is expressed that should Washington now disregard Russia and procure exequaturs for the newly appointed American consuls at Mukden and Antung from Peking and attempt to send these officials to their posts a really unpleasant incident might be created.

Russia does not want to be placed in the position of refusing to allow the men to enter upon their duties, but with a state of war existing and commerce at a standstill military considerations are paramount, and Russia might consider herself warranted in interpreting such a course on the part of the United States to be political rather than commercial.

The refusal of Russia to allow Mr. Morgan, the newly appointed American consul at Port Dalny, to go to his post at present is based solely on the military situation, which may compel all foreigners to leave Port Dalny.

The sincere hope is expressed that the United States will not embarrass Russia further by pressing the question of consular representation at this time.

When the Japanese squadron approached Port Arthur the Russian cruisers Bayan and Novik were ordered to face the Japanese fleet, which, however, did not open fire and afterward steamed away in the direction of Port Dalny.

The injured cruiser Pallada has entered the drydock at Port Arthur.

The most sacred image in Russia has been sent to St. Petersburg from Moscow, and it will be taken later to the far east with the army.

This image is a representation of the Virgin appearing to St. Sergius and is always kept at the Troitzko monastery. It is about one foot square and is covered with precious stones. The image has a remarkable history. It accompanied Alexis, Peter the Great and Alexander I. on all their campaigns. A silver tablet attached to it enumerates the battles at which the ikon was present.

Japan's Destroyers Uninjured.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The British foreign office has received an official dispatch saying that not one of the Japanese torpedo boats was injured in the third attack on Port Arthur.

Saugerties Dogs Tied Up.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Feb. 26.—All the dogs in the town of Saugerties, Ulster county, have been ordered confined by the state commission of agriculture to prevent the spread of rabies. A mad dog recently bit scores of dogs and chickens and several persons. Arrangements are being made to send the persons who were bitten to the Pasteur institute in New York for treatment.

Decisions Favor Gudger and Lever.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The house elections committee has decided the Gudger-Moody contest from the Tenth North Carolina district in favor of Gudger, Democrat, the sitting member, and the Dantzler-Lever contest from the Seventh South Carolina district in favor of Lever, the sitting member.

BANK MANAGER HELD

Wallace H. Ham Is Charged With Larceny of $104,000.

CHURCH AND CHARITY FUNDS TAKEN

Counsel For American Surety Company at Boston and Treasurers St. Luke's Home and St. Paul's Church Are His Accusers.

BOSTON, Feb. 26.—Wallace H. Ham, manager of the Boston branch of the American Surety company of New York, treasurer of St. Luke's Home For Convalescents, Roxbury, and until recently treasurer of St. Paul's Episcopal church in this city, has been arrested charged with the larceny of $104,000 from the American Surety company. He was arraigned in the municipal court before Judge Ely and held in $50,000 for a hearing.

In court George N. Perry, counsel for the Surety company, stated that, although the warrant alleged the appropriation of $104,000, he was ready to prove that as much as $175,000 had been taken by Ham as manager of the Surety company. Mr. Perry said that Ham also was responsible for a loss of from $40,000 to $50,000 in the hands of St. Luke's home. After Ham's arrest the American Surety company issued a statement in which they claimed that the accounts of St. Paul's Episcopal church were involved in the general deficit, but to what extent was not known.

When Ham was brought into court he waived examination, and Lawyer Perry asked that bail be placed at $100,000 because of the large amount alleged to have been stolen. The complainant company felt safe, he said, in saying that the misappropriation from the company would be as large as $175,000.

Charles W. Bartlett, who had been retained by Ham, contended that $25,000 in bail was large enough, especially as the defense was ready to show that the alleged larceny was nothing more than an error in bookkeeping, which could be cleared away if time were given. Judge Ely then fixed the bond at $50,000 and continued the case until March 3.

In an interview Ham said:

"I suppose that this is some trouble that the New York office is trying to make for me. For some time we have been corresponding about the differences between my accounts and their own. We could not seem to make the amounts agree. They claimed there was more due than my books showed."

The company states that its traveling auditor discovered the alleged shortage on a recent visit here and that when Ham was accused of being short in his accounts he admitted the wrongdoing, making a full confession to the auditor, to the trustees of St. Paul's church and also to the trustees of St. Luke's home.

Not One of the Five Miners Escaped.

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 26.—Five miners have been killed by a cave-in of earth and rock in the Minnie Healy mine. Early in the day Foreman Joseph Kane was informed that the ground was very soft and in danger of falling. He withdrew all the miners. Later Shift Boss Haggerty took four men into the mine to bulkhead and otherwise strengthen the weak spots. Just how the fall came will never be known, as not one of the five escaped. Only two bodies have been recovered.

Suicide Caused by Insanity.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Katzenstein, a patient at the Chicago Baptist hospital, committed suicide by hanging herself during the temporary absence of her nurse. A sheet torn in strips was the means used by the woman in taking her life. The strips were knotted together and one end fastened to the gas fixture, while the other end was tightly wound about her neck. From letters written by Mrs. Katzenstein there is little doubt but that she was temporarily insane.

President Harper Has a Relapse.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago has suffered a relapse of his recent attack of appendicitis and again is under the closest attention of his physicians. His exact condition is not known to other than his physicians and members of his family, but it is feared at the university that his recent trip in the east caused his malady to return in a more serious form than before.

Cubans Forgot the Time Limit.

HAVANA, Feb. 26.—The lapsing of the Isle of Pines treaty on account of its not being ratified within the time limit is regarded here to be mainly due to the fact that the state department at Washington did not call attention to the matter. It would also appear, however, that the Cuban state department failed to remember this time limit.

The same honor was conferred some time ago by the University of Dublin. Mr. Taylor will receive the degree at Dublin the last of June and at Edinburgh early in July.

NORTH PLAINFIELD CITIZENS LAUNCH INDEPENDENT PARTY

In Response to a Call, Republicans, Democrats and Prohibitionists Gather in Large Numbers and Name Candidates on a Non-Partisan Basis.

VOTERS AGAINST ALLEGED ONE-MAN GOVERNMENT IN BOROUGH.

ASSEMBLYMAN SWACKHAMER AND A. V. D. HONEYMAN MAKE ADDRESSES—CHARLES PLACE, THE CHAIRMAN.

For members Borough Council—Frank Krewson, D; John H. VanWinkle, Jr., D; Joseph P., Humble R; the last named for the unexpired term of Robert Clark, Jr. For Assessor—Justus H. Cooley, R. For Collector—C. Frank French, D. For Freeholder—John Emmons, D. For Justices of the Peace—Sylvester Scribner, Prohibitionist; B. S. Braider, R. For Commissioner of Appeal—W. C. Smith, R. Appropriation for Board of Health—$550.

This was the ticket nominated last night at a meeting of voters, irrespective of party, held in the Somerset street school building to be voted for at the coming election. It was a citizens' meeting and by a vote of the two hundred citizens present this committee of five Republicans and five Democrats was appointed by the chairman, Former Mayor Charles Place, to name a ticket to be presented before the meeting: Republicans—T. S. Armstrong, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, L. E. Barkalew, A. J. Leader and A. V. D. Honeyman. Democrats—John H. VanWinkle, Sr., Den. Gavin, Lorenzo Townley, David J. Carney and Michael Kohler.

The enthusiastic meeting was called to order by W. W. Howland and after he announced the purpose of the call, that to transact business solely in the interest of the borough, Mr. Place was unanimously selected as chairman. He extended his thanks for the honor conferred, stating that it was the first time that he had ever attended a citizens' meeting in North Plainfield and declared that the meeting was held purely for the best interests of the borough and its taxpayers.

After the selection of David Bodine as secretary, the call for the meeting was read, the objects of which have already been stated. A. V. D. Honeyman offered a motion calling for the appointment of the nominating committee to consist of five Republicans and five Democrats, whose duty it would be to draft a platform and select an executive committee to serve for one year or until such time as successors should be elected.

Mr. Honeyman stated that he took it for granted that nearly everyone present favored the proposed movement. He disliked taking any prominent part in the proceedings, citing the fact that a year ago he figured in another matter when he secured more prominence than he desired. As for the annexation matter he declared that the law had been repealed and if it were not for the newspapers it would not now demand any attention worth speaking of. The law is inoperative by an act of the Legislature. He further stated that he does not want the enmity of any one in the borough and he refused to be classed as an anti-annexationist. If an annexationist be placed on the citizens' ticket he said he would vote for him, provided he is against despotism. He believed that the questions of a park, sewers and schools should be decided in a right manner. Regarding the defeat of the school proposition recently, Mr. Honeyman said that he had been informed that had the question been divided into two resolutions instead of one, there is no question but what it would have been adopted. As for himself he had asked no one to vote either one way or the other. He declared that all the talk about this matter seemed to be in the newspapers. Mr. Honeyman implied that the Board of Education must select another site for a school building.

Mr. Honeyman said he would like to see a fair division of the offices of the borough which is now controlled entirely by Republicans. This present condition he regretted for he believed that there should be a minority in the governing body and that the time had arrived for cleaning house. Once more referring to the newspapers he said: "What you read in the newspapers is one thing and facts are another." He referred to the feeling always evidenced in the selection of a freeholder and in selecting a nominee for the ticket he said that those present would not have to abide by the selection of the committee of ten. His inference was, however, that this committee would make up the balance of the ticket. When the report was presented, the freeholder nomination was left vacant and later made by a vote of the people present. In conclusion Mr. Honeyman said that he did not know how long this movement would last, but as for himself he intended to stay in it until victory is won. "There would be no need of attending the Republican caucus tonight for the ticket is all cut and dried," concluded the speaker.

As the committee of ten retired to make a ticket, Assemblyman Swackhamer, who occupied a seat on the platform, was introduced and for nearly an hour he addressed his audience in a most earnest and impressive manner. He thanked all for the honor of calling on him, complimenting the audience by saying that it was composed of clear-headed, candid citizens, and immediately entered into discussion of the sacredness of the home. He had no unkind word for any member of the borough government, in fact he considered every one a personal friend. He said that it is not his principle to detract or abuse those who differ from him, but there are occasions when things are not right and it is time to renovate.

He considered it dangerous when any public official acts without fear of rebuke, and in such a time patience ceases to be a virtue. It is then that the sovereign people seizes the guilty party and by the ballot corrects the evils. The speaker referred to the history of the two leading parties showing how each one had been rebuked for wrong-doing. Mr. Swackhamer devoted considerable time to a defense of the borough, schools and fire department and resented the action of the Council in establishing a paid fire department. He said that the best service could only come from a volunteer department, composed of persons who have the interest of the home at heart. His motto he said is: "Help everybody and hurt nobody." Mr. Swackhamer contended that the best interests of the masses demands a change and he characterized the motives of the Democrats and Republicans as being the highest. He declared his belief to be that the

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY CITIZENS' PARTY

The Present Administration in North Plainfield Was Roundly Denounced.

SEVERE ON SMALLEY

CONDEMNS DISBANDMENT OF VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Opposes Alleged Arrests Without Warrant at Behest of the Mayor—Advocates Representation of Minority Party in Council.

This platform was adopted by the new Citizens' party of North Plainfield at its primary last night:

We, citizens of the Borough of North Plainfield, in primary assembled, declare the following declaration of principles and purposes:

Officeholders should act for the whole people, and not for a few, nor for personal and selfish ends. When our Mayor or Council in practical effect say, "We are the Borough," instead of "We are the servants of the Borough," a change is in order, and if a Citizens' ticket is necessary to bring about a permanent change, it deserves the support of right-thinking people.

The subject of "Annexation" or "Anti-Annexation" is not up for discussion, that having been settled at the polls and the law being repealed. As a Citizens' party we do not care how men voted two years ago upon the law which has since been repealed; we hope for the harmonious concentration of the efforts of our best citizens to overthrow a local despotism which is distasteful, as we believe, to a large majority of our voters and taxpayers of both political parties.

Our chief desire is to foster the best things we possess in this borough and to make North Plainfield a prosperous and enviable place of residence. We covet the rewards that follow a clean and upright municipal government. What a man's politics or religion may be is his own business; whether he be a good citizen or not is everybody's business.

A subject like that of purchasing and maintaining a public park in a small borough should only be entertained and promoted after a public meeting and full discussion evinces the fact that it is wanted by a majority of the taxpayers. If there be doubt, a vote of the people on the subject should be asked.

The same with the question of a paid fire department. It should only be adopted by a public endorsement at the polls; a public vote on the subject. We condemn the action of Council as uncalled for, hasty and a wrong to the volunteer department and to our borough to change an efficient and satisfactory department, costing only from one thousand to twelve hundred dollars per annum, to a paid department to cost four or five thousand dollars per annum, without public discussion and vote, for it is, as we believe, contrary to the views of nine-tenths of our taxpayers.

Half of the amount necessary to maintain annually a paid fire department would increase the efficiency of the police force, now utterly inadequate. We point to the meagre outlays by Council to support the police as economy in the wrong place, and declare that in our judgment the force should be increased.

We are opposed to the arrest and imprisonment of any citizen who is not a criminal, without warrant, simply at the behest of a bystander, even though bystander happens to be the Mayor. With such methods in vogue, no man is safe from arbitrary imprisonment.

Whatever will build up our borough so as to attract strangers of the right sort, we welcome. First-class schools, a strong police and good fire protection everybody desires. Arbitrary arrests, the passage of unpopular ordinances, and the schemes for constantly increasing taxation which emanate from sources that do not have at heart solely the interests of all, will not make for progress, but will eventually drive away capital and citizens.

We favor a new school building with adequate accommodations if placed on a proper site.

In the Borough Council there should always be minority representation. To have a Council wholly composed of one party is bad in policy and unjust, to that large body of voters who are equally interested with the majority in local legislation.

We ask our voters to reinstate the policy of a government of the people, for the people and by the people as against that of one man, of whose domination we are becoming heartily weary.

BASKET BALL AT Y. M. C. A.

REGULAR TEAM WINS IN CONTEST WITH BUSINESS MEN'S AGGREGATION.

The first basket ball five of the Y. M. C. A. defeated a scrub team from the business men's class last night by a score of 26 to 18. The first team excelled in passing, but their victory was by no means overwhelming. The business men, captained by Dr. Browning, fought hard from the start and several times in both halves had their opponents on the anxious seat before they could clinch their victory. Cahoone did great offensive work for the first team, making a total of nine goals. The score at the end of the first half was tied 12 to 12, Cahoone's clever work in throwing seven goals in the latter period landing the victory. The score:

First Team—Hand and Hallock, forwards; Cahoone, centre; Neal and Scull, guards. Business Men—Heicker and Blake, forwards; Utzinger, centre; Browning and Letson, guards. Goals from the floor, Hand 2, Hallock, Cahoone 9, Scull, Heicker, Blake 6, Utzinger 2. Referee, Heinecke. Umpires, Doane and Sebring. Scorer, Hoagland. Timer, C. Utzinger. Time, 20-min. periods.

MAYOR CHALLENGES DR. COOLEY TO DEBATE

Smalley Wants to Meet the Former Mayor and Publicly Discuss Borough Affairs.

FIRING OF HOT SHOT

NORTH PLAINFIELD'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE ASKS PERSONAL QUESTIONS.

Wants Cooley to Set a Date Next Week When the Two Can Meet—He Talks About Obstruction Policy.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Doctor Cooley's letter published in Thursday's Daily Press, calls for a reply. He says he did not remove from the ballots printed by order of the school-board those which were "against" the $1,800 appropriation for the purchase of the Grove street lot. He states on the contrary that every ballot ordered by the Board was in the room, ready for distribution, when the meeting opened. He also says that he was not rebuked by the President of the Board for charging trickery on the part of others, when in fact if anyone was guilty of trickery it was the Doctor himself.

Others beside myself heard Mr. Joy charge him with having removed the tickets in question from among those printed by order of the Board. They also heard the Doctor stammer and admit that he had done so. He did not attempt to deny the charge, but said that while he had taken those tickets for distribution, he had caused others to be printed afterward to replace them and brought these others to the meeting.

The statements in his letter and those he made in response to Mr. Joy's charges cannot both be true. Anyone interested is referred to the President of the school Board as to the truth of this statement.

Doctor Cooley says he was not rebuked. Well perhaps he does not consider that being called down for making a false charge amounts to a rebuke. It may be a question of taste and perhaps he likes it.

The Doctor says that my methods in school matters and in politics are not his. That is true and I thank him for the admission. If he will meet me in public discussion I will endeavor to satisfy him that my methods are better than his. That a straightforward course is better than a crooked one in politics and in school-matters. In order that he may be fully prepared I will give him a few hints as to some of the questions which will be asked him.

Was it the character of the Grove street lot or the fact that you had property for sale on the east side that caused your opposition?

Is the rumor that you promised to pay a certain obligation if you could sell your lot to the school district, true or false?

When Brown first ran for Collector and you pretended to support him, was the hand which scratched out Brown's name and wrote in that of his opponent on the ticket which was given to a certain colored voter, yours or anothers?

You will remember that when I showed you that ticket and asked you if it was your hand writing you stammered and halted just as you did the other night when charged with trickery by Mr. Joy. You finally answered me that you did not know whether it was your handwriting or not. Perhaps your "methods" have improved, so that you can answer quickly now.

There will be other questions asked you too numerous to mention now and I hope that you will name an evening early next week when I may ask them and answer such as you choose to propound. The policy of obstruction of public improvements which you and your friends have pursued for some time past has already greatly injured the borough and it is time the real reasons were publicly stated.

Newton B. Smalley.

The Park Club bowling team journeyed to Westfield last night and succeeded in winning one of the series of three games with the Westfield Club in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament. With a few exceptions the Parks were considerably off their game and they made a poor showing. For instance William McCutchen rolled a score of 194 in the second game and a score of 89 in the last one. F. O. Ball had high score for the Parks in the second game, rolling 198. The other scores were much lower. Dr. Thiers especially had hard luck. He had six splits in the first game and more than his share in the other two.

As for the Westfield team the members did but little better individually. Condit with a score of 190 was high man for the team. The first game they took by a score of 806 to 712, the second game they lost by a score of 708 to 804 and the last game they took by a score of 848 to 646.

JOSEPH O. OSGOOD ON BRIDGE BUILDING

Chief Engineer of Jersey Central Railroad Makes An Address Before a Men's Club.

IN GRACE M. E. CHURCH

SKETCHES THE HISTORY OF THE SUBJECT TO A LARGE AUDIENCE.

Particular Reference Made to the New "Lift" Constructed Over Newark Bay — Refreshments Served at the Conclusion.

Joseph O. Osgood, chief engineer of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, made an address at the meeting of the Men's Assembly of Grace M. E. church last night. There was a large attendance in spite of the fact that there was a citizens meeting in the borough.

Mr. Osgood's topic was the "Evolution of Bridges." He referring especially to the new drop-bridge which was placed in position a few weeks ago by the Central Railroad Company over Newark Bay. Mr. Osgood is an interesting talker and that he is thoroughly conversant with his subject is shown by the lucid manner in which each detail of the great structure over the channel of the bay was described.

He told in an interesting way the story of bridges from the time when monkeys strung themselves in human ladders, so to speak, across streams, referring incidently of the rough bridges, made by savages, of falled trees and branches, and the bridges of mediaeval times up to the suspension bridges which connect great cities and the cantilever bridge which is the connecting link between the great arteries of freight traffic between the east and west. The various kinds of bridges were described and the workings of the modern draw bridge explained. He dwelt at length upon the use and practical utility of such a bridge as the "lift" recently constructed over the Newark Bay.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of his talk and a social time was enjoyed. A cornet solo was rendered by Whitney Frazee, accompanied by W. A. Conger.

P. H. S. DEFEATS HASBROUCK

LOCAL TEAM WINS BASKET BALL GAME WITH PERFECT EASE.

Plainfield High School turned the tables on Hasbrouck Institute of Jersey City in basket ball yesterday afternoon avenging a 25-15 defeat of February 5 in Jersey City, by winning on the Y. M. C. A. floor by a score of 30 to 7. Plainfield played clean, open basket ball, excelling in team work as well as individual play, though Hasbrouck did some good passing at times. Collier's accurate shooting for baskets was what played the greatest havoc with the visitors. He scored ten clean goals, many of them difficult shots, and in defensive work, his opponent never had a chance to get by him. His reappearance on the team has added much to Plainfield's strength. Guinn and Gavett also did good work on the offense and Thompson's play was excellent. The summary:

Plainfield High — Thompson and Collier, forwards; Guinn, centre; Gavett and Fenno, guards. Hasbrouck —Tompkins and Stork, forwards; Appleton, centre; Platt and Hunt, guards. Goals from the floor, Collier 10, Guinn 2, Gavett 3, Hunt 2, Tompkins. Goal from foul, Platt. Referee, Robbie. Umpires, Marclay and Weintraub. Scorer, Flanders. Time, 20-min. halves.

LOSS PUT AT FOUR MILLIONS

Largest Department Stores in the City Consumed.

HELP FROM BUFFALO AND SYRACUSE

Fire Started From the Blowing Out of a Fuze in the Electric Elevator Connection in the Basement of the Rochester Dry Goods Company. Fire Department Was Inadequate.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The sun set last night with ten engines pouring streams of water on the ruins of what was practically the retail dry goods district of this city, for three out of the five department stores were consumed in the disastrous fire, one of which, the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr company, was by far the largest establishment of this kind in the city and the oldest.

Insurance men are still figuring on the loss, which they now place at $4,000,000. Of this amount $750,000 represents the loss on buildings and the balance the loss on stocks of goods and to occupants of offices. In addition it is estimated that 2,500 people are thrown out of work temporarily at least because of the fire.

The burned district lies on the north side of Main street, between St. Paul street and Clinton avenue, north, running from St. Paul street almost the entire length of the block. The fire started on the eastern end of the block in the store of the Rochester Dry Goods company and worked west, taking but one store east of this establishment, that of the Walkover Shoe company, before its progress was checked in that direction. Next west was the store of the Beadle-Sherburne company, which was destroyed; then the marble block occupied by the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr company, also destroyed, and finally the thirteen story granite building, the lower part of which was occupied by the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr company and the upper part by offices. Only the front wall of the marble building is standing. The shell of the granite building is intact, and the floors are in place, but the building was gutted.

Next west of Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co., with St. Paul street running between, is the department store of Burke, Fitzsimmons, Hone & Co. That building was saved by hard work, the only damage being from window glass broken by the heat and water leaking into the storeroom. On St. Paul street, in the rear of the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co., stood a six story building, occupied by the wholesale department of the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co., which was destroyed with all its valuable contents, the loss on this building and contents alone being placed at $1,450,000. The stables of the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co. were also burned.

The flames ate their way into the rear of the granite building from the marble building and then followed a foot bridge across into the wholesale building.

There were no casualties, and no one was injured, with the exception that Assistant Chief Frank A. Jayn was struck by a flying nozzle and received some bruises.

The power on the trolley line running along Main street was cut off to avoid danger from electricity, and no cars were run through the block where the fire occurred all day.

The fire was discovered by the night watchman in the employ of the Rochester Dry Goods Company. It was first seen at 4:50 a. m., and the watchman says it started from a fuse which blew out in the electric elevator connection. It started in the basement. Almost simultaneously an explosion occurred in the basement of Beadle & Sherburne's, next door. Smoke and flames poured through the elevator in the sidewalk, and in an incredibly short time the buildings were a mass of flame.

The fire department did excellent work, but the apparatus was inadequate, and requests for assistance were sent to Buffalo and Syracuse. Each city responded, sending two engines and men to man them.

The gas company has been unable to locate the gates in the mains, and gas is pouring into the ruins.

Fire In Newport News Shipyard.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Feb. 27.—Fire of unknown origin broke out in the angle iron shed of the Newport News Shipbuilding company's big plant and totally destroyed the building, the only frame structure in the shipyard. The fire fighting facilities of the yard were sufficient to prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Car Famine at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 27.—The car famine has reached an acute stage in this district, and coal and coke shipments are seriously affected. The railroad companies in response to complaints make the statement that the present winter has, without exception, been the most severe on traffic in seventy years.

TREATY RATIFIED.

Panama Canal Agreement Now Signed and Sealed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Secretary Hay and M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla, the Panamanian minister to the United States, at 10:30 o'clock exchanged ratifications of the Panama canal treaty at the state department. At 11:30 the president signed the proclamation putting the treaty into effect.

From the state department Minister Bunau-Varilla, with the exchange copy of the treaty under his arm, drove to the cable office and tendered his resignation as minister from Panama at Washington to the president of the republic in the following cablegram:

"The exchange of ratifications of the treaty has now taken place, thus finishing the accomplishment of my duty toward the republic of Panama. I request your excellency, in conformity with what I have expressed in my letter of November last to the department on foreign affairs, to accept my resignation from this date and to send me by next mail my letters of recall."

The minister stated some time ago that he would resign his post as soon as the treaty had been completed, as he accepted the position only because of his interest in the canal. He was associated with Ferdinand de Lesseps in the original French Panama canal company. In a recent letter to the Panama government M. Bunau-Varilla asked that his salary as minister be withheld and the money used to build a monument to De Lesseps at Panama.

A STRAIGHT DENIAL.

Commander of Columbia Says Insurgents Violated Armistice.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., Feb. 27.—Referring to the statement published in the Tidendes of this place that the Dominican government was not consulted and consequently did not give its permission for the Americans to fire upon the Dominican insurgents on the east bank of the Osama river, Captain Miller, commander of the United States cruiser Columbia, has [illegible] through C. H. Payne, the United States consul here, in which he says:

"I assure you that I consulted the provisional President, Senor Morales, and obtained his sanction to fire on the insurgents and land troops at Villa Duarte. Not a shot was fired and not a man was landed before this permission was obtained.

"The reasons for the bombardment were that the insurgent generals violated their solemn armistice given me not to fire on the steamer New York nor on my boat while in the river; because, as soon as the New York and my boat entered the river, the insurgents began to fire upon them with cannon and rifles. The bombardment was to drive them from the east bank of the river and prove to them that the flag of the United States could not be insulted with impunity."

RIOTS IN CUBA.

Cienfuegos Roughs Continuing Their Intimidations.

HAVANA, Feb. 27.—Telegrams from Cienfuegos, Santa Clara province, report that the roughs who caused trouble during the electoral registration are continuing and increasing their intimidations. The local authorities are reported to be indifferent. Numbers of people have been beaten, and one injured workman has appealed to the United States consul.

The mayor of Havana has ordered the carnival festivities in this city to be suspended Sunday, which is election day, in order to prevent the possibilities of disorder here. No person will be allowed to wear a mask on the streets, and the assembling of crowds and other carnival practices have been prohibited.

Ham Spends Night In Jail.

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—Wallace H. Ham, who has been held until March 3, charged with the larceny of $104,000 from the American Surety company of New York, spent the night in Charles street jail, having failed to secure the $50,000 bail fixed by the court. The auditing committees of St. Luke's Home For Convalescents and St. Paul's Episcopal church, from which Ham as treasurer is alleged to have embezzled various sums, are continuing the examination of the books of those institutions.

Looted American Ship.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Feb. 27.—The courts fined nine west coast fishermen $50 to $100 each, with the alternative of two to four months in jail, for looting the American schooner Fernwood, from Massachusetts, which was crushed in the ice floe off the seaboard a month ago. The crew of the Fernwood left their ship and traveled to land over the ice.

WANT PORT ARTHUR

Japanese Fleet Again Shells Russian Stronghold.

RETVIZAN AGAIN DEFENDS HARBOR

Japs Were Trying For Landing Near the Far Eastern Gibraltar—Korea's Army Will Join Japanese In the Field.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.—A dispatch received here from Port Arthur says:

"At 1 o'clock yesterday morning several Japanese torpedo boats were sighted from here with their sails set for the purpose of disguising their character. The battleship Retvisan and the shore batteries opened fire on them and continued firing until daybreak without any visible result. After daybreak a Japanese squadron, apparently convoying transports, was sighted. At a quarter past 11 o'clock this squadron came nearer, and an engagement, which lasted forty minutes, ensued. There was no damage. Few shells fell in Port Arthur.

"It is expected here that the Japanese will attempt a landing soon.

"An inspection of the Japanese fire ships sent into this harbor shows they were loaded with coal and kerosene and that electrical infernal machines had been placed in the midst of this cargo."

The official report of Major General Pflug, chief of staff to Viceroy Alexieff, giving details of the attack on Port Arthur on the morning of Thursday, Feb. 25, is as follows:

"The enemy's squadron of sixteen warships approached from the Dalny side toward the harbor of Port Arthur shortly after midnight on the 25th inst. and at once opened fire upon our three cruisers standing outside in the roadstead—namely, the Askold, Bayan and Novik, and also against the land forts. At the conclusion of the bombardment our cruisers retired into the harbor. The enemy bombarded the land batteries for some time. Then they retreated and remained out of range of our guns.

"In the meanwhile four Japanese cruisers separated from the enemy's main squadron and went into Golubinsja bay, where they opened a heavy fire upon one of our torpedo boats stationed in the bay and also upon the coast batteries. Consequently the commander of the fort sent troops to this point, but no landing took place. The bombardment there lasted twenty-two minutes, at the expiration of which time the Japanese cruisers retreated. The loss on our side was one man wounded in one of the land batteries.

"The officer commanding at Vladivostok reports that on Feb. 24, early in the morning, ten of the enemy's ships were seen south of the islands. They disappeared on the horizon in the evening."

A report from Seoul says that the Korean government has decided to order the Korean troops to join the Japanese in the field and that the port of Wiju was opened to foreign trade. The limitations to be placed on trade and other incidental matters will be passed later. This action necessitates a harbor, so Yongampho has been decided upon.

A late dispatch from Port Arthur says the Japanese torpedo boat attack of Feb. 25 resulted in a complete Russian success. The accurate shooting of the batteries inflicted losses on the enemy and caused the boiler of one of the Japanese torpedo boats to explode.

Early in the morning a Japanese fleet consisting of six battleships and four cruisers appeared on the horizon. The Russian cruisers Askold, Bayan and Novik were then in the harbor, and the Japanese torpedo boats advanced to within thirty or thirty-five cable lengths to attack them. The Japanese battleships and cruisers separated and then advanced against two Russian torpedo boats cruising in Pigeon bay. One of the latter broke through the enemy's line under a hot fire and reached harbor.

At 10:45 o'clock a fierce artillery engagement began between the Japanese battleships and the Russian cruisers, supported by the shore batteries. In view of the superiority of the enemy's six battleships over the three light Russian cruisers the latter were withdrawn.

JAPS' STORY OF ATTACK.

Attempt to Block Port Arthur Failed. No Loss of Life.

TOKYO, Feb. 27.—Vice Admiral Togo's attempt to bottle up the Russian fleet at Port Arthur by sinking a fleet of stone laden merchant steamers in the mouth of the harbor evidently failed, though the venture caused no loss of life, and the vessels lost were not of great value.

Five ships were prepared by Vice Admiral Togo for the attempted blockade. Four are reported to have been sunk, but the fate of the fifth is unknown here. It is presumed that it withdrew with the other Japanese vessels. The five vessels were filled with stones so as to make the obstruction permanent and were manned by volunteer merchant crews. It was impossible to select naval officers and sailors on account of the great rivalry to participate in the daring venture.

Accompanied by four battleships, nine cruisers and numerous vessels of the torpedo flotilla, the stone laden steamers reached Port Arthur in the early morning. While the fleet engaged the shore batteries the steamers made a dash for the mouth of the harbor, directly under the heavy fire of the Russian guns.

It is evident that the Russian fire sank the steamers before they reached the points planned for their foundering by the Japanese.

All the crews of the four vessels escaped in boats and were picked up by the Japanese torpedo boat destroyers. The report that two of the torpedo boat destroyers were sunk by the Russians is denied.

The navy department has received a brief dispatch from the commander of one of the torpedo boat destroyers saying that no lives and no warships were lost and that no damage was inflicted by the Russians. Pending the receipt of the official report of Vice Admiral Togo the navy department declines to make a more definite announcement regarding the affair.

The five merchant vessels which were prepared for sinking were the Jinsen Maru, the Tientsin Maru, the Hokoku Maru, the Buyo Maru and the Bunshik Maru. Each carried a working crew of five men, two steering and three firing and running the engines.

Crane's Gift to "Young Empress."

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.—The giving of $10,000 by Charles A. Crane of Chicago to the "young empress" fund for Russian soldiers and sailors has been received everywhere with expressions of appreciation. Her majesty was deeply touched by this donation and has expressed her sincere thanks. The gift was made by Mr. Crane through Count Rostoftsoff, her majesty's chancellor. Mr. Crane first cabled, saying it was believed in America that Russia had done everything to maintain peace, but that her hand had been forced by a treacherous enemy. He asked how he could help. In reply Count Rostoftsoff suggested a donation to the relief fund, and Mr. Crane replied by sending $10,000.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 27.—By order just received from the British admiralty the Canadian Pacific steamships of the Empress line, plying between Victoria and oriental ports, have shipped their six inch guns and are now armed cruisers.

GRIFFIN'S COUP.

Former Jockey Worked Sharp Race Track Trick.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27.—Former Jockey Tommy Griffin worked a clever trick on the ring here and made what he himself styled the coup of his turf career. Griffin had the filly Sweet Pepper in the second race for maiden two-year-old fillies.

When the horses entered the paddock a sorry looking chestnut filly was passed through, supposed to be Sweet Pepper, and the ring immediately posted 5 to 1 against her chances. Griffin lost no time in backing her down to 8 to 5, and then the real Sweet Pepper, also a chestnut, was sent into the paddock.

She went to the post and simply breezed the half mile. After the race Griffin was called up, and as his explanation of the matter was unsatisfactory to the stewards it was ordered that the further entry of all horses owned in whole or in part by him be refused. Little Jack Horner and The Regent were the other winning favorites. Summaries:

First Race—Balm of Gilead won, Lady Contrary second, Irene Mack third.

Second Race—Sweet Pepper won, Isabella second, Truffle Hunter third.

Third Race—Rachel Ward won, John Doyle second, Mintbed third.

Fourth Race — Little Jack Horner won, Optional second, Rollick third.

Fifth Race—Macbeth won, Burning Glass second, Reckoner third.

Sixth Race—The Regent won, Bengal second, Jake Weber third.

Princess Titania Got the Feature.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27. — A heavy rain made the track at Oakland a sea of mud. The players had a good line on the horses that were at home in the going, as all but one of the winners were well supported. The six furlongs handicap was the feature, and a field of four went to the post, Princess Titania being 7 to 5 favorite. Bullman had the mount, and he soon sent the mare to the front. She won easily from O'Hagen. The heavily played Mr. Dingle was left at the post in the last race. Horton was returned the winner.

FOUR FOUND GUILTY

Conviction of Machen, Lorenz and Two Groff Brothers.

END OF FAMOUS POSTAL FRAUD TRIALS

Jury Was Out Nine Hours—General Astonishment That Samuel A. Groff Was Included—Machen Said He Was Thunderstruck.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—"Guilty as indicted" was the verdict announced by Carl Peterson, the foreman of the jury in the now famous postoffice conspiracy trial, shortly after 8 o'clock last night, stating at the same time that this was the verdict as to all four defendants—August W. Machen, late general superintendent of the rural free delivery division; George E. Lorenz of Toledo, O., and Samuel A. and Diller B. Groff of this city.

The jury had been out nine hours, although the verdict was reached in eight hours and twenty-five minutes. Justice Pritchard had gone to his home, there to await any summons from the jury, and when at 7:25 o'clock the jury announced to the deputy marshal outside the jury room that a verdict had been reached the justice was sent for and arrived at the courthouse shortly before 8 o'clock.

In the dimly lighted room sat the four defendants, who after the case was given to the jury had been placed in the custody of the United States marshal and confined to the limits of the city hall. Each wore an anxious look, and a deathlike silence fell upon the small crowd which had been permitted to enter the room as the clerk inquired of the foreman if a verdict had been reached. With impressive dignity the jury to a man arose, and as the words "guilty as indicted" fell from his lips the defendants and their counsel seemed appalled.

During the time the jury was out the four defendants had paced up and down the hallway outside the courtroom and had given expression to the belief that each hour the jury spent in discussing the case brought them nearer to an acquittal.

There was general astonishment that the jury had included in the conviction Samuel A. Groff, the Washington policeman and inventor of the Groff fastener, as to whom Mr. Holmes Conrad, special counsel for the government, informed the jury he did not expect a conviction and that he personally did not believe in his guilt.

Immediately after the verdict was rendered Mr. Charles A. Douglass, in behalf of all four defendants, filed motions for a new trial, for an arrest of judgment and also for an appeal for the purpose of having the defendants admitted to bail. Bail was then fixed at $20,000 each, the bond of Lorenz and the two Groffs being increased from $10,000 to that sum. When Mr. Maddox, in behalf of the Groffs, inquired as to the amount of bail to be required of them, Justice Pritchard said: "I know no difference between these defendants. The jury has said they are guilty, and I cannot discriminate, but will treat all alike."

Next to Samuel A. Groff the most surprised man was Machen, who said he was thunderstruck at the verdict.

Fall of Scaffold Killed Two.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—One man was killed, another was probably fatally injured and over a score of workmen had narrow escapes from being crushed beneath a monster scaffold which collapsed in the center of the new postoffice building. The scaffold was built from the main floor of the building directly beneath its dome to the tenth floor, a distance of 161 feet. Thirty-five men were working about the dome at the time of the accident, and for a time it was thought nearly half this number had been killed by the falling timbers, but all escaped with the exception of two plasterers, James Byron and Barney McBride, who were standing on the portion of the scaffolding which collapsed.

Eleven Passengers Hurt In Wreck.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Feb. 27.—A special message from Fort Covington, N. Y., states that a Grand Trunk passenger train has been wrecked between Bombay, Franklin county, and Helena, St. Lawrence county, by spreading rails. Eleven passengers were injured, two—Mrs. Bero of Hogansburg, N. Y., and Conductor Frank Larlerd of Montreal—very seriously. The train was going full speed, and all four cars left the track, the engine remaining on the rails.

Eleven of the accused failed to appear. There are all told 868 witnesses to be examined, but only one was heard today. The trial is proceeding behind closed doors.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 27, 1904.

"Should a husband trim his wife's hat?" asks the Denver Post. Well, if she insists upon it and he doesn't want to be trimmed himself, yes. Otherwise it is a debatable question. —Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Most wives are content when their husbands do not trim the price.

There is no more interesting advertising feature in a newspaper than the classified advertisements. Whoever acquires the habit of reading these long columns of solid type rarely gives it up entirely. Papers which carry the bulk of want liners are close to the heart of the people.—Printers' Ink.

A bill has been introduced in the Iowa Legislature to establish a school for matrimony. Graduates will be given diplomas according to one of the provisions of the measure, but that fact does not warrant that those who have undergone the course of instruction will know how to manage a wife.

Some consider that the trick has been done when the ad is inserted in a paper that people read. Others do not close the contract for space until they are sure it is a paper people believe in. This is a distinction that every man can illustrate for himself with the papers he is most familiar with.—Exchange.

The Common Council vindicated itself. Corrupt influences will not be tolerated in Plainfield municipal affairs. The public has full faith in the integrity of the legislative branch of the city government. The public spirited citizens who brought to the attention of the city fathers to the danger of increasing the number of liquor licenses in Plainfield showed by their act that civic pride is not a lost virtue here.

The Citizens' primary in the borough was largely attended last night and the outlook is such that the people of North Plainfield may expect one of the liveliest campaigns ever waged in that municipality. The purpose of this paper will be to report impartially the details of the fight as it progresses. At last night's meeting, A. V. D. Honeyman, who appears to have more or less personal enmity against the local newspapers ever since the annexation agitation started, took occasion to berate the dailies, declaring that what you see in the papers is one thing and facts are another. Such utterances as these only hurt the Citizens' party cause or any other cause, for they are as silly as can be. The other day both dailies refused to print free of charge a regular call issued by the organizers of the present political movement in North Plainfield as it was purely an advertisement but assurance was given that a news item would be made of the call and it was accordingly done. The matter has no doubt been misrepresented among some of the boroughites and consequently we believe it due to ourselves to call attention to the true facts in the case. The Daily Press is an independent newspaper and will continue to publish facts and nothing but facts. On with the campaign!

Proud of the Common Council.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Allow me to use space enough in your valuable paper to say that as a citizen of the city of Plainfield I feel proud of the action of the Common Council at its meeting Thursday night in unanimously rejecting all new applications for license and remedying a wrong perpetrated on the city by the license granted last year ostensibly to E. P. Turner but used by James Shea. The facts brought out last year by Councilman Tyler and repeated Thursday night were effective in producing the desired result in the rejection of this application.

The Councilmen in a measure have squared themselves with the people. The action of the Council was a strong and needed rebuke to those elements which seek to debauch our city and reduce her to the low level of those cities completely under the control of the liquor interests.

The political leaders last November taught us the doctrine of Home Rule. The people have not been slow in learning the lesson and now demand freedom from the rule of the Rising Sun Brewing Company of the county seat and Feiganspan, Krueger, Ballantine and ilk of the State's metropolis. Let us continue to preach the doctrine of Home Rule.

Now the aim of all good citizens should be the reconsideration on the part of the Common Council of the suggestions of the Mayor concerning higher license and the limiting of the number of saloons.

Add to this an ordinance restricting all saloons to the business section of the city. These if adopted would make the lot of Councilmen in the future very much easier and would greatly add to the attractiveness of Plainfield as a place of residence.

The argument advanced by one of the Councilmen Thursday night that we should license saloons in order to close up speak easies is a very lame one, and is really a reflection on the efficiency of our very capable police administration which the police do well to resent. Besides two wrongs do not make a right.

John McMurray.

In Need of a Park.

Editor, The Daily Press:

At intervals we read in The Daily Press of Plainfield's need of a park, If the coming summer be as warm as this winter has been cold there will be many citizens who will sigh for a breathing place.

Some of us can "flee to the mountains," others can seek the salt breezes at the sea shore but the majority have to stay at home and simmer in the heavy heat.

There are some parts in Plainfield where the air is fresher than immediately round the town and those are the places where a good many people go for an hour or so to feel what a breath of air is like. A park taking in one of these higher districts is what Plainfield needs and a site suggested as adaptable is the wooded high land at Netherwood backing Belvidere avenue between the hotel and Rahway road.

On holidays and Sundays numbers of people make their way out there which goes far to prove that the neighborhood is an attractive one; its being accessible both by trolley and railroad adds one more feature to its suitability as a park site.

With a good driveway for carriages and equestrians such a park should add immensely to the attractiveness of Plainfield as a summer home for residents of New York who are unable to go further from the city and their daily business. "A Plainfielder."

President Joy's Statement.

Editor, The Daily Press:

The communication which you published last evening on the recent school meeting in the borough expresses criticism which is based upon misapprehension or misstatement.

The Board came prepared for debate. The chairman, Dr. Carroll, distinctly invited it. But those who thought voting safer than debating made such a rush for the polls that debate was impossible in the confusion. If there was no discussion, it was not the fault of the friends of the resolution.

Owing to a very desirable simplification of the proceeds by presenting the business in a single resolution, capable of decision by a yea and nay vote, the six forms of ballot which had been provided by the District Clerk were rendered superfluous, and the only balloting material furnished by the Board, as such, was the blank paper. The "yes" tickets were printed by a member who favored the resolution, and I am informed that the "against" ballots which were circulated prior to the meeting came from one who opposed it. There was no "official" or "authorized" ballot, either "yes" or "no," and the talk about "trickery" is dust thrown in the eyes of the public. James R. Joy.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The recommendation of the Township Committee that the taxpayers vote $200 for the police department at the election to be held March 8, is an appropriation that should be carried by the voters. Everyone will admit that an officer on duty Saturday nights and Sundays has had the effect of curbing the lawless element who comes to town to "renew their youth" every Sunday. The only way to continue the improvement is to pass the appropriation.

The usual Sunday services will be held tomorrow at the Baptist church. Rev. W. H. Scott, of Newark, will occupy the pulpit at both morning and evening services. Rev. Mr. Shott will occupy the pulpit of one of Newark's churches.

The price of ice should be way down during the coming summer. The crop harvested never was larger or better. Nearly everybody who uses any quantity of it during the warm weather has laid in a supply in temporary ice houses.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

A bad scene on the streets yesterday afternoon was the appearance of a man and woman of foreign birth who were under the influence of drink. They claimed to be husband and wife but were engaged at times in a drunken fight, the man, at times, kicking and striking the woman in a shameful manner. It is said they came from Newark, and apparently they brought their drink with them.

At the Baptist church tomorrow at 10:30, the pastor will conduct the service and speak upon "An attractive scene in the life of Christ." The evening Christian Endeavor service will be led by Mrs. J. H. Cubberley, on the topic: "Heroism and other lessons from China."

CITIZENS' PARTY FOR BOROUGH

movement is right and will prevail. In conclusion he said that the people would insist on ample school accommodations and when they have found what they want they will vote in the affirmative.

The committee of ten returned and presented the ticket as already given. In the selection of a freeholder there were these nominations made at the meeting: Levi C. Kline, John Kitchen, L. E. Barkalew, John Emmons and John Case. It required two ballots to make a selection and John Emmons, of Somerset street, was chosen, he having received 130 of the 194 votes cast. The nomination was then made unanimous. In addition this executive committee was chosen: Dr. Justus H. Cooley, Lorenzo Townley, Walter Linbarger, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, David J. Carney and A. V. D. Honeyman. The ticket was presented by Thomas S. Armstrong and A. J. Leader presented the platform, which was adopted. It will be found in another column.

There was a little commotion at this period, when Charles H. Lyman wanted to know if he would be permitted to make a nomination. The question was ignored by the chairman and Mr. Honeyman moved that the ticket and platform be adopted, which was done. Finally, Mr. Honeyman asked the question as to whether Mr. Lyman intends to support the platform. There was no response. Mr. Armstrong then said that although such action as Mr. Lyman desired would be irregular he favored giving him a chance. To this Mr. Lyman took exception by saying that with him it was a question of preference and that it was the first time he was denied the right to make a nomination in a primary. He had always voted the Democratic ticket and saw no reason why he should be refused the privilege.

Mr. Armstrong said that the idea of those in charge of the meeting was not to have any star chamber proceedings, nothing that would cause any suspicion. Mr. Lyman replied that he would not take any undue advantage and declined to make a nomination or state whether he would support the platform or not.

Harry Stafford raised the point as to whether those selected for the ticket would accept, and was informed that all but one had signified their intention of accepting. When he asked who the one exception was the information was not given. It was afterward learned to be C. Frank French, who is in Florida at present.

Those chosen to act as tellers when the votes were taken were John S. Johnston and Den. Gavin.

Refuses Nomination.

A. S. Braider, who was nominated on the North Plainfield Citizens' ticket last night for the office of justice of the peace, has announced his declination to run for any office. It is said that C. Frank French, now in Florida, will probably refuse to accept the candidacy for collector as will W. C. Smith, who was nominated as commissioner of appeals.

A WALKING MACHINE

Odd English Invention That May Be Useful in Many Ways.

It Imitates the Locomotion of a Heavy Animal and Can Climb Over Obstacles of a Considerable Size.

For some years past Liverpool has been to the forefront in scientific study and practical experiment of means of road haulage of freight. Contests of motor wagons are held here yearly under the auspices of the Self-Propelled Traffic association, of which the Earl of Derby is the president. The amount of heavy haulage in Liverpool from the ships and docks to local warehouses and railway stations is probably greater than in any other city in the world, and is a serious item in the cost of goods. Then railroad freight charges in England are enormous—from two to six times as much as in the United States. Consequently, there is always great interest in this city in any invention or system which promises to reduce the cost of haulage.

Prof. Hele-Shaw, of the engineering department of the Liverpool university, is admittedly one of the greatest living authorities on mechanical locomotion; therefore his unequivocal and enthusiastic indorsement of a new invention called the "pedrail" has attracted wide and respectful attention in England, not only among the general public, but among scientific engineers.

The pedrail is variously described as a "walking locomotive," a "half traction engine and half walking machine," a "combination of an endless railway and a trotting machine," and a "rail moving on wheels." The Automotor Journal, of London, describes it as "a traction engine which actually and literally walks upstairs with the stride and sure-footedness of an elephant and hauls loads behind it under circumstances which would nonplus an ordinary traction engine. Ruts, curbstones, and bowlders it makes nothing of, and even nine-inch balks of timber are stubble before it." The inventor is Mr. Bramah Joseph Diplock, of London. Prof. Hele-Shaw says that he had some years since conceived the idea of a locomotive with rails moving on wheels. He encountered difficulties which to him seemed insuperable, but these difficulties, he asserts, Mr. Diplock has surmounted. The professor declares that the pedrail is "a revolution in mechanical locomotion." The pedrail, it is claimed, can be used with advantage not only for ordinary freight haulage on common roads, but is thoroughly practicable as a traction engine over bad roads, and even in districts where there are no roads at all and where progress by the ordinary traction engine would be absolutely impossible. It would, for instance, as claimed, be suitable for hauling minerals from newly developed mines and heavy lumber from partly cleared forests, and would successfully meet the rough emergencies of military operations.

Briefly, the invention might be described as replacing the wheels of an ordinary traction engine by revolving frames carrying sliding spokes, each spoke having at its end a circular foot, and on the spoke itself, at a little distance above the foot, a small wheel or roller. In connection with each series of revolving spokes a fixed frame is attached to the side of the traction engine. This fixed frame somewhat resembles in form an inverted heart. When the axles revolve the spokes are carried round and in turn place the feet upon the ground. At the same time the wheels, which run round in contact with the heart-shaped frame, when brought underneath it—that is, under what may be described as the broader portion of the heart—act in turn as supports for the heart-shaped frame to glide over. Hence the engine is itself supported in turn through the wheels by the spokes which happen at the time to be resting with their feet upon the ground.

LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

WHAT IS WORN.

Bright Shades Not Worn In Street. Black and White Dressy Gowns.

Smartly dressed women are following the example of their sisters in Paris in discarding entirely bright colors for street wear. For outdoor wear the woman who has her carriage can afford to wear an infinity of beautifully delicate shades impossible for her poorer sister, who has to wade across dusty crossings and be jostled along busy sidewalks.

Nothing can take the place of a dark tailor made in some becoming color, either black, brown or gun metal.

Parisians are wearing a great deal of black and touches of black on everything.

Accordion plaited gowns will be again revived this spring, so if you can afford it why not buy a sufficient number of yards of supple, inexpensive black or gray material and have it accordion plaited, ready to be given to the dressmaker? Such gowns may be made ever so simply with a wide, swathed belt, finished with fringed or knotted ends, and the whole is so comparatively inexpensive that it is worthy of consideration.

White gowns relieved with black satin, oriental preferred, are to be seen at present on the Riviera.

Irish embroidery and renaissance lace will again be very popular. Lace or embroidery medallions surrounded by rows of handmade fancy stitches will also hold a prominent position for trimmings. A charming blouse in pale blue crepe de chine seen recently had a yoke of Irish embroidery held together with several kinds of fancy stitches worked in embroidery silk.

The illustration shows a black and white effect. The dress is of white chiffon, relieved by insertions of black lace and sequin trimming.

DETAILS OF DRESS.

Shirred Bands as Trimming—Undersleeves Made of Ruffings.

A thick shirring between two corded effects is one of the season's favorite trimmings. It is of necessity rather bulky, but very becoming to some figures, just which it is hard to tell, for the rule of the thin figure does not apply here at all. It demands a certain chic about the wearer, a certain distinction and erectness in carriage. Whole skirts and waists are fussed up in this manner, but, on the other hand, a simple band of shirring frequently outlines a bolero or a wide cape collar, a similar line appearing on the lower edge of the wide sleeve. Taffeta, oriental satin, chiffon velvet and even chiffon and net—these are all used with good effect. Sometimes the piping is of velvet and the shirring of a contrasting material, preferably dull.

THREE CORNERED HAT.

Undersleeves composed of a multitude of fine ruffings of lace and net are very smart, and the effect is heightened if the bolero separates in front to show a blouse front composed of similar ruffles.

The long shoulder is to be with us more than ever during the coming season, but the wise dressmaker will stick to the effect rather than to the real length in the seam itself, for this is very uncomfortable and rarely becoming.

The cut shows a new three cornered hat of brown tulle and brown straw. It is trimmed with rosettes of velvet and brilliant buckles set in gilt.

MIDST OF ALARMS

Many Trying Periods of Anxiety in Times of War.

The Dread of Surprise by an Enemy Has Brought About Many Humorous Situations—A Joke on Gen. Wheeler.

In all wars of any magnitude the dread of surprise has often led to the adoption of precautionary measures to insure safety that sometimes appear to the reader of history wholly unnecessary. It is difficult, however, to comprehend without experience, to what high tension of mind the leaders of bodies of troops operating in the presence of an armed enemy are subjected by a sense of their great responsibility. Under such conditions there is often for a time neither sleep nor rest for the commanders of the operating force, and the nervous strain thus produced has led often to needless apprehensions and sometimes to hasty action scarcely warranted by the existing situation. Probably one of the best illustrations of this fact is found in the remarkable "Battle of Rodondo" fought somewhere near St. Thomas in the latter part of 1652. The admiral of a Dutch fleet sailing in search of English vessels during the naval war with England then in progress, discovered the advance vessel of the enemy's fleet bearing down upon him one foggy morning just before dawn, as he anxiously paced the deck of his ship, and at once directed his gunners to open fire. He was not a moment too soon, for his fire was immediately returned, and for awhile a most terrific bombardment was maintained. The smoke from the guns quickly enveloped the Dutch fleet so that nothing could be seen of the enemy, but it was evident that he had not sailed away, from the fact that whenever a gun was discharged at him he returned one for it.

Finally the fog lifted, and the wind blew the smoke aside, revealing to the astonished gaze of the Dutch admiral a great rock standing out of the sea a short distance away. Not a sail of the enemy was in sight. For five hours the doughty Hollanders had been firing at the granite wall before them imagining that the echoes which answered their fire were the return shots of the enemy.

Possibly every soldier who served in the war of the rebellion or in the war with Spain, is able to recall occasions of general alarm, sometimes well founded, but more commonly the result simply of the nervous strain produced by anxious watching.

Such an occasion occurred in western Virginia in 1862, when an outpost of Gen. Rosecrans' army was attacked in the night by a troop of confederate cavalry. The enemy's advance was fired upon by the sentinels and held at bay while the outpost was hastily formed in line to receive the assault. When daylight came a broken-down mule that had been abandoned by the army was found dead near the camp. The poor creature, in its eager search for food, had evidently stumbled upon the sentinels and had been mistaken in the darkness by the vigilant and apprehensive soldiers on watch as an advance skirmisher of the enemy.

Numerous occasions of alarm occurred in our armies during the war in the Philippines with the insurgents, very often with cause, for the Filipinos were alert and aggressive, but sometimes as the direct result of long-continued apprehension. On one occasion the pounding of the dry rice plant by a party of natives in the effort to separate the grain from the chaff, caused a general alarm in Gen. Wheeler's brigade a mile or so away. The noise of the pounding resembled the discharge of musketry by volleys and quickly awakened the impression in the general's camp that a battle was going on between the insurgents and a force of American infantry. A regiment was quickly formed, and with Gen. Wheeler and his staff at its head, hastened rapidly to join the battle.

On reaching the spot six native women and one man armed with heavy wooden mauls, were discovered industriously beating out rice grains in several great, conical shaped mortars, the blows resounding from the hollow vessels sounded at a little distance away for all the world like the rumble of musketry in an engagement.

As may be imagined, there was much merriment over the incident, and the recollection of "The Battle of the Rice Pounders" is still green in the memory of Wheeler's invincible followers in the war with the Filipino insurgents.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

Skating is again gaining the popularity it enjoyed in the west, and especially in Chicago, three decades ago. The numerous skating tournaments held at the parks in the "Windy City" and the great crowds which attended them bring back to the minds of the old timers the days when skating was the favorite pastime of a good part of the population of that city. Long before the Chicago fire many rinks were scattered about the city, and after that—and, in fact, up into the '80's—the rinks were in existence and well patronized. In those days Chicago possessed some of the greatest skaters in the world. Not a few people still remember Gus Bluhm, Callie Curtis, Frank Swift, Johnnie Cooke, the "Human Top;" Allen I. Blanchard, Engler, Miner and others. Some will remember the first championship at fancy and figure skating, in which Goodrich defeated Bishop by nine points. Perhaps in their time there never were any better skaters than Gus Bluhm and Johnnie Cooke. Bluhm was a champion at movement work. He gained his title in 1873, when he defeated James Allison, of Chicago; Ben Searv, of Janesville, Wis., and Billy Willard, of Manistee, Mich., in a contest at Milwaukee. The medals at that time were good for two years but the holder had to meet all comers, after which if he was undefeated the medal became his personal property. Bluhm probably had more admirers than any other skater that ever appeared on a Chicago surface. He was about 21 years old when he won the championship, and for many years afterwards took part in contests. Bluhm's greatest movements were twists, grapevines and toe spins. At grapevines he was unbeatable, and he had more of them than any other skater. As a burlesque skater Bluhm had no equal. Probably many who will recall the fame of Gus Bluhm as a skater are not aware that for several years he has been one of the most successful bookmakers in the United States. Johnnie Cooke, "the human top," was the quickest that ever happened, and it was this that won him the admiration of the great crowds which frequented the local rinks. He died when he was only 20 years old. Cooke's great specialty was a double flat foot spin, whirling around about 150 times without stopping and then raising on one foot, doing a toe spin on the point of one skate like a top, which gave him his sobriquet.

Gus Bluhm.

What has become of the old bicycle stars? The men who not so many years ago followed the circuit, and whose names were known to every follower of cycling sport? Since the decline of bicycle racing they have been forced to other fields for a livelihood. Here is what some of the old-time foreign and American riders are doing to-day: Paul Bourullian, champion sprint rider of the world in 1897, is making a great success in Europe as an opera singer. Jimmy Warburton (son of "Chappie," the man who brought out Michael), who was a pacemaker on the National track team at Charles River park in 1898, went to South Africa during the Boer war and was wounded at Ladysmith. He is now a prosperous hardware dealer in Johannesburg. Charles W. Ridgeway, of London, amateur middle distance champion of 1896, is with the Banker Brothers, selling automobiles. He expects to run an 80-horse power car in the 1904 Gordon Bennett cup race in Germany. J. W. Stocks, of Hull, England, champion high bicycle rider in 1898, and middle distance champion of Europe in 1896 and 1899, is in the automobile business in London. Tom Linton is running a hotel in Paris, and is doing well. Frank (Dutch) Waller is working in a cafe in London. Eddie Bald is a bookmaker. Tom Cooper is making automobiles in the West. Barney Oldfield is racing automobiles. Austin Crook is working for the Edison company in New York city. Bob Miller is driving automobiles in St. Paul. Al. Newhouse and Bill Sherer are in the automobile business in New York. Bill Tenzler is working for a private family as a chauffeur. Dudley Marks is in Boston with a manufacturing concern. Orlando Stevens is in the fruit business in Oakland, Cal. Pete Berlo is building motors in Boston. Frank Butler has got a chicken farm up the state. A. A. Zimmerman is running a hotel in Freehold, N. J. Tom Lynch is running an automobile station in California. Baby Gibson is running a hat store in St. Louis. Frank Mayo is working as a paper cutter. Eddie McDuffie is running a touring car for a private family in New York.

Eddie Bald.

Willie Hoppe, the American boy billiardist, has won the championship "Des Jeunes Martyrs," at Paris, beating Sanches in the final.

Tommy Warren, at one time champion feather weight of America, died at the county hospital of San Francisco of pneumonia.

The regatta of the American Rowing association, popularly known as the American Henley, will be held this year on May 30.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Disturbance by Severe Weather.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

In addition to the interruption of a holiday, trade and transportation have again suffered because of severe weather, and much outdoor work was forced to await more favorable conditions. There was the advantage of a good supplementary demand for heavy wearing apparel, and the sudden fall in temperature checked disastrous floods, but this misfortune has only been averted and will prove of exceptional magnitude when it arrives.

Development of spring trade is naturally slow, but this may be fully made up as the season advances. Business proceeds on a conservative basis that promises immunity from the excesses that precipitated the recent setback.

Finances abroad were badly demoralized at the close of last week, and several important failures have since occurred, but there was no reflection in this country, and money continued easy.

Stock market operations were again light at much lower prices, which partly accounts for the loss in bank exchanges at this city of 21.1 per cent compared with the same week a year ago.

Wide changes from day to day in the leading staple commodities indicate an unwholesome and undesirable situation that is due to speculation and that is calculated to check or divert consumptive demand. Wheat led the advance and was closely followed by the minor cereals, but flour was less erratic, and as a result exports were mainly confined to the latter.

Cotton recovered after the holiday, only to react more sharply, with heavy speculation at very erratice quotations. As usual in an irregular market, there was little legitimate business either for home or foreign spinners. The statistical position grows stronger as the season advances, but, on the other hand, preparations for a record breaking yield also increase. A further break carried spot coffee to the lowest point since the recent campaign was started, and there was little resistance by the clique that forced prices to 9.19 cents on Feb. 1, sales being effected 28 per cent lower this week.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for February aggregated $10,796,166, of which $2,732,478 were in manufacturing, $4,290,235 in trading and $3,773,453 in other commercial lines. Failures this week numbered 240 in the United States, against 211 last year, and 22 in Canada, compared with 28 a year ago.

Flotsam From the Boston City.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—About a dozen barrels of oil, part of the cargo of the British steamer Boston City, which was sunk in the lower bay, having been in collision with the British steamer Colorado, have been found in the ice in Sandy Hook bay and taken to the Highlands of Navesink on sleighs. One barrel was brought ashore by a surfman of the Sandy Hook life saving station and turned over to the keeper.

Charged With Bribing Alderman.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Feb. 27.—William C. Seggsman, a salesman for a New York belting and packing company, has been arraigned on an indictment charging him with paying $75 to Alderman J. E. Shaughnessy as a bribe to secure a sale of hose to the city. Seggsman was arrested in Chicago. He pleaded not guilty.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The prospects for a good amateur baseball team in the Y. M. C. A., this season are bright. Fred Armstrong and Morris Sutphen have the arrangements in charge and they will soon begin try out candidates for the team.

The baseball management of the Alis Club, now at work on the season schedule, hopes to make it public soon. As announced early in the year the team will not play in Westfield, until the latter plays here first. In view of this it is understood that Manager Denman has agreed to play Alis in this city for one game on Decoration Day, provided Alis will play a return date soon afterward. The arrangement this season as to guarantee will probably be that the home team takes all receipts, the play being game for game. Last year visiting teams to Westfield had a lot of season tickets to contend with and for which no division was made in the settlement.

SIGNBOARD TAX HEARING.

Mr. Colby's Bill Will be Argued Tuesday Afternoon at Trenton.

Governor Murphy's crusade against the big signboards along the line of the railroads of the State will get a chance for life next Tuesday, when a hearing on the bill introduced by Assemblyman Colby, imposing a tax on the signs, will be given before the committee on judiciary. The bill proposes a tax of $5 a year for every square foot of boards used in the signs. There is strong opposition to the measure. The hearing is fixed for 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

DALY'S GOODS TO BE SOLD

VICE CHRNCELLOR REFUSES TO ALLOW A RECEIVERSHIP.

The second hearing on the application of W. R. Codington, Esq., of Codington & Swackhamer, for the appointment of a receiver for the grocery store of James F. Daly, on East Front street, was held before Vice Chancellor Emery, at Newark, yesterday.

It will be remembered that Daly made a general assignment on Feb. 8 to J. Fred MacDonald, and that subsequently, Mr. Codington, on behalf of Mary E. Goggin, who claimed to hold two chattel mortgages on the goods, filed a bill in Chanery to foreclose these mortgages and for the appointment of a receiver. Vice Chancellor Stevens, on the filing of the bill, granted a rule to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed, and in the meantime restrained the assignee from selling any of the goods.

On the return of the rule to show cause on Feb. 16, Vice Chancellor Emery made an order allowing the assignee to sell at retail, and continued the further hearing until yesterday.

The assignee made his report yesterday, and recommended an immediate public sale of the goods. After hearing argument by W. R. Codington, Esq., in favor of the appointment of a receiver, and W. S. Angleman, Esq., who appeared for the assignee, against such appointment, the Vice Chancellor refused to appoint a receiver, and directed the assignee to sell the goods at public auction as he recommended in his report. In the meantime the litigation over the amount actually due on the mortgages will continue.

OUT OF POLITICS.

Freeholder Lutkins and Assessor French to Retire From Office.

Elston M. French, the present assessor for North Plainfield, announces that he is not a candidate for re-election. He says that he has the interest of the borough sufficiently at heart to retire now and give some one else an opportunity to hold this office. Freeholder Andrew M. Lutkins also announces that he is not a candidate for freeholder. He says he will not accept a nomination for this or any other office in the borough. Both of these officials have performed their duties faithfully and well and now say they are willing to retire. The John Emmons named by the Citizen's party is not John P. Emmons, the real estate man.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Yankee Consul" has been received with great fervor in New York at the Broadway Theatre, which, although one of the very largest playhouses in America, has been crowded to its utmost capacity ever since Washington's birthday. Raymond Hitchcock, as the festive American sent in an official capacity to a Southern republic, where he becomes entangled in many complications, feminine and official, has scored a most emphatic success, probably exceeding the same actor's former extraordinary hit in "King Dodo." The supporting company, scenery, costumes, score and libretto are praised with the greatest unanimity.

LITERARY.

McClure's is pre-eminently a living magazine, intended for readers who are thoroughly alive in interests, activity, and enjoyment. It does not appeal to mere idle curiosity and never to an instinct for the sensational, but strives to afford a richer enjoyment and to satisfy a deeper and more lasting interest. McClure's is meant for people who are living and working in the present; it tries to make current events and movements more intelligible to its readers.

Robbie as a Speaker.

Kenneth Robbie, boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., left town this afternoon for Tuckerton in South Jersey where he will speak tomorrow at three services in a series for young men. He will address a men's meeting in the morning, boys' meeting in the afternoon and a union meeting at night. Mr. Robbie was chosen as the speaker at Tuckerton by the State Y. M. C. A. committee which has services in charge in all of the smaller towns of the state.

Fractured His Arm.

Henry Leifke, of West Front street, is laid up at his home with a fractured arm, caused by a fall on the ice at the corner of Central avenue and West Seventh street, last night. At the corner of Central avenue he fell, striking his shoulder and severely twisting his arm. As soon as possible he returned home and Dr. T. H. Tomlinson was called. It was then discovered that the forearm, just above the wrist, was fractured.

Borough Primaries.

The North Plainfield Democrats will hold their primary in the Somerset street school house at 7 o'clock tonight. The Republicans will meet at the same place one hour later.

The castes, he said, made the work there all the more difficult. An informal discussion followed the address.

PLAINFIELD CASES SETTLED

THREE SUITS WHICH HAVE BEEN ENDED BY SATISFACTORY ARRANGEMENT.

Two cases which were recently won by Craig A. Marsh, Esq., for Plainfield clients at Elizabeth, and which were appealed to the Supreme Court by the defendant companies, have just ended in Mr. Marsh's favor. The cases were Joseph Walls against the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company, the verdict being for $2,500 for causing the death of his son, Joseph Henry Walls, by electric shock at the corner of Essex street and Spooner avenue; and Marie Claassen against the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company for $1,000 damages sustained by her in alighting from a trolley car at Dunellen.

Lindabury, Depue & Faulks took an appeal in both cases, but settled the Walls case for the full amount of the verdict, the plaintiff waivring interest and costs. In the Claassen case the traction company's regular counsel gave Mr. Marsh a written stipulation on which he latter yesterday obtained a dismissal of the appeal with costs. Another case also tried by Mr. Marsh associated with John H. VanWinkle and John H. VanWinkle, Jr., has also been ended by judgment in favor of Miss Evelyn Simonson for $1,350 damages and costs against the New Jersey Central and Philadlephia and Reading Railway Company.

THE BOROUGH REPUBLICANS NAME A STRONG TICKET

Enthusiastic Primary of North Plainfield's Majority Party, at Which the Leaders of the Citizens' Movement Are Severely Arraigned.

MAYOR SMALLEY MAKES ONE OF HIS CHARACTERISTIC SPEECHES.

JOHN VALIANT AND CHARLES A. REED ALSO ADDRESS THE ASSEMBLAGE, OVER WHICH P. A. EMMONS PRESIDES.

The Republicans of North Plainfield assembled in the Somerset street school house Saturday night and put a ticket in the field amid great enthusiasm. There were spirited addresses by Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed, Mayor Newton B. Smalley, Former School Director John Valiant and Former City Judge William A. Coddington. The live issues of the situation in the borough were thrashed out in a good old-fashioned style and the opposition movement received what those present termed as "a knock-out blow."

This was the ticket named at the caucus: For Councilmen—Nelson A. Miller, Alpheus M. Stine, for three years; Charles L. Nichols, for the unexpired term of Robert Clark, Jr. For Assessor—John P. Emmons. For Collector—George F. Brown. For Freeholder—B. S. Braider. For Commissioner of Appeals—William C. Smith. For Justices of the Peace—Abram King, (full term), George M. Hoagland. Appropriation for Board of Health—$550.

Peter A. Emmons, as chairman of the previous caucus, called the meeting to order promptly at 8 o'clock, and by unanimous vote was made chairman. Councilman J. K. Arnold was made secretary. He read the call and as each nomination was made, by a vote he cast the ballot.

The primary was one of the best ever held in the borough. It was quiet and orderly. Every person was given an opportunity to take part. Nominations were made from the floor by various citizens, and as each nomination was made the one nominating delivered a short speech referring to the special fitness of the candidate for the office. The nominees received complimentary applause.

John Valiant spoke earnestly for George F. Brown, saying that one so entirely satisfactory in the office of collector should be continued. He also spoke words of praise for Nelson A. Miller for Council, stating that if elected he would serve the borough well. Other nominees were equally praised by him.

Corporation Counsel Reed stated that he understood that Robert Clark, Jr., would not reconsider his action and consent to serve his term out and consequently it would be necessary to nominate some one to fill the unexpired term. He regretted Mr. Clark's action for he said that Mr. Clark had always been an honest and conscientious official; one whom he admires greatly as a personal friend, and one whose head and heart are all right.

Mayor Smalley supplimented Mr. Reed's remarks by saying that Mr. Clark informed him over the telephone that he would not reconsider his action. He also regretted that official's action and said that probably at the meeting of the Council Friday night it would be necessary to accept Mr. Clark's resignation. Francis J. Blatz was named as Mr. Clark's successor, but he declined, stating that other business would not permit him to accept the nomination.

Mr. Reed offered a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, that the people assembled at the caucus pledge themselves to the support of the Republican party and the candidates named. This being done, he addressed the primary at some length.

In part Mr. Reed said: "You are here tonight as the representatives of a political party of the borough, regularly called for the transaction of such business as may come before it. Our old-time foe, the party of Jefferson and Jackson, a party that never knew when it was licked, but always one to put up a good fight, has been swallowed up by a new movement, a growth of a day. These people say that nine-tenths of the citizens of the borough are opposed to its administration, that they cannot go into a Republican caucus and make nominations or even be heard. They say it is useless to go to a Republican caucus for they can do nothing. If this is true those people should come here and right these wrongs. There is no lock on the doors. There never was a time when a person was refused admission and could not take part.

"Imagine old dame Democracy being called into such a caucus. How did the opposition know that the Republican ticket would not suit? Has there been any spell cast over the people? They say that George Brown is Newt. Smalley's brother-in-law and that bars him from being elected. There is John P. Emmons who has lived in the borough long enough to establish a reputation which is above reproach. Does he wear any man's collar but his own? He is an honest, hard-working citizen, an owner of property and if elected will assess your property right. He is especially qualified through experience in such matters.

"Nelson A. Miller, for Councilman, lives on Myrtle avenue. He is a trustee of the First M. E. church, of the Park Club, a property-owner and a good citizen. He doesn't wear anybody's collar but his own. He is a gentleman in every sense. Alpheus M. Stine, another nominee for the Council, has lived in the borough a long time, has done business here and has a reputation for being a hard-working and honest citizen. Neither he or the other nominees have sought office but are willing to do the best they can for the interest of the borough. One of the first citizens of the borough, as well as one of the best, stated in Saengerbund Hall at one time that if this municipality remained a borough the taxes were sure to go up and he was willing to pay the increase to have the borough remain as it is. The budget for the coming year is the same as last. The paid fire department will not cost between $4,000 and $5,000 as charged. When the taxpayers of the borough generously voted $10,000 for the fire house and afterward asked for a small corner in one part of it for the Council so that rent might be saved for the borough, the firemen said 'You cannot have it.' It is time something was done. The expense of maintainance will be less than half the sum charged by the opposition."

Mr. Reed referred enthusiastically to B. S. Braider for freeholder and W. C. Smith for commissioner of appeals, as men who would do as they have always done, stand by the party, declaring that they refused to go with the opposition. Continuing, Mr. Reed said: "Mr. Honeyman says to the Democratic lady, 'you lay your head on my arm,' and some one in the audience remarked 'Why doesn't he take the old lady on a tour.' As for Dr. Cooley he is getting in line for a $600 job. We are now on the eve of a Presidential election and will soon be marching for 'Teddy' Roosevelt. We do not want any strange gods. I am surprised at Charlie Place. That he should be led astray is a shame. He has been gold-bricked. How he will kick himself in the near future. Honeyman is sorry he has pushed himself to the front. Cooley was assessor once, but he wasn't re-elected though he got the nomination. He has been waiting for an office ever since. There are many Democrats who won't be led astray but will vote the straight Republican ticket rather than support the opposition ticket which does not compare with the one nominated here tonight."

Mayor Smalley was the next speaker. In part he said: "I am sorry after being Mayor of this borough for five years to find conditions as they are. A short time ago I was in good standing in the party. You know my record. I have tried to do the best according to my ability and will continue to do so to the end of my term. Point if you can to one iota of public business that has not been done right and I will 'make good.' Any time during the next ten days I will meet in open debate any citizen of the borough who wants to argue these things. The hardest work I have had during my term has been to keep the 'grafters' out. You know them. They have made demands for something they are not entitled to. We've got a so-called newspaper in the borough. Let its editor meet me in public and discuss the history of that paper. I defy him to.

"While Mr. Swackhamer was representing the minority in the Council he was running a baby-carriage up and down Summit avenue when he should have been at a Council meeting. Yet he says the minority should be represented. He had no collar on him when in the Council. The borough's business must be done right. Our ticket is a good one and should be elected. As for the volunteer fire department, I have gone out of my way to please these firemen and they cannot deny it. The borough has a right to a part of that fire building. When a vote of the firemen was taken on the question of the Council using a part of the building George H. Fairchild came to me afterward and said "Some voted for you, but not a one wanted you.'

"I ask you, gentlemen," said the Mayor, "would you have done differently than I have done? We were forced to take possession and have we violated your confidence by so doing? In two instances of those nominated for the Council by the opposition the nominees do not own any property and they are not the kind of people to improve the borough government. I know the people of the borough and am a fairly good judge of human nature. There is no imperialism here. The normal Republican majority in the borough is 200 and we are bound to succeed on election day."

Following the Mayor, Mr. Valiant reviewed briefly the history of Mayor Smalley's term and when he was in the Council. While at first he was opposed to Mr. Smalley he afterward became his warm supporter and was glad to acknowledge the Mayor's efficient management which had been profitable to the borough. In his judgment the Mayor is doing what he set out to do and is giving satisfaction. He added that no one had asked him to speak for the Mayor and no one knew that he was going to speak. He said he detested fault-finders and he believed that the Mayor was giving satisfaction to the thinking people of the borough. "We must trust our officials until we find them false," said Mr. Valiant. "No one has a string on me, but I will support the regular ticket and help to down the opposition."

William A. Coddington, of East Second street, this city, was the last speaker. He said that it was the first time he had ever attended a political meeting in North Plainfield, but at the urgent solicitation of his good wife and with a sense of his duty which he felt to be to help continue the present good administration, he was present. He declared that he was a good Democrat, but if he lived in the borough he would work for the success of the Republican ticket. He said that he asked no favors of Mayor Smalley or any one else, for the opposition ticket he said that the best men have not been selected in either the Democratic or Republican party, but men whom the leaders think will pull votes. "It is trickery," said Mr. Codington, "and the people of the borough will not stand for it."

PASTOR'S TALK ON WISDOM

REV. A. E. FINN CONDEMNS ALLEGED UTTERANCE OF ANDREW CARNEGIE.

How the wisdom of Christ differs from the wisdom of a millionaire was discussed last night by Rev. A. E. Finn, in his sermon at the Park Avenue Baptist church. His text is found in the passage of Scripture which says, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added to you." The wisdom of the millionaire was taken from a remark said to have been made by Andrew Carnegie: "Seek ye a competence and after you have secured the competence do all the good you can." Before opening his sermon, Mr. Finn stated that he was sorry that such a statement should have been made by such a great and generous man as Mr. Carnegie.

Mr. Finn declared that he believed the remark made by the steel magnate was open to possible contingencies. "If a man devoted the best part of his life to securing the competence," said he, "what would be left for good work would be small. While a man was engaged in gaining wealth, many opportunities for doing good would be lost and the man striving towards this end would enter Eternity with a damaged soul." Comparing this with the wisdom of Jesus Christ, the pastor pointed out the difference between the worldly and the spiritual advice. Christ said, "Seek ye the Kingdom of God and ye shall know righteousness." The Kingdom of God is much more to be desired than a competence because with the Kingdom on one's side good deeds can be done without the competence.

Saturday night the members of the Park Club had one of their regular Saturday night dances, over one hundred being present. The club has had these dances every other Saturday throughout the winter and will continue them up to the first of May. The membership of the club has very nearly reached its limit of 200, between sixty and seventy having joined during the last four months; over fifty of the new members are residents of Plainfield so that the membership of the club is now very evenly divided between the city and the borough.

NEW GAS TANK.

Big Reservoir Being Erected by P. S. C. at Its East Fourth Street Plant.

After a long delay caused by the difficulty in securing structural iron and steel from the western founderies, the work on the new gas tank on Washington and Fourth streets is being pushed forward to rapid completion. An extra force of iron workers has been put on and the superstructure is being rushed forward as rapidly as possible.

Last fall the foundation and lower base of the immense gas reservoir was completed but on account of slow shipments the work was stopped. It is expected that the work will be completed by the end of spring.

The local representatives of the Public Service Corporation declare that as soon as the new tank has been put in service the quality of the gas will be much improved as it will relieve much of the pressure now being carried by the smaller and older tank in order to supply the city.

GOT FIFTY DAYS EACH.

Quartette of Colored People Sent Down the Road by Judge Runyon.

For indulging in a general carouse and conducting a disreputable place in the rear of French's mill off Somerset street, Belle Howard, Eva Lee, Henry Alexander and William Stevenson, all colored, were sent to the county jail for fifty days by City Judge Runyon this morning. They were arrested yesterday morning by Patrolman Overbaugh and Special Officer Babbitt on Babbit's complaint. The trial occupied more than an hour of the court's time this morning, a sensational turn in the testimony coming when the accused attempted to prove that their accuser, Babbitt, was not wholly guiltless.

Jehu Fined.

For violating the hack ordinance Saturday with reference to soliciting trade without a badge, Robert Evans was fined $3 this morning by City Judge Runyon.

CAPTAIN SMITH WON'T RUN

DECLINES NOMINATIONS TENDERED BY OPPOSING PARTIES IN THE BOROUGH.

Captain William C. Smith, who has received the nomination on both the Republican and Independent tickets in the borough for Commissioner of Appeal, said this morning that under no circumstances would he consent to run on either ticket. Some of his friends are urging him to allow his name to appear on the Republican ticket while others want him to run in the Independent list.

In giving his reasons for not serving on the Republican ticket he said he does not think the introduction of a paid fire department in the borough fair to the taxpayers. He said that he is not altogether satisfied with the present administration and believed that a better police service was more to be desired than a fire department which would add at least $1,500 a year to taxes. He said he has voted the Republican ticket all his life and believed that a poor Republican was better than a good Democrat but his action at this time was based on a desire to be free to vote according to his opinions.

FIREMEN VS. MAYOR SMALLEY

NEWARK EVENING NEWS DWELLS EDITORIALLY ON POSITION OF ANTIS.

The borough of North Plainfield has had another fight along the lines of annexation and anti-annexation, and this time the public school system of the place has suffered severely. There have not been enough school accommodations in the borough for two or three years, and the question was whether to bond the borough and build a new eight-room schoolhouse, or send the High School children across the brook to the Plainfield High School. It so happened that a quarrel between the borough Mayor and the fire department intensified the already bitter antagonisms of the town, and whatever the chief executive favored the firemen opposed, irrespective of the public welfare. The Mayor favored a new school, the firemen opposed it, and at the referendum the ballots stood 215 against to 187 for; whereupon the firemen indulged in a grand jubilation. Just to show how far this political warfare is carried, and with what inconsistency, it may be remarked that an independent school is unquestionably an anti-annexation affair, but the anti-annexation party voted solidly against it, with the firemen, simply because Mayor Smalley wanted it. He is in favor of annexation to Plainfield, but waived his opinion in favor of the school, only to have the project beaten by its own friends. If this isn't carrying local factional fights to absurd lengths, what is? But it must be remembered that North Plainfield is in Somerset County and next to Union County.—Newark Evening News.

PASSED DREW EXAMINATIONS

Mr. Henderson, of Brooklyn, who will be remembered by Plainfielders as conducting a series of meetings in this city. Mr. Watts will remain at New Dover until fall, when he will join the Genesse, N. Y., Conference. Mr. Shaw will remain at Scotch Plains until the Newark Conference meets and will then join the Minnesota Conference.

COMPANY K'S FAIR.

Record Breaking Bazaar Comes to a Close in the Armory Tonight.

Company K's fair will come to a close tonight with an exhibition drill and several other features which should attract a large number of people. Dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. The drawing card of tonight's bazaar will be the announcement of the winning number of the sewing machine, each admission ticket entitling the holder to an opportunity of selecting the correct number. The drilling will be in charge of Captain Martin and it is expected that there will be a number of guests from out of town. The attendance at the bazaar Saturday night was a record breaker for the week. Several hundred tickets were sold at the door and it was said that the net proceeds of the fair are already more than the members anticipated.

A RUSSIAN DISASTER FOR HER OWN GOOD

Rev. Charles E. Herring Declares That Her Defeat in War Would Be Beneficial.

WRONG IDEALS NOW

RUSSIA DEPENDS ON BRUTE FORCE NOT BRAINS.

Quotes W. T. Stead During Course of Sermon on "The Americanization of the World"—Dwells on Missionary Work.

"One of the best things that could happen to Russia would be for her to be disastrously defeated in her war with Japan. I hope that she will be defeated so long as her ideal is one of antagonism to liberty which she regards as license. I hope the educational ideal will win.

"The future of any country depends upon brain not brawn. In Japan, schools are being rapidly built everywhere and there are not enough yet for the numbers of people who wish to attend. Ninety-six per cent. of Russian peasants cannot read or write. Russia's great need is education for the common people. She needs an ideal of brains instead of one of brute force that sends men to Siberia without trial. And yet this is the nation that hopes to Russianize the world or more immediately Persia, the Palestine, India and China in Asia."

This thought that a thorough beating would teach Russia that she like Japan must depend for strength upon Christian education was expressed last night by Rev. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, in a sermon on "The Americanization of the World'.

Mr. Herring described the close relations that have bound Japan and the United States since 1853, when Commodore Perry opened the doors of Japan to the commerce of the world. One unique incident he mentioned was the voluntary sending back of what the United States regarded as an excess in an indemnity paid by Japan. Japan has been grateful and has made a quick response to American missionary efforts and American educational methods. Japan's progress in education and in the arts of war and peace has been wonderful.

Mr. Herring took his general theme from the book, the "Americanising of the World," by William T. Stead, editor of the (London) Review of Reviews. He quoted Mr. Stead's admission, "America is fashioning the world from its own image," explaining that Englishmen have a full appreciation of the influence America has attained in their own as well as other lands. This they are pleased to regard as the effect of their own ethical ideas Americanized.

One-third of the world is under the domination of English-speaking people, said the speaker. "What a tremendous influence if America and England would combine for mission work."

Comparing education in the United States and England, Mr. Herring said that "one-thirty-sixth of the public land in this country is set apart for educational purposes. Only during the last thirty years has England believed in compulsory education which has been the rule here since colonial times. When Frederick Harrison came here from England in 1900, he noticed that the educational equipment in this country was ten times greater and more efficient than that of his own land."

"England," said Mr. Herring, comparing the productive powers of the two countries, "builds a machine to last. America builds one to wear out, and to discard for another from an improved model, thus keeping step with the times."

The speaker referred to the openness with which the American missionary is everywhere received while the Englishman is frequently regarded by the people with whom he is laboring as having an ulterior motive. In return for our mission work, he said, China and Japan will bring out a new phase and a better conception of Christianity as we give the Gospel to them. He spoke of the great opportunities for the beneficient extension of American influence through its mission work in foreign fields. For the benefit of those who decry foreign mission work with the doctrine "charity begins at home," Mr. Herring said that home mission work is only a part of the body of Christianity and that to take away foreign work would be to take away an arm or other essential of the body.

AMUSEMENTS.

Henry W. Savage will bring part of his forces back to town for the week beginning February 29, when "The Prince of Pilsen" will be presented at the Grand. This tuneful effort of Luders and Pixley is one of the musical bits of the decade, and it is presented in the usual "Savage" manner, which means that perfection is the keynote of the production. The company is, with few exceptions, the same that appeared in the long Broadway run and what changes have been made seem to have been for the better. The musical numbers of "The Prince of Pilsen" are the catchiest yet written and they are all rendered in an artistic manner. Three of the biggest hits are "The Message of the Violets," "Heidelberg" and "The Tale of the Sea Shell," while "The Song of the Cities" never fails to rouse an audience into enthusiastic applause.

In addition to the purchase of the Alvin Theatre in Pittsburg, which adds another first class house to the Keith circuit, B. F. Keith has acquired from the estate of Henry W. Oliver, a large plot of ground on Fifth avenue, between Wood and Smithfield streets, in the same city, upon which he proposes to erect another theatre that will rival in all of their many excellences his famous houses in Philadelphia and Boston. In acquiring these properties Mr. Keith has invested over a million of dollars. The Alvin Theatre, in addition to being one of the largest and best equipped houses in the country, is located in the very business centre of Pittsburg, and for the past five years has been used for high priced attractions, and patronized by the best society, under the management of Nixon & Zimmer, from whom it was purchased by Mr. Keith, it became recognized in theatrical circles as one of the best and most prosperous houses in the country.

Horse will take the precedence over man at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre this week, in a novel specialty presented by Riccobone and his troupe of four trained horses. The principal appeal is made with a brief pantomine exhibiting the famous "good-night" horse, which disrobes, extinguishes the bedroom light, and retiring to his couch carefully tucks the blanket about his shoulders. The difficulty attending the training of a horse to do such an act is attested by the failure of imitators to accomplish similar results. Numerous other smart tricks will be shown, none of which are associated with the old style of "equire paradox." Callahan and Mack will present a bit of real life in their sketch, "The Old Neighborhood." This is one of the truest Irish sketches ever shown in vaudeville, in which the natural humor of the celt is exploited legitimately, and without any recourse to the low comedy methods usually obtaining. Haines and Vidocq will present a talking act, in which Nat Haines' exuberant humor carries all before him. The Jack Theo Trio will have to offer, for the first time here, a European novelty act of much variety and decided excellence, while Wenona and Frank will present sharpshooting, without resorting to mechanism to accomplish some of the most difficult feats. They attractively decorate the stage with a mass of novel targets and so avoid monotony. William J. Tompkins, an impersonator, will offer methods of his own. Beginning with a clever monologue, he concludes with a recitation in Italian dialect, in which he makes a quick change of costume. Little and Pritzkow will proffer a singing sketch, introducing several novelties, and Carter and Bluford, a pair of clever negroes, will sing and dancing the characteristic fashion of their race. Marion and Pearl will offer a comedy acrobatic specialty of distinctive merit, while the Three Troubadors will divide their time between singing and telling jokes. Hanvy and Doane will present a singing sketch, in which comedy is made the important feature, while Anna Wynne will offer an original monologue, embodying imitations of several well known actresses.

SHIP ON FIRE AT SEA

Steamer Queen's Most Harrowing Experience.

FOURTEEN LIVES WERE SACRIFICED

Off Mouth of Columbia River, In a Heavy Storm, Fire Started In Saloon—Lifeboats Capsize and Passengers Drown.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Feb. 29.—After suffering the most harrowing experiences from fire and storm that has ever befallen a craft on the north Pacific coast the steamer Queen has put in here to report the loss of fourteen lives.

The list of dead follows: First class passengers—Miss Steiner of Clellum, Wash., drowned; Mrs. Adams, died from exposure. Second class passengers—D. Newsbury of Texas; H. Buckley, both drowned. Members of the crew—A. Nielsen, J. Nielsen and H. Freitas, stewards; T. H. Eneman, M. Somers, H. Douglass, A. Donnelly and —— Raymond, engineering department; Peter Mullin and M. Flynn.

While off the mouth of the Columbia river the Queen caught fire in her after saloon in some unexplained way. The fire rapidly gained headway and threatened soon to envelop the whole ship. The heavy seas running meant death to any sent away in the lifeboats. The flames became more and more threatening until when it seemed a choice of deaths Captain Cousins ordered the lifeboats launched. They were manned by the crew and ordered to remain close to the ship. Into these the women and children were placed. Hardly, however, had the boats been cast loose than, unable to weather the fierce waves, two of them were capsized.

The passengers and those of the crew who remained on board continued their fight against the flames with increasing success until at 7:40 in the morning the fire was brought under control. When it was thought the danger from fire was past Captain Cousins recalled the lifeboats, and the occupants were taken aboard.

The Queen was headed for the mouth of the Columbia river, and about 9 o'clock the steamer Santa Monica was sighted. The Queen signaled and asked her to stand by until temporary repairs could be made. When everything had been made safe the Queen continued on to the mouth of the Columbia only to find the bar was too rough to cross it. The distressed craft was pointed toward Puget sound, but bad fortune still pursued her, and when she rounded Cape Flattery she encountered a terrific electrical storm. With difficulty she weathered the gale, reached here without further mishap and proceeded to Seattle, where she arrived about nightfall.

White House Stables Unhealthy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Because President Roosevelt's valuable horses are being ruined by the damp and unhealthy White House stables Secretary Taft of the war department asked for an appropriation of $90,000 instead of $60,000, a former estimate, for new buildings. The president, who owns all his horses, has tried to get along with the old stable, which was built in President Grant's time. The stable stands back of the White House on low ground, only a few feet above the level of the Potomac river. It is surrounded by a heavy clump of evergreen trees, and the ground is almost marshy; making the interior damp and unsuitable for animals. The interior arrangements are also old fashioned.

Militia Guard Negro Suspect.

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 29.—The Greenwood military company has arrived at Jackson, having in charge Albert Baldwin, a negro who, it is alleged, killed Engineer Fogarty of the Valley road two weeks ago. The negro was captured at Batesville and was to have been taken to Tutwiler, when Governor Vardaman learned that he was to have been burned there. He acted promptly to save the negro. He and Adjutant General Fridge went with the Greenwood military company on a special train to Batesville. The sheriff of Panola county has taken every precaution to keep the negro from falling into the hands of the mob.

Missing Boy's Body Found.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 29.—On New Year's day, 1903, Raymond Currie, a twelve-year-old son of Mr. D. J. Currie, disappeared. His bones were found in a clump of palmetto brush near Summers Mill, three miles north of Jacksonville. The remains were identified by the boy's parents by his clothing. The skull had been fractured by a blunt weapon, and his bicycle was missing.

Japanese Officer Says When Blocking of Port Arthur Was Found to Be Failure Crews Blew Up Ships—Japs Lose Destroyers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—A dispatch received here from Liaoyang says that Chinese on the Yalu river report that an advance guard of Russian cavalry which has penetrated Korea for a distance of about 200 versts across the river had an encounter with a detachment of Japanese and that the Japanese were compelled to retreat and fled, leaving their horses, which were seized by Cossacks. General Linevitch dispatched cavalry and a body of infantry in pursuit and with an order to occupy northern Korea.

A Tokyo dispatch says: "A number of the enemy's cavalry appeared at a point 700 meters north of Pingyang, Korea. Our infantry fired upon them, causing them to retreat."

It is also reported that Korean soldiers on the Hamgyeng frontier have been attacked and dispersed by Russian troops.

A Seoul dispatch says details of a skirmish at Pingyang show that fifty Russian cavalrymen approached the north gate of the Japanese camp and fired at a distance of 1,000 meters. A sharp fusillade took place, and the Russians retired. All foreigners are safe.

A Chefu dispatch says: "The Japanese sailors that arrived here are from the Jinsen Maru and the Bushiu Maru, two of the five merchant vessels with which Vice Admiral Togo attempted to block the entrance to Port Arthur on the morning of the 24th. Lieutenant Saito commanded the Jinsen Maru and Lieutenant Tarisaki the Bushiu Maru. Each steamer was manned by thirty men, twenty-nine of whom are here. One man of Lieutenant Saito's command was killed while lowering a boat on the Jinsen Maru. The details of how the steamers were taken into the entrance to the harbor and sunk are being withheld by the sailors, but Lieutenant Saito stated that they got so close to the Russian battleship Retvizan that had they been armed with rifles they could have fired into her crew.

"When it was found that the scheme was a failure they dropped anchor, and the crews crowded into the remaining boats. They then blew up the steamers.

"A strong wind and the glare of the lights prevented the men from reaching the torpedo flotilla, and at daylight they were out of sight of the fleet, having been driven in an easterly direction by the wind to the Miaotao islands, which they reached the same evening. The boats did not land together, but the men found each other on the islands. They chartered a junk, in which they went to Tungchowfou. They walked forty miles to Chefu, going two days without food.

"The fate of the crews of the other steamers is not known by the men here."

While the Japanese report that their fleet was unscathed in their latest attack on Port Arthur, they are using every endeavor in attempting to prevent details of any injury to the Japanese fleet leaking out. Two Japanese battleships and a dispatch boat are missing. It is learned from two sources that two warships were taken to Sasebo in a disabled condition. It is being circulated among the Chinese that Port Arthur has fallen.

The czar has received the following from Viceroy Alexeieff:

"The Retvizan has repelled several attacks by the enemy's torpedo boats, two of which are believed to have been sunk by her in the open sea. Our torpedo boats, under Captain of the First Rank Matussevitch and Captain of the Second Rank Prince Lieven, encountered, unsupported, and pursued the enemy's torpedo boat flotilla. They sighted no large warships. Later in the morning the cruisers Bayan, Diana, Askold and Novik were sent out to prevent the Japanese cruisers from pursuing a portion of our returning torpedo boat flotilla. One of our torpedo boats, which was cut off by four Japanese cruisers, sought shelter in Dove bay, where it was subjected to a long distance fire by the enemy."

Tokyo dispatches say that as the campaign progresses it seems that the chances are growing slimmer for a great pitched battle on the open sea between the fleets of modern battleships which the world has long awaited. It is believed here that the Russians lack the strength to assume the offensive and that they will probably stick to Port Arthur doggedly to await a sea and land investment. Whoever wins the war, Port Arthur will undoubtedly cease to be an important base. The fortifications will probably be dismantled, as they are small and cramped, and, however many guns are defending, it is thought they are incapable of insuring protection. It is estimated that the Russians have 200 guns mounted at Port Arthur, making it theoretically one of the strongest forts in the world.

In regard to the opening of Wiju, for which United States Minister Allen has long been pressing, it has been decided to await the formal announcement of the Japanese, whose influence is now dominant in Korea. Japan undoubtedly approves, and the incident has a significant bearing on the future of Korea, assuming that Japan is triumphant.

It is announced officially by Major General Pflug, chief of staff, that the Russian cavalry has crossed the Yalu river, and it is expected to be followed shortly by heavy land fighting, as General Linevitch has sent a whole army corps of infantry to support the Cossacks, who have penetrated to a point below Anju and who are reported to have beaten the Japanese in several skirmishes. Nevertheless this movement in force must not be assumed as a sign that the Russians have taken the offensive, but rather that they are taking up a strong position in northern Korea in order to check the advance of the formidable army of Japanese landing on both shores of Korea while the concentration of Russian troops behind the Yalu is being completed. This concentration is making better progress than is generally believed abroad.

Major General Pflug's report that General Ma's Chinese army corps is west of the Liao river agrees with a late report that the Chinese war minister is hurrying large bodies of troops to the northeastern frontier of Pechili.

The military situation will be greatly complicated if General Ma's army is really moving to the rear of the Russian position with the intention of making common cause with the Japanese, as it will expose both Russian flanks to attack.

The blockade of Port Arthur continues, but the hopes and hearts of the Russians are centered in their army, and with General Kuropatkin at its head, although he has not faced a foe since the siege of Plevna, victory is considered assured.

An interesting incident occurred on the day the news was received of the sinking of the four steamers with which the Japanese sought to block the entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur. The original report was to the effect that four battleships and two transports had been sunk, and this created so much enthusiasm that a session of the council of the empire immediately ordered a "Te Deum." A member of the council just from the Winter palace burst into the session and said: "Gentlemen, countermand the order. Only four old steamers were sunk. The emperor does not wish a thanksgiving service to be held."

In connection with this attempt of the Japanese on Port Arthur a story is current here that the steamers sent in were painted to represent warships and that on arriving close to the channel they dropped contact mines.

Vladivostok has been blockaded by a Japanese fleet since Thursday last, according to advices from Hakodate, which also state that incoming steamers report Russian cruisers on the east coast of Kinkwasan, in the bay of Sondai, Japan.

Japanese warships have been reported in the vicinity of Vladivostok, but this report of a blockade had not yet been confirmed from other sources.

Electrician Killed by Live Wire.

WESTFIELD, Mass., Feb. 29.—L. J. Marion, an electrician in the employ of the Woronoco Street Railway company, was instantly killed by electricity while repairing a break in a trolley wire. Marion was splicing the trolley to a new piece of wire when he was seen to fall directly on the wire, grasping it with both hands. The electricity burned through the flesh and bones of the fingers on both hands, the little sputtering flames and smoke showing the deadly work of the powerful current.

CAPITOL IN RUINS.

Wisconsin's Statehouse at Madison Burned.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT ONE MILLION

All Important State Records Reported Saved, as Vaults Stood the Fire Test—Chief of Fire Brigade Seriously Injured.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 29.—Wisconsin's state capitol is in ruins. All that remains intact from the devastating flames is the extreme north extension, the contents of which are practically ruined by water.

Jagged walls, from which every vestige of inflammable material has been eaten by the flames, alone mark what was the center of Wisconsin's executive life.

The loss is estimated at $1,000,000, exclusive of relics. The origin of the fire is believed to have been a lighted gas jet in a toilet room on the second floor. The flame was close to and ignited a varnished ceiling.

The building contained the senate and assembly chambers and the departments of the tax commission, the adjutant general, railroad commissioner, state school superintendent, superintendent of public property, board of agriculture, State Normal school, commissioner of fisheries, fish and game warden, state board of pharmacy, state land office, dairy and food commission, state treasurer, commissioner of labor, the offices of the governor, secretary of state, state board of control, the insurance commissioner, the attorney general, the state library commission and the supreme court library.

Practically all the valuable state records are believed to be safe. Most of them remain in masonry and steel vaults in the ruins, and their safety depends on the extent of the fireproof character of the vaults.

The contents of the immense law library in the north end of the building were carried out, together with a large quantity of other books and papers. These were not greatly damaged. Included in the burned part of the capitol was the Grand Army hall and all the priceless records. These were saved and are now stored in temporary quarters.

During the fire Chief Charles Bernard was overcome by smoke and fell from a ladder, receiving serious injuries. He was taken to his home, where he is still unconscious.

The fire involves the building of a new capitol, a special session of the legislature and the probable renewal of the agitation in favor of the removal of the capitol from Madison to Milwaukee.

There was little or no insurance.

POSTAL GRAFTERS SENTENCED.

Machen, Lorenz and D. B. Groff Get Two Years Each.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The postal fraud cases were called in the criminal court here for the pronouncing of sentence on the four men convicted.

After noting exception, the defense made a motion in arrest of judgment. This motion was overruled except as to Samuel A. Groff, whose motion will be considered later. Exceptions were noted by the defense, and after arguments as to the sentence that should be pronounced the court took a recess.

A. W. Machen, Diller B. Groff and George F. Lorenz were each sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000 each. The court decided to make the several counts in the indictment constitute one offense.

The beginning of their penitentiary sentence is to date from the time of their arrival at the penitentiary.

All three defendants have given notice of appeal and have furnished bonds in the sum of $20,000.

Owego Opera House Burned.

OWEGO, N. Y., Feb. 29.—The Wilson Opera House building has been completely gutted by fire here. Aid was asked from Binghamton, and the chief, with fifteen men and an engine, responded, but the local department succeeded in confining the fire to the building. The fire is believed to have been incendiary, and L. M. Hill, who kept a bakery on the ground floor, was placed under arrest. The building was owned by J. J. Walker and was insured for $4,000.

Young Athlete's Death.

HANOVER, N. H., Feb. 29.—Henry J. Hooper, 1907, Dartmouth's famous football center, is dead here following an attack of appendicitis, for which an operation was performed at the Mary Hitchcock hospital on Thursday last. Hooper was twenty years of age. His home was at Exeter, where his mother lives. At the close of the football season last fall he was chosen by many critics as the center for the all American football team.

Massachusetts Bank Closed.

TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 29.—The doors of the Taunton Safe Deposit and Trust company are closed as a result of an injunction from the supreme court restraining the treasurer from receiving or paying any deposits until after a hearing on the injunction in the supreme court at Boston today. The president claims the depositors can be paid in full. The liabilities are $602,966.

Russia May Exhibit at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 29.—A cablegram has been received by the world's fair management from Ethelbert Watts, American consul general at St. Petersburg, saying, "Retain Russia's space fortnight." The message is taken to mean that Russia is still undecided about participation.

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 29, 1904.

Warmer weather is promised for North Plainfield according to political forecasters.

The seat of war has been transferred from Plainfield to North Plainfield. Leader MacMurray should keep his field glass on Newt. Smalley.

The people are anxious awaiting the report of the joint committee on municipal garbage disposal, which will be presented to the Common Council next Monday night. We'll wager that Plainfield will not be without this much needed improvement very long. The Common Council is a progressive body and when the report is presented to it, you may depend upon it that no time will be lost in making the necessary arrangement for such facilities. Perhaps it won't come this year for the condition of the city's finances may not allow it, but you can bank on it for next year at any rate.

The advertising of some firms is volcanic. At irregular periods they break out into a lavish use of newspaper space, programme advertising, circulars, billboards, and advertising schemes of every description. Then they will suddenly lapse into perfect quiet, broken only by the faint rumblings of a scanty newspaper ad or an occasional circular. An advertising policy of this sort is altogether wrong. During the period of inactivity momentum is lost, and steam has to be gotten up all over again. Steady adherence to a fixed plan of campaign is the only fair test of advertising. If you are going to pattern after any of the phenomena of nature in your advertising don't be a volcano—be a geyser, and keep spouting all the time.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

REPUBLICANS NAME TICKET

Mr. Coddington said that he was a taxpayer in the borough and was interested in good government. He roundly denounced the action of the opposition in ignoring such a good citizen as Elston M. French, one who has served the borough well and faithfully. But inasmuch as they had done this he believed that John P. Emmons is equally as good a man and he urged his election as well as that of George F. Brown for collector, whom he referred to as "true blue and with not a dishonest hair in his head." He hoped that on March 8 the Republicans would bury the other ticket so deep that it would never be heard from again.

The concluding business of the primary was to select a committee on vacancies and James K. Arnold, W. F. Williams and Harry Brokaw were chosen.

It is quite likely that the Republicans will open a headquarters on Somerset street and from now on will make the campaign a lively one.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

George B. Cose, who recently secured a position with a machine shop in New Brunswick, has returned to Plainfield and has taken a position in the Aluminum Press Company's works.

Work at the Plainfield Tool and Equipment Company, on Second and Washington streets, is said to be rushing at present. Numerous big contracts recently secured by the firm insures work for machinists during the summer.

One of the big ads noticed in recent publications in the American Machinist, the official organ of machinists, is one of the Niles, Bement and Pond Company with an illustration of the local shop. The ad is a three-page affair and includes illustrations of nearly all the machines put out by that concern.

The new factory being erected at Dewey Park by the Aluminum Press Company is progressing in a satisfactory manner and the concern here is already making preparations to move into the new plant. While the company will not change headquarters for several months yet it is expected that the first part of the summer will find it in the new and enlarged quarters

The Walter Scott Printing Press Company has closed contracts with several publishing houses in Baltimore to supply five printing presses to replace those destroyed or damaged in the recent fire there. Representatives of the concern have been in that city since the great conflagration and they expect to close articles for several more, including the Baltimore Sun.

GOSSIP OF NEW YORK

What Is Being Talked About in the Eastern Metropolis.

YOUNGSTERS WITH FORTUNES

Some of Them Must Carry Grave Responsibilities with Their Money —A Glimpse at the Newspaper Field.

New York.—By his father's death Harry Payne Whitney is added to that considerable number of young Americans who have inherited large responsibilities while yet young. Like Clarence Mackay and Alfred Vanderbilt at the time of the deaths of their respective fathers, Mr. Whitney is a thorough sportsman. Like Mr. Mackay again and unlike the younger Vanderbilt, he has already shown some aptitude for business. Two years ago his father turned over to him some of the directorial responsibilities he had exercised, just as John D. Rockefeller has more recently surrendered to his son his directorship in the steel trust.

Training a Financier.

Young Whitney will be a far richer man than his father was. New York remembers when the elder Whitney was a practicing lawyer. He first entered politics by serving a term in early life as city counsel. Wealth beyond a modest competence was not in his sight until he married Flora Payne, daughter of the Standard Oil senator of Ohio, H. B. Payne. Mr. Payne purchased for the young couple a Norman baronial mansion upon Fifth avenue, paying for it $600,000 at a great bargain. Modified within according to modern ideas it is still one of the most satisfactory houses in New York and it is the city home of Harry Payne Whitney. It stands opposite the home of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt. The marriage of young Whitney to Gertrude Vanderbilt was as natural as the espousal of two young village lovers who have lived across the street and played together in their childhood days.

The share in her father's estate of Mrs. Whitney was $10,000,000.

New York's Rich Bachelors.

Oliver Payne, a bachelor of studious tastes, occupies a fine mansion upon the avenue where he keeps bachelor's hall with the aid of a complete staff of servants. He has given generously and unobtrusively of his means to Yale university and is one of the men in New York who are less known than they deserve to be, though quite as they wish.

"Bachelor's Hall."

It is the correct thing in New York for very wealthy bachelors to dwell in mansions of their own and there entertain. Mr. James Henry Smith, the "silent man of Wall street," is soon to erect a house remarkable enough to suit a remarkable man.

Mr. Smith was almost unheard of up to the time when his bachelor uncle died in London a few years ago, leaving to the nephew an estate which paid the greatest succession tax on record in the British metropolis. Since then Mr. Smith has come rapidly forward in social circles in New York, and has had the best of chaperonage for his lavish entertainments and his new house will doubtless be the scene of highly considered "functions." Mr. Smith is one of the heaviest owners in the St. Paul and other western lines and is credited with acting in harmony with the Standard Oil party in their administration. He is anxiously, but with scant hope, eyed by New York mammas as the most desirable match in the city.

The house Mr. Smith is to build will be remarkable. In the first place a seven-story hotel was pulled down to make room for it, as a part of the extraordinary campaign which a few millionaires have undertaken to prevent trade from going up the avenue beyond the house of Miss Helen Gould. In the second place, it will be the most conspicuous example in the city of tasteful and lavish decoration; for the commission for its erection was not given to any architect, but to a firm of decorators.

The Newspaper Kaleidoscope.

That newspaper letters should so often speak of newspapers may betray bad balancing of city gossip. But then newspapers in New York are always doing things.

Hearst Getting Busy

The report that Mr. Hearst has mortgaged his newspapers for a million dollars has gone all over the country and in that form does him an injustice. What he has done is to organize a "holding company" to control three of his separate journalistic enterprises. This holding company has issued a million dollars' worth of bonds, all of which Mr. Hearst retains. If later he should sell any of them that's his own affair. I presume the new company will finance the new paper which Mr. Hearst is to start in Boston, where his venture will surely have a big swing.

It is a common mistake to assume that Boston is a staid town, which insists upon things solid and dignified. It is really a frivolous place, just the town to appreciate big headlines, while the surrounding manufacturing villages are full of advanced political partisans, who are anything but conservative. Another advantage that Mr. Hearst will gain by operating in Boston is that a new paper there will cut off 40,000 circulation which his New York Evening Journal has there now. It may seem odd to speak of cutting off circulation as an advantage, but that is precisely the case when, as with the Evening Journal, the circulation is already bigger than any local advertiser will pay corresponding rates for. Local advertisers are not much benefited by circulation in Boston. By starting a paper there Mr. Hearst can make the Boston advertisers pay for circulation there; New York men won't.

The Boston press is far inferior to that of Chicago, where Hearst"s American stirred things up so energetically; competition will do it good. It will increase the pay of Boston newspaper men, which is now low. Constant wars of competition have had that effect in New York, where the pay of competent newspaper writers is probably the highest in the world.

Waking Up New York.

Perhaps New York hasn't needed that waking up process which Boston is now to get!

Wake Up, Knickerbocker!

When I came to the town it was afflicted most shockingly by dry-rot. Newspaper writers earned low wages. Advertising rates were high in proportion and managers never canvassed for business.

First came from St. Louis Joseph Pulitzer, private soldier in the union army, lawyer, journalist, legislative reformer. The World made him wealthy in five years. He bought the site of its present building with a single check, the profits of less than a year. He erected a million-dollar building the next year, paying for it as it went up with his weekly profits taken in across the counter. Meanwhile he had overturned every newspaper tradition. Managers were no longer content to sit and take what advertisements came in, but went out and hustled for them. Pictures were printed. The journalism that does things was introduced.

Some of the World people seceded to take hold of the Recorder, a forgotten paper, which in its brief day had an extraordinarily able staff. In a week the wages of capable men went up 50 per cent. and they have never lost the advantage.

The Rush to New York.

Only a few years later came from San Francisco Mr. Hearst and took the Journal. He needed men. He could get them gradually, but that wasn't his way. Instead he would hire $50-a-week men for $125 a week and give them contracts for one, two or three years as was necessary. It was expensive, but in a very short time he had a fine staff. In no other way could it have been assembled so quickly. The rank and file did not of course get such extraordinarily advances. They came floating in from other cities, some from far California. And they woke up the town again. Some of those men have found that when their contracts expired their services were less valuable. But it is not Mr. Hearst's fault that they did not save their money while they were getting it.

The March Upon the Metropolis.

St. Louis and San Francisco having aided in the education of New York, along came a man from Chattanooga, Mr. Ochs, and turned the New York Times into a one-cent paper. He also taught New York to think. New York thought it thought the experiment a failure. But Mr. Ochs, without sacrificing the quality of his paper has run it up to nearly 100,000 circulation, and now has combined the Times and Ledger of Philadelphia into a strong paper, besides building a 16-story home for his New York paper. So much for Chattanooga.

The latest instructor in journalism is Mr. Strauss from Des Moines, Ia. The Commercial Advertiser is the oldest paper in town. For years it was conducted by Hugh Hastings, of the famous Albany Regency. For 20 years it has lived at "this poor dying rate." Mr. Strauss has renamed it The Globe —for the characteristic reason that newsboys can yell that better—dropped the price to one cent and sells the paper for 25 cents a hundred wholesale. At that rate he loses money upon the actual cost of the white paper.

Mr. James Gordon Bennett is the only New York newspaper proprietor of consequence who was brought up in the city. Its publication business is constantly revolutionized by men from smaller towns.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

HARMONY IN FASHIONS.

A Waist of One Color and a Skirt of Another Are Not Permissible.

Brown still continues to be most popular. Hat, waist, gloves and fur should match in this color to give it the proper chic.

Sometimes, however, a dress of a lighter shade of color will be relieved by bands of a darker shade of velvet, but the two tones must be chosen with great care.

The old idea of a pale blue or pink blouse with a black skirt has entirely gone out of style. If with a black skirt one wishes to wear a colored blouse, a little bolero of lace, jet, accordion plaited chiffon or net is designed to go over it, and when combined with a wide belt of black silk or satin the "cut in two" appearance is obviated.

There are, however, so many pretty blouses and thin black materials, crepe de chine and lace being the foremost, that they are much to be preferred to any color combination. If desired they can be relieved with a little touch of color at the throat in the shape of a velvet band or tulle bow.

A BROWN COSTUME.

Belts for wearing with afternoon gowns are made in the same material as the costume. Those in cloth usually are flat and deep in front, but are drawn into folds at the back and finished off with fancy buttons. In taffeta the material is cut on the bias about a quarter of a yard wide. It is then wound twice round the waist and afterward drawn through a jeweled buckle, which can be placed in front or at the back, as the fancy dictates.

The illustration shows one of the brown combinations spoken of above. The light brown cloth gown is trimmed with bands of chiffon velvet of a lighter shade, the scarf is of mink, and the hat, also of mink, is relieved by an ecru feather. The skirt of the gown shows the fashionable three flounce effect. JUDIC CHOLLET.

DAINTY FASHIONS.

Muff and Stoles For Spring Wear, Also the Latest In Hats.

Fancy braidings are more popular than ever and with embroideries will be a feature of the spring tailor mades. Tiers and flounces are still as much copied as ever, and the edges of these are usually trimmed in some fancy way.

There is a perfect craze at present for pointed toques, elongated over the face. They are in direct contrast to the soup plate order of hat, and they are not becoming to every woman.

Brown is as much worn as ever, and bronze effects are being exploited by smart Parisians.

Satin straws are again introduced. They are trimmed with smart ribbon bows and clusters of small flowers.

The round Watteau hat, draped with net or lace and showing the full veil behind, is one of the favorite tailor made hats with the Parisiennes.

Both muffs and stoles of black, brown and white ostrich feathers are on sale in the best shops. There are also more perishable confections for spring wear made of bronze chiffon mixed in with tiny roses.

The picture shows a costume of checked black and white cloth trimmed with taffeta bands embroidered in black dots. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SKATING IN HOLLAND

That Country Is an Ideal Place for the Winter Sport.

Its System of Inland Waterways Offers Great Possibilities — The Popular Styles of Skate and Picturesque Scenes.

Skating is work as well as play in Holland. The wonderful system of inland waterways make of the country an ideal place for skating, and the people utilize the opportunity thus presented not only to indulge in the sport as a matter of pleasure, but as a means of getting from place to place. On the canals long lines of peasants may be seen going to and from the villages and towns, and mixed with these sturdy folk may be seen the fashionable people of the cities out for a day's pleasure.

Thus it is that Holland has become a nation of skaters. Our illustration is a typical scene on a Holland canal. Though it is not particularly usual for the women to carry burdens on the head, it is done often enough that it is not an exception. The costumes shown are typical of the north of Holland rather than the southern provinces.

It will be seen that the skates are nearly twice as long as the feet, with the fore part rising to three or four inches from the ice. Those figured belong to the kind known as Friesland, but are rather a heavy make. It is both inconvenient and unpleasant to have so much weight in the front, but the skate is better able to stand hard wear. The skates are attached by one long leather thong for each foot, the best method of crossing and tying being easy to learn, but difficult to describe in a few words. Of course, ordinary straps may be used, but they cramp the foot much more than the thong, even when this is pulled tight. The better skaters put their skates on quite loose, and in that way keep perfect circulation in the feet; but the beginner must start rather trussed up, or else he will be sure to kick his skate off in a few hundred yards.

Some idea of the stroke may be gained from the picture, but for good skating the feet should not be brought so much to the side. When this is done it is necessary to lean over on the other side to preserve the balance, and hence a curve is described towards the outside. This is the well-known Dutch roll, which is very commonly used for long distances or when one does not wish to make the strokes very frequently. The best stroke depends largely upon the exact type of skate used and the amount the blades are rocked. Ordinary Frisian skates should be quite straight for some two-thirds the length of the foot, rising about 1-32 inch in the full length. The better Frisian skates are still straighter and the Dutch more curved. With the long, very straight skates, like the best Frisian or Norwegian, the stroke should be almost exactly straight and to the front, but naturally when a skate of greater curvature is used, it is better to make a more curved path. Anyone who can use ordinary short skates at all well can very soon pick up the use of traveling skates. The writer knows many cases of moderately good ordinary skaters who, after some few hours' practice on traveling skates, have been able to make a trip of 20 miles or so with ease. Without much exertion in ordinary weather it is quite possible to travel at a pace from two to three times as fast as walking, and to keep it up for many hours. The visitor would naturally not wish to tour alone, and it is, from all points of view, very inadvisable to do so. Even with the greatest care accidents may happen, and, moreover, two or three skaters can progress together far better than alone. Either the pole mentioned above may be used, or the foremost may give one hand behind his back to the second, and so on. The pole is certainly more satisfactory, as those behind can push slightly, and so help the leader against the wind, but it requires some practice and a fairly steady stroke.

An example of the kind of skating which may be found on the main canals is that from Leiden to Haarlem. This canal is about 20 miles long, and is rather more picturesque than many owing to the trees. It is, in fact, the nearest of all the main canals to wooded sand-dunes. After some days' frost a refreshment shelter will be found by all villages and at many points in the country. There are many interesting comestibles to be tried at the shelters for those of an enquiring mind. The most patronized are hot milk, colored pinkish, with or without brandy, according to taste, and raisins in brandy, known as boorenjongers (young peasants), as well as cakes and biscuits.

CUBAN ELECTIONS.

Liberal Increase In Lower House. No Change of Policy.

HAVANA, Feb. 29.—The congressional elections, the first ever conducted entirely under Cuban auspices, were quiet and well conducted. Predictions of disturbances at certain points caused some apprehension, but so far as reported nothing unusual occurred.

Secretary of the Interior Yero and General Rodriguez, commander of the rural guards, received dispatches throughout the day from all parts of the island, and not in a single instance was disorder reported.

Cienfuegos, which was the scene of disturbances during the campaign, was no exception to this freedom from disorder. Rural guards had been placed there with a view to their quick availability should they be needed, but they were found to be unnecessary.

The ballots were printed on the American plan, and the government officials are gratified as showing the competency of the Cubans to carry out such an election.

The day was particularly quiet in Havana, and the vote was rather light in the majority of the hundred polling places.

According to reports from the larger cities, the Republicans elected all of their congressmen and provincial councilors in Santa Clara province, a majority of those in Matanzas province, while in Pinar del Rio they were divided. The Liberal Nationalists won practically everything in Havana and Santiago provinces, while the Moderate Liberals prevailed in Puerto Principe. In Santiago the main contest was between the Moderate Liberals and the Radicals.

While the Liberal representation in the lower house of congress appears to have been increased by several seats, the small Republican majority in the senate will prevent any radical change of policies.

ROOSEVELT ON POSTAL FRAUDS.

Congratulations Sent to Postmaster General Payne.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The president has sent the following letter to Postmaster General Payne:

"While all the work of the postoffice department and the department of justice in connection with the postal frauds is not yet over, there is already to the credit of the departments and therefore primarily to your credit such an amount of substantive achievement that I take this opportunity to congratulate you personally upon it.

"It is impossible to expect that corruption will not occasionally occur in any government. The vital point is the energy, the fearlessness and the efficiency with which such corruption is cut out and the corruptionists punished. The success of the prosecutions in this case as compared with previous experiences in prosecuting government officials who have been guilty of malfeasance or misfeasance is as noteworthy as it is gratifying and must be a source of encouragement to all men who believe in decency and honesty in public life."

Would Be Hero Started Eight Fires.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Feb. 29.—In order that he might become a hero, Harry Haynor, seventeen years old, has recently set eight fires in the Binghamton Savings bank building, in which he was elevator boy, and the McNamara building, adjoining the bank building. The boy has been arrested and confessed. Suspicion was directed toward him from the fact that he was always the first to discover the fires and worked hard to extinguish them. He says that he sought in this manner to gain notoriety and to try to demonstrate his watchfulness in service and to make himself out a hero.

SHARKEY NEARLY KNOCKED OUT

In Six Round Contest Munroe Beated the Sailor.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 29.—Jack Munroe outfought, outboxed and outgeneraled Tom Sharkey at nearly every stage of their six round fight at the Interstate Athletic club here. At the end of the sixth round the sailor's eyes were bleeding, his stomach was red and raw from the terrific right and left straight arm punches Munroe administered, and doubtless another round would have finished him. Munroe was practically unharmed. It marks the coming of a man Jeffries must fight.

In the first round Munroe lost his guard and went to the floor with a crash from a right swing, taking the count. Barring this accident, although Sharkey fought with the desperateness of despair, Munroe held him safely, though so cautiously in the fifth round that the crowd hissed.

It was in the third round that Munroe's drives to Sharkey's stomach weakened the marine. His swings came at shorter intervals, and his stomach became more and more unguarded. Munroe, always smiling, cool and calculating, followed Kid McCoy's advice to "punch him in the stomach."

During a few moments of the third round, when Munroe's left opened a gash in Sharkey's left eye and sent the blood streaming down his face, Sharkey displayed his old time spirit. He rushed Munroe, his face transformed by fiendish fury, his arms flying like the wings of a windmill and every iota of his strength employed to conquer his opponent. Even in that moment of hurricane blows Munroe guarded the vital points in his anatomy and drove straight punches into the sailor with precision and care.

Sharkey went to his knees in the fifth round, and in the sixth Munroe might have lost the glory earned so hard, when a swing sent him down. He was up in a moment, still smiling and fighting in the same brilliant manner.

In the sixth round, while the rafters were being fairly shattered by the cheers, Sharkey was all but out. Game to the last, both eyes bleeding, his nose bruised, his muscles all but failing to perform their functions, he took the awful punishment and welcomed the bell. He looked a victor at no point in the contest and left the ring a battered and disappointed pugilist.

Game Wantonly Destroyed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—An effort is to be made by President Roosevelt to prevent the wanton destruction of elk in this country. Congress, probably informally, will be asked to enact stringent laws looking to the preservation of the great animals. Representative Humphrey and Allen Weir of Washington have discussed with the president the illegal slaughter of what are known as the Roosevelt elk in the Olympic mountains of Washington. State game wardens have found carcasses very recently of eleven elk in one place and eight in another. All had been killed illegally, merely for two teeth in each animal which are used as an insignia of the Order of Elks.

New York Beaten In Own Water.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Brookline (Mass.) swimmers vanquished the experts of the New York Athletic club in a match race in the latter's natatorium. Harry Le Moyne made a new twenty-five yard record, the time being 12 1-5 seconds.

World's Golf Tourney.

PARIS, Feb. 29.—The Golf Club of Paris shortly will hold tournaments for amateurs of all nations over its fine course at La Boulie, near Versailles. The first of these will be for the amateur championship of France.

Autumn Leaves Got Close Race.

Escaping Gas Killed W. S. Daniels.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—William S. Daniels, correspondent of the St. Louis Republic, was found dead in his office yesterday, with gas escaping from a hole in a pipe in the room. He had been dead for some little time when found. He was about forty-three years old and came here from New England. He was private secretary to First Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson.

Probing Woman's Suspicious Death.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Feb. 29.—The police, Coroner Smith and District Attorney Clark have been investigating the death of a young Polish woman, Mrs. Rosa Parachek, whose body has been found lying between the tracks of the Erie railroad in the western part of the city. They have not been able to determine whether she was killed by a train or whether she was murdered and her body placed on the track.

Edwin Franklin Abell Dead.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 29. — Edwin Franklin Abell, president of the A. S. Abell company, publishers of the Sun newspaper of this city, is dead at his residence, aged sixty-four. Mr. Abell was born in Baltimore and was the oldest of twelve children of the late Arunah S. Abell, founder of the Sun, and by his death the last of the founder's sons has passed away.

Arrest For Murder of Unknown Man.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 29.—Jake Coben of Dingess has been arrested and taken to Williamson, charged with having murdered an unknown man near Doane, robbery being the motive. The body of the murdered man had been hidden under stones and leaves on the hillside. The body cannot be identified.

SPORTING NEWS.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Cranford Casino bowling team went to Roselle on Thursday night and surprised Roselle Casino by taking two games in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament. Cranford has been holding a tail-end position in the race, while Roselle has been a close second to Westfield for first place. The scores in the series were hardly up to the average, and only in one game, the last, which was won by Roselle, was the 800 mark reached. The individual scores were generally low, even the good bowlers of the team not being able to continue their good work. The result of the series does not change the standing very much. It is now almost assured that Westfield will win the tournament for the season and capture The Daily Press trophy.

This is the standing in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament:

	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	24	6
Roselle	19	11
Parks	8	19
Cranford	6	21

BASKET BALL.

The Y. M. C. A. business men's five is looking for a game with Rahway or New Brunswick Y. M. C. A. for Wednesday.

The next game on the High School basket ball schedule is with Leal's School, Friday afternoon, March 11. It will decide the championship of a series in which each team has won once.

The Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A. basket ball five will be Plainfield's opponents tonight on the local Y. M. C. A. floor. Brooklyn has a big reputation for fast work and is expected to give the home five a good run for the honors.

World's Fair at St. Louis.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition will open at St. Louis April 30, and will be in perfect condition on that date. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run the first low-rate coach excursion from the East to the World's Fair on May 10, affording residents of the Eastern section an opportunity to see the great Exposition in all the glory of its pristine freshness. Tickets will be sold from all principal stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad System. The fare from New York will be $20; from Philadelphia, $18.50, with proportionate rates, approximating one cent per mile, from other points. These tickets will be good going only on special coach trains to be run on May 10, and returning in coaches of regular trains leaving St. Louis not later than May 19.

Wm. Schorb's Plans.

William Schorb, of Front street, has returned from the South, where he has been traveling in the interest of several amusement concerns. He is negotiating with the management of Steeple Chase Park in Coney Island to install a giant swing there. This was erected for the fair at St. Louis but a legal complication involving patents prevents the contrivance from being installed at that place.

Italian Fractures Skull.

Antonio Colaneri, an Italian, aged 26 years and a resident of Cranford, was taken to the hospital yesterday morning suffering with a fracture at the base of the skull. During the morning he was carrying some wood and slipping on some ice fell, sustaining the injury. His condition is quite satisfactory and hopes for his recovery are entertained.

Surprise Party.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Overland, of West Fourth street, in honor of their son, Corporal William R. Overland, of West Point, Saturday night. Six tables were set and the evening was passed by dancing and playing games. The music was furnished by Yonett's orchestra.

HAND'S MATRIMOMIAL AGENCY

Justice Hezekiah Hand's recent matrimonial offer has brought to light a rather pathetic story of a Brooklyn man who has been deserted by his wife and wants a divorce and a chance to make a Jersey girl the partner of his future joys and sorrows. It is the old story of a broken home, the love of the wife wandering to the supposed true friend of the family, deception followed by desertion and the struggle for the possession of the child. And to deepen the gloom of the narrative, there is sickness and the troubles of the husband to support the aged father and mother.

A. E. Ayers, who is employed at 833 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, is the man thus buffeted by unkind fortune. His story is best told in the words of his appeal to Judge Hand, and, though his sentences may be somewhat rambling and not remarkable for rhetorical display, they are at any rate written in deadly earnest. And if the story as he tells it has its aspect to make the unskillful laugh, it has also its serious side to make the judicious grieve.

"I have lost everything and want my home and comfort as I have to work for it. In 1895, my wife left me, taking the boy with her, making me think she was going to visit her father. I found out afterward by her cousin that she was in love with an old friend of mine as I supposed he was but learned different. She came to Newark and he met her. One week later I followed after her to induce her to return home. Before going she asked me to put the goods in storage till she returned, but when I came after her she wrote me a letter, saying she would not live with me in a thousand years. It is now nearly nine years of desertion and am I not free to marry and can you make me so?

"I used to live in Newark nearly three years and have made my home in Jersey a part of the time. And I want to make a Jersey girl my partner for life if you can help me. I might say that she, Georgie Ayers, tried to get a divorce against me but had to let it drop for some cause. I have been taking care of my father and mother with my sister's help. I have been hurt and sick but I am better now and trying to work. Would say in 1896 my wife took the goods out of the storehouse with the aid of her friend and took them to Philadelphia with no insurance on them and they burned unbeknown to me until a friend told me."

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Funeral services over the remains of Archibald I. Coddington, Sr., too place this morning from his late residence in Bound Brook. Mr. Coddington was a distant relative of Former Judge W. A. Coddington, of this city, and also to W. R. Codington. The dead man served several terms as Freeholder and Justice of the Peace in Piscataway township.

Mr. Smith last summer superintended the laying of three miles of cement sidewalks and curbs on Third avenue, from the city line to Fort Hamilton.

Express Office Flooded.

Frozen pipes in the store formerly occupied by the United States Express Company, on North avenue, near the depot, burst yesterday and flooded the place with about a foot of water. Dennis Carney and Patrolman Overbaugh forced an entrance to the the place and shut off the water.

FOR BATTLE MONUMENTS.

Bills to Mark Scenes of Strife in Union and Ocean Counties.

Two new battle monument bills have been introduced in the Senate, one by Senator Cross, of Union, and the other by Senator Shinn, of Ocean. The first appropriates $5,000 for the erection of suitable tablets or monuments, properly inscribed, to mark points of special historic interest on Revolutionary battlefields known as Elizabethtown, Connecticut Farms and Springfield, in Union County, the work to be done by a commission of three persons to be appointed by the Governor. The bill leaves it to the Governor to select the commissioners, but the measure introduced by the Ocean Senator spares the Executive the trouble of looking for suitable men, by naming the men.

The bill introduced by Mr. Shinn appropriates $1,500 for the erection of monuments to mark the site of the battle of Block House, at Toms River, Ocean County, and names Ralph G. Gowdy, Albert C. Martin, George H. Holman, Theodore J. R. Brown and William H. Fischer as the commissioners to look after the work.
